An aggravated case of infidelity and ingratitude came to light in Providence, R. I., Thursday. Mr. Walter Scott had in his employment for nearly three years, up to last October, a man by the name of Edwin W. Nichols. About four years ago Nichols was sent to jail as a common gambler, and remained about a year. On his release Mr. Scott gave him employment, and admitted him into his own household. Last October Mr. Scott ascertained that there was criminal intimacy between Nichols and his wife. Nichols was discharged, and Mrs. Scott visited friends, and remained away about six weeks. At the end of that time she returned, and promised to have nothing more to do with Nichols. Within a few weeks Mr. Scott's suspicions were again aroused, and a detective was employed to watch Mrs. Scott's movements. She was followed to an assignation house, and the guilty parties found together. Mr. Scott will apply for a divorce.

Margaret Meiershoffer and Frank Lammens, charged with the murder of John Meiershoffer, husband of Margaret, in West Orange, N. J., October 9th, were found guilty of murder in the first degree Friday. Both received the verdict unmoved. Each of them declares innocence, and charges guilt on the other.

A train on the Dayton and Southeastern railroad fell through the first bridge west of Chillicothe, Ohio, Friday, instantly killing William Conners, the engineer, and Frank Knecht, fireman. None else was injured.

A tremendous storm of wind and rain prevailed throughout Kentucky on the 12th inst., and immense damage was done. The rivers overflowed their banks, carrying away logs, out-houses, cattle and everything else that would float; railroad bridges were swept off, and in low-lying towns and parts of cities the inhabitants had to fly for their lives. At Mayfield the rapid rise in the river completely surrounded a house in which was a family of nine persons, who, in trying to make their escape, were all drowned. In southern Ohio the storm was very violent, and great loss resulted.

On the 12th inst. Patrick Graham was arrested and locked up at Henderson, Ky., on complaint of his wife, for brutally beating her. That evening he broke out of the lock-up, and found his wife at a wharf at which the steamer Idlewild was lying. He drew a revolver and shot her three times, the balls taking effect in her head, breast and neck, killing her instantly. Nothwithstanding the shooting was in the presence of all the Idlewild's passengers, the murderer escaped in a stolen skiff.

Naval Affairs.

Chaplain Henry H. Clark is ordered to the training ship Minnesota.

Paymaster Ambrose J. Clark has passed examination for promotion to pay inspector.

A cablegram has been received at the navy department, stating that the ship Ticonderoga is at Singapore.

New Hampshire Items.

The heaviest tax-payer in Nottingham is Joseph Cilley, who contributes to the treasury of that town $240.48.

The post mortem examination in the case of Mrs. Dillingham, the victim of the Londonderry tragedy, brought out evidence tending to directly criminate young Dillingham. Mrs. Dillingham was pregnant, and up to such period as made the assault a double murder.

The first annual ball of the Concord book and ladder company was given in White's opera house, Tuesday evening of last week. There was a large attendance and the gathering was a brilliant one. The grand march, to the music of Eastman's orchestra, was led by Chief Engineer James N. Lauder and lady.

Mr. Vincent M. Sanborn of Franklin has a Durham bullock ten months old that girths five feet eight inches, is six feet seven inches long and four feet eight inches high, and weighs 1010 pounds.

There were only ninety-five deaths in the city of Keene during the past year.

Sixty-two scholars presented themselves at the opening of the recently projected evening school in Keene.

The only camphor refining works in New England are at Rumney. It is now doing more business than for many years previous.

Political.

Hon. E. B. Washburne of Illinois authorizes the Chicago Inter-Ocean to announce that he is not, and under no circumstances will be, a candidate for the presidency; also that the friend who wrote that he is a candidate for governor of Illinois was more zealous than wise.

The Cincinnati Gazette reports the assassination of Sidney H. Lee, a native of Indiana, who, at the close of the war, went to Leesburg, Morgan county, Alabama, and invested his money, doing much to build up a flourishing community. Mr. Lee was not an active politician, but usually voted the Republican ticket. The local hostility against him and his family appears to have been due to the fact that they were from the north. About thirty days before his murder Mr. Lee was warned if he did not leave the country before that time he would be shot. The threat was carried out. He was shot in the presence of his family, in his own yard. The governor of Alabama refused take any special means to bring the assassin to justice.

Worthless Advertising.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Sun, intermits its Cassandra cries about the imperial influence of Dom Pedro's tooth-stead long enough to shine upon certain obscure phases of newspaper advertising with the following clear and steady beam:

"In but few departments of business, has there been more misrepresentation and downright swindling than in that of advertising. The flush times for that sort of thing were right on us a few years ago, when worthless shows, with only a nominal circulation and no influence, scoured the city to obtain advertisements, bestowing at no falsehood, and consenting almost to any terms, so long as they got what they were after. An enormous amount of money was obtained from advertisers in this way, much of which might as well have been spent in sucking up pesters in a dark cellar."

The revival of business is bringing this sort of sheet into existence again. A day or two ago we had three of these new publications laid on our table at one time. We venture to say that we gave these new comers more attention than they received from nine out of every ten persons who happen to see them; but a very hasty glance disclosed to us their worthlessness, and forthwith they were pitched into the waste basket. Yet each of these sheets had a goodly array of advertisements, and it was probably solely for the sake of the advertisements that they were printed. The amusing part of the matter is that the tradesmen who paid for the insertion of these advertisements undoubtedly believed that they would thereby make their wares known to the public. The error in this calculation is that these sheets themselves are not public. As nobody reads them because they contain neither news nor opinions of any worth, it follows as a matter of course that advertising in them is a pure waste of money. It is rather worse than this, because a man who advertises once or twice and gets no return from it is disposed to believe that advertising is not necessary; and having reached this opinion he is at once deprived of an indispensable means, when intelligently used, of increasing trade.—New York Post.

—An Ohio newspaper speaks of a man being bruised by "emphatic gestures of a mule."

—Mrs. Jenny Smith of Jersey City, who has just been acquitted of the charge of murder after having been once sentenced, had the bad taste to have a lecture written for her and is about to deliver it. It is called, "At the Foot of the Gallows."

—When a man is about starting for home after the church sociable and finds his umbrella gone—an umbrella that has been in the family until it has become an heirloom, sir—his first impulse is to tear around and use language, crush his hat over his throbbing brows and rush into the night and rain. His next impulse is to soothe his tempest-tossed bosom by selecting the very newest and best parachute he can lay his hands on, and go home with forgiveness in his heart and the umbrella over his head, like a Christian.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and to parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button. And bring the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething store, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

AROUND HOME.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, after discharging her coal, will take to Philadelphia a load of apples shipped by the several dealers in this city.

Mr. J. S. Abbott of Dover last week finished harvesting sixteen hundred tons of ice from the Cocheco river. The ice is about fifteen inches thick, and of excellent quality.

A fire in a flue in the machine rooms of the Cocheco print works at Dover, Friday forenoon, caused the calling out of the fire department, but almost the only damage done was to some chemicals, which were injured by water.

The ship Glendon, which put into the lower harbor on Tuesday evening of last week, and sailed next morning for New York in tow of tug Knickerbocker, arrived at Vineyard Haven on Thursday. Another tug, which arrived at Edgartown the same day, reported the ship as having been aground on Squash Meadow shoal.

The weather reports of the war department are now regularly posted each morning in the waiting rooms of all the stations along the line of the Eastern railroad; in the country districts the neighboring farmers are constant readers already, and anticipate finding the accommodation of decided advantage to them during the summer.

The spar buoy on the gangway rock, between Lunging and Star islands, which was drifted from its position during one of the great gales of October last, has not yet been replaced. The roving spar was seen off Hampton beach a week or two after it went adrift, and probably in the end furnished fire-wood for some "beach-comber" on the shores of the bay.

At the brokers' board in Boston, Saturday, ten shares in the Kearsarge mills sold at 77 1-2; 957 shares in the Eastern railroad went at 41; Eastern railroad 4 1-2s brought 91, and Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road 30 1-2. At auction, Northern railroad stock jumped to 99 1-2, Eastern sold at 41 1-2, Maine Central at 42, and Great Falls Manu. Co. at 116.

Two brickmakers of Dover neck have a queer case in the supreme court. One of them had 26,000 bricks, and to make up a schooner load engaged 46,000 more from the other; the bricks were sent to Boston, but the Boston purchaser failed, and did not pay for them. Now the 26,000-brick man refuses to pay the 46,000-brick man, on the ground that he is not liable under the circumstances. The case will be tried at the present session of the court at Dover.

On Friday evening a marine, in going from this city to Kittery got demoralized in the thick fog and darkness of the night, mistook the Portsmouth & Dover railroad bridge at Noble's island for the Portsmouth bridge, and stepped off the sleepers, falling some distance before he reached the water. He struck out for the bank, and climbed up the shore minus his overcoat and hat. Mr. John Dwyer, who was attracted to the spot by the shouts of the marine, acted the good Samaritan and took the moist man into his house.

The schooner Unison, with 125 tons of ice for the Shoals hotels, left this port for Star island on Friday morning, in tow of steamer Clara Batemen, arrived at her destination all right, notwithstanding the dense fog, discharged and housed her cargo, and started on her return at about six o'clock Saturday morning, arriving in the lower harbor shortly after eight. The tug left the schooner down below until the tide served for berthing her, in the afternoon. Two more trips will be made before the ice-house at the islands will be filled.

The Dover district ministerial association meets in the Methodist Episcopal church at Newmarket this evening; sermon by Rev. C. B. Pitblado of this city. The meeting continues through the day Tuesday, the exercises consisting of a discussion of the question "Is it advisable to remove the limits to ministerial appointments now imposed by the three-years rule?" and the reading of essays on the following subjects: "Is it advisable to revive the old four-days' meeting?" "Are the masses losing faith in the doctrines of the bible, as held by our church?" "What conditions are necessary in order to offer prevailing prayer?" "The revival that is needed;" "Is there any need of Methodism in New England?" "In what sense is Christ the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth?" "Is it expedient to continue our present division of districts?"

The Times of Saturday evening, in its report of the arraignment of Dillingham, the alleged Londonderry murderer, at the jail Saturday forenoon, said: "Dillingham was then led into the parlor by Sheriff Kent, his appearance showing excessive weakness, but most of which was evidently put on for the occasion." Dillingham died on Sunday forenoon. Can it be possible the Times man is not omniscient?

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Feb. 14; Batchelder, J.

The case of John Woodbury, a seaman of the schooner Eva May, for assault on Rienzi Rand, was heard. The hearing of the case occupied considerable time, but nothing was brought out tending to criminate any one. It was in evidence that Rand and Woodbury were in a saloon near where their vessel was lying at about eleven o'clock on the night when Rand was hurt, and left the saloon together, apparently on good terms, both being somewhat under the influence of liquor. It was at about the same time, according to the testimony of the crew of the Eva May, that they were aroused by Woodbury's shouts of "Man overboard," from the wharf; and hastening on deck they found Rand clinging to a stringer of the wharf alongside the schooner, and hauled him on board, when they found him badly hurt and at once notified the police. The tide was very low at time, and the little schooner's rail was a number of feet below the top of the wharf; and Woodbury's statement was that Rand, who was some ten or a dozen feet in front of him, in trying to catch the rigging failed to secure a hold, and fell, whereupon he instantly raised an alarm. A seaman belonging to another vessel testified that he heard a thud as of a heavy body striking upon some hard subtance, followed by a splash and an instant cry of "Man overboard;" but he heard no sound of quarrelling or fighting. As the wounds upon Rand's head could easily have been caused by a fall such as Woodbury described, through the man's face striking the schooner's sheerpole or rail, and the back of his head striking the stringer, Judge Batchelder decided that there was not probable cause for holding the accused, and he was discharged. The complaints against the other persons in connection with the same affairs were nol. pros'd. Hon. Chas. P. Thompson, of Gloucester, Mass., appeared as counsel for the defence.

FISHERY NOTES.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet sailed for Georges bank on Saturday, but meeting head winds returned to this port on Sunday.

The schooners Wm. B. Kean and Agnes Bell arrived on Sunday from Eastport with frozen herring. The Kean had 100,000 and the Bell 110,000.

On Friday the schooner Helen F. Tredick ran foul of the schooner Comet, and the latter vessel had the end of her main boom broken off.

Some of the fishing schooners that have sailed out of this port this winter are getting in bad repute among their fellows, having been found out as being among the trawl stealers. There was considerable excitement on Water street, Friday, brought about by certain disclosures made in this direction, and for a time a grand row seemed imminent; but loud talk and fierce threats were the only result.

DEATH OF DILLINGHAM.

James Francis Dillingham, the alleged murderer of his aunt at Londonderry, was arraigned before Judge Batchelder at the jail in this city on Saturday, on a charge of wilful murder. He waived the reading of the complaint, pleaded "not guilty," and was fully committed for trial, without bail. His counsel, Messrs. Frink and Page, and County Solicitor Harriman, were present, and a few other persons.

At about nine o'clock Saturday evening, when Sheriff Kent locked up the jail, the prisoner was sleeping; but half an hour later he was taken with spasms, choking and vomiting, and soon after went into a comatose state, remaining in that condition until he died, his death taking place about ten o'clock Sunday forenoon. A post mortem examination shew that the bullet which he fired at himself after fatally wounding Mrs. Dillingham, pierced the skull and penetrated the brain to the depth of about two inches, where it was found. His body was taken in charge by Fletcher and Tanton, undertakers, and his friends telegraphed to for information as to what disposition should be made of it.

Dillingham's death is no cause for regret. By it the county is saved a heavy bill of expenses; and no other boy, with imagination already distorted by "boys' literature," will now be fired, by reading the details of his trial, to emulate his example, so as to "get his name in the papers" as a great criminal.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Civil Engineer Mr. T. Endicott has been detached from this navy yard and placed on waiting orders.

Mr. F. J. Pettigrew, assistant draughtsman in the construction department at the navy yard, has been ordered to Chester, Penn.

"Divine service will be held every Saturday noon at the Head House" is the notice posted in the muster room at the navy yard; and for more than a year meetings have been held there under the charge of Chaplain W. H. Stewart, with occasional help from the different ministers in the vicinity. A large number of workmen attend these services, some of whom probably attend no other religious meeting.

THE RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION.

The committee of ten appointed by the directors of the Boston & Maine and Eastern railroads to confer relative to the consolidation of the two roads, met in Boston on Friday last, when it was found that the conferees were unanimously in favor of consolidation. Of this meeting the Boston Journal says:

The gentlemen connected with the two roads in interest stated that it was the desire of the majority of their stockholders and parties financially interested, as well as the boards of directors of each road, that a consolidation be effected, thereby forever ending an injurious rivalry, which was liable to break out at any time into an extended as well as expensive war. It being considered that a committee of ten was too large a body to prepare the details and act in the premises, the gentlemen chose three of their number to act as such a committee, prepare a plan, and take the initiatory steps for the consolidation, and report to the full committee, which will meet again in a few days.

That the joining together of these two roads, with all their interests, is to be an assured fact there is little doubt. The necessary legal authority for this action will at once be invoked, and when all preliminaries are arranged the act will be consummated, and the two roads under one name and one management, undoubtedly enter upon a new and successful life.

It may not be generally known that the Eastern railroad, on its bonded indebtedness of $14,000,000, is now and has for some time past been earning six per cent. The rate, is now paying on it is 4 1-2 per cent, and under the terms of agreement with the bond holders it does not commence paying six per cent on this indebtedness until March 1st, 1883.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

A bill to incorporate the York county fish and game association was passed by the Maine senate on Thursday of last week.

Hon. John Hall of North Berwick has been appointed by Gov. Davis as the York county member of the state valuation commission.

The Maine legislative committee to whom was referred the remonstrance of certain residents of York county against the Dover and Eliot bridge, voted to report "inexpedient to legislate."

Among the new industries in Biddeford are the stove foundry company, employing some seventy hands, and the shoe manufactory of Emery, Newbert & Holmes. The latter is a re-organized firm, who have taken new quarters, and will do a large business.

The furniture and bedding saved from the Island Ledge house at Wells beach at the time it was burned several years ago, were sold by auction at Ogunquit last week, and realized prices far in advance of what the same articles could be purchased for, bran-new, in the market.

The greenodembacks of Saco have called a meeting of all opponents of the republican party, to organize for the campaign; the municipal election occurs on the first Monday in March. The republicans of Biddeford propose to run Charles M. Moses for mayor; Mr. Moses was beaten last year by Strout, the present mayor—the gentleman who so heroically and generously proffered hospitality and protection to the rump legislature of Maine, and who sent three of the city police to Augusta to help hold the fort for the fusionists against the representatives elected by the people.

YORK, ME., Feb. 12th.

The farmers in this vicinity have about all got the skeleton-sled fever, Messrs. Mitchell & Freeman, blacksmiths at "The Corner," having ironed eight sets of this kind since the snow came, besides a number of the common sort. They are the boss blacksmiths, and know just how to fit the straps on so that they will stand for years to come. Mr. Wm. P. Titcomb is the boss sled-builder, and anybody wishing a set of sleds would do well to give him a call.——The hotel keepers at the beach are harvesting their ice; it is fifteen inches thick and of excellent quality.——York river seems to be the place for clams; and clam peddling seems to be the principal business in town this winter. Capt. Wm. H. Manson, the noted fish and clam peddler, has transported from twenty to twenty-five bushels of clams to the Portsmouth market every week since winter set in; and there are a dozen or more other peddlers who supply other cities and towns back in the country.——Mumps are raging at Cape neck, York beach; old and young are all having their share of them; the doctor reports some pretty hard cases—but the hardest case I think he found on the 3d inst., was to get home through the storm.——Last Tuesday morning was the coldest of the season here, the thermometer standing at eighteen degrees below zero. The Jews in Palestine.

A correspondent of the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian writes from Jaffa in contradiction of the statement which has been widely made that the population of Palestine has more than doubled during the past ten years by the incoming of the Jews. Instead of an immigration of 1,200,000 Jews, as would be necessary if the statement were true, only about 5,000 Jews have settled in the country in the ten years. Nearly all, he says, live in poverty, and from time to time they make appeals to their wealthy brethren in Europe and America, in order to maintain themselves and their families. The immigration is in fact "a pauper influx"—people who expect to live in idleness on the generosity of their co-religionists abroad. The correspondent admits that a number of new houses have been built outside the walls of the city by both Jews and Christians, following the example of the Russian and Protestant missions, which first began to do so, but he adds that these houses, being built over cisterns of rainwater, are for the most part "nests of typhus and malarial fevers, and instead of contributing to the health of the city, have materially added to the prevalent insalubriousness of Jerusalem." In the city itself the soil is so saturated with the impurities of past generations that any disturbance of the ground for building purposes invariably engenders malignant fevers.

Mrs. Partington says

Don't take any of the quack nostrums, as they are regimental to the human cistern; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dissipation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a second extract of tripod fever. They are the ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

—The London Pall Mall Gazette, which is not a sensational journal, is filled with apprehension at the increase of the military armaments every where on the continent. It remarks: "We wish here to reiterate an opinion which we hold with no less anxiety than conviction, that one of the most important of all facts underlying the future of England is this: Through the extraordinary development of the grain-growing industries abroad, the operation of an irreversable system of free-trade, and the multiplication and aggrandizement of foreign navies, the people of this country are exposed to great peril of starvation, or panic of starvation, in the event of any hostile alliance against us; which does not seem impossible as things go." These great armaments naturally cause uneasiness in many ways, although they do not make war absolutely certain.

"My Back Aches So,"

And I feel miserably," said a hard-working man. The doctor questioned him and found that he had been habitually costive for years, that now his kidneys were disordered and his whole system deranged. Kidney-Wort was recommended and faithfully taken and in a short time every trouble was removed. The cleansing and tonic power of this medicine on the bowels and kidneys is wonderful.

—Chemists have found the smoke of a cigar contains acetic, formic, butric, valeric and propionic acids, prussic acid, creosote and carbonic acid, ammonia, sulphuretted hydrogen, pyridine, verodine, picoline, lutidine, collodine, parvoline, corodine and rubidene. And the boy who has just tried it for the first time will tell you that he believes it does.

Speer's Wine for Delicate Females.

It is a pure article from the juice of cultivated Sambucus, prepared and fermented by a new process, without the addition of any spirits. It is one of the most comforting cordials we have ever tested for female weakness and kidney difficulties, consumption and general debility, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in the market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants and druggists, from all parts of this country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France. It is getting a large sale in England, for female weaknesses.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Cancer, these terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP, Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have cured me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. ——, of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 20, 1874.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DOGGETT.

MILFORD, MASS., June 10, 1874.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clear and wholesome skin and scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

POROUS PLASTER

CAPCINE

BENSONS CAPCINE

A Word to those who use Porous Plasters. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS! Beware of worthless imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters of the imitations the public is cautioned against purchasing them. The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous dealers to manufacture and place on the market imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters of the imitations the public is cautioned against purchasing them. The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous dealers to manufacture and place on the market imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters of the imitations the public is cautioned against purchasing them. It is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that CAPCINE is the best article used for the purpose, and that BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS are the only ones that contain CAPCINE. Beware of other plasters which are made from dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. CAUTION—See that the word CAPCINE on each plaster is correctly spelled. PRICE 25 CENTS. tfeb20

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above named and many others; embracing the Choicest, varied and characteristic stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical in the world, of the most valuable Literary and scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the Most Exquisite, Solid, Profound, Critical, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in the most compact and convenient form, at the cheapest rate, the choicest, freshest, and most valuable matter, with fresh matter, being its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attained by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only extensively fresh and COMPLETE compendium of an indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Saturday Churchman, Hartford.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds its own against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is valuable and note worthy in the literary world."—Post, Portland, Me.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of its value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the conviction is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and this accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been accustomed to see nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief as ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than 10 years, and not until recently was I induced to persevere with any until I read the letter (Mr. HENRY WEEKS) and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

THEO. P. BOGERT.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 24, 1877.

CATARRHAL AFFECTIONS,

such as Sore, Weak, Inflamed, Red, and Watery Eyes, Ulcerations and Inflammation of the Ears, Ringing in the Head, Loss of Smell, Congestion of Throat, Swollen Tonsils, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Dizziness, Choking Sensation, Loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits,—are all carefully and thoroughly treated with the remedy according to directions which accompany each bottle, or will be mailed to any address on receipt of stamp.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Nasal Tube, with full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13th.

The excitement with reference to the suspected design of the French people to seize control of the isthmus of Darien through the canal scheme of De Lessaps, seems to be growing. The French engineer, who was at first supposed to represent nobody but a few impracticable schemers, now seems to have behind him a large amount of influence and money, and probably the French government is also slyly giving him its aid. These facts have so many conservative men thinking whether after all there has been enough importance attached to the Monroe doctrine. The time for action to assert our right of control on this continent has arrived. If we make no protest, doubtless the French speculators will gain foothold in Central America which they intend shall be permanent, no matter how impracticable their canal scheme may be. The president is well known to be in favor of some action to show that we are not indifferent on this subject, and both parties in congress are with him.

The action of the house committee on commerce in reversing their former opinion in favor of the Reagan inter-state commerce bill, was a surprise to others besides Mr. Reagan, although doubtless Mr. Reagan's charges that improper influence had been brought to bear was untrue. The fact is, many business men besides the railroad companies have been here protesting against this measure as an invasion of corporate rights, and also as an effort to interfere with subjects of a merely local legislation. The bill will go before the house in some form, but its fate is probably defeat, from the present indications.

The fashionable social season closed with some notable events. The ball of the Mexican minister exceeded in rich display and tasteful ornament anything that ever was in Washington, and the reception given to the diplomatic corps at the White House is said to have been the most brilliant affair of its kind for a long time. The crowd was immense, one writer describing it as exhausting the congressional directory, the army and navy register, and other official lists, together with a liberal construction of invitations so as to include many outsiders. The lenten season will now interfere with these festivities, and perhaps congress will have more time to attend to business.

The hope of a short session has given place to the apprehension that congress will not get away until the July heat drives them.

General Sherman doesn't seem to worry about the attacks of General Boynton. He doesn't, in fact, recognize that individual as having existence at all.

KNOX.

"The best cough medicine in the world." The Old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. Cutler Bros. & Co., Boston. Small reduced to 50c; large, $1. eod&wtmoy

—A quaint old gentleman of an active, stirring disposition, had a man at work in his garden, who was quite the reverse. "Jones," said he, "did you ever see a snail?" "Certainly," said Jones. "Then," said the old man, "you must have met him, for you never could overtake him."

"My Back Aches So,"

And I feel miserably," said a hard-working man. The doctor questioned him and found that he had been habitually costive for years, that now his kidneys were disordered and his whole system deranged. Kidney-Wort was recommended and faithfully taken and in a short time every trouble was removed. The cleansing and tonic power of this medicine on the bowels and kidneys is wonderful.

—We protest against the folly of this senseless demand that the money of the land should be kept in circulation. That's just the trouble with it; it circulates too fast. What we are trying to do is to stop a little of it.

Keep your bowels and kidneys in a healthy state by the use of Kidney-Wort.

—Leadville has had a leap year ball which was conducted in proper style. The girls had three knife fights and then a general shooting affray, while the men huddled together in a corner and yelled.

STRATFORD, ONT., Aug. 1, 1874.

Having become almost entirely cured of extreme debility through the use of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I feel it but just to put the fact on record. My case had resisted all other medicines, but succumbed to three bottles of Fellows' Hypophosphites.

CHS. H. ROBERTSON.

—Nearly all the New York dailies now appear every day in the year, and the only place their editors can now find rest is in the dictionary.—Norristville Herald.

If you have a cold take Adamson's Botanic Balsam. A sure cure for coughs, sore throat, and all pulmonary complaints. To the afflicted we recommend a trial of this superior remedy.—Boston Saturday Evening Express.

The Latest Swindle.

The agricultural-statistics dodge is the latest plan to delude farmers into signing their names to innocent appearing pieces of paper, which soon turn up in the hands of innocent holders as notes for $150 or so. A very gentlemanly appearing man calls on a substantial farmer, and represents himself as an official gatherer of statistics; he produces a paper similar to a census blank, with a table for the farmer to fill out, then a blank space, and then a line on which the farmer is to put his signature. The unsuspecting farmer fills out and signs the paper, and the "official" swindler walks off with what he soon transforms into a note of hand which the farmer has to pay. The only safe rule for the farmer to go on is to regard every unknown man who seeks to procure his signature as a scoundrel, and to positively refuse to sign any document whatever presented by a stranger.

A Rain Regulator.

There is now in Washington one Gen. Daniel Ruggles, a Virginian, who is explaining before a congressional committee his method for producing rain, whenever it is needed, by scientific means. His method (for which he has received a patent) is to send up into the cloud realms cartridges of dynamite, or similar explosive materials in skeleton balloons, and to explode them either by time-fuses, etc., or by magneto-electricity through light metallic wires connecting the balloons with the earth. Gen. Ruggles, as the result of many years of study and investigation of this subject, claims that the diffused mists, passing over arid regions or localities suffering from unusual drought, may readily be consolidated into rainfalls by concussions and vibrations thus artificially produced, and he has therefore suggested to the committee that congress might provide a small appropriation for expenditure by the commissioner of agriculture. The committee has requested him to prepare a memorial for their future consideration.

A Fool Mother.

Mrs. Lorenzo Adams of Deer Island, Me., on Thursday last took her husband's revolver from the mantelpiece, and while examining it, pointed the weapon playfully at each of her children, snapping it each time. One chamber had been left loaded for upwards of a year, and had been snapped frequently and would not go off, but when Mrs. Adams snapped it at the youngest child, the charge unfortunately exploded, and the ballet struck at the corner of the right eye, and has not been found. The babe will probably recover.

Woman's Work.

Woman is fast encroaching on man's special province. Last week there was a duel between two young girls in Virginia over their common sweetheart, in which both were mortally injured; and on Sunday evening, in New York, while Thomas F. Phillips, a retired merchant sixty years of age and partially paralyzed, was going along the street, he was garroted by three colored women. One threw her arm about his neck and held him so tightly that he was unable to speak, a second held her hand over his eyes, while the third searched his pockets, robbing him of five dollars in change. Without reflecting on his danger, Mr. Phillips followed them into a dark hallway, where they beat him in the face until the blood gushed from his mouth; then dragging him into a back room, they stole $80 from his inside coat pocket, and some valuable papers. They were in the act of taking a heavy gold chain when an alarm was given, and the thieves fled. The police learned that the robbery was committed by three women just from Philadelphia, and they were subsequently arrested on a Jersey City ferryboat, having bought tickets to return to Philadelphia. They gave their names as Mary Vanderbeck, Elizabeth Wilson and Jane Henderson. The old gentleman identified the garroters.

News and Notes.

Julius C. Mantz, thirty-one years old, and Amelia Mantz, his cousin, aged twenty-eight years, of Syracuse, N. Y., went to the City hotel in that city Friday evening, engaged a room, and retired. Next morning the man was found dead in bed, with a bullet hole in his left temple, having evidently been shot while asleep, by the woman, whose dead body was found on the floor, also with a bullet hole in the head. The woman held a small mirror in one hand and a revolver in the other, and apparently took aim at her right temple by looking in the glass, after murdering her paramour. Two years ago she was ruined under a promise of marriage by her cousin, who afterward refused to fulfill his promise.

William Cross, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Worcester, Mass., hung himself Saturday afternoon. Insanity caused by ill-health induced the act.

Eloise B. Walker, wife of Rev. Charles E. Walker of Somerset, Mass., was arrested in New York on Saturday, on board the steamer from Fall River, at the instance of her husband, who charged that she had eloped with an hostler named George F. Pinkham, who was on the boat with her and who was also arrested. In the police court Mrs. Walker denied any impropriety, and said she had left her husband because he paid more attention to another woman than he did to her. She was discharged.

Cyrus T. Hawley, a wealthy citizen of Milwaukee, Wis., shot himself Sunday afternoon.

Charles Stratton and Frank Morse, of Kennedy, N. Y., had a fight about a young lady, Sunday, and Morse was fatally stabbed by Stratton.

A detachment of the ninth cavalry had a fight with Indians near San Andreas, New Mexico, last week, and were driven back with the loss of several men and horses, tents, rations, etc.

The dead body of William D. Fricks, a wealthy liquor dealer of New York, has been found in a creek in New Jersey. He is supposed to have been robbed and murdered by tramps.

Lewis King, a grandson of Gov. King of New York, and quite a wealthy young business man, shot himself at Jamaica, L. I., Sunday. No cause for the act is known.

A Mormon elder who has been to Mexico on an exploring expedition, has returned in a displeased state of mind; the Mexican government promised to protect the Mormons in the exercise of their religion, should they emigrate to Mexico, but will not tolerate polygamy.

The small pox is reported to be raging among the Indians at Spotted Tail agency, Nebraska, many dying in a few hours after the disease is developed.

A United States marshal, named Ayers, on Saturday caught a white desperado, named Meyers, in the act of firing on a train of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road. So desperately did Meyers resist arrest, that Ayers shot him fourteen times before he succumbed.

A strange murder case has just come to light in Newfoundland. Twenty-two years ago a man named Bearne was murdered by one Collins. Six months ago an important witness, who was present at the time of the murder, gave evidence before a magistrate, and Collins is now in jail awaiting trial.

Dr. Edward Osborn was to have come before Commissioner Herne, Saturday, at Chicago, on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails, in the shape of bad medical works and that sort of stuff, his case having been continued under $1,000 bail. When the case was called it was stated the defendant had jumped his bond and gone to Canada.

Early Saturday morning, burglars entered the drug store of John L. Roberts, at Sandoval, Ill., and blew open the safe, securing several hundred dollars. They then set fire to and destroyed the building and contents, causing a loss of $11,000. Forty kegs of giant powder were in a magazine in the rear of the drug store, and one of them exploded, shaking the town terribly.

The request of Major Reno to be allowed to resign his position in the army, instead of being dismissed, has been granted by the president.

Over $100,000 has been paid to the farmers of Blue Hill, Me., for their rocky acres within six weeks by mining speculators.

A great many horses in various parts of Maine are suffering from a disease resembling horse-sil. The symptoms are a bunch in the throat near the jaws. This grows larger from day to day, and the animal loses his appetite. The treatment which is generally adopted is to keep the animal warm, feed warm mashes, and laxative food.

J. L. Jenks, a brakeman on the Boston & Albany railroad, was killed in the West Springfield, Mass., depot yard, Saturday night, his foot having caught in a frog.

Adams, Mass., has had another blackmailing scandal. A pretty French girl, who, though only seventeen years old, is the wife of John H. Waters, has been in the habit of asking men to come into her house on the most innocent errands, when her husband would spring out on them and demand their gore, but always settled. At last they struck a man who wouldn't settle, and the couple are to be arrested and prosecuted. Other parties have been trying similar games.

William Lefavour, a shoe manufacturer of Marblehead, Mass., was robbed in an Eastern railroad car at Lynn, Saturday, of $400, by two pickpockets who jostled him while standing in the aisle. The thieves escaped.

A company has been formed at Newport, R. I., for the purpose of introducing the Holly system of heating through the city. Capital, $100,000. A charter will be applied for forthwith.

Sanford N. Bradford, a painter of Providence, was killed on the Providence & Worcester railroad, Saturday evening, near Woonsocket, R. I. When discovered he was crawling on the track, but too late to stop the train.

Political.

The democratic papers are laboring under a heavy load of anxiety, consequent on their fears that Gen. Grant will be nominated for president by the republicans, and their knowledge that he will be triumphantly elected if nominated.

General Grant may be elected. In all probability he will be elected if he can carry the state of New York. In all probability he will carry the state of New York unless there is a united democracy to oppose him. What probability is there of that? None that we can see at present.—New York Sun.

A Man of War's Model.

Two years ago the secretary of the navy issued an order to naval constructors directing each of them to prepare a plan of an iron unarmored cruiser of 3,500 tons displacement, and forward the same with model to the department at Washington. The intention was that when congress should confer the authority for the construction of additional ships, these plans could be examined by a board of naval officers and the best be adopted. The order was subsequently extended to an iron ram of 2,000 tons. A number of the constructors have complied with the former order, and among them Naval Constructor Hichborn, of the League island station at Philadelphia, whose model reached Washington a few days ago, and has been given a conspicuous position in the residence of Secretary Thompson. Mr. Hichborn's plan contemplates a vessel as follows: "Length between perpendiculars, 260 feet; extreme length 298 feet; beam, 46 feet; depth of hold, 22 feet; mean draft above base, 18 1-2 feet; area of mean load-line in square feet, 9320; estimated speed, fourteen knots; engines—two low pressure cylinders diameter 78 inches; one high pressure, cylinder diameter 58 1-2 inches; propeller in diameter, 10 feet 3 inches; boilers—8 cylindrical, 12 feet diameter, 10 feet 3 inches in length, 24 furnaces; grate surface, 604 square feet. He provides for an armament of fourteen 5 ton breech loading broadside pivots on gun-deck, and on spar-deck two 12-ton breech-loading pivots, four 2-4-2-en broadside pivots and four Gatling' guns.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, Feb, 17, 1:30 A. M.

Falling possibly preceded in the first district by stationary to rising barometer; winds mostly warmer Southerly, and generally clear weather; followed by increasing cloudiness.

AROUND HOME.

Dillingham's remains were sent to Lowell, Mass., to the home of his mother, Monday morning.

Some of the new machinery for the Portsmouth shoe factory was being put in position Monday.

Mr. William B. Randall had a shock of paralysis at his home Saturday evening. He was reported on Monday to be improving.

Mr. Robert Channell of Newmarket last week completed his ninety fifths year, and celebrated his birthday by a visit to the village, and taking a sprightly walk around the town.

Over eighteen thousand dollars' worth of horses were purchased in the Montreal market last week for shipment to different cities in the United States, a considerable number of them being put on the cars for Dover.

Anson B. Colbath of Dover, who was injured about a year ago by the falling on his head of a big icicle from the eaves of Dover city hall, and who brought suit against the city claiming $10,000 damages, has withdrawn his suit, having received $310 as compensation from the city.

Mr. Mercer Goodrich, in the store under the city rooms, has a large stock of writing materials, globes, miscellaneous books, toys, etc., which he advertises at greatly reduced rates, in order to reduce his stock before moving into his new quarters. Call and see if he has anything you want.

The tug Leyden went down to the Plymouth on Monday, and brought up a load of her equipment stores, including her running rigging, hawsers, spare cordage, etc., leaving another load of stores belonging to the equipment department still on board the ship, besides all the paymaster's and yeoman's stores, and much other stuff which has yet to be removed.

There is in this city a curious monstrosity in the shape of a dog with only two legs, the fore legs being wholly wanting. In the litter in which this animal was produced were two pups similarly circumstanced. Mr. David W. Parshley, formerly of Strafford, but now hailing from Chicago, was their owner, and sold them for eight hundred dollars to parties who put them on exhibition. One of the dogs died, and Mr. Parshley bought this one back; he has recently been offered two hundred dollars for him by a gentleman in this city. The animal is very active, and jumps along on his breast and hind legs, not seeming any way concerned at his lack of the regulation amount of motive power.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Feb. 16; Batchelder, J.

Jerry Murphy was examined on a charge of drunkenness, and the charge was shown to be well founded; but on Jerry's promising to sign the pledge not to drink any more for one year, he was allowed to go on probation.

Rienzi Rand, for drunkenness, was ordered to pay $9.90 fine and costs, failing to do which he was sent to the county farm.

Catharine Grogan, for vagrancy, was sent to Brentwood for sixty days, and ordered to pay $8.04 costs.

BOW MISSION HALL MEETINGS.

The gospel temperance meeting Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Woman's Temperance League, was very interesting, the audience being much larger than on the previous Saturday. The order of exercises comprised singing and speaking, recitations by young misses, and an original poem by a young gentleman. During the meeting Mr. Joseph T. French was presented with a beautiful copy of the testament and psalms, it being the fourth anniversary of his signing the pledge in the old Temple. Though Mr. French had no previous hint of the intended presentation, he responded very neatly. On the Monday evening previous Mr. George W. Randall received a gift similar to that of Mr. French.

The bethel service Sunday afternoon was conducted by Mr. Horace E. Frye, the subject considered being "One thing thou lackest." As usual the service was well attended, and the meeting went off with a snap. A lady will have charge of the exercises next Sunday.

At the reform club meeting in the evening "sharp shooting" was the order of the services, which upon the whole were quite interesting and in parts more than a little personal, the newspapers coming in for a share of the remarks. Mr. B. F. Thorndike made the speech of the evening, and though the hour was late before he got through, yet all present appeared anxious that he should have his say. By request the club will attend the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday evening. L.

GREENBACK MEETING.

A meeting of the greenback club of this city was held at the old custom house on Daniel street last Friday evening, and was well attended; the president of the club, John E. Roberts, occupied the chair, and N. K. Raynes appeared as secretary. It was voted, as the sense of the meeting, to adhere to the club organization. Gardner J. Greenleaf was appointed delegate to the greenback conference at Manchester on the 19th inst., and the following was passed:

Resolved, That our delegate to the conference be instructed to convey to the conference, as the sense of this club, that we should stand by the club organization, and perfect the state organization.

A vote was passed instructing the secretary by letter to inform Hugo Preyer, chairman of the national committee of the greenback club organization, of the action of this club.

It was voted to send Lafayette Chesley as delegate from this club to the national convention of the union greenback club organization, to be held at St. Louis on March 4th.

NEWCASTLE.

The fair given under the auspices of the Independent Order of Substantials came off on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, the 10th and 11th insts., in the town hall at Newcastle, after a postponement of two weeks, and a better time never was had, the old hall being packed to its utmost capacity both evenings. The lucky ticket holders were as follows: Justin D. French of Portsmouth, ticket No. 131, prize a fine lamp; C. S. Philpott of South Berwick, No. 201, glass tea set; C. S. P. Tarlton, No. 161, cake basket; Lilly Bell, No. 101, cut of cotton cloth; Mrs. C. Push, No. 70, cut of cotton cloth; Frank P. Locke, No. 124, pair vases. The last four belong in Newcastle. The drawing was superintended by Capt. C. O. Grant and Mr. Philpott, and was satisfactorily conducted. Hon. E. A. Peterson of Greenland got a nice guess cake and two solid silver dessert spoons; J. M. Bickford got a clock, and Jothan Emery a handsome cake presented to the order by George Rice of Portsmouth. A butter knife was the prize for the person who should guess nearest to the number of beans contained in a bottle; Mrs. Ellen White and Messrs. Carry and Graham each guessed the same number, and as their guess was nearest the actual number they were entitled to the butter knife, and the two gentlemen voted the prize to the lady. The fair was a success financially as well as in furnishing amusement, and the net receipts will probably reach $150. M. A. Hutchinson of Portsmouth presented the order with a number of nice bouquets for the purposes of the fair.

Col. W. H. Hackett of Portsmonth on the 5th inst. delivered the third lecture in the lyceum course that is being given in Newcastle under the management of the I. O. of S., on "Foreign travel;" he is a pleasing speaker, and his lecture showed him to be a close observer of manners and men when aboard. Rev. James De-Normandie delivered the fourth lecture in the same course on the evening of the 10th inst., to a large and gratified audience; subject, "Palestine." NED.

The fair of the "Independent Order of Substantials" at Newcastle last week was a success, and a generous sum realized. The handsomely frosted and much admired guess cake was drawn by Col. E. A. Peterson of Greenland. On cutting the same it was found to be a block of wood elegantly "sugar-coated." Sure enough, it was a "substantial," and made much fun among those who conocted it. —Times.

FISHERY NOTES.

The schooner Mary E. Caswell, in going down to the lower harbor on Saturday night, got foul of another vessel and had her main boom broken.

Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell on Saturday sold the remainder of his stock of mackerel, haddock and spawn at the Shoals to Mr. John Dixon of this city.

Messrs. Randall & Caswell, who supply J. T. Cotton of the Masonic Temple fish market in Concord with fish, on Friday sent him the seal taken on a trawl of the schooner Una's some days ago, and the Patriot says that on Saturday hundreds of persons visited the fish market to take a look at the curiosity.

The floating wreck already referred to several times as being off Thatcher's island in a dangerous position for passing vessels, it seems was not fishing schooner A. T. Haines. The vessel named was towed into Gloucester on the 12th inst., and the floating wreck was seen on Friday about a mile northeast of Thatcher's island, by the schooner Victor, at Gloucester from Newfoundland with frozen herring. The wreck was found Friday night by the tug Wm. Woolley, from Boston, the captain of which states that he found the wreck to be a two-masted vessel of about one hundred and forty tons burthen, with her stern and bow so badly stove as to render it impossible to ascertain her name or any particulars that would lead to her identification, she being in nineteen fathoms of water and her masts only two feet above the surface. The tug made fast to the mainmast and pulled it out with everything attached, and there being a rough sea the wreck matter was towed in toward the shore for safety. On returning to the wreck a short time afterward for the purpose of pulling out the foremast no vestige of the vessel could be found, she having sunk from the effects of tearing out the mast. The wreck was a dangerous obstruction to navigation, and its disappearance is fortunate for mariners passing that point. The mainmast was towed to Boston.

THAT CONSOLIDATION.

It is current talk on State street, to-day, that the article in the Boston Journal of Saturday relative to a consolidation of the Boston & Maine and Eastern railroad corporations was inspired by a combination seeking to advance the price of the latter stock. People who claim to be posted say that Messrs. Baring Brothers, who now own somewhere in the neighborhood of 12,000 shares of Eastern stock, are buying through Lee, Higginson & Co., Rollins, Morse & Co., and New York firms of bankers, additional shares, the financial depository being the Maverick national bank.

The stock has been sold as high as forty-four, and there is an intimation that the Baring limit is fifty, the purchases being for the purpose of obtaining a majority of Eastern stock before next meeting of the company. One cause for this is alleged to be the desire of the Grand Trunk railway company to get into Boston on rails of its own, and, if the Eastern railroad comes into English hands, a connection may be made which will give a Boston outlet from Chicago via the Grand Trunk and Eastern roads, enabling the former road to act independently of its Central Vermont connections. If these reports be true, and they come from more than one source, important railroad developments may soon be looked for.—Traveller, Feb. 16th.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. t,th&f

Reading Character by the Voice.

We are very much given to forming estimates of persons by the tones of their voices, and in the absence of other and better data, a tolerable judgment may be so formed.

It is said that Socrates judged the quality of a man by the tone of his voice, as may be inferred from his well-known "Speak that I may see you."

Dr. Durant has prepared a formula which embodies his conclusions on this subject, viz:

"A person whose utterances is thick and coarse is malicious, cunning, and disdainful.

A coarse voice indicates a robust physique, a great talker, quick-temper, though conspicuously discreet.

A piercing, fine, or weak voice is indicative of timidity, cunning, and generally of quick wit.

An attractive and clear voice expresses a man who is prudent, sincere, and ingenuous, but proud and incredulous; whereas a firm voice, without harshness, denotes a person who is robust, intelligent, circumspect, and benevolent.

A man possessing a trembling and hesitating voice is timid, weak, vain, and sometimes jealous.

A voice combining great sound and firmness indicates a man who is strong, audacious, rash, obstinate, and self-important.

A sharp and rude voice, in singing as well as in conversation, denotes a coarse mind, inferior judgment, and strong appetites.

A hoarse voice, seemingly the effect of a cold, signifies a person more simple than wise, credulous and untruthful, vain and inconsistent.

A full and sweet voice denotes a man who is peaceful, inclined to timidity, discreet and self-willed.

A voice at first grave and then sharp and piercing denotes the quick temper of an impetuous, arrogant, and imprudent man.

A soft, sweet voice is found in a person of a peaceable and suitable character."

A Long Island Fish Story.

The Forest and Stream gives the following, as told by a Boston correspondent: "One pleasant summer afternoon I was standing on the shore of a pond on Long Island—way down—where Mr. Hallock has, I trow, many times and oft cast a line, watching the play of swallows as they skimmed just over the surface of the water shortly before sunset. About a hundred yards out was a bed of lily pads, and as the swallows skipped it occasionally a good-sized ripple could be seen, and sometimes a break from the edges indicating a fish there. This fastened my attention to the particular place. I had often seen cats play with swallows, swooping at them, but the idea of fish doing the same was something new to me. Presently I saw a clean breach, and a fine large pickerel showed its whole size and got a swallow, too, as he disappeared beneath the water. This I saw repeated several times, and I called the attention of my companion to this novel sight. While we were watching we saw two large fish break at the same swallow, the fish coming from opposite directions and each head on to each. Both missed the swallow, but, strange to relate, only one fish was seen to fall into the water, and neither was seen to pass the other. My companion and myself looked with wonder. There was a great commotion in the water, with a continuous spattering, and a boat being handy we jumped in and pawed to the spot, and picked up the largest pond pickerel I ever saw. When we had him in the boat the mystery was solved; the smaller of the fish had, in his eagerness for the swallow, jumped clear down the larger one's throat, and only the tail, to the extent of about an inch, showed. The large fish was completely rent asunder and killed by the catastrophe! Both, together weighed twenty-two pounds."

Mrs. Partington says

Don't take any of the quack nostrums, as they are regimental to the human cistern; but put your trust in Hop Bitters, which will cure general dilapidation, costive habits and all comic diseases. They saved Isaac from a severe extract of tripod fever. They are ne plus unum of medicines.—Boston Globe.

Speer's Wine for Delicate Females.

It is a pure article from the juice of cultivated Sambucus, prepared and fermented by a new process, without the addition of any spirits. It is one of the most comforting cordials we have ever tested for female weakness and kidney difficulties, consumption and general debility, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in the market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants and druggists, from all parts of this country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France. It is getting a large sale in England, for female weaknesses.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Cuticura
BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, soothing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine, forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Cancer, those terrible blood poisons that yet set the machinery of life, diseased by with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,
Breast and Limbs Cured.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—I cannot refrain from adding my mite of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have cured me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has so pleased this unfortunate people—Dr. ——, of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a chill so far for 12 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 20, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE
Cured in One Week.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER.—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, MASS., June 10, 1878.
NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,
Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA, in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skin of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clear and wholesome skin and scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRO PLASTERS

Pain and Weakness can not exist where they are applied. They Relax, strengthen and support Weak and Painful Parts; cure Chronic Rheumatic and Kidney Diseases; absorb Poisons from the blood, and thus prevent Fever and Ague, Malarial and Contagious Diseases; stimulate the Stomach and Digestive Organs when placed over the pit of the stomach, and prevent Dyspepsia, Bilious C ic, Cramps and Pains.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION!

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is the standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 antiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

POROUS PLASTER — CAPCINE PLASTER — BENSONS CAPCINE

A Word to those who use Porous Plasters. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS! The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling on the reputation of Benson's Capcine Plasters, we would caution the public to see that they get some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain no Burgundy pitch, or any of the ingredients which make the genuine article so valuable for strengthening and curing lame backs, kidney and other diseases. CAUTION—See that the word CAPCINE is on the plaster you buy. Sold by all druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Pharmaceutical Chemists, New York.

Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-second year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, the ablest and most attractive of the Choicest Critical and Short Stories by the Leading Force on Novelists, and an amount in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientific, Critical, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

Unapproached by any other Periodical

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, and bring its accounts of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature, is obvious, because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a large number of magazines."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in literature, politics and science or the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Cincinnati.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through comprehension of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

"It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE POTATOR does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that aimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to add my line to say that although I have been sceptical of a so much "advertised" as "radical cure," I have never found anything that promises such relief as ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter Mr. HENRY WEEKS, and can truthfully say that after five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.,

Dry, Warm, Ventilated Stables.

For the horse, especially, it is all important to see that the stable is comfortable; for under the excitement of work, the perspiration, and the occasional violent efforts of breathing, he is more than any other domestic animal subject to colds and chest diseases. A damp bed, or a draft of cold air acting on the heated and perspiring animal, will often lay the foundation of a malady that utterly ruins his usefulness. Open windows and doors on opposite sides of the stable, or openings in the walls or floor should be carefully guarded against, especially when the horse has just come in from work. But in securing comfortable warmth, we must avoid impure air, from confinement of the breath or emanations from manure. Cleanliness, and sufficient openings for the ingress and egress of air, on one side of the stable only, or above the level of the animals on both sides, will guard against cold, while securing purity of the atmosphere. Blanketing the horse when returned wet to the stable, and when stopped for some time out of doors, need only be suggested. When returned to the stable with wet, muddy heels, which cannot be rubbed dry at once, light, dry, woolen bandages may be applied to prevent chilling and chapping, and the mud may be brushed off later, when it has dried.—Ex.

The Telephone.

W. J. Clark, well known in this city as being the manager of the district telegraph system when it was first introduced here by the Western Union company, sails next Thursday for South America. He will land at Valparaiso, Chili, and, making that city his headquarters, will superintend the construction of a telephone system along the entire coast, the work occupying about a year. Edison's latest patents will be introduced, including transmitters and receivers, so that a message can be received or answered from any part of the room in which a telephone is; but the South Americans will miss our "Hello! hello!" without which, latest improvements will amount to nothing.

A letter to the Springfield Republican from Pittsfield, Mass., says that a Pittsfield man has invented a telephone attachment by which only one bell at a time is struck on a circuit. So far as we know all previous attempts to accomplish this have ended in independent wires for each place. This is the way in all the large cities, and is of course, satisfactory, except for its generally increased cost. No details for the Pittsfield invention are now given beyond the fact that it has been patented and is owned by a company, the stock of which was started at one dollar a share and is now at twenty-five dollars. The great nuisance, the only tangible objection to the telephone is the ringing of the signal bells. It not only annoys one but it tends to deaden the sense and to lessen the attention for signals. If whenever the bell rings it rings for your telephone, then there is no uncertainty. This is the happy consummation they claim to have reached by the new discovery. In Paris, where the telephone system is said to be the best in the world, there is a very clever attachment that we miss here. Suppose "A" is put in communication with "B" and asks "B" some question that involves his leaving the telephone a moment. The only way to know when "B" returns and is ready to talk is for "A" to keep the telephone at his ear all the time. It is a nuisance that has seemed insuperable, like the effort to communicate with the central office after conversation is over and before the wire is connected again. This is all obviated in the Paris system by a little whistle transmitted by telephone. There is not room here to describe it, but it enables people to attract each other's attention. It is the invention of Mr. Gower, formerly of Providence.—New Haven Union.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

—Gen. Sherman is said to be a greater kisser than any other man in America who has never taken religious orders. As soon as he has kissed every woman in the hall, the ball always breaks up, and the guests, feeling there is nothing further to wait for, go home.—Burlington Hawk-eye.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B., thus writes to Mr. Fellows: "I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring my wife and daughter, the latter from Tubercular Consumption, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

—Out of season—An empty pepper box.

A Reliable Wine.

Mr. A. Speer, New Jersey, whose Port Grape Wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to introduce the art of making wine from the Oporto Grape, which is now the best wine to be had, and has become a great favorite among the most prominent physicians of New York and Philadelphia, who have visited the vineyards and wine cellars at Passaic. Families and aged persons are benefited by it.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1880.

News and Notes.

Rev. Russell Streeter, one of the fathers of Universalism, and the oldest clergyman of that denomination, died February 15th. He would have been eighty-nine years of age on the 15th of April next. Some of his early as well as later years in the ministry, were spent in Massachusetts and Maine, and at one time he was editor of a denominational paper in Boston, the predecessor of the present Universalist.

Postmaster Britton of North Pomfret, Vt., is under a cloud for forgery.

Mrs. Letitia McDowell of Webster, Mass., forty years of age, wife of David McDowell, was found dead on the floor of her kitchen on Sunday from the effect of habitual intemperance.

Counterfeit half-dollars are becoming plenty in Worcester, Mass., and many of them are so well executed as to require close scrutiny. Those observed are chiefly with the dates 1857, 1875 and 1877. The dies are generally good, but the weight is noticeably lighter than the genuine coin.

A large number of leading New York merchants have signed a memorial in behalf of the enactment of a national bankrupt law, which has been forwarded to Washington. The Bangor board of trade has sent a letter to the Maine delegation in congress urging them to favor the passage of a bankrupt law.

Mrs. David Webster of Readfield, Me., undertook the other day to separate two cats which were fighting, when one of them bit her on the back of the hand. The arm and hand turned black and she is now in a precarious condition.

Patrick Gaffney, sixty years of age, was found dead Monday morning, at Rockdale, Mass. He was probably intoxicated, and died from exposure. He leaves a wife and seven children.

The "lightning saw game" has been successfully played on a man in Lunenburg, Mass. Some time in December he met, at the hotel in that town, two men who wanted to employ him to deliver "lightning saws" in that place. He agreed to deliver the saws at $1 each. A written agreement was drawn up and signed. He received no saws to deliver, and heard no more of the matter till last week, when he received notice from the Rollstone national bank of Fitchburg that the bank had a note for $150, signed by him, for collection. He refused to pay the note, and will contest its collection. He is confident that he did not sign a note, but remembers that when he signed the agreement with the saw men there was a blank space between the agreement and the signature. The note was afterward written on the blank space.

Gov. Hoyt of Wyoming is in bad credit with the people of that territory, on account of alleged improper intimacy with a mulatto girl.

There is no little excitement at Newport, R. I., at the activity of the Newport gas company in getting signatures to secure the passage of an amendment to their charter, which will enable them to lay steam pipes in the city. This move was made to head off the new company formed to introduce the Holly system of heating cities. It is probable that the gas company will be successful, as the amendment to the charter can be granted at the January session of the legislature, whereas the new charter cannot be ratified until the May session. A petition, however, will be introduced at once by the new company.

Michael Suffrand of Port Johnston, N. J., received a comic valentine, representing a hangman, Saturday, and concluding that Herman Schultz, his enemy, sent it, he sought out and probably fatally stabbed Schultz.

The exports of petroleum and its products from the United States in December were 45,657,950 gallons, valued at $3,999,447, and in the six months ending with December, 31,275,407,615 gallons, valued at $22,486,089.

At Bainbridge, Pa., on the 14th inst., Charles Lane murdered his wife, a daughter six years old and an infant of three months, and then suicided by poison. A boy three years old was found alive but with his feet frozen. The family were in destitute circumstances.

Jim Somers, known from one end of Dakota to the other as a lawless desperado, had a fight at Brule City on Friday with his nephew, M. Somers, and shot the latter through the body with a gun, fatally wounding him. As the latter fell he fired his revolver at his uncle, killing him instantly. The two ruffians were buried next day.

Hiram P. Allen, of Sandwich, Ill., sat up in bed Sunday night and spoke to two burglars who had broken into his house, when one of them opened fire upon him, hitting him four times. Three of the shots would have proved fatal, if no others had been fired. He died instantly. His wife had taken refuge in a closet, and heard some conversation between the burglars, which, with another clue, may lead to their arrest. They secured only a trifle in plunder.

Mrs. Adam Murray, of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, on Sunday last presented her husband with five infants, three girls and two boys, all fully developed. At last accounts all hands were doing well.

A new comet was discovered at Cape Town, C. G. H., on the 12th inst.

At one o'clock last Monday morning "Blower" Brown, George Hazael and Samuel Day started on a six-days go-as-you-please race in London, for the Astley belt and a sweepstakes of $500 each.

A railway train from Andalusia, Spain, bound for Madrid, and carrying the government treasure chest under the charge of five gendarmes, was stopped on Sunday by sixteen brigands between Alcazar and Argamasilla. Marshal Serrano, who happened to be passenger on the train, took command of the gendarmes and fire on the bandits, who fled. One gendarme was wounded.

The highest authority in New England, the State Assayer of Massachusetts, after a careful analysis of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer certified that it is the best preparation for its intended purposes that has been exhibited for examination, that its constituents are pure and carefully selected for excellent quality, and that it forms an efficient preparation for promoting the growth of the hair and restoring the original color. This world-renowned preparation is for sale by all druggists.—Record, Red Oak, Iowa.

Naval Affairs.

The announcement that Civil Engineer M. T. Endicott, U. S. N., attached to the navy yard near this city, had been placed on waiting orders, seems to have been incorrect. The rumor proceeded from a Washington reporter, and was first telegraphed to the New York Herald. We are glad to know that so capable an officer as the present civil engineer now at this station, is to be retained on duty.

The U. S. S. Constitution has arrived at Aspinwall.

The flagship Pensacola, of the South Pacific squadron, sailed from Callao on the 14th inst., for Panama.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Elizabeth Treadwell Weston of Peterboro' on Monday celebrated her 102d birthday anniversary. Five generations were present. The old lady is hale and hearty, and reads and converses as well as she did when twenty-five years of age.

Marine Losses.

The loss of sailing vessels engaged in the foreign trade of the United States last year was the largest, with one exception, on record. We append the list for the last seven years:

1873, 459 vessels were lost, worth with cargo, $11,780,000.
1874, 351 vessels, $8,780,000.
1875, 373 vessels, $7,612,000.
1876, 449 vessels, $7,890,000.
1877, 496 vessels, $10,037,700.
1878, 536 vessels, $9,460,000.
1879, 516 vessels, $15,000,000.

The number of steamers in all trades lost last year reached fifty—of which thirty-four were British, five American, four Spanish, one Egyptian, one Swedish, one Russian, one Holland, two unknown, and one German; fifteen were loaded with grain, two had part cargoes of grain, five miscellaneous cargo, four coal, nine unknown, two cotton, two iron ore, one cattle and flour, one coffee, one East India goods and products, and two in ballast. The aggregate capacity of these vessels was about 73,000 tons, and the total number of lives known to be lost was 511. That so few lives were lost is attributed to the fact that, with two or three exceptions, these were freight boats and carried no passengers. A significant fact is that thirty-seven of them were built after 1870, four of them were not a year old, and all excepting four were constructed of iron with "water-tight" compartments!—American Ship.

Carlotta Patti Criticised.

No wonder Carlotta Patti skipped the country in a hurry and went to Australia after this criticism of her singing by the San Francisco Post:

Of Carlotta Patti herself we regret we can say very little in praise. Her first number, a symphony in B-gorm, by dear old Jim Beethoven, was given with much apparent nervousness. In fact, this well-known soprano (we think she is a soprano) seemed to realize that she stood in the presence of those cultured and critical San Francisco audiences we read about, many of whom have walked in from Hayes Valley and Laguna street a purpose. The result was that her knees knocked together with such force as to throw the accompaniment out several times. Her voice had several paramount faults, and we will endeavor to render our meaning clear to our unprofessional readers by using as few musical phrases as possible. In the first place, her technique is bad, besides being too small. When a brand-new technique can now be had for $3, and a good second-hand one, holding over two quarts, for $1.75, there is no excuse for this. Of course we all know—all we critics—that there are no tears in Mrs. de Munckey's voice, which is the reason for her having to wet her whistle so early and often. There is a marked deficiency in breadth and depth and thickness in the upper register, which does not admit the air freely in consequence, and a far off nearness, a sort of inanimate aftertise, so to speak, in the diminuendo of her flats, particularly her French flat. Her singula mannerism of holding her chin lopsided during her G-ups is in bad form, and the first thing she knows one of her sharps will come out edgeways and cut her throat. Then she opens her mouth too much and too often when she sings, which makes her chest notes mouthy and her mouth notes chesty. It would be much better, to say nothing of more artistic if she were to open only one side of her mouth at a time. This would save wear and tear of her teeth, and at the same time give the other corner time to rest and brace up. She exerts herself too much in her trills, and it would save both breath and expense if she had them hereafter done behind the scenes by a boy with a dog-whistle or something.

How Men Waltz.

"One man," says the Saturday Review, "waltzes with his head in the air and much the expression worn by a dog when he is howling at the sound of music. Another has a bend in the middle, which looks as uncomfortable as it is ungraceful. One genuflects at every turn, and slides one of his feet as if to trip up rival dancers. An even more dangerous performer works his left hand up and down as if it were a pump handle. A tall man, with a top-heavy kind of stoop, leans over his partner like a great ben taking a chicken under her wing. One man holds his partner as if he were afraid she would slip from his grasp, while another looks as if he wished he were rid of his bargain."

—William McCabe of Cynthiana, Ky., gave his aged and feeble mother a sound whipping because she had unjustly punished him as a boy thirty years before. He said that as she was getting so old he might lose the opportunity to get even with her if he deferred the settlement.

A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

Political.

Some perverse but not altogether deluded paragraphist said that an "independent" in politics was the fellow who talked civil service reform, and voted the democratic ticket whenever he did vote.

The county returns of last September's election in Maine, and other property, have been found secreted in the chamber recently occupied by Gov. Garcelon, on top of a high book-case. There were found with the county returns, affidavits from all parts of the state, and letters of fusionists from various localities. The affidavits and letters are now in the hands of G. D. Bisbie, clerk of the investigating committee of the legislature, who is giving them his special attention.

Conventions lean toward Sammy Tilden, or any other man who is willing to spend $50,000 to get the nomination and four times that amount to secure the unbought suffrages of a free people. Nominations, great and small, are getting to be more and more a question of bank accounts. The liberty-pole—heretofore disguised as an emblem of freedom—now stands confessed as that celebrated longest pole which is reported to have knocked the persimmons.—New Orleans Times (dem.)

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, Feb, 81, 1:30 A. M.

Falling barometer; winds mostly southerly, rising, followed by stationary temperature; increasing cloudiness and possibly occasional rain.

AROUND HOME.

There was a slight collision in the yard of the Eastern railroad in this city, Friday night, resulting in some damage to several freight cars, and the suspension of two employes of the road.

Granite Lodge of Salmon Falls was visited on Tuesday evening by District Deputy Grand Master of Masons John L. Cloutman, accompanied by Grand Lecturer John Pender. The Masonic fraternity of Salmon Falls was in attendance in goodly numbers.

Frank J. Hanson, of Dover, was one of the starters in a seventy-hours go-as-you please race in Music hall, Boston, which commenced at half-past nine o'clock Tuesday morning. The race commences at the same hour every morning and continues to 11:30 at night, and will finish on Saturday. The prizes, seven in number, amount to $1250, of which the leading man will get $600.

Jack Broderick, indicted under the tramp law, escaped the state prison through a verdict of "not guilty" returned by the jury at Dover on Monday. George Brooks, indicted for breaking and entering a building and stealing bread from a baker's cart housed therein, was not so lucky as the tramp, the jury finding him guilty and the judge sending him to state prison for two years.

A gentleman from Deerfield, while riding in the cars recently, between Newmarket junction and Portsmouth, entered the smoking car and commenced reading a newspaper, during which a well-dressed man in the next seat walked off with his overcoat. The Deerfield "shoy" discovered him before he left the car, and coolly drawing a revolver, told the "well-dressed man" to bring back that coat which he had taken by "mistake." The command was quickly complied with.—Candia Banner.

The following item, which we clip from the Nautical Gazette of New York, will interest quite a number of persons in this city: "The vessel owners of Philadelphia engaged in carrying coal to coastwise ports have adopted a new bill of lading, to go into effect when the spring trade opens. Heretofore the vessel has at most ports paid the cost of discharging the coal, but by the new bill it is provided that the cost of discharge is to be paid by the consignee. This bill is adopted by the Reading railroad steam colliers as well as by the sailing vessels."

When the Pullman train from Boston over the Eastern railroad was near Scarboro', Me., Monday night, a parallel rod of the locomotive gave away, and the fireman, John McCarty of this city, residing on Fleet street, was thrown from the engine and had his shoulder badly crushed. The train, which was running at fifty miles an hour on a down grade at the time of the accident, was stopped as soon as possible and backed to where McCarty was lying, and the injured man picked up and taken into Portland, the train being delayed about an hour.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 17; Batchelder, J.

Nellie B. Clark was accused of having been drunk, and the charge was sustained by evidence, but she promised to leave town on the three o'clock train if let off, so she was put on probation.

James Gilchrist, otherwise known as "Scotty," one of the best customers of the court, appeared to answer to a charge of drunkenness. He answered it in the affirmative, and was sent to Brentwood for sixty days, and ordered to pay $6.90 costs.

John Crowley, another drunk, was fined $3, costs $6.90; and Reuben Rand, Jr., for the same offence, received the same sentence. Brentwood for two.

PRESENTATION.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Charles W. Brock, who up to a few months ago was fireman of Kearsarge steam fire engine, No. 3, was inveigled into the hall of the engine house, where he was surprised to find the company all assembled, and still further surprised by the presentation of a very handsome easy chair upholstered in raw silk, Mr. Will. S. Hazel making the presentation speech on behalf of the company. Mr. Brock, who had no inkling of what was coming, was completely taken aback, but warmly expressed his pleasure and gratitude at this kindly and generous manifestation of friendship on the part of his late associates. Director Ira C. Seymour and Engineer George N. Jones of the company made pleasant and suitable remarks, and a very agreeable hour was spent by all present.

NOT SOLD YET.

Some weeks ago we reported the purchase of the "Melcher lot" on the corner of Chestnut and Congress streets, by Mr. Charles E. Walker, who proposed to put up a fine building there; at the time we supposed our information was correct, as it came from parties directly interested in the matter, but it was not, though our informants supposed it was at the time they gave it to us. Soon after, the Times reported that the sale of the lot mentioned had been consummated, that paper having received its information from as reliable a source as ours; and now the last Weekly says:

We understand that the reported sale of the lot to Charles E. Walker has fallen through,—in fact, "just before he did, he did not" buy. Albert R. Hatch, Esq., is agent for John L. Melcher of New York in selling this lot; and Mr. Walker, after being refused the sale at $7500, finally decided to pay the $8000 asked, and telegraphed Mr. Melcher to that effect, who wrote Mr. Hatch requesting him to make a deed. But Mr. Walker now heard that the property had been previously offered to some other party for less money, though Mr. Hatch denied any knowledge or belief of this; but when Mr. J. P. Morse heard Mr. Walker had bought, he remarked to him that he could have sold the lot cheaper, and afterward on request showed him a letter from Mr. Melcher last fall, offering it for $7500—the proposed purchaser then being Mr. Frank Jones, who however would not go above his offer, $7000. Upon this, Mr. Walker refused to complete the purchase; and Mr. Melcher in turn informed his agent that the price of the lot will now be $8500.

AN ODD LAWSUIT.

A dispute is in progress between the overseers of the poor of Newburyport and the overseers of the poor of the town of Worthington, Mass., as to which place is responsible for the support of an insane pauper named Georgiana Sloan. The woman was born in Hampton, N. H., in 1849, her father being a blacksmith named George W. Garland, who subsequently resided with his family in Newburyport and Boston, enlisting in the navy in 1864 and being credited to the quota of the town of Worthington. On the 6th of August, 1865, Georgiana Garland and Frank H. Sloan of Boston were married in this city by Rev. Charles Burroughs, D. D., but Sloan appears to have been a worthless fellow, and deserted his wife shortly after marriage. In 1877 Mrs. Sloan became insane, and the Newburyport authorities claim that Worthington is responsible for her support, on the ground that her husband having no known residence, his wife is entitled to a settlement in Worthington through her father, under an act of the Massachusetts legislature passed in 1880, which reads: "Any person who shall have been duly enlisted and mustered into the military or naval service of the United States, as a part of the quota of any city or town in this commonwealth, under any call of the president of the United States during the recent civil war, and who shall have died or become disabled from wounds or disease received or contracted while engaged in such service, or while a prisoner in the hands of the enemy, and the wife or widow and minor children of such person, shall be deemed thereby to have acquired a settlement in such city or town." The overseers of the poor of the town of Worthington resist the claim on the ground that, on her marriage to Sloan, the daughter of Garland being thereby emancipated from her father's authority, was debarred from participating in a right which he had not yet acquired, but was in the process of acquiring.

BEET SUGAR IN MAINE.

Mr. S. McIntire of York county, Me., writes to the Germantown Telegraph as follows:

The sugar-beet industry in Maine is a failure for various reasons. There was not a farmer in this county who would renew his contract to the sugar manufacturing company to raise and deliver beets at $5 per ton. Potatoes, hay, corn or market gardening is a better crop. Besides, having raised them, they are worth more for feeding purposes. I am wintering four spring shoats of 200 pounds each on half a bushel of sliced beets three times a day, and the kitchen waste; and for milch cows they are invaluable. I shall put in a larger breadth next spring. The Beet-sugar company expected the farmers to buy back the pulp at $2 per ton, but could not make them see it! The pulp of potatoes at the starch factory is worthless, and is shoveled into the millrace. Why should that of the beet be any better? And with the present unsettled state of political affairs, they could not place any dependence on the state bounty, and so they are closing up their business in Portland, to seek other fields and pastures new in her majesty's dominions across the border to operate next season, where they can hire men for fifty cents a day or less, and where potatoes bring but twenty cents per bushel. They may be able to get beets at $4 per ton, and this probably is as much as they can afford to give.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The petitioners who asked for the fixing of the salary of the county commissioners of York county have been given leave to withdraw by the Maine legislature.

Among the crew of the schooner Kate Newman, of Tremont, Me., wrecked at Long Branch, N. J., in the great gale of the 3d inst., with the loss of nearly all hands, was Mr. R. M. Richardson of Kennebunk, who leaves a wife and child in that town.

Among the bills recently introduced in the national house of representatives was one by Judge Elam of Louisiana, for the ascertainment of claims of American citizens for spoliation prior to the 31st day of July, 1801, which has been referred to the appropriate committee. There are many citizens in Saco, Biddeford, Kennebunk and other towns in Maine, among those interested in the payment of these long deferred, but just claims.

—Wheelbarrows are in very little demand in Brazil, "owing to the almost universal practice of carrying burdens on the head." Not long ago the American consul saw a sturdy negro carry a wheelbarrow on his head through the streets of Rio de Janeiro.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

Henry Ward Beecher Asks a Question!

On Sunday, January 11 h last, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, preached to a crowd. The text was from First Timothy, vi., 10—"For the love of money is the root of all evil." "Men may say what they please about despising money, but no rational man does despise it. The most rigorous saint to whom a million is left is quite willing to assume the stewardship of it. While dealing in stocks is as legitimate when stocks represent actual property as is the dealing in wool or the produce of the farm, yet gambling in stocks is not legitimate, and yet it takes place unblushingly, almost unrebukedly and increasingly. Why should not lotteries exist when churches are full of them, when cathedrals are opened filled with the most ingenious schemes, when church fairs are carried on with the most unblushing games of chance, when a regiment is swelling its funds by the most notorious of lotteries—what business have we to rise up in judgment?" The 118th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery will take place at New Orleans, La., on Tuesday, March 9th. It is for the cause of Education and Charity. For $2 you may receive $30,000. Address M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person, No. 319 Broadway, New York city, N. Y.

Walking Sticks.

A walking-stick has always been considered a useful and graceful present, likely to be of pleasant service, and long possessed. Some are inclined to think that the pilgrim's staff, the bishop's crozier, the drum-major's gorgeous mace and the usher's wand have a common origin with the walking-stick; at least we know that change of habit, and that most unaccountable change of fashion, has in our own time worked some curious results; the various materials called into use are alone sufficient to cause surprise. Walking-sticks have been made of tortoise shell, the back-bone or vertebrae of the shark, the tusk of the rhinoceros, and woods of every conceivable variety, and lately one was exhibited made entirely of champagne corks, with a stout wire passed through them. The handles have many more sources to boast, as there are many materials not large enough to make whole sticks, such for instance as the teeth of the giraffe, the walrus, the elephant; and, in fact, most large teeth, and all horns are useful for the purpose. It is a remarkable fact that women are seldom employed at stick making, and boys but little, there being so much knowledge and skill required for the various processes that men are chiefly employed; it is also singular that steam power is not in use to any large extent; machinery has the power of turning out large quantities of goods all alike, but can not vary them; this is the reason of its not being generally adopted, for the very charm of a stick is its natural peculiarities. There must not be two alike, and if nature is humored, as it is by a skilled workman, they cannot be; it will readily be seen that a fixed method cannot be applied to all, as each stick must receive treatment peculiar to itself.—Hatter's Gazette.

Glucose.

The Confectioner's Journal, in regard to glucose and its enormous product in this country, says:

"At first it was affirmed that the sugar made from corn was injurious. The learned chemists decided that it was perfectly harmless. The con-equence is that vast quantities are now made and sold. Besides a great establishment in New York, there is another in Buffalo, another in Chicago, and several minor establishments in other cities. One of these great establishments used five million bushels of corn in the year 1878. Confectioners are using great quantities of glucose sugar, because from its uncrystallizable quality, it tends greatly to keep certain classes of goods soft for a greater length of time, and retards granulation in other kinds, and because it saves greatly in the cost of all articles with which it is combined. It was proved before the congressional investigating committees that vast quantities of glucose, or corn-starch, were sold to sugar refiners; also, that it is sold in great quantities to confectioners. Glucose is also largely used in mixing with California honey, one gallon of glucose to one of honey. It is also used largely in the eastern states in the manufacture of all sweet wines, lager beer, and all liquors requiring syrups. In fact corn sugar is now used for all the various purposes for which any sugar is used, except for first-class confectionery. Glucose is also shipped in large quantities to Europe, where it is in great demand and in increasing quantities."

A Feathered Tourist.

The White Star steamship Celtic, which arrived from Liverpool on Wednesday last, brought a strange passenger, who had boarded that vessel in mid-ocean. A large white owl dropped on one of the forward spars in an exhausted condition one evening when the vessel was about 800 miles off the coast of Newfoundland. When brought to the deck by a sailor the owl was found to be nearly dead from cold and hunger, and almost too weak to eat. It had become greatly emaciated, and trembled violently in endeavoring to swallow the first morsel of meat which was placed in its beak. The owl slowly recovered, and is now perfectly well. It is a land bird, and is supposed to have been blown off the coast of Newfoundland by the westerly gales which had for some days previous prevailed there. Finding itself once at sea it had probably ceased making efforts to reach the land, and had drifted before the gale, its only efforts being to keep above the water. The bird must have possessed remarkable powers of endurance, the officers say, to have kept up so long. The Celtic's owl, which is now quite tame, measures nearly five feet from wing to wing, and is white with the exception of a few specks of dark color. It will probably live for some time to come on board the vessel which it selected as its home while in mid-ocean. Land birds have rarely been seen so far out at sea.—N. Y. Times, Feb. 13th.

Fattening Sheep.

An Ohio sheep raiser, writing to a New York paper, says: "Sheep picked out for the butcher should be fed generously and regularly, and upon this point too much stress cannot be laid. Care should be taken, however, to give the sheep only just enough for one meal at each feeding time. If they are given a superabundance of hay they soon learn to be particular, selecting the best part only, and if there is not enough of this at one feeding time, they will wait half hungry for the next. My own experience agrees with that of most successful sheep owners, that fattening cattle should be fed three times a day, though some of my neighbors think twice often enough. It is also very important that the sheep should not be allowed to suffer from water, neither should they lack a supply of salt; for although salt is not so necessary to them in the winter as in summer, still they will thrive better if it is fed to them at least once a week at all seasons."

And we seek earnestly for rest,
Or easement from our recent folly;
Then Sanford's Ginger, bright and pure,
Comes like a friend our pain to cure.

The great popular remedy of the day, for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all Lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as if magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial. Price 35 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Cancer, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it specdily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiments of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all kinds of medicine, believing that did me no good. The CUTICURA has stood this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I have my entire family under the care of your advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of a physician, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. ——— of ———, Dr. ——— of ———, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure. April 1 last, I began using CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean so-lip for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself comp etely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the benefit of its use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to t -day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.
NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS — Pain and Weakness can not exist where they are applied. They vitalize, strengthen and supply Weak and Painful Parts; cure Chronic Ailments and Diseases of the Liver and Kidneys; absorb Poisons from the blood, and thus prevent Fever and Ague, Malarial and Contagious Diseases; stimulate the Stomach and Digestive Organs when placed over the pit of the stomach, and prevent Dyspepsia, Bilious Colic, Cramps and Pains.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS, by causing the three great organs to act and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches?
Why tormented with Piles, Constipation?
Why frightened over dead-and-alive Kidneys?
Why endure pertinent or sick headaches?
Why have shapeless nickels?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six gallons of Medicine. Get it of your Druggist. Ask for it. Take no other.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

A Word to those who use Porous Plasters. It is a universally acknowledged fact that Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters are superior to all others! The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at a low price, we would caution the public against them. We would also say that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found, to cost, injurious ingredients which CAPCINE does not contain. Ask for BENSON'S CAPCINE and take no other. Sold by all DRUGGISTS. PRICE 25 CTS. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Pharmaceutical Chemists, New York.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a column report of embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Weekly Herald

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestion and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of household economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

BOSTON, January 1, 1869. 3tawjan18

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Siphan, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, ab-se-nam-d and many others; embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the Ablest Essayists, Scientific Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

Unapproached by any other Periodical

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It is therefore an inexpensive form, and gives a great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE collection of an indispensable current literature, —indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

☞"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the lit crary world."—Post n, Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Traveller.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the sufferer is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the similarity evidence is in point of respectability so far as any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly Record of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief as this remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly Record of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been sceptical of all the nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief as this remedy. I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WEEKS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced I am entirely free from the disease. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc., THEO. P. BOGERT.

The Minister's Mistake.

The sunset was painting all the forest paths with gold; the mossy boles of the old trees glowed in the level light, as if they had been carved out of glittering bronze, and the scarlet vines along the stone wall caught new splendor from the last rays, while the silvery white fringe of the wild clematis swung from the dead thorn bushes, and here and there a bird, perched high up against the deep, vivid blue of the heavens, uttered his shrill clear vesper note; and Mr. Caryl, walking home through the Westbrook woods, thought what a beautiful world this was that God had made.

Mr. Caryl was only four and twenty, and had been in the Westbrook parish for three months. Not long, but long enough to discern, by the testimony of his own experience, that there were thorns as well as roses in a country pastor's life.

It had seemed so beautiful and ideal when he looked at it through the medium of his fancy, standing on the threshold of the theological seminary. It was beautiful still; but the ideality had all gone out of it.

His mother met him on the doorstep of the parsonage—a brisk, spectacled little dame, in a turned black silk with frills of neatly-darned lace, and violet ribbons in her cap.

"Well, Charles," she said, cheerily, "Here's a whole slateful of calls for you."

Mr. Caryl's countenance rather fell. He had been anticipating an evening by the wood-fire, with the last number of his favorite magazine.

"Calls?" he repeated. "What are they? and where are they?"

He went into the little parlor as he spoke—the parlor where the covered wood-fire was leaping and flashing on the bright and-irons, and a shaded lamp was already burning on the table among his piled-up books and papers—and took up the little slate.

"The Widow Corsett," he read, adding sotto voce: "That woman again! She has died once a week regularly, ever since I have been in Westbrook."

"Charles!" mildly reproved his mother.

"It's a fact," asserted the young clergyman. "I don't think people ought to confound hypochondria and religion in that blindfold sort of way. She'd a deal better send for the doctor, and leave off scolding that wretched adopted daughter of hers. I won't go, that's settled. What next! Meet Deacon Daley and old Captain Hartwick at Fowlersville Four corners at 9:30 o'clock to-morrow. Now I wonder why people can't agree about their own boundary lines without calling in the clergyman of the parish as umpire between them?"

"Dissension is such a dreadful thing among your flock, Charles," said his mother.

"So is scarlet fever, or small-pox," said Mr. Caryl, rather curtly; "but all the same I don't see how I can be held responsible for either the one or the other." "Lend the manuscript of your last sermon to old Miss Dadd to read." But I haven't any manuscript to read—only half a dozen memoranda. I preached entirely extempore last Sunday."

"Couldn't you just write it off from memory?" said Mrs. Caryl, pitcously. "The poor old lady seems so anxious. She said the sermon impressed her so deeply."

"Really, mother, I think that's a little unreasonable," said the pastor. "Suppose every old lady in the parish were to require me to write out a twelve-page sermon for her especial benefit! Give Miss Hitts a list of hymns for next Sunday." Yes, I'll do that—as well now as any time. "Speak to Mrs. Prune's Sarah." Mrs. Prune's Sarah? Who is Mrs. Prune's Sarah. And what am I to speak to her about, I'd like to know?" demanded this young clergyman in a sort of mild desperation.

"Don't you know?" explained Mrs. Caryl, "It's Mrs. Prune that lives down by the sawmill, in the big white house, with the poplar trees in front of it. And it's her step-daughter that's come home from a third situation all on account of the ribbons in her hat, and her pride in her own pretty face."

"And I am to speak to her, eh?" said the young pastor.

"Yes; you are to speak to her," said his mother.

"I shall do nothing of the sort," declared Mr. Caryl, with some emphasis.

"But you must, Charles!" pleaded the old lady. "It's in the line of your regular duty."

Mr. Caryl hesitated, and wrinkled his brow in sore perplexity.

"Do you think so?" said he.

"I'm sure of it!" declared the old lady.

Conscientiousness was one of the strong points of Mr. Caryl's character. He took up his hat.

"If it's get to be done," said he desperately, "the sooner the better."

"But you will stop for your tea first, Charles?" urged Mrs. Caryl. "Hot corn bread and strawberry jam."

"I'll stop for nothing!" said Mr. Caryl. "Don't fret, little mother; it won't take me long to speak to Sarah."

And he disappeared with a laugh.

As it happened, he never before had been called upon to practice this particular branch of his profession, pleading with the rebellious lambs of his flock who thought more of their bright eyes than they did of their hymn books; and he turned the matter over in his mind as he walked along the frosty woodland path, where the young moon cast a fitful, evanescent light, and the dead leaves sent up a faint odor beneath his feet.

"Speak to Sarah," he muttered to himself, not without a certain perception of the ridiculous side of the matter. "And what am I to say to her, I wonder?"

He knocked softly at the big front door of the Prune mansion. A shuffling, untidy girl of fourteen or fifteen opened it, hiding behind a shawl and a fringe of curl papers.

"Is Mrs. Prune at home?" said he.

"No, she ain't," retorted the girl.

Mr. Caryl paused. He scarcely knew what question to ask next.

"Is Sarah at home?" he demanded after a little.

"Miss Sarah?"

"Well, I suppose it can hardly be 'Mr.' Sarah," said the young clergyman, half-smilingly. "Yes, Miss Sarah of course."

"She's at home," said the girl, ungraciously, opening the door a little wider. "Came this afternoon. Settle in the parlor. Walk in."

And without further ceremony, Caryl found himself ushered into a semi-dark apartment, where a tall, slender young beauty of eighteen summers or so sat before the fire, in a plain black dress, with the simplest of cuffs and collars, and a single pale blue ribbon fastened into the thick, dark braids of her hair—a person so entirely different from what he expected to see that he stopped short in some perplexity.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1880.

The G. A. R. of N. H.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Grand Army of the Republic of New Hampshire was held at Nashua on the 17th inst., representatives from forty-nine posts being present. Among the distinguished guests were Adj. Gen. Ayling of New Hampshire, Col. Henry O. Kent, Col. T. J. Whipple of Laconia, Drs. Eastman of Hampstead and G. P. Greeley of Nashua, Capts. H. B. Atherton, Henry A. Marsh and James E. Larkin, postmaster, of Concord; Daniel J. Vaughn, T. W. Challis, Calvin S. Eaton and Charles B. Richards, past commanders. The following officers were elected: Commander, George Bowers of Nashua; senior vice commander, Martin A. Haynes, Lake Village; junior vice commander, Daniel M. White, Peterboro; medical director, George F. Wilbur, Nashua; chaplain, B. C. Roberts. After the election of officers, the visitors, numbering about 400, adjourned to Union hall, where a bountiful collation was furnished. Col. W. H. D. Cochrane presided, and speeches were made by Mayor Holman, Commander Bowers, O. C. Moore of the Nashua Telegraph, and others. After the collation a camp fire was held in Grand Army hall until a late hour.

Fatal Explosion.

The boiler in John F. Thompson's steam saw mill, at Randolph, burst about noon on the 17th inst., entirely destroying the mill and killing outright Eldin Page of Orono, Me., Roger Johnson of Oldtown, Me., a young man named Buzzell, of Randolph, Gilbert Sylvester of Bethel, Me., a Frenchman (name not given), and badly injuring S. F. Hervey of Randolph. Mr. Hervey is badly scalded, but will recover.

Imperial Life in Russia.

An abortive attempt to kill the imperial family by laying a mine in the winter palace at St. Petersburg, was made on the 16th inst. Five soldiers were killed, and thirty-five wounded. The mine was laid under the guard-room of the winter palace, which is immediately under the dining hall. Owing to an accidental delay, the imperial family had not entered the latter place at the usual time. The explosion made a hole in the floor of the dining hall ten feet long and six feet wide. The explosion occurred at just about the usual dinner hour of the family.

Political.

Gov. Davis of Maine has sent to the legislature a statement giving the expenses of the recent counting-out conspiracy, amounting to some $20,000. It was referred to the finance committee.

The Boston Herald can't think Hancock's story is needed in Boston. In commenting on the report of his coming to that city the Herald says: "The democrats of Boston will hardly know whether to rejoice or be sorrowful over the news that Eben F. Pillsbury is about to remove here. He is a man of parts, but he can only throw one vote, and his counting-out abilities are not likely to be needed by the party here. His seeking a new home at his time of life is a striking confession of the failure of his plans in Maine, and the probable future consequences."

News and Notes.

Berthold Loudon, treasurer of a German society in Cleveland, Ohio, has absented with $10,000 of the society's money.

Bessie Turner, the witness in the case of Theodore Tilton against Henry Ward Beecher, has married Charles Walgrain, stage carpenter of Berry's Broadway theatre in Brooklyn. She played soubrette parts about the country in various combinations for some time, but she has abandoned the stage and settled down to house-keeping. Their marriage was solemnized recently in privacy. Mrs. Walgrain is a frequent visitor to her old friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton, who lives at 381 Macon street with her son Carroll, who is studying to become a minister. Mrs. Tilton is supported by her husband, who however, never visits her.

The Haviland Copper Mining company was organized in Portland, Me., on the 16th inst., with E. Burnham, Jr., as president. The capital is $500,000. This company have a shaft down 240 feet, with 500 feet of drifts; have two copper veins open, and on the 14th inst. they struck the main vein. New machinery will be put in at once.

In the United States Senate, on the 17th inst., objections were made to the proposition to use a naval vessel to carry contributions of food to the suffering people of Ireland. Mr. Edmunds said the most costly way would be to send such freight in a war vessel, such vessels not being built with a view to carrying freight.

Two woodchoppers, Forrest and Hogle, were overtaken by a dreadful snow storm while crossing a mountain in Tuscarora county, Cal. It was intensely cold, and they lost their way. They struggled on until nightfall, when Forrest fell down exhausted, unable to go any further. Hogle wrapped him in several blankets, and covered him deep with snow, leaving a hole for him to breathe through; but in the morning, when his companion came back with help, he was dead.

Dr. Pruden walked into a prayer-meeting at Benton, Minn., with an open Bible in one hand and a cocked pistol in the other. He said there had been altogether too much controversy over the meaning of a certain scriptural pass age, and he meant to kill anybody who differed with him on the subject. He was hurried off to an insane asylum.

While Rev. Mr. Broadway was conducting revival services in his church at Brantford, Ont., and was kneeling in prayer, Miss Clinch strode up the aisle, with a shawl thrown over her head, and began to pound the minister, charging that he had slandered her and ruined her reputation. Amid much excitement she was finally hustled out. Miss Clinch is fifty years old.

Daniel Emmons, the ex-treasurer of Everett, Mass., who ran away with the town funds on the 1st of January, was always previously considered a model of probity and good morals; but it now appears that he squandered large sums of money on one Mrs. Mabel French, the sum according to the woman's account amounting to $7000 in about one year; and two other women of like character were very generously treated by him.

O'Leary and Weston, the professional tramps, are to have a six-days walk in San Francisco for $5000, commencing March 8th.

Collins P. Elsbee, the oldest citizen and one of the wealthiest farmers of Orange township, Ohio, was gored by a bull on the 16th inst., one horn piercing his heart and the other breaking his neck. At the time of the attack he was engaged in feeding the animal. Deceased was eighty years old.

W. E. Guernsey, a passenger on the train from the west, on the 16th inst. threw himself under the cars at the Des Plaines street viaduct, Chicago, and died in a few hours. On the leaf of a memorandum book was this entry: "I killed myself, because I knew the Masons would, when we got to Chicago." He was from San Francisco, and evidently of unsound mind.

Nearly 100 cottages have already been leased at Newport, R. I., for the coming season, and at higher prices than have ruled for several years.

A sad case of destitution and almost starvation has just come to light at Amesbury, Mass. An old lady, who lives with a son on Water street, was found in a demented condition crouching over a scanty fire and trying to cook shreds of her dress. She had been locked in a room by her son, while he took his earnings and went on a drunken spree. Not seeing her about led to an investigation by the neighbors, who found her as above described. The town authorities have taken proper measures for her relief.

Rev. W. H. Green, who was sentenced for life for murdering his wife in Litchfield county, Conn., in 1869, is said to be dangerously ill in the state prison.

Albert D. Smith, of New York, is to soon present to Dartmouth college a full length portrait of his father, the late president of that institution.

—Don't advertise unless you have something worth advertising.

—In what and does a man never feel comfortable? In a low-suit.

—The lion of San Francisco recently was Sir George B. Green Bridges, Bart., a sprig of British nobility, who was received everywhere and displayed remarkable affability, if no other striking characteristics. Some doubts thrown on the rank of Sir George, by the World newspaper, led the Californians to look into the matter for themselves. They find the man to be only plain George Green, a music-teacher from Canada, who took up his title with the comparatively harmless design of awing the hotel clerk and securing better quarters and more attention. There are not a few foreign sharpers, with false titles, preying upon the greenness and flunkeyism of the American people, but as a rule their little game is money, or a marriage for money.

—There was a cockfight in Windsor last Sunday, and one of the men lost a rooster. This was because the fight was on Sunday. The other rooster was not killed. This was because—however, we are not to be dragged into argument. —Danbury News.

—A San Francisco man states that he recently saw a Chinese cigar manufacturer pasting labels on his boxes on which was printed, "The Chinese Must Go." Asking the Chinaman what he did that for, the reply was, "Sand-lot man he read that, buy the box, smoke my cigar."

—A remarkable discovery has been made by William Morris, photographer, of Gourock, Scotland, by which he can photograph underneath the water at a depth of ten fathoms. Two of the negatives he has secured are remarkably distinct, but the others are rather dim owing to defects in the apparatus, but which he will have improved. The camera is inclosed in a watertight glass case, suspended by the centre and inclosed in a cover, which is drawn off after the camera—which is fixed on a loaded tripod—has reached its position. One of the views shows a sandy bottom, with a number of large boulders covered with seaweed, and an old anchor; and in the shade three mooring cables belonging to small yachts close at hand.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to Bordeaux or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. t,th&f

AROUND HOME.

"Widow Bedott" will have a grand husband-hunting excursion at Music hall next Thursday evening.

The schooner Union Flag, recently sold from this city to owners in Portland, sailed for the latter port on the 16th.

Schooner Charles H. Trickey, Kelly master, of Dover, has sailed from Providence, R. I., for Portland, Me. She has been chartered to load lumber at Portland for New York.

Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R., of this city, was represented at the state convention of the organization at Nashua this week by Messrs. D. J. Vaughan, Robert E. Rich and Adolph Nelson.

The three-masted schooner Ida L. Sturgis, bound from Augusta, Me., to Boston with lumber, struck on Boon island ledge on Tuesday, the 17th inst., the buoy which should mark the ledge being gone. The schooner arrived at Gloucester, Mass., next day, leaking badly, her pumps having to be kept going about all the time to keep her free.

"HER SHAWL."*

The Atlantic Monthly for March sparkles with poetic effusions,—"Pepita," by T. B. Aldrich, a poem of sweet sixteen; "Helen's Cup," by Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton, wife of Mr. Wm. U. Moulton, formerly of Portsmouth; and Oscar Laighton's sonnet, "Her Shawl."

Some young visitor at Appledore apparently left the island without taking all her wearing apparel, last season. The careful proprietor seems to have discovered it, and as the owner may not take the Atlantic, but possibly the CHRONICLE may be read in the family, we give her the benefit of our circulation. If our genial friend at Appledore is clean gone he certainly is most poetic in his love's estate; if he is only "making believe," he does it finely. We give the sonnet, and only express the hope that the owner will come next season and relieve the waiting Oscar of the delicate and rare raiment.

Her Shawl.

Dearest, where art thou? In the silent room
I find this wonder of some foreign loom,
Thy silken shawl, whose lines of loveliness
The matchless beauty of thy form caress.
Delicate raiment, shy till dare infold
All these warm kisses 'mid thy threads of gold?
Oh, hold them close her icy heart above,
Melting its winter into summer's love!
Beneath her coldness fonder still I grow,
As violets bloom along the edge of snow.
Through my sad heart there drifts a hope divine,
O'er seas storm-swept shall softer mornings shine.
Oh, fairer thou than dawn! Here at thy feet
I wait, and kiss thy garment's hem, my sweet.

Oscar Laighton.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

No. 146. Patrick McGlinchy vs. the Portsmouth Brewing Co. This suit was brought by Mr. McGlinchy to recover about $700, for wages alleged to be due him from the defendents as treasurer of this corporation, under the following circumstances: In November, 1877, the plff. was elected treasurer of the defendant corporation for one year, at the salary of $1200 per annum. In April of the following year he claims that he was discharged from that position. The defts. alleged, and proved by the testimony of their directors, that at the time Mr. McGlinchy left their employment they took a receipt in full from him for all demands which he had against the corporation. The case was argued by counsel, and submitted, and after deliberating about one hour the jury found for the deft. Hatch for plff.; Frink and Page for deft.

No. 151. Geo. W. Brackett vs. Lydia P. S. Smith, admx. of John T. Smith. The plff. sued to recover a balance of $75 alleged to due from the late Mr. Smith on a horse trade. The plff. established that in the fall of 1874 he sold a young horse to Mr. Smith for $175 and an old red mare estimated to be worth $25. Mr. Brackett proved that he paid $200 for the horse in May. He also proved that in the spring of 1875 he was passing Mr. Smith's house in company with a Mr. French, and that he demanded $75 from Smith, who promised to pay him just as soon as he sold some wool. The defence was that the amount of boot to be paid was $100, and that Smith paid the amount at the time of the purchase. Several witnesses were introduced who saw the horse about the time of the purchase, and estimated his value at $100. Other evidence was submitted to establish the same point. The case was argued on the coming in of the court on Wednesday morning. The jury wrestled with the problem for an hour and a half, and then decided in favor of the defendant. Wallace Hackett for plff.; J. S. H. Frink for deft.

No. 149. Andrew J. Morse vs. Frank Benson. This is an action brought by the plaintiff to recover for the loss of services of his daughter, occasioned by her seduction by the defendant. The parties reside at Londonderry. A jury was impaneled, of which Robert H. Pickering of this city was appointed foreman. The plff. submitted considerable testimony tending to establish the fact that the daughter was seduced by the deft. under color of a promise of marriage, and gave birth to a child in January, 1879, which was produced in court. The defence as indicated by counsel in opening is that the defendant never had improper relations with the plff.'s daughter, and never promised to marry her, but that she had been intimate with several young men of a disolute character in the town, and under the circumstances the defense will claim that it is more probable than otherwise that the paternity of the child is chargeable to some of these other young men. The case will occupy the court on Thursday. C. B. Morrison and Bartlett for plff.; Topliff and Hatch for deft.

A "STRAW."

A political canvass of the students at Phillips academy at Exeter was made this week, the young men expressing their preferences for a presidential candidate as follows:

Blaine	78
Grant	32
Sherman	22
Washburne	7

HUMPTY DUMPTY.

The Nick Roberts Humpty Dumpty troupe will give an entertainment at Music Hall on Friday evening. Of this company the St. Louis (Mo.) Republican says:

Nick Roberts' Humpty Dumpty combination gave the opening performance of its season at the grand opera house last evening to a full attendance, and proved up its claims to public attention and patronage. It is the strongest and altogether the best troupe of pantomimists and specialists that Roberts has ever brought here, and in the matter of variety, it is better than any similar organization we have ever seen in St. Louis for years. A leading feature of the entertainment is the three clowns in one pantomimo—Grimaldi, Dromio, and Pedro—and work for them all to do. They appear conjunctly, separately, and in pairs, and they bring laughter with them like a breeze. Another class of the features is the elephant and aligator feats of Mons. Leon Whettony; and still another is a series of attractive specialty acts in most agreeable variety. One of the best of these, and a really brilliant performance, is Carrie and Charles Austin in their zouave drill and manual of arms. The pantomime proper is sustained by Grimaldi, Dromio, and Pedro as clowns, Tom Miaco as pantaloon, C. W. Ravel as Harlequin, and M'lle Grimaldi as Columbine. Many new mechanical tricks are introduced, and the performance is a succession of rapid changes and lively acts from beginning to end. The closing or transformation scene, as it is usually called, is original, and presents a tableau of all the members of the company artistically grouped and brilliantly lighted.

REMOVAL--AND OPENING.

Rider & Cunningham having removed their Gentlemen's Clothing Establishment to the large and fine store in National Block, will open at their new location this evening at six o'clock, with an extensive and varied stock of new and seasonable goods. Returning thanks to the public for liberal patronage in the past, they promise to merit a continuance and increase of public favor, if strict attention to business, good articles and fair prices, can do it.

RIDER & CUNNINGHAM.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The shipments of ladies' boots from Cumming's shoe factory at South Berwick average now from two hundred to two hundred and fifty cases weekly. When the new wings are erected, the working capacity of the concern will be doubled.

The Biddeford Daily Times, which has been neutral in politics since its establishment about three years and a half ago, is now a republican paper, the editor not being able to maintain a neutral position in face of the Garcelon-Pilsbury infamy. Biddeford has no democratic paper, daily or weekly; it has a democratic city government, but won't have one after the next election, the respectable citizens having had all they want in that line, during the past year or two.

The late session of the supreme judicial court for York county, held at Saco, was remarkable for the large amount of business transacted. The court was in session twenty-three days, and disposed of one hundred and seventy-five cases, leaving the docket with fifty cases less than when it commenced. There were twenty-two divorces granted, twelve verdicts rendered, and one disagreement; eight or ten cases opened to the jury were adjusted before the evidence came in. Probable cost of term, $3500.

Naval Chronicle.

Paymaster Ambrose J. Clark has been ordered to duty as purchasing paymaster at the Norfolk navy yard.

Pay Director Joseph E. Eldredge has been detached from the inspection of provisions and clothing at New York, and ordered to settle accounts.

Pay Inspector Edwin Stewart is detached from the inspection of provisions and clothing at League island, and ordered as inspector of provisions and clothing at New York.

Pay Inspector Rufus Parks is detached from duty as purchasing paymaster at Norfolk, Va., and ordered as inspector of provisions and clothing at League island.

Chaplain Robert Hudson is detached from the Colorado, and granted six months' leave.

Cadet Engineers Henry W. Spangle and Franklin J. Scholl are detached from the Ranger, and ordered to the Lackawanna, Pacific station. On falling in with the Pensacola they are to report for duty on board of her.

The Tallapoosa has arrived at Washington from the Norfolk navy yard.

The Ticonderoga is at Singapore. She left Hampton roads on her present cruise in December, 1876.

A general order has been issued that enlisted men in the marine corps shall perform a fair share of sea service in each enlistment. Commanding officers in making details for guards are ordered to send well-drilled soldiers who have never been at sea, or men who have had a tour of shore service, and not those who have already been at sea a full cruise on that enlistment.

A petition has been filed in the supreme court of the District of Columbia by Ensign Wm. E. Whitfield for a writ of mandamus to compel the secretary of the navy to reinstate him in the rank which he originally held on the navy list. The petitioner complains that he has been reduced five places on the list by other methods and for other reasons than those recognized by law, viz: Sentence of court-marshal or failure to pass examination.

Names of Countries.

Europe signifies a country of white complexion; so named because the inhabitants were of a lighter complexion than those of Asia and Africa.

Asia signifies between or in the middle, from the fact that the geographers placed it between Europe and Africa.

Africa signifies a land of corn or ears. It was celebrated for its abundance of corn and all sorts of grain.

Siberia signifies thirsty or dry—very appropriate.

Spain, a country of rabbits or conies. It was once so infested with these animals that it sued Augustus for an army to destroy them.

Italy, a country of pitch, from its yielding great quantities of black pitch. Calabria, also, for the same reason.

Gaul, modern France, signifies yellow-haired, as yellow hair characterizes its inhabitants.

The English of Caledonia is a high hill. This was a rugged, mountainous province in Scotland.

Corsica, a woody place.

Sardina signifies the footsteps of men, which it re-embles.

Syracuse, bad flavor, so called from the unwholsome marsh on which it stood.

Rhodes, serpents or dragons, which it produced in abundance.

Sicily, the country of grapes.

Scylla, the whirlpool of destruction.

Ætna signifies a furnace, or dark or smoky.

Hibernia is utmost or last habitation, for westward beyond this the Phœnicians never extended their voyages.

Britain, the country of tin, great quantities being found on it and adjacent islands. The Greeks called it Albion, which signifies in the Phœnician tongue either white or high mountain, from the whiteness of its shores or, the high rocks on the western coast.

—The rooster knows all about early times, and may justly claim to be the original crow-knowledge-ist.

—A child being asked what were the three great feasts of the Jews, promptly and not unnaturally replied: "Breakfast, dinner and supper."

—The glory of a woman is her heir.

—Rings from which dangle gold coins are now, as the ladies say, "all the fashion." The American two and a half gold piece, and the English sovereign, seem most in favor.

A Puzzled Parson.

An old gentleman from the east, of a clerical aspect, took the stage from Denver south in ante-railroad days. The journey was not altogether a safe one, and he was not re-assured by the sight of a number of rifles deposited in the coach, and nervously asked for what they were.

"Perhaps you'll find out before you get to the Divide," was the cheering reply.

Among the passengers was a particularly (it seemed to him) fierce-looking man, girded with a belt full of revolvers and cartridges, and clearly a road agent or assassin. Some miles out, this person, taking out a large flask, asked, "Stranger, do you irrigate?"

"If you mean drink, sir, I do not."

"Do you object, stranger, to your irrigating?"

"No, sir." And they drank accordingl.

After a further distance had been traversed, the supposed brigand again asked, "Stranger, do you fumigate?"

"If you mean smoke, sir, I do not."

"Do you object, stranger, to our fumigating?"

"No, sir." And they proceeded to smoke.

At the dining-place, when our friend came to tender his money, the proprietor said, "Your bill's paid."

"Who paid it?"

"That man"—pointing to the supposed highwayman, who, on being asked if he had not made a mistake, replied, "Not at all. You see, when we saw that you didn't irrigate and didn't fumigate, we knew that you was a parson. And your bills are all right as long as you travel with this crowd. We've got a respect for the church—you bet!" It was no highwayman, but a respectable resident of Denver.—Harper's Magazine for March.

—The small boys of Sacramento have had their dearest liberties attacked. The board of education have resolved to suspend any pupil having a sling shot in his possession; and has also appointed a committee to confer with the city trustees to obtain the passage of an ordinance to prevent the carrying of sling shots.

What Ails You?

Is it a disordered liver, giving you a yellow skin, or costive bowels, which have resulted in distressing piles, or do your kidneys refuse to perform their functions? If so your system will soon be clogged with poisons. Take a few doses of Kidney-Wort and you'll feel like a new man—nature will throw off every impediment, and each organ will be ready for duty.

—For real spite give us a woman, and the more beautiful the more spiteful. What envy, hatred and malice exists with regard to Mrs. Langtry! She brought into fashion the fur cape. A rival beauty, who had not brought into fashion anything, immediately clad her coachman in one, and now we see flunkeys of all sorts wearing the famous "Langtry cape"—London Times.

Troublesome Children,

That are always wetting their beds ought not to be scolded and punished for what they cannot help. They need a medicine having a tonic effect on the kidneys and urinary organs. Such a medicine is Kidney-Wort. It has specific action. Do not fail to try it for them.

—A Sacramento undertaker's conscience accused him of being glad when he heard of a death, and he became convinced that even the probability of an epidemic caused pleasurable emotions. He therefore committed suicide, leaving a letter in which he said that he could no longer remain in a business the profits of which were closely connected with human misery.

A Reliable Wine.

Mr. A. Speer, New Jersey, whose Port Grape Wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to introduce the art of making wine from the Oporto Grape, which is now the best wine to be had, and has become a great favorite among the most prominent physicians of New York and Philadelphia, who have visited the vineyards and wine cellars at Passaic. Families and aged persons are benefitted by it.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, st Clifton, N. Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER. Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a marvellously short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness

I have been afflicted with Eczema of Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. of —— Dr. Sanford, of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the efficacy of these unsurpassed remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 20, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. F. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, at per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS

Pain and Weakness can not exist where they are applied. They vitalize, strengthen and support Weak and Painful Parts; cure Chronic Ailments and Diseases of the Liver and Kidneys; absorb Poisons from the Blood, and thus prevent Fever and Ague, Malarial and Contagious Diseases; stimulate the Stomach and Digestive Organs when placed over the pit of the stomach, and prevent Dyspepsia, Bilious Colic, Cramps and Pains.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

POROUS PLASTER

CAPCINE PLASTER

BENSONS CAPCINE

A Word to those who use Porous Plasters. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS! The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under similar sounding names. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters sold as some of the cheap planters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients which may prove dangerous to health, we would caution the public against using any but BENSON'S CAPCINE. Observe that the word CAPCINE is cut in the cloth of each genuine plaster. PRICE 25 CENTS. CAUTION—See that the word CAPCINE on each plaster is correctly spelled. ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home.

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

Skilled Labor

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a story every week, a Sermon by some eminent Divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy and competent to act for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1869, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAFER.

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Alphan, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turguenief, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, enriched, improved, and conditionally successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, ab-ex-nem-d and many others; embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

Unapproached by any other Periodical

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, condensing its great amount of matter, with promptness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature, is indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"IT IS INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a thorough compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratis those numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, the first chapters of "HE WHO WILL NOT WHEN HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club-Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in possession of the whole science."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American $4 monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, both post-paid; or, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or App leton's Journal. Address,

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE for CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the influence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly be proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you lines to say that although I have been sceptical of all in response to numerous so-called "radical cures," I have ever found anything that promises such relief as this remedy does in the case of CATARRH.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WEEKS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

I'M GROWING OLD.

I'm growing old. It needs no glass to tell
That age has marked my face with lines of care;
My tottering steps and white hair show too well—
By every move and look—that age is there.
My boyhood days, now bright they seem to me,
How brave was I, how vain and how bold;
I was an offshoot from a sturdy tree,
But age has withered me—I'm growing old.

And then my youth—amid what pleasant dreams
I spent the few short years that life began;
Youth's brightest sun shed o'er my path its beams;
What wonders I would do when once a man.
I longed to taste that independent life,
That life of which I often had been told,
With little care or knowledge of the strife,
Then I was young, and now—I'm growing old.

Then manhood came—ambition reached at last,
I brought a young wife home to share with me
The path that seemed with roses broadly cast,
Alas, poor fools, the thorns we did not see.
We both were poor, we had no store of wealth,
Our daily happiness was more than gold,
Till in our Eden death crept in by stealth—
Well, well, she's gone—and I am growing old.

Where are the elves that clustered round my knee,
Where are the many fora—his father's pride?
Where now the blooming maid is, fair to see;
They're with their mother—in the other side,
And I am well nigh alone, waiting all
But wish a heart that never can grow cold
Until I meet them in that other home
Where one and all we never can grow old.

(Concluded from last issue.)

The Minister's Mistake

"Is this—ahem!—Sarah?" he asked.

"I am Sarah Fielding," she responded.

"I have called—to speak to you," said he, with a desperate rallying of his verbal forces. "Perhaps Sarah, you may not know who I am?"

"No I don't," said the girl in some surprise.

"I am Mr. Caryl, the pastor of the parish."

"I am happy to make your acquaintance," said the girl, putting out one slim hand in the easiest possible manner.

The pastor hesitated. This was not what he had looked for at all.

"Of course—of course," said he. "But how does it happen, Sarah, that you are at home again so soon?"

"Do you mean at Westbrook?"

"Where else should I mean?" retorted Mr. Caryl, crustily—for he felt that if he once should abandoned his tone of authority he was lost. "Why didn't you stay where you were?"

Sarah colored up to the roots of her hair. He could perceive that even in the uncertain rise and fall of the firelight.

"I do not like the position," said she in a low voice.

"But you ought to like it," said Mr. Caryl.

"You are not aware of all the circumstances," pleaded Sarah.

"I am quite aware," said Mr. Caryl, severely, "that vanity is the root of all your evils."

"Vanity!"

The crimson was deeper than ever now on brow and temple, as she half a rose.

"Yes, vanity!" impressively reiterated the clergyman. "Be silent, if you please, young woman, and hear me out. You have a certain amount of personal attractions, which appear to have turned your head. Remember that beauty is but skin deep. Call to mind frequently the ancient adage that 'handsome is as handsome does.' After all, you are neither Mary, Queen of Scots, nor Cleopatra. Now take my advice, Sarah—"

"But I have not asked for it," she cried out, in choked accents.

"No matter whether you have or not," said Mr. Caryl, calmly. "It is my business to volunteer good counsel, and yours to receive it. I repeat, Sarah, take my advice, and go back to your last place. Apologize humbly for your short comings; tell the woman of the house that you will strive and amend your conduct for the future, and endeavor to deserve her approval. Put away your silly ribbon bows and brooches"—with a stern glance at a poor little agate breatpin that glistened at the girl's throat—"and leave the vain accessories of dress to your betters, always remembering that the ornament of a meek and quiet-spent—"

But just at this point the young clergyman's oration was abruptly checked by the entrance of Mrs. Prune herself, shawled and bonneted, and breathing fast, from the haste she had made. In one hand she held a prodigious brown cotton umbrella; with the other she dragged forward the untidy damsel of the shawl and curl-papers.

"Here she is, Mr. Caryl—here she is!" bawled Mrs. Prune, who did not possess that most excellent thing in woman, "a low and gentle voice." "A lazy, good-for-nothing, stuck-up, vain minx, as needn't suppose as I'm going to do for her no longer! You needn't hang back, Sarah; it ain't no good! Here she is, Mr. Caryl—here she is, I tell ye!"

The young pastor stared in amazement.

"Is that Sarah?" said he.

"That's Sarah," panted Mrs. Prune.

"And who's this?" he demanded, turning to the slim, dark-eyed girl, with the blue ribbon and the agate brooch.

"That's my niece, Sally Fielding, as has been governess to a family up in Maine for three years," said Mrs. Prune. "And she's down here on a visit now—come this very afternoon. Hain't you been introduced yet? Mr. Caryl, my niece, Sallie! Sallie, this ere's—"

But before she could finish the words of her formal introduction the clergyman had made a nervous grasp at his hat.

"I—I have been the victim of a misunderstanding," stammered he. "This young person told me that she was Sarah."

"So she is," said Mrs. Prune. "But she ain't the Sarah as is to be spoken to."

"I beg a thousand pardons," said Mr. Caryl, feeling the cold sweat drip from every pore.

Miss Fielding burst out laughing.

"They are cheerfully granted," said she. "No, don't go away, Mr. Caryl," holding out her hand as he was turning to depart. "I have learned that you possess at least the virtue of frankness. Shall we not be friends?"

And Mr. Caryl looked into the dark-blue eyes and said:

"Yes."

He forgot all about the hot corn-bread and strawberry jam at home, and stayed to tea at Mrs. Prune's while the right Sarah escaped the intended lecture, and the wrong Sarah presided in a most gracious and winning manner, behind the cups and saucers; and old Mrs. Caryl laughed heartily when her son explained the curious rencontre to her later in the evening.

But why did she leave her situation—the wrong Sarah I mean?" said she.

"Because the young heir of the house made love to her," said Mr. Caryl; "and I don't wonder at it. "She's the prettie t little creature I ever saw in my life."

"Perhaps, then," said Mrs. Caryl, doubtfully, "your advice wasn't so very much amiss, after all."

"Certainly it was," said Mr. Caryl, with spirit.

The old lady looked sharply at him.

"Charles," said she, "I do believe you're struck with her."

"Nonsense," said Mr. Caryl, turning red.

But just three months later, when the moon was at the full, and sleighing parties en regle, Mr. Caryl brought Miss Fielding home from a singing-school in his new cutter, and told her a secret on the way—that he loved her.

And so the wrong Sarah was the right Sarah after all.

The "Law Abiding" Fusionists.

Anson B. Bowler, town clerk of Somerville, Me., on the 18th in-t. confessed before the legislative investigating committee that about the middle of December last, in obedience to orders received from the office of Gove, the fusion secretary of state, he deliberately falsified the return of the vote of Somerville for state senator, forging the names of the selectmen to the return; and that it was on this forged return that Garcelon and his council threw out the vote of Somerville, and declared a democratic senator elected in Lincoln county. The first return made by Bowler was correct, and was taken by him in person to the office of the secretary of state, and there delivered into the proper hands, on the day after the election in September. This confession has created great sensation in fusion circles in Maine.

Greenback Convention.

Delegates of the different greenback clubs throughout the state met in convention at the National hotel at Manchester on the afternoon of the 18th inst., and a state club was organized as follows: President, John F. Woodbury of Manchester; vice president, Arthur Deering of Chichester; secretary, C. H. Young of Manchester; treasurer, J. Frank Wetherbee of Manchester; executive committee, Dr. L. Chesley of Chester, W. H. H. Clough of Hanover, George Carpenter of Swanzey, E. W. Dunbar of Manchester, Gardner J. Greenleaf of Portsmouth. Delegates to the national convention will be elected by district conventions.

News and Notes.

The rivers in Kentucky and Tennessee were on Thursday reported as still rising. At Rome, Tenn., on the upper Cumberland, steamers were navigating in the streets; Osceola, Ky., was almost swept away; and over a thousand people were turned out of their homes.

A new arrangement has gone into effect on the Maine Central railroad which will be appreciated by the traveling public. After the train leaves each station, the conductor, while passing through the cars to take up the tickets of any new passenger, announces the name of the next station. This gives the passengers ample time to make their arrangements to leave the cars before the train stops, and does away with all confusion.

John Worth of Strasburg, Pa., was assassinated on the 18th inst. by a desperado named Honisher, who escaped.

Morris Van Hesseler, a burglar, was fatally shot in Chicago, on the night of the 17th inst., by a confederate, or some one he was trying to rob.

While George Anthony, a citizen of Portsmouth, R. I., was returning home from Newport on the evening of the 17th inst., he was knocked down with a club and robbed of $3600 in money. He had $800 in another pocket which the highwaymen did not secure. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the crime.

A decision of the United States court has affirmed the validity of the Paige patent, which is owned by the Western Union telegraph company. This patent claims to cover all mechanism by which a circuit is broken, and under it a royalty will be demanded on the use of all telegraphic instruments now in use.

Seven defendants were on the 8th inst. sentenced to fine and imprisonment by the United States circuit court at Mobile, Ala., for depredations upon the public lands.

Page Wallace, a negro, was taken from the sheriff at Point of Rocks, Md., on the 17th inst., by a mob of citizens, and hung. Ten bullets were fired into the body while hanging. He was guilty of assault upon two white women. Among those who fired at him while hanging was one of the young women whom he outraged.

Thomas Bowen and Thomas Hitchings, two miners of Pomeroy, Ohio, had a fight on Tuesday night, the 17th inst. After they separated, William Hitchings, brother of Thomas, deliberately shot Thomas Bowen in the side, inflicting a fatal wound. Hitchings escaped.

It is a pitiable fact that Hayden, the Connecticut minister who was tried for his life, is to mount the rostrum and speak on "Circumstantial Evidence," in order to raise funds for defending his own life. A man of any modesty whatever would have much preferred earning the money by sawing wood to making a show of himself to the kind of people who are ready to gape at anybody that will satisfy their morbid curiosity.

Forty inmates of the winter palace at St. Petersburg have been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the recent attempt to murder the czar and his family.

On the evening of the 18th inst. Biddle's restaurant, in the depot at Concord, was broken into and between $10 and $15 and some other articles stolen. The United States mail box was also broken open, but beyond a few stamps nothing was stolen. A man giving the name of John Belford of Laconia, who had been hanging about the depot, was arrested on the Montreal railroad train as it was leaving the depot in the evening. Upon his person were found articles identified by Biddle as his property.

The colored people have developed not only a most intense desire to secure an education, but what under all circumstances must be considered a most remarkable aptitude and capacity for learning. This aptitude is not governed by any gradations of color, for the general experience of those who have given the matter any attention is that the blackest pupils are the brightest.—Atlanta, Ga., Constitution.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

SPRING MILLINERY.

Shapes in new spring bonnets are so different that every one can have something to suit. The poke bonnet, also called the Sara Bernhardt, has the brim pinched at the back, while the front brim is turned up against the crown. Then we may see the Marie Christine, which shows the front brim cut open, and this also is to be turned back against the crown. Other hats come with soft, wide brims, and these are turned up, down, backwards, forwards, or any other way, just as the milliner may fancy. The "Cashmere," or Oriental ideas as to coloring and pattern, which I alluded to in my last letter as about to penetrate everywhere, are notably manifest in straws, which we see dyed in all sorts of shawl-like colors and designs. During the winter we had "Cashmere" silks and ribbons, but now we find, as has been said, the entire bonnet imbued with eastern fancies. Of course there must be contrast somewhere, and so we find rich ribbons and silks in plain colors, both dark and light, and these will be used as shadings to relieve what would otherwise be a picture all too bright. Furthermore, as the gold shades are extremely prominent in spring goods of every kind, we observe heavy importations of Tuscan and other yellow straws. They are at all prices and degrees of fineness, while chips are constantly dyed in old-gold colors. Then we have straws in braids of alternating colors. There is a great run upon this latter style; some being dark, others light; others dark and light combined; while again we see straw bonnets entirely red, blue, or garnet—for the different garnet shades will continue very fashionable. More expensive bonnets are made of lace-like braiding; transparent of course, and needing to be lined; or again, the bonnet is composed of these straw laces united with something heavier. Small tubans for general wear are largely brought out, and probably will be much worn by those young ladies who have adopted the same shape this winter. Flowers are in wonderful profusion and beauty. They are both large and small, in pronounced bouquets or in trailing and fairy-like vines and sprays; the latter styles being especially appropriate for those rough, carelessly-shaped hats which will be seen at watering places. Variety is furthermore given by the introduction of feather bands and fancy wings, which will be for serviceable hats and bonnets. Many are dyed in Cashmere hues, but again we observe bright bands of natural feathers, as well also as breasts and heads of birds. Birds likewise will be employed, but of course not extensively.

SPRING MATERIALS.

New Monrie cloths are covered with palm leaves and other eastern fancies; the same may be said of new lawns, jaconets, and indeed the whole family of cotton goods, both of high and low degree. But invariably we find plain lawns, etc., to match, and this of course is a broad-enough hint that plain goods must be combined in order to give effect of shading. Light woolen goods are likewise devised in cashmere patterns; summer silks are beautiful in their shawl-like semblances; new satins are similarly wrought; new velvets as well, and thus it becomes apparent that these oriental ideas extend throughout the entire range of dress. But it must be remembered that extra stylishness brings corresponding expense, and therefore all these new goods are considerably higher-priced than those which have been longer in the market, or which are less pronounced in character. Belonging to the former class, the jardiniere, or floral pattern, may be mentioned, they however being still looked upon as quite fashionable, while in the latter category we find the family of small checks, stripes, etc., which are always in vogue.

NEW DESIGNS.

Short walking costumes will be quite as much worn as ever. In this style, the Narcissa is very tasteful, and adapted to all new wool or silk materials. For a demi-train, though allowable with a short costume, the Hermione overskirt is novel and quite pretty; while, embodying opposite ideas, we find the Alida overskirt, which is adapted to a walking costume only. The Alcina is a new polonaise which combines the effect of a panier basque with an overskirt, but requires a trimmed skirt below. The Aleson basque is an excellent design of light spring woolens or silk, while for a spring street jacket, nothing newer or more jaunty than the Frederica could be found.

A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

The rose bud opening to the morn,
While yet the dew hangs on the thorn,
Exhales less sweetness than is wont
To breathe from lips that SOZODONT
Has touched with a soft crimson glow
That shows the dazzling teeth off so.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

Same committee reported on the request of W. I. Trafton, for the transfer to him of the unexpired lease of Mercer Goodrich of the store in the city building, recommending that the petitioner have leave to withdraw. The report was accepted and adopted.

HUMPTY DUMPTY.

The Portland Advertiser of last Tuesday says:

A large audience attended the performance of Humpty Dumpty by the Nick Roberts troupe at Portland theatre last evening. The pantomine as produced by this company is so entirely revised, and so much of the old business taken out and new substituted that it seems almost new. The three clowns appeared, as advertised, and made any amount of fun. The elephant, monkey and alligator impersonations were good. The acrobatic exercises were excellent, particularly the contortions of Omweg and the horizontal bar tournament.

Humpty Dumpty will show at Music hall this evening; see advertisement.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The court was occupied a portion of the day, Thursday, in hearing the case Morse vs. Benson. The students of Phillip Exeter academy show a somewhat intense though sudden interest in the legal profession, and were in attendance in large numbers except during recitation hours, to listen to the testimony in the case.

A REAL GHOST.

A well known furniture manufacturer and dealer of this city, who has a room at his place of business and remains there at night, and who is at present suffering from a severe attack of the prevalent cold, had a good laugh, Wednesday night of this week, over a practical joke unwittingly perpetrated by himself. A little after twelve o'clock that night, being unable to sleep, he threw a white blanket over his shoulders and descended the stairs to the show-room of his store, in order that he might have a greater range to pace the floor. He had hardly begun his nocturnal tramp when two young faces (belonging to persons of opposite sexes) were pressed against the glass of the street door, and a male voice said: "Couldn't we set up housekeeping in good shape if we could just get in there and have our pick?" The words had hardly been uttered ere a heavy groan escaped the lips of the young fellow, followed by a terrified shriek from his companion and a despairing cry, "Did you see it?" to which an answer was returned, "Good heavens—yes!" and then was heard a hasty clattering of feet for a long distance down the street. The belated couple had seen a veritable ghost!

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

A building at Kennebunkport known as the "old Patten house," occupied by George Varney, was burned on the night of the 18th inst. Loss $500.

The republican convention for the first congressional district of Maine, for the election of delegates to the national convention of the republican party, will be held at Portland on Tuesday, March 2d. J. R. Libby, Esq., of Biddeford, is spoken of as the national delegate from York county.

The Biddeford Times, in an expose of the schemes of the democratic government of that city to retain control, says: A young man out of employment applied to one of our city officials for a job, and was told to report the next morning and get a shovel. He did so, but not finding any work laid out for him, after waiting a day or two he again sought the official, and when he had made his complaint of not being put to work, the official said to him, "Don't you worry; your name is on the books, and you are getting your little dollar a day whether you work or not."

About four o'clock in the morning on the 18th inst., fire was discovered in the rooms occupied by the Biddeford national bank and the Biddeford savings bank, on the second floor in the Biddeford House block. This section of the building is three stories high, the first floor being occupied by John E. Hill, jeweller, the second by the banks, and the third by Edwin Stone, Esq., a boarder at the Biddeford house. The papers of both banks were uninjured, but the private papers of O. F. Page, treasurer of the savings bank, were burned; loss $500; no insurance. Loss of John E. Hill, $900; insured. Loss of Edwin Stone, $500; no insurance. Loss upon building, $1500; insured. The fire is supposed to have caught in the banking room near the stove.

Naval Gazette.

Naval officers are taking great interest in the interoceanic canal question, not only on account of the benefit to the country from an isthmian passage to the Pacific, but also because it brings the condition of the navy before the people and shows that it is well to have creditable men-of-war as a support to any foreign policy the government may be called upon to adopt and maintain.

The old historic ship house at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., erected in 1818, blew down on the 18th inst., leaving exposed the uncompleted war vessel New Orleans.

The training ship Constitution arrived at Aspinwall on the 1st inst., having sailed from Friedericksstadt, Santa Cruz, January 26th.

A board of naval surgeons is to meet at Philadelphia March 1st, to examine candidates for the position of assistant surgeon.

The senate naval committee adheres to its adverse action in the case of Lieutenant Woodhull S. Schenck, nominated for promotion as quartermaster in the marine corps with the rank of captain, this nomination replacing the one that the committee reported against a week previous, which proposed to make him captain and quartermaster. The ground of objection is that the nomination proposes to jump thirty of his senior officers, and the second attempt seems no more successful than the first. The idea of placing a young lieutenant in the responsible position of quartermaster of the marine corps, a place requiring experience and ability, not to mention tried integrity, is hardly the proper one to force upon the senate, and we hope this is the last of such indiscreet favoritism.

It is rumored that the Saratoga will shortly sail for a six months' cruise in the Mediterranean. During the time she has been used as a training-ship she has developed many excellent sailors from the boys.

Commodore Clark H. Wells, recently promoted, gave a reception on Wednesday evening in honor of his step-up. It was confined to the male sex, and was brilliant in the display of uniforms and the attendance of naval, army and political men of distinction.

Political.

Governor Hamilton, of Maryland, has taken a slight boom as a "dark horse" for the democratic presidential nomination.

Leopold Morse of Massachusetts evidently has an axe to grind at the navy department. He told an interviewer recently that Secretary Richard W. Thompson would make a good republican candidate for the presidency.

Senator Conkling has been chosen a delegate to the republican state convention of New York, by the skin of his teeth; the people of Utica gave the senator a hard fight, and the idea that he can shape the delegation in the Chicago convention for or against any particular candidate is not acquiesced in by very many republicans in the Empire state.

The ever-democratic Boston Post is touchingly solicitous for the welfare of the republican party, and gives the republicans the following disinterested advice: "The republicans of Utica, Conkling's home, have chosen two sets of delegates, Grant and Anti-Grant. The latter plant themselves on the anti-third-term resolution of the state convention of 1875, and propose fighting it out on that line. Their pluck and consistency is highly commendable. The example should be followed in Massachusetts in all cases where Grant delegates are selected. There is even more demand for it here than anywhere else, for it was Massachusetts republicanism which at Cincinnati gave particular emphasis to opposition to Grant. If Bristow clubs were needful in 1876, how much more Anti-Grant clubs in 1880? Where are the young republicans? Do they propose to allow the old Grant ring to ride over them rough shod?" Oh!

—A three-cent stamp becomes a sent stamp after you have mailed your letter.

—A Maine man who didn't care two shakes of a lamb's tail about the newspapers, rode fourteen miles through a fierce snow-storm to get a copy of a weekly that spoke of him as a "prominent citizen."

The Population of New York City.

An erroneous impression seems to prevail in regard to the foreign population of New York city. It is commonly spoken of as a city substantially foreign, and many well-informed persons think the foreign population exceeds the native, but this, it seems, is not true. The native population exceeds the foreign by fully 125,000. The common belief is that in New York city there are 400,000 Irish, 200,000 Germans, 25,000 French, and 15,000 Italians, Spaniards, and Cubans; but this is an exaggeration. The census of 1870 put the foreign population of the city as follows: Irish, 201,959; English, 24,442; Scotch, 7,562; Germans, 151,216; French, 8,265; Italians, 2,795; Austrians, 2,737; Poles, 2,393; Swiss, 2,178; Hollanders, 1,237; Russians, 1,451. This makes a total of 405,974, a large number of foreigners, but not so large by 200,000 as is generally supposed. In 1870 there were 13,702 colored persons in New York city, and there is no doubt but that this number has largely increased since that time. The Chinese, too, have added to their number very largely. In 1870 there were only twelve in the city, and now the number is estimated at 1,000. The excess of women over men at the last census was 28,000, and it is believed the disproportion will still be greater at the next census. The census next year will show a large increase of population, as several suburban towns have been taken within the corporate limits since 1870, besides the natural increase that has taken place.

The Telephone as a Detective.

An amusing application of the wonders of the telephone as an assistant detective of crime comes to us from Julian. Several horses were recently stolen in that neighborhood, and suspicion fell upon a certain Indian as the thief. Some one having introduced a telephone up there, the same was being exhibited when it occurred to the owner of the stolen horses to get the Indian to come in and hear the "Great Spirit" talk. The Indian took one of the cups and was thrilled with astonishment at being so near the Great Keeper of the happy hunting grounds. After some little time spent in wonderment, the Indian was solemnly commanded by the great spirit to "give up those stolen horses!" Dropping the cup as if he had been shot, the Indian immediately confessed to have stolen the horses, and tremblingly promised, if his life was spared, he would restore the "caballos" at once, and he did so.—San Diego (Cal.) Union.

—A capability of standing still and being silent, or of dancing and not conversing, of anything that can be remembered, and of having a good appetite always about one, is all that can now be expected of a guest.

—A Virginia man who was "branded as a coward" by the man with whom he refused to fight a duel, thrashed three foot-pads who came at him with knives, and the same day stopped a team from running away with two little children; and now the fellow who did the branding thinks of moving to some town where the people will quit nagging at him.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

A Reliable Wine.

Mr. A. Speer, New Jersey, whose Port Grape Wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to introduce the art of making wine from the Oporto Grape, which is now the best wine to be had, and has become a great favorite among the most prominent physicians of New York and Philadelphia, who have visited the vineyards and wine cellars at Passaic. Families and aged persons are benefitted by it.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B., thus writes to Mr. Fellows: "I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring my wife and daughter, the latter from Tubercular Consumption, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

The great popular remedy of the day, for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all Lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as if magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial. Price 35 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Feb. 18.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3333; sheep and lambs 3600; swine 13,920; number western cattle 2800; eastern cattle 531; milch cows and northern cattle 120.

Prices of beef cattle per lb. live weight—Extra quality $5.50 and $6; first quality $5 12; and $5 37½; second quality $4.50 and $5; third quality $4 12½ and $4 37½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 25 and $4.

Country Hides 7 and 7½c per lb.; country tallow 4½ and 5c per lb. Calf skins 12½c per lb.; sheep and lamb skins $1 50 and $2 50 each.

The supply of cattle in market for the week has not been much different in number of that of one week ago. Cattle cost higher at the West, but the trade here would not warrant higher prices to be paid by butchers. Prices obtained for butchers' cattle have not been as high as those of one week ago, there being a decline of ½ and ¼c per lb upon all grades. The quality of the western cattle was not as good as those of one week ago.

Working Oxen—There has been a good supply of working oxen in market this week, but the demand for them has not been very lively. We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2650 lbs, at $185; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 4 in, live weight 2400 lbs, $9?; 8 prs, girthing from 6 ft 6 in to 6 ft 8 in per pr, live weight 2500 to 2800 lbs, at $125 per pr; 2 prs, girth 7 ft, live weight 2800 lbs, at $137 50; 1 pr, girth 7 ft 6 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $160; 3 prs, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $125 per pr; 4 prs, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $110.

Milch Cows—Extra $50 and $75; ordinary $30 and $40; springers $35 and $40; farrow cows $12 and $27 per head. The supply in market for the past two weeks has consisted largely of cows of an ordinary grade. We quote sales of 1 milch cow at $39; 1 do at $55; 1 at $50; 1 springer at $60; 1 do at $55; 1 do at $50; 2 at $48 each; 2 cows and calves at $46 each; 3 cows and calves at $40 each; 10 milch cows and springers at prices ranging from $37 to $55 per head.

Store Cattle—Not any call for them.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were all owned by butchers who employ agents at the west to buy and ship direct to them each week for slaughter. We saw lots costing from 6 to 7½c per lb, fanned at Brighton.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

YOURS, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 20, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender in-cen, for those who desire a clear and wholesome skin and scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Fruits, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in good order. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home.

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

Skilled Labor

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

"It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE for CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation."

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you this line to say that although I have been accustomed to place no nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief as the ultimate cure as that of Sanford's.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for 10 years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. Henry Weaver, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of a curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc., etc.

Colorado Railroads and Railroad Travelling.

* * * After a very grave council, it was agreed to take the Chicago & North-Western and Union Pacific railroads to Denver, at present the booming city of this country, if not of the world.

At 10:30 A. M., we were most comfortably seated in one of the celebrated, and I may say world-renowned, hotel cars of the Chicago & North-Western railroad, and of course, our first topic of conversation, as it seemed to be with every one after being seated for the first time in really a palace hotel on wheels, was to discuss the situation.

We had heard of these magnificant hotel cars, run only on this road, but must frankly confess had never fully understood the maximum amount of comfort and luxury in railroad traveling until this trip from Chicago to Council Bluffs. The interior construction of the car is simply exquisite, and for neatness in appearance and order in all its arrangements there is perhaps nothing on this continent is equal.

It being nearly noon when we embarked, we did not have to wait long to have our curiosity gratified as to the arrangements of the culinary department of this institution. An Englishman sitting just opposite us, after enjoying a sumptuous repast in the most leisurely manner, exclaimed: "This way of traveling is simply perfect." We ate as long and as slow as we pleased of food evidently prepared with more than ordinary skill.

Meals are served on the European plan—pay for what you have—so that a traveler does not have to pay seventy-five cents for a cup of tea and a little toast.

But one of the marked features and crowning characteristic of this road is its safety.

The rapidity with which a train of cars moves very naturally suggests the idea of danger to one not accustomed to such rapid traveling.

I had heard the statement that the Chicago & North-Western railroad was the safest in the country. Whether that be true or not, Mr. Editor, I observed two three facts which I deem it proper to refer to in this connection, for safety in railroad traveling is a consideration of no small moment.

First, the road-bed seems to be a perfect one, with steel rails the entire distance from Chicago to Council Bluffs hence its firm and substantial character is very readily realized as the train passes over it.

Another feature I noticed was the most perfect condition of the cars run on this road. The coaches all had the appearance of just coming from the shop, and seemingly in the most complete order for service and safety.

Another feature of safety was the kind of men employed to run the trains. They were evidently not of ordinary stock, but were selected as men worthy to be trusted with the lives of hundreds and thousands of people. There was an air of business and stability about them that gives a traveller a feeling of trust and confidence.

Mr. Editor, I have been thus specific on the question of the safety of this road, for this is one of the first things that a travelling public desire to be assured of, and I am satisfied that the company controlling this great and important line spares no pains or expense to make this feature of their road all the public can ask or demand, and this is why this road is so nearly or entirely free from reports of accidents.

In my going westward we passed through some of the most interesting portions of Iowa in the night, but in returning had a fair opportunity to see some of the finest country in the world in that state along the line of this road.

At home and abroad, Iowa stands as one of the finest farming states in the Union, and the broad acres of growing crops are certainly a rich feast for the eyes. The fields of corn were simply immense, and the herds of fine cattle indicated great thrift and prosperity. And the general appearance of houses, barns, yards, shrubbery, etc., showed that men of enterprise and intelligence had sought and were beautifying homes in this land of plenty.

After a most agreeable ride of less than twenty-four hours, we arrived at the Union Pacific railroad depot, one of the liveliest and most interesting places in all Christendom, about 9-30 A. M.—The Investigator, August, 1879.

What Ails You?

Is it a disordered liver, giving you a yellow skin, or costive bowels, which have resulted in distressing piles, or do your kidneys refuse to perform their functions? If so your system will soon be clogged with poisons. Take a few doses of Kidney-Wort and you'll feel like a new man—nature will throw off every impediment, and each organ will be ready for duty.

—An Ohio man has brought suit against his own mother for slander, alleging damages at $10,000.

Troublesome Children,

That are always wetting their beds ought not to be scolded and punished for what they cannot help. They need a medicine having a tonic effect on the kidneys and urinary organs. Such a medicine is Kidney-Wort. It has specific action. Do not fail to try it for them.

From Mansion to Hovel.

Mrs. Jennie Collins, formerly Jennie Herndon Tyler, daughter of the late Col. W. W. Tyler, and grand niece of President Tyler, was buried on the 19th inst. from a miserable tenement at No. 78 Hudson avenue, Brooklyn. She was married to a laborer, named Wm. Collins, employed in the Brooklyn gas works. She once moved in the fashionable society of Washington, and was a very intelligent and highly cultivated woman; and she was only twenty-five years old when she died. Her girlhood was spent on her father's plantation in Mississippi, but she was betrayed into a mock marriage with a man named Jennings, who deserted her after squandering her property, and when she married Collins she was disowned by her family.

An Unsatisfactory Witness.

The Voorhees investigating committee, appointed by the national senate to make political capital for the democratic party by exposing the negro exodus from the south as a result of republican intrigue, does not make much progress in the desired direction. A day or two since the democratic committee men caught a Tartar, in the shape of Judge Badger of North Carolina, a native of the state, whose father was a United States senator thirty years ago. Judge Badger is a man of high standing and great influence in North Carolina, and was called as a witness because Voorhees had heard that he was opposed to the exodus. In answer to a question, Judge Badger admitted that he was opposed to the exodus; that he thought it unwise and injurious, both for the state and the negroes; and at this Voorhees was very much gratified, but his temper changed when Badger went on to say that he thought the United States government ought to be strong enough to stop the exodus by protecting the negroes in their political and civil rights. He gave a history of negro persecution in North Carolina from the close of the war to date, giving instance after instance to show that the race had no protection and could not obtain justice in either the state or the federal courts in North Carolina; that the system of labor there was as bad as slavery, and in some respects worse, and citing quotations from the laws of the state to show that the oppression was legalized. Judge Badger was subpœnaed as a democratic witness, but his evidence will make an excellent republican campaign document. He came to Washington fully fortified by facts to show the actual condition of affairs which had caused the exodus. So strong a statement has not been heard before a congressional committee for years. Senator Voorhees endeavored to shut him off, but Badger succeeded in placing upon record the real cause of the exodus.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 26th.

The "Blaine, boom" appeared in Washington in full bloom on Saturday night. To most people the first sign of a public demonstration was the appearance of a large transparency on F street bearing the name of the "National Blaine Club." The rising seems to have been spontaneous, and chiefly among members of congress. Some solid men are in its organization, several of whom have heretofore been considered loyal to Grant. The speeches of Messrs. Williams, Price, Calkins, Reed, Hurlburt, and Brown, were very emphatically in discouragement of the third term, while very respectful to General Grant personally. The Blaine men propose to keep open house for all their friends from now until the meeting of the national convention.

The Sherman men have opened headquarters, although they are in private rooms near the treasury.

General Butler is certainly a man of expedients, if not an honest man. He is conducting the case of Boynton, greenbacker, against Loring, of the sixth Massachusetts district, and although Loring received a clear majority of the votes cast, Butler argues that because there is an educational requirement in the constitution of that state, all the citizens under the 14th amendment were not allowed to vote. Neither party takes much stock in Butler now, and it is not likely that his view will become the rule of the house.

The effort to have the democratic convention meet in Washington is an earnest one, but it is hardly likely that the committee consent to call it here. There is too much fear of congressional influence among the rural people.

The case of Fitz John Porter looks less favorable now than a few days ago; the republicans are more solidly against him than they were supposed to be, and it is said that the democrats prefer not to touch the matter pending a national campaign.

Robert Collyer has been in the city for the last few days, lecturing and preaching at the Unitarian church to immense audiences. Sunday morning the president and his family were among his auditors.

Everybody seems to have settled down to the belief that congress will be in session far into the hot weather, and to have become reconciled to it.

The republicans assert that the majority of the house really contemplate unseating Washburn of Minnesota, in order to gain the majority of the delegation in that state, and thus control the majority of states in the house in case the presidential election should go to that body; but the more conservati ve democrats deprecate such modes and expedients.

Perpetual Motion Discovered Again.

The Columbus, Ohio, State Journal gives an account of an alleged discovery of perpetual motion by William S. Obern and William F. Hyett, of Richland township, Marion county, Ohio. The truth of the discovery is vouched for by leading citizens. The report says the invention consists of a large iron wheel containing a large number of slides, inclined planes, etc., and will start itself. Obern is a miller by trade, and Hyett a mechanic. They have been working at the machine some time. A model has been made and sent to Washington for a patent; meanwhile the patentees keep the machine under lock and key. Good place for it.

Assistant Paymaster M. C. McDonald is ordered to duty at the naval depot, at Villefranche, France, per steamer from Philadelphia of the 25th inst.

Sailmaker J. S. Franklin is ordered to the receiving ship St. Louis.

News and Notes.

"Rev." Mr. Cowley, of "Shepherd's Fold" notoriety in New York, has been convicted on the charges of starving and cruelly ill-treating children. He had been on trial eight days. His counsel made a motion for a new trial. The court remanded the prisoner, and he was taken to the Tombs. The extreme penalty for the offense is one year in prison, and $250 fine.

The remains of Miss Clara Nickels, the young vocalist, who recently died in Paris, were conveyed to Searsport, Me., on the 17th inst.

The Maine Beet-Sugar company have sold the product of their sugar factory this season for $110,000. Their total expenditure was $107,000, leaving a net profit of $3,000.

Three seamen were drowned in Providence harbor Thursday night, while attempting to board their vessels in a small boat. One of them, Capt. Archibald Milliken of schooner Henry R. Congdon, leaves a wife, and one of the other men a wife and child. They were all temperate men, and all perfectly sober when they lost their lives.

An engine, passenger car and baggage car on the Bellaire & Southwestern railroad (narrow gauge) of Ohio went down an embankment eighty feet high, Thursday evening. Ex-Congressman Danford and a Mrs. Caldwell were fatally injured, and several other persons badly hurt.

Ernest Caron of Quebec has been sent to prison for twelve months for falsely representing himself a collector for Irish relief.

Cowley, convicted of brutally treating and starving children at the Shepherd's Fold in New York, was on Friday sentenced to a year in the state prison and a fine of $250, to stand committed to jail at the expiration of his sentence until the fine is paid—one day for each dollar.

Mr. Wm. Plummer of Dover, Me., aged ninety years, died on the 16th inst. Several years ago he made his own coffin, which he had laid up in his stable awaiting his demise. Unfortunately he did not get the dimensions just right, so it could not be used for his burial. He was a very worthy man and much respected by all who knew him.

Rev. Charles E. Walker of Somerset, Mass., has commenced a suit for divorce from his wife, who was arrested in New York a few days ago in company with an hostler named Pickham, at Mr. Walker's instance. The reverend gentleman himself is under a very dark-colored cloud, his wife charging him with gross immorality, and a preliminary church trial having brought out several facts which need clearing up.

Considerable merriment was created in the court room at Bangor, Me., a day or two ago, by a remark of Mr. Rawson, who was addressing the jury. He said: "There is no doubt that excitement will take rum out of a man quicker than seltzer, and some of you gentlemen know this to be a fact."

The symmetry of the grounds of Smith college at Northampton, Mass., is somewhat marred by a small white house standing next to the college. It is owned by a crotchety individual, who has refused all offers of purchase, and has expressed his firm determination to remain where he is. The college gymnasium has accordingly been built as near as possible to his parlor windows, and the side adjoining them has been divided up into six small rooms. In these have been placed the pianos on which all the practicing of two hundred or so students is done. It is confidently expected that the enemy will surrender next summer, when the windows will be opened and the six pianos assiduously wrestled with "from morn till dowy eve." So says the Yale Record.

New Hampshire Items.

The Amoskeag company of Manchester propose to build a gingham mill 400 feet long and four stories high, capable of running 3,600 spindles; also a new two-story dye house 300 feet long. Other important additions to Manchester's manufactories are being talked of.

The officers of the Winnepesaukee Grove Meeting association have voted to hold their third annual meeting at Weirs Landing, commencing August 1st and continuing nine days. It will be open to liberal Christians throughout the United States.

James Cowdry of Westmoreland, while trying to change a belt at Fred. B. Pierce's brush handle factory, on the 17th inst., fell and was instantly killed. He was twenty-two years of age.

Wells B. Brown left Lebanon, February 9th, intending to visit his brother in Sharon, Mass. He has not since been heard from, and fears are entertained that he has committed suicide, or been made the victim of foul play.

A joint stock opera house company has been formed in Manchester, the stock being nearly all taken up. The opera house will be located on Hanover street. Work will be commenced as soon as the season opens.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

AROUND HOME.

Assistant Naval Constructor George F. Hilet is ordered to resume his duties at the navy yard.

A new chandelier has been put in position in the Academy hall at Greenland to replace the one destroyed several weeks ago.

All the bells in the city except the Pocket street alarm bell will be rung on Monday, in honor of Washington's birthday, the anniversary of which occurs on Sunday.

Mr. Charles W. Knowles is now night telegraph operator in this city for the Eastern railroad, Mr. George N. Starkey having been transferred to Somerville, Mass., for day duty.

There was no death in Exeter from Feb. 22d, 1879, to Feb. 11th, 1880, a period of fifty-two days. On the twelvth inst. Mrs. Clementine Harris died, at the age of seventy-five years.

A correspondent of the News-Letter, writing from Hampton, says Willie Moulton, formerly of Hampton but now of Exeter, has killed one hundred and five woodtridges since the first of last September.

Sixty-seven persons in Stratham were taxed $25 or more in 1879, the rate of taxation being $1.05 per $100. Ezra Parker's tax heads the list with $205.02. There are nine persons named Wiggin whose taxes exceed $25 each.

A little daughter of Mr. Joseph R. Martis, eight years old, died on Thursday from the effects of a fall on the sidewalk the same time ago, when she struck her head on the curbstone. The parents have the earnest sympathy of many friends in their affliction.

Sixteen fishing schooners sought shelter in Newburyport harbor from the storm of last Thursday, and carried in about 18,000 lbs. of fish, which sold at $2.75 per hundred in the round. Early all the fish was taken in by two vessels, the George Upton landing 14,000 lbs. and the Northern Eagle 3,000 lbs.; the other schooners had fares ranging from a few hundred pounds down to empty kids.

Mayor Sise on Friday received from Congressman J. G. Hall a letter, reporting the presentation of a petition asking an appropriation for the further improvement of Portsmouth harbor, and stating that the engineer in charge of the work has recommended the appropriation of 5,000 for the purpose specified. How much of a cut-down on this sum the appropriation committee will make remains to be seen.

Some days since Sheriff Kent, upon a complaint and warrant, arrested in Haverhill, Mass., a young girl on charge of larceny at Portsmouth. Upon investigation, he found the girl only fifteen years of age, and the daughter of a family in extreme northern part of the state, and that she had been wayward and was very penitent. Notwithstanding she was held to answer to the grand jury for the alleged offence, the sheriff did not give credit to the charge, and not only bonded bail for the girl, but paid her fare and sent her home to her parents. He received the gratifying intelligence that she is now at home and leading a life of reform.—News-Letter.

Edward E. Willey of Strafford has established—or at least commenced to issue—a "religious paper" claiming to be devoted to the interests of the Christian church, and called the Christian Witness. Rev. S. C. Kendall, formerly settled as pastor over the Baptist church at Newmarket, is the editor; he is evidently an Orthodoxist—not to say rabid—opponent of Freemasonry, and a good part of the space of the first number is taken up in assaults upon that ancient and generally-considered-respectable order. Brother Kendall had better stick to fighting sin with the devil, about which he may know a great deal, rather than to wear all the time off his head butting at a secret society concerning which he cannot possibly know much, and which will keep right on with its own good work in its own way, no matter how he or others may condemn it about it.

HUMPTY DUMPTY.

The band of the Nick Roberts Humpty Dumpty combination paraded the principal streets about noon on Friday, and attracted much attention, not for their numbers, for there were but few of them, but for the large quantity and fine quality of the music they made, which was remarkable for so few performers.

The show in the evening was the best of its kind seen here for a long time; the "business" was almost entirely new, and much of it ridiculously laughable. There was a good audience, and everybody seemed to enjoy the performance.

UNKNOWN.

On Wednesday evening Mr. John A. Stevens, supported by a superior company, will appear at Music hall in the romantic drama "Unknown," written by himself and played only by his company. Mr. Stevens presented this play in this city some months ago, to the marked satisfaction of the audience; his support was excellent then, and we are assured that it has been greatly strengthened since by several changes among the actors. Of the drama itself the Boston Home Journal says:

The play is at all times consistent, is well constructed and is deeply and thrillingly interesting. We cannot follow the play in its happy conclusions, but must be content to say that it is full of telling situations, and that it holds the audience in the most exciting interest. Mr. Stevens is intensely realistic in the part of the Unknown and has nightly been repeatedly called before the curtain. Miss Lottie Church is very charming as Bessie Merribright, acting with a true conception of the part, and in fact all the parts are well taken and the play is beautifully presented.

The Cambridge Chronicle speaks of the piece as follows:

In tone "Unknown" is one of the purest plays upon the stage. Not a taint of grossness can be discovered, not a double entendre can be heard throughout its entire length. Yet withal it is a play of deepest interest, an ornament to our stage, and its author deserves a word of tribute for the unsullied sentiment of his beautiful idyl.

WIDOW BEDOTT.

On Thursday evening Petroleum V. Nasby's play, "Widow Bedott," will be presented at Music hall, for the first time in this city, by Neil Burgess, George Stoddart and a full supporting company. This organization has just finished an engagement in Providence, R. I., and the Journal of that city thus spoke of one of their performances:

"Widow Bedott" enticed a large and mirthful audience on the occasion of her third husband-hunting excursion, at Low's opera house last evening, and she was inspired to prosecute the search with uncommon zeal and determination. The performance steadily improves at each presentation, and Neil Burgess has caused more unbidden tears to be shed since his advent in these plantations than any other comedian on the stage. From the moment when he makes his first appearance to the conjugal reconciliation at the close, it is safe to say that not a solitary spectator can control his risibles, and the conventional smile rapidly gives way to uproarious laughter and undignified appreciation. The dyspeptic and heavy-laden mortal can obtain a more lasting benefit by patronizing this performance than he can derive from the purchase of patent medicine or purgative pills. The play runs very smoothly, and is worthy of liberal patronage.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

On Monday evening, March 1st, this distinguished actor will make his first appearance in Portsmouth, presenting Mr. D. W. Howells' beautiful play entitled "Yorick's Love." Mr. Barrett has just concluded a long engagement at the Park theatre, Boston, and is now making a short tour of New England; at the earnest desire of a number of our leading citizens he has been induced to appear here, and the occasion promises to be a brilliant one in our amusement season. He will bring his own strong company in support.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The forenoon Friday was mostly consumed in listening to the arguments of counsel, etc., in case Morse vs. Benson, which was given to the jury at twelve o'clock; and after an hour's deliberation they found for the piff. in $400 damages.

No. 157. Reese Owen of Seabrook vs. Jeremiah Chase was next tried. Ivan T. Purrington of Exeter was appointed foreman of the jury. This is an action to recover damages for an alleged deceit in the sale of a vessel. The deft. sold sixty-three sixty-fourth parts of a schooner, the "George Washington," valued at $900, claimed to have been built in 1852 and to be seaworthy, with good rigging, hawsers, suits of sails, new mackerel seine worth $500, etc. Piff. claims he was induced to purchase the interest for $900, but discovered that the vessel was built in 1832, and was unsound, with unsafe rigging and hawser rotten, and did not have the two suits of sails talked of, but one old suit in poor order. The plaintiff offered an amendment, claiming the sum of $700 as paid, and making a slight alteration in his declaration; this was objected to by the defendant. The case was opened by E. C. Eastman for the plaintiff, who described the difficulties and dangers in handling the vessel, and from his account the G. W. was a hard old craft. The vessel was at Newburyport when the sale was made. The plaintiff testified that Chase came to him and solicited him to purchase the vessel; that he (Owen) had not the money, but Chase would as soon take his note as the money; at a second call Chase represented the vessel as built in 1852 and rebuilt in 1864, and that she was in good seaworthy condition, and as recited in the opening, hawser not turned, etc. After a long examination of Mr. Owen, several other witnesses from Seabrook were called. Eastman and Lamprey for piff.; Messrs. Hatch and Son, and Frink, for defendant.

The case was unfinished at adjournment, and is expected to occupy most of the day Saturday. The jurors not engaged in this trial were excused till Monday.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. William H. Gray, brother of Asst. Marshal Gray, died very suddenly about midnight on Friday. He was up town on Friday evening, joined his daughter in singing after returning home, and retired apparently in his usual health; but he soon arose, feeling unwell, and becoming rapidly worse Dr. Hall was sent for, but before he arrived Mr. Gray was dead. Some herrt trouble was the cause.

Bull-Fights.

What revolts you in the bull-fight is the absence of all hope for the bull. That wounds our sense of fair play. The fox may find a hole, the plover may take wing, the antelope has the fields and forests; in our sports we do not take an undue advantage. But for the bull there is no hope. The tragedy always ends in death. Let him fight never so well, his valor only stimulates the excitement of the crowd. He has no possible hope. If he is wary or sluggish and will not fight, the dogs are put upon him or fire-crackers are exploded in his skin. If he is fierce and so brave that the swordsman cannot do his office, then they creep behind and hamstring him and put him to death in a cowardly fashion. The horses are killed in wantonness, and the more horses the bull gores and rends and tears to pieces, the more enthusiasm in the crowd. If even the horse had a chance! but his eyes are bound. He is generally so old and lame that his work is done. He has served his master in every way,—pulling, hauling, starving and submitting to blows,—and now, when the whip and spur have no control of his worn-out constitution, he is doomed to the bull-goring. The whole display is the refinement of cruelty. There were all kinds of inducements held out to General Grant to visit the bull-fight; but he could not be persuaded.—John Russell Young, in N. Y. Herald.

One Author's Experience.

A little while ago the Chicago Inter-Ocean published a paper on "Winnowing Machines," meaning thereby the editors who read and reject or accept manuscript for publishers, and now "Margaret Bertha" writes:

Not very long ago I heard a popular story writer tell some of his experience with these winnowing machines. He had been writing stories, with very small success, for a number of years. He felt sure—as many others feel—that story-writing was his forte, and the one in which he was to gain his support and a reputation, if fortune had any in store for him. But somehow the winnowing machines and he had different opinions upon the subject. He kept writing stories and the W. M.'s kept returning them—"with thanks," or without. Now and then one of his stories was published and paid for, encouraging him to hold on to his determination to win his success in that line if it is any. But as his "declined-with-thanks," (or without) came pouring in upon him almost as rapidly as he poured them out upon the world, he was forced to furnish a sort of reservoir for their accumulation. In his writing room was a huge bureau, or chest of drawers, taller than his head. He could just reach up and pull the upper drawer open by an exertion. The upper drawer, deep and capacious, he resolved to leave always half open for the convenience of his rejected manuscript. Therefore, whenever a "returned-with-thanks" (or without) made its appearance he simply tossed it skyward, leaving it to land in that upper drawer, while he went on writing newer ones, and, he hoped, better ones. After a while that upper drawer, upon the contents of which many winnowing machines had winnowed, became pretty full. But just about that time the author's patience and determination brought their just reward. He became quite famous as a novelist, and stories from his pen became in demand. Instead of "returned-with-thanks" (or without) he was now kept quite busy with requests that he furnish something for the next Maizchill, the Two Nightly Review, or the Snob's Magazine. Therefore, what did he do, so much more confident in himself than in winnowing machines, but to take a long cane with crooked handle and fish in that lofty drawer for manuscript, which, when caught, was unrolled—re-rolled, and without examination or revision, sent off anew, perhaps to the same winnowing machine which had once winnowed it away from his harvest. This author is Justin McCarthy, and some of his best and most successful stories have been those both winnowed into and fished out of his high upper drawer!

Lighting Vessels by Electricity.

On the voyage from Liverpool of the steamship City of Berlin, of the Inman line, the experiment of lighting the ocean steamship by the electric light was tried. Four lamps were placed in the saloon and two in the steerage, each one of them having an illuminating power equal to that of 400 candles. Preliminary trials of the light had been made at Liverpool and during the passage to Queenstown. Mr. Inman and other persons interested in the steamship line witnessed the experiments. The passengers united in expressing hearty appreciation. In a memorial they said: "The effect has been to render possible reading, writing and sewing in every part of the large room. And that which has so delighted us, as cabin passengers, has been a still greater boon in the steerage. It appears to us that the experiment has demonstrated completely the adaptability of the electric system to the lighting of ocean steamships."

A Reliable Wine.

Mr. A. Speer, New Jersey, whose Port Grape Wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to introduce the art of making wine from the Oporto Grape, which is now the best wine to be had, and has become a great favorite among the most prominent physicians of New York and Philadelphia, who have visited the vineyards and wine cellars at Passaic. Families and aged persons are benefitted by it.

For sale by W. R. Preston, D. Kimball, F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B., thus writes to Mr. Fellows: "I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring my wife and daughter, the latter from Tubercular Consumption, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

The great popular remedy of the day, for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all Lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as if magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial. Price 35 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rotten the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ring-worm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I despaired with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory experiment—even if it were worth trying I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. ——of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 13 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure if I can be of use in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER.—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a medicinal form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and industrious life is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent Divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. "Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." DUMUS BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You prosecuted for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many valuable patents and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE BRIDGE.

BOSTON, January 1, 1880. 3tawtjan161

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivaled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others, embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

Unapproached by any other Periodical

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that though its pages are full, it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Nation, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Episcopal Recorder.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

"It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of relief in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may safely rest upon the position the RADICAL CURE has attained, and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—I feel thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, and I also feel inclined to drop a line to say that although I have been sceptical of it as a nostrum, I am ready to admit it is a "radical cure." I have never found anything that promises such relief as ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for 10 years, and not until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WELLS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to do so, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT.

DE PROFUNDIS.

Down to the tide, by Jersey side—
Oh, pause and sho a tear!—
A fair young dame for water came,
And almost got a beer.

How can I tell what her befell?—
Alas, that such things be!
The fierce, rough sea rolled in, and she Rolled in the fierce, rough sea.

"Oh, take me in! oh, take me in!"
Affrighted, did she shout,
The breakers dread had turned her head:
She meant, "Oh, take me out!"

Forgive me, oh, ye cruel man
Who heard that frightened shout,
And through the din cried out, "Swim in!"
Yet should have cried, "Swim out!"

Forgive, oh, ye cruel man
Who raised his horrid hand,
And with one swift and mighty lift
Propelled her safe to land.

Now some there be who say that she Doth dilliness thoughtful sit,
And say, "The sea had swallowed me,
Had I not swallowed it."

And now a sort of moral short
I point in vain to lamentation
Far better stand unwashed on land
Than be washed—up on shore.

—Harpers Magazine for March.

Excited his Curiosity.

"Deadwood," said the stranger, putting down his half-eaten slice of lemon pie and taking a long pull at the milk, "I went there when the first rush was made for the hills. Rather a rough crowd the first lot, you bet; more wholesome now. When I got there I was dead broke—didn't have a dollar, didn't have a revolver, which a man'll often need out there worse'n a meal's vittles. I was prob'ly the only man in the hills who didn't carry a firearm, an' I was some lonesome, I tell you. The only weapon I had—I'm a blacksmith—was a rasp, a heavy file, you know, 'bout eighteen inches long, which I carried down my back, the handle in easy reach just below my coat collar. Understand? Like the Arkansaw man carries his bowie-knife I'm not exactly a temperance man. I just don't drink an' don't meddle with any other man's drinkin'—that's all. One day—I hedn't been in Deadwood more'n a week—I was stuin' in a s'loon—only place a man kin set to see any society—when a feller come in, a reg'lar rustler, with his can full and a quart over. He'd a revolver on each side of his belt, and looked vicious. Nothin' mean about him, though. Askt me to drink. 'Not any, thank you,' sez I. 'Not drink with me! Me! Bill Feathergill! When I ask a tender-foot to drink, I except him to prance right up, and no mokeyin'. You h-o-a-r me!'

Well, when his hand went down for his revolver, I whipped out my old file quicker'n fire 'nd scorch a feather, an' swiped him one right across the face. When he fell I thought I'd killed him, an' the s'loon fillin' up with bummers, I sorter skinned out, not knowin' what might happen. Purty soon a chap in a red shirt came up to me. Sez he, 'You the man as ke-arved Bill Feathergill? 'Cos, if so he as you are, of you don't want ev'ry man in the hills to climb you, don't you try to hide yourself—the boys is askin' fur you now.'

It struck me that my friend had the idee, so I waltzed back and went up 'an down before that s'loon 'for nigh three hours. I'd found out Bill wasn't dead an' was bad medicine, but it wouldn't do to let down. Purty soon I see my man a-headin' for me. His face had been patched up till it looked like the closing out display of a retail dry goods store. There was so little countenance exposed that I couldn't guess what he was nimin' at, so I brought my hand back of my collar and grabbed my file.

'Hold on there; hold on,' sez he, 'gimme y'r hand, I'm friendly, I've got nothin' agin you, not a thing, but—you'll pardon my curiosity—what sort of a weapon was that, stranger?'"

The Same Old Story.

An Oxford undergraduate was showing his sister over his rooms in college, when some one knocked at the door. Supposing that it was one of his friends, and not wishing to be chaffed, he hid her behind the curtains and admitted an elderly gentleman, who apologized profusely, saying that it was many years since he had been at Oxford, and could not leave without paying a visit to the dear old college and the old rooms he had occupied as a student.

"Ah!" cried the old gentleman, looking around, "the same old sofa! yes, and the same old carpet—everything the same!"

Then, walking in the bed-room, he remarked, "Yes! and the same old bed! and the same washstand! Yes, everything the same!"

Presently he stopped toward the curtains and remarked, "Ah! and the same old curtains!"

Looking around he beheld the young lady, and, turning round, said:—"Ah, you young dog, and the same old game!"

"But," hastily replied the under-graduate, "that young lady is my sister."

To which the reply came, "Yes, I know; and the same old story!"

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B., thus writes to Mr. Fellows: "I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring my wife and daughter, the latter from Tubercular Consumption, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

A Boston Mystery.

The body of a man unknown, much decomposed and with a bullet hole in the head, was on Saturday afternoon found in an upper room of a boarding house kept by Henry Orpen, on Florence street, Boston. The man was one of two who had boarded at the place for some months, and is supposed to have been murdered by his former partner. A revolver was in the dead man's hand, and a rude scrawl was found on a table, saying the writer was "sick of life," and asking forgiveness of "John;" the note was signed "Marshall." Burglar's tools, crucibles for melting gold, and fragments of articles of jewelry, were found in a closet in the room.

News and Notes.

Secretary of the Navy Thompson went to Brooklyn on Friday, to deliver his lecture upon reminiscences of prominent men, at the Academy of Music. The secretary's accounts of Clay, Jackson and Adams were of peculiar interest. He visited the navy yard on Saturday, and returned to Washington in the evening.

At the poor-house in Corinth, Vt., on Thursday of last week, Aaron Ferrin, a pauper, aged seventy-six years, killed a fellow pauper named William Torrill, aged seventy-nine years, by chopping his head nearly off with an axe. The murderer then cut his own throat with a razor, and died immediately. Terrill was an Englishman, a transient pauper, who happened to bring up on the Corinth poor farm.

Advices form Valparaiso, Chili, of January 27th state that by the explosion of shells in the arsenal there, twenty persons were killed and half the building destroyed.

Acsording to intelligence published at Buenos Ayres, the alliance between Peru and Bolivia is broken off.

A five-story iron building on Broadway, New York, was burned Friday, and the money loss is estimated at $1,250,000. Two firemen were burned to death.

William Theisor of Columbus, O., murdered his divorced wife, Mrs. Tary Redewald, last Thursday morning.

"Blower" Brown won the great tramping match in London last week, scoring 558 miles.

Naval Gazette.

The New York Commercial says the trials of the torpedo boat Alarm during the past few weeks show her to be considerable of a failure.

The practice ship Mayflower is soon to be sent to the Norfolk navy yard for docking.

A general order has been issued by Commandant Nicholson, of the marine corps, prohibiting the detailing of a non-commissioned officer for duty as "officer of the guard" or "officer of the day."

A bill has passed the national senate authorizing the secretary of the navy to detail an officer to compile for publication the official records of the late war, both of the union and confederate navies, in conjunction with the compilation of the records of both armies now going on under the direction of the secretary of war.

New Hampshire Items.

Edson Upton fell on the ice at Contoocook, Friday, striking his elbow and smashing his shoulder blade.

The state board of agriculture will hold a meeting day and evening in the town hall, Derham, on Friday next, the 27th inst. Messrs. Hills, DeMerritte and Adams of the board, Joseph B. Walker of Concord, and other speakers, will address the meeting. The subjects for discussion will be adapted to the wants of the people, such as stock, farm crops, manures, etc. It will be interesting not only to the farming community but to everybody, and all are invited to attend, ladies especially.

New Publications.

Harper's Magazine for March is full of attractive articles, beautifully illustrated. The most fascinating thing in the number is William Hamilton Gibson's "Winter Idyl," not only from the peculiar charm of the author's pictures, but also from the beauty of his descriptions of winter scenery, and from the familiar associations recalled by every page of his delightful paper. The number opens with a paper by J. J. Jarvis on "The new school of painting and sculpture," illustrated with engravings of paintings by Morelli, Ciberci, Vinea, Conti, and Gelli, and of statuary by Gallori and Albano. The present interest in Indian affairs renders especially timely Lieutenant Lemly's article, "Among the Arrapahoes," describing the life of the tribe in the tips and in the hunting-field, and excellently illustrated. Equally timely is Mr. J. B. Matthew's paper "Pinafore's" predecessor," taking the reader back to the beginnings of English comic opera in Gay's "Beggar's opera," and Sheridan's "Duenna." The paper is illustrated with fine portraits of Gay and Sheridan. C. C. Coffin contributes a graphic description, handsomely illustrated, of harvesting on the larger farms in Dakota. J. L. Cloud describes and illustrates "An Irish Wake." Philip D. Sullivan has a poem on St. Valentine's day; Longfellow a poem entitled "The sifting of Peter," and the number contains other poems, sketches, stories and essays which make it of unusual interest. Moses Brothers and W. G. Myers have Harper's.

Brentano's Monthly for February has portraits of the horses "Baden Baden" and "Kentucky Prince" for a frontispiece, and contains the usual hundred and fifty pages crammed with matter of interest to the sporting world. Brentano's Literary Emporium, No. 39 Union square, New York city; the trade supplied by the American News Co.

Lippincott's Magazine for March opens with a description of the lakes of Minnesota, with their healthful and picturesque summer resorts, which are already frequented by northern tourists, and which, judging from this article and its attractive illustrations, deserve to be better known. "The American Suez" is the title of an article which will be read with special interest, on account of the subject, and the able summary which it gives of the arguments for and against each of the proposed routes for a canal to connect the waters of the gulf of Mexico with those of the Pacific ocean. The writer shows a personal familiarity with the country, and the maps inserted in the text will do much to assist the reader in forming an opinion on this vexed question. Another timely paper is devoted to the "Ute Alatter," and evidently emanates from Colorado, where the feeling on the subject is naturally strongest, and the decision of congress and the government is awaited with impatience. "At the foot of the Sierras" is not a mere descriptive article, but contains some capital sketches of life and manners in the most beautiful region of the west. The well-written and suggestive description of "Decorative art and its dogmas," is concluded in this number. There is a fresh instalment of "Adam and Eve;" a very pathetic and realistic story, entitled "A mother's vision;" and a bright little Italian sketch, by the author of "Signor Monaldini's niece." "Playing a part" is a witty and neatly-constructed comedy, well adapted for amateur acting. The poetry is by Paul Hayne and Howard Glyndon, and a large space, as usual, is devoted to the "Monthly gossip" and "Literature of the day."

Adam and Eve.

The Papyrus Club of Boston gave a brilliant reception and dinner to their lady friends at the Revere house in that city on the evening of the 19th inst. After the dinner and the president's address, toasts were in order, the first one, to the ladies, being as follows: "As the voice of trumpets sound forth the approach of royalty, and garlands are strewn in flowery greeting on the pathway of heroes, so should poesy usher in the welcome we give to our fair guests." Mr. Henry M. Rogers responded with the following:

Adam and Eve.

I always feel sad when I think of old Adam,—
And that pitiful meanness which led him to say,
When caught stealing fruit in the Garden of Eden,
"Eve did it!"—she tempted,—and showed me the way."

From the day that first Adam drew breath to the present,
The mother has been constantly hagged to our hearts
That we are all right—quite exceptional fellows,
When we're not led astray by some other man's wives.

From the days of first Adam then down to the present,
It has ever been perfectly clear to the view,
That the trouble's at home, and within signal distance,
But we're all quite near-sighted, both Gentile and Jew.

I do not admit that Eve tempted old Adam—
She, poor little soul—had no guile in her mind;
She knew she loved fruit, more especially apples;
And woman-like, shared them, unselfish and kind.

She never attempted to steal—nd then hide them;
To care for herself a more bountiful store;—
To take for herself all the juicy and ripe ones
And leave to old Adam but seeds, skin and core.

She was type of true woman—unselfish, devoted,
Brave to her friend, and lovely, the very beauty
In the whole of the body or shivering old Adam,
Just as ready to steal for her husband—as fib.

She had taken all risk, having longed for the apples;
Had conversed with the snake and had plucked from the tree;
And though weak kneed Adam had shared half the plunder,
She'd have shouldered all blame and have let him go free!

Then hail, Mother Eve, the most human of women!
Your faults, if you had faults, have made us your kin;
You've shown to your daughters such exquisite graces,
Perfection in you would have really been sin.

And shame and disgrace fall on all sons of Adam
Who dare their shortcomings to lay at your door!
And shame on Old Adam, who set an example,
Such as no living man had ever thought of before!

And if, Mother Eve, you should find yourself weary
Of having Old Adam round, full of remorse,
Because he was sent from the Garden of Eden,
We will pay your expenses and get your divorce.

A Practical Woman.

Frank and Alice L—— have been married several years, but have no children. Frank is shiftless and dissipated, while Alice is tidy and industrious. She is obliged to work out, and has several times been discharged from good situations owing to the conduct of her husband on visiting her. She has now a good place in a family, and Frank showing a disposition to annoy her, she caused his arrest, and the case came before Justice Clute for examination. Frank cried and whimpered when Alice insisted on his being sent up, and promised all sorts of things if she would let him off. She was inexorable, however, saying: "Now, Frank, you know you have not treated me right. I'll put you up there for the winter, and you will come out like a spring chicken. You will come out like a man. In the meantime I'll work hard and get a pleasant home ready for you to come to when your time is up, and then if you don't behave well, I will send you back." "How long do you want him sent for," queried Justice Clute. "Four months," said Alice. "And four months it is," said the judge, and Frank was led away.—Albany Journal.

—Charles L. Woodward, the book-peddler of Nassau street, New York, had a mania for collecting funeral sermons. He gathered 2,700 of these lugubrious productions, somewhat at the cost of his reputation for prudence. Finally he issued a catalogue of his mortuary treasures and found he had struck the thing for which the public were just dying. He sold $1,000 worth of funeral sermons in a short time and says he never got so quick return on any catalogue.

—No class of people can inflict such martyrdom on their associates as those who are given to the habit of reminding others of their failings and peculiarities. You are never safe with such a person. When you have done your very best to please, and are feeling kindly and pleasantly, out will pop some bitter speech, a sneer which is masked, but too will aimed to be misunderstood. Setting aside the unkindness of the habit, and looking at it in an entirely wordly point of view, it does not pay to say disagreeable things to those who love us, as our ill-nature will, in the end, recoil upon ourselves.

While yet the dew hangs on the thorn,
Exhales less sweetness than is wont
To breathe from lips that SOZODONT
Has touched with a soft crimson glow
That shows the dazzling teeth of so.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York in preference to Madeira or California Wines; excellent for invalids.

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

AROUND HOME.

No CHRONICLE to-morrow. No school to-day; all the bells, excepting that at Cabot street, will be rung; the post-office will be open from 8 to 11 A. M., and from 5 to 6 P. M., for general delivery—box-office open all day.

Naval Constructor Wilson has returned from an official visit to Washington.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe will visit Portsmouth this week, and give a parlor lecture Wednesday evening.

The city authorities of Dover have advertised for proposals for a bridge over Fresh creek, on the line of the new Eliot and Dover road.

Mr. William B. Randall, who was prostrated on the 14th inst. by a stroke of paralysis, we are pleased to learn is progressing favorably.

The residence of Marcus V. Coffin, on Portsmouth avenue, Exeter, was entirely consumed by fire on Saturday morning at three o'clock. Loss $500; insured $250.

A new steam engine for the Ocean mill of Newburyport is being built by the Swampscot Machine Co. at South Newmarket. The fly-wheel was successfully cast on Friday last.

A number of men and horses were engaged cutting ice on the Cocheco river between the Eastern railroad bridge and the Bracewell building at Dover, the latter part of last week.

Schooner Mary J. Adams, of this port, before reported put into Key West, leaking, while on the passage from Mobile for Trinidad, collided in Key West harbor with a United States revenue cutter.

A son of Jeremiah Murphy, about nine years old, was run over by a job wagon on Penhallow street, Saturday, as he was returning home from school. As the wagon was partly loaded, and passed entirely over the boy's body, it is feared that he has sustained serious injuries.

Parties who enjoy safe boating on still water will have a chance to indulge in that sport on the south pond during the coming summer; a boat-house is to be built at the foot of Rogers street, where a small fleet of row-boats will be kept for hire. The enterprise should pay well, and we believe it will do so.

Any person desirous of testing by experiment how much a foot-bridge across the south pond would shorten the distance between the compact part of the city and the part south of the pond, can now do so by merely crossing on the ice from the Universalist church or the court house to Langdon park, and letting some other person bound to the same point go around either way.

A hosery manufacturer in a distant part of the state wrote us last week to enquire if the Jarvis mill could be hired for the purpose of re-establishing the hosiery business in Portsmouth. It is a great pity we could not have the business revived in our city. "Portsmouth hosiery" has a celebrated name, and hosiery not made near Portsmouth is sold as a Portsmouth-made article, as freely as is Jones' ale for the best English brew in other cities. The board of trade should look after these enterprises seeking encouragement in our city.

For more than a week past, at Washington, D. C., Commo. Isaiah Hanscom, formerly of this city, has been lying at the point of death. He was born in Eliot, and learned the trade of a ship-carpenter on the Piscataqua; March 14th, 1856, he was appointed a naval constructor, and on Jan. 23d, 1871, was made chief of the bureau of construction and repair in the navy department, a position which he filled until 1877, when he was succeeded by the present chief of the bureau, John W. Easby, being shortly after placed on the retired list of the navy, through limitation of age.

Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad 4 1-2 per cent mortgage bonds are advancing in the market. They sold at the brokers' board in Boston last week at 77 1-2, and at auction brought the same price. They are secured by mortgage, and the interest is sure to be paid because the line is worth to the lessees far more than the rent paid for it. Eastern railroad 4 1-2s brought 92, and Maine Central bonds 109 3-4. Kearsarge mills stock sold at 57 1-2, and Cocheco mills at 750. Eastern railroad stock brought 39 on Saturday—100 shares, buyer sixty; Northern railroad, 99 7-8; Boston & Maine, 121; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad, 105 1-4.

Hon. Daniel Marcy, on a recent visit to Washington, was admitted, as an ex-member, to the floor of the house of representatives. The captain had a little practical talk with some of his former associates and political friends, upon the claims of ship owners who paid high war premiums of insurance upon their ships while the confederate cruisers sailed over the seas, and who now seek to be reimbursed from the Geneva award fund. The captain's honest talk was worth a whole brigade of lobby members' smooth speeches. There are over $50,000 of these claims in Portsmouth and vicinity, and our congressional delegation, we are glad to know, is solid in favor of the constituency represented in the ship-owning interests, as against the rapacious marine insurance companies.

The sound and reliable life assurance companies are largely increasing their business, as times have improved. People who believe in leaving something for their families or those dependent in any degree upon them, and who know that results of speculative adventures are disastrous in most cases, turn their attention to life assurance as a reliable and trustworthy method by which a provision can be made for those they may leave behind at their deaths. Prominent among companies well known in this vicinity is the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, which through C. M. Gignoux, general agent in New Hampshire, paid in January $6454 on the life of the late W. R. Preston. This policy was taken out in 1867, for $5000, and consequently shows accumulations of $1454, besides some dividends used from time to time by the assured.

CONSIDERABLE OF A CITY.

Some years ago the editor of the Weekly received letters from the publishers of Appleton's and Johnson's encyclopædias, asking him to write the article on Portsmouth for each work. These letters were mislaid, forgotten, and but recently found, so somebody else wrote the articles referred to; and now the Weekly man, in the last issue of his paper, talks as follows about what he would have said had he said anything:

But if we had chanced to fulfil this double complimentary trust, or either of them, we certainly should not have omitted all the first things for which Portsmouth is or should be noted, after verifying them—such as: The oldest aqueduct in the country, the first alms-house in the world, the first Christian church, the first religious magazine and first religious newspaper, and the oldest secular paper (then not doubted) in the country; the first lightning rod in New Hampshire, put up on the old Warner or Sherburne house on Daniel street, by the hand of Benjamin Franklin himself—who was literary "smarter than lightning," and still standing in good order; the site of the first frigate built in America, and the first vessel that bore the stars and stripes to a foreign port; the birthplace of John Langdon, New Hampshire's most eminent patriot, and the residence of Col. Wm. Whipple, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence; the place whence started the first public stage (or "chair") in the country, in 1761, to Boston; whose citizens were largely concerned, under Langdon, in rifling Fort William & Mary at Newcastle, and removing thence the powder burned on Bunker Hill, as also in fighting that battle; also as being the point where the first settlers of New Hampshire landed and established themselves, and one of the few settlements in New England made in the direct interests of Episcopacy—of which the original church, now Unitarian, has had but ten minister in 237 years. These and many other especially interesting memoranda we should not have ignored, while giving the general features, as is now done. * * We should not have included the disgraceful fact that ours was the first and only town, so far as we know, to hang a girl for concealing the birth (and death) of her illegitimate child, while the more guilty father went clear; and is the only county that ever imprisoned a legal detective for trying to enfore the temperance law.

G. A. R.

We learn from reports made at the department encampment held in Nashua last week, that during the year past the Grand Army of the Republic in this state has increased in membership, and that several new posts have been instituted; among the growing posts being Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, of this city.

This post is now in a flourishing condition. Through the generosity of the public, who so liberally patronized their entertainment on the evening of last Memorial day, and by private donations, they have been enabled to start a relief fund, which although small at present they hope to increase so as to be able to provide for the immediate wants of any disabled soldier or sailor needing assistance.

At the regular meeting of the post, held last Friday evening, a quartette was organized, to be styled the "Grand Army Glee Club," consisting of the following members: George F. Monroe, late of Co. K, 13th Maine Volunteers, 1st tenor; Samuel Joy, late of Co. H, 2d New Hampshire Volunteers, 2d tenor; William Critchley, Jr., late of Co. K, 13th N. H. Vols., 1st bass; Jefferson C. Tilton, late of the U. S. S. Sacramento, (from 1862 to 1865,) 2d bass. They also adopted a uniform to be worn on all public occasions, consisting of black Kossuth hat with gold cord, dark clothes and white gloves. All honorably discharged soldiers and sailors in this vicinity are cordially invited to join the post.

The post is in communication with Gen. Chamberlain of Maine, requesting him to give a lecture in this city at an early date, and also trying to secure an orator for Memorial day.

SUPREME COURT—CLARK, J.

The trial of case Owen vs. Chase occupied the day on Saturday. The case will be argued Monday morning, and then it is hoped that the jury will be able to make the case of Reese Owen res judicata.

UNKNOWN.

The Boston Commonwealth says of "Unknown," which will be presented at Music hall on Wednesday evening:

It has many elements of popularity, and serves admirably to entertain an audience. Mr. Stevens is an actor of fine abilities, and impersonated the hero with much success. He is evidently a favorite with his audiences, and certainly strives hard to please them. The supporting company is a good one, and so complete an organization that it will surely meet with success its travelling engagements.

The Boston Times says:

Mr. Stevens proved to be a very fine actor, and nothing can be said of him in censure. He has a fine physique, a good stage presence, is handsome and manly, and acted with ease and intelligence. Miss Lottie Church completely won her audience by her naivete, her vivacity, womanly grace, and the easy natural manner in which she presented the lovely, lively and devoted Bessie, and the beautiful dresses she wore enhanced her personal beauty greatly. Wm. H. Bailey presented to us an old salt, such as the stage has not seen for years. He was artistic, and there were many little natural touches in his acting which proved him worthy the reputation he has as an excellent actor. Mr. Ketchum, with one of his wonderful make-ups, and with his inimitable drollery, caught the entire house, and scored a great success. This specialty was one of the most amusing things ever given upon the Howard stage. Mr. Graham as an Irish servant contributed largely to the fun, and was excellent.

FISHERY NOTES.

Schooner Laughing Water came in on Saturday with 4200 lbs. of fish, which she sold at $3 per hundred in the round.

Schooner Pocahontas, Capt. Charles E. Johnson, is being fitted for a fishing trip, and will sail for the banks about the first of March.

There were two fish-buyers in this city on Saturday from New York, who purchased from the local dealers all the fish they could spare.

George Herbert leaves this city this morning for Canada via Concord & Portsmouth railroad, with a car-load of frozen herring, consisting of 117 bbls., containing about 65,000 fish.

Fish was very scarce in this market last week, as well as elsewhere all along the coast, the continued unfavorable weather preventing the setting and hauling of trawls. Prices ruled high, and any vessels that did get fares made good shareouts.

WIDOW BEDOTT.

Neil Burgess and his company appeared in Concord, Tuesday evening of last week, and the Patriot of next day said: "The play fully came up to the expectations of those present, and the lavish praise which has been bestowed upon it by the press all over the country is well merited. Seldom does an audience go away so well satisfied. The laughter was hilarious from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Neil Burgess' portrayal of the 'Widow' was immense; it was the most unctuous, juicy performance this town has seen for years. He looked the character, he acted the character, he was the character. His make-up was perfect, and his voice, methods and mannerisms were exactly adapted to it. * The support throughout was admirable, and the play was superbly mounted, even to the smallest details."

I. O. O. F.

The adjourned meeting of the Rockingham Mutual Relief Association will be held at Odd fellows' Hall, Tuesday evening, Feb. 24th, at 7:30 o'clock. Committee to report.

E. M. BROWN, President.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

On Wednesday of last week there was launched by Charles H. Thompson, at Kennebunk, a steam pergie boat of about seventy-five tons, for Portland parties. This is the fifth of this same class of steamers launched by Mr. Thompson, and he has two more building.

George E. Reed, recently of Kennebunkport, has removed with his family from that town to Saco, where he is now station agent for the Eastern railroad.

On Wednesday, the 18th inst., Peter King, an employe in Horsom's wool shop in Berwick, was caught in the shafting, and sustained a fracture of the arm. His hands were badly mangled and several parts of his body were terribly lacerated. He lies in a very critical condition.

Mrs. Fitch's Diamonds.

News of the present whereabouts of the magnificent diamond necklace which was presented by the khedive of Egypt to Mrs. Fitch, daughter of General Sherman, seems to have been obtained from a diamond merchant by the Cincinnati Enquirer. It will be remembered that this necklace was deemed work $200,000, and Congress remitted the duties, $20,000, for the non-payment of which it was long detained in the New York custom house. "After this," says the informant, "the necklace was sent to Washington, and, with General Sherman's sword, deposited in the United States treasury for safe keeping. Upon further inquiry, Lieutenant Fitch ascertained that the yearly taxes on the diamonds in St. Louis county, where he then resided, would be much more than his salary, and he once more found them an elephant on his hands. His father-in-law, General Sherman, took pity on the boy and returned the necklace, with thanks, to the donor in Egypt. Upon receiving them, the khedive wrote to the general saying that it was not his desire that the diamonds should be given to any one member of his family, and having learned that he had four daughters, it was his wish then that the diamonds should be mounted in sets and divided equally between them. These daughters are Mrs. Fitch, nee Minnie Sherman, Ella Sherman, Lizzie Sherman and Rachel Sherman. The necklace was then returned to the Sherman family and mounted in four magnificent pendants, four pairs of splendid solitaire earrings and eight rings. These four ladies are now the happy possessors of four complete suits of diamonds, the value of each suit being at least $75,000. This makes each of them rich in her own right through the generosity of Egypt's late ruler.

Taking Advantage of Leap Year.

This being leap year, a young lady on the West Side resolved to avail herself of the privilege afforded the gentle sex and ascertain the exact intentions of an apparently devoted admirer who had been sparring around for two seasons without making a direct offer of his somewhat extensive hand. So the other evening, as he was holding down one end of the parlor sofa in his usual reliable manner, the fair creature at the other extremity of that useful article of furniture suddenly asked if he knew this was leap year. She didn't stammer or blush over the matter either, but viewed her intended victim with a cold, piercing look, while his head dropped like a lily in the burning sun, and blushes chased each other across his ample cheek like rippling wavelets on the calm surface of Lake Como. Finally he assented to her chronological statement in a low voice, while his heart throbbed wildly and a heaving shirt-front indicated his emotion. "And if I were to tell you that I loved you," she continued, "you would believe me?" A slight tremor of his Piccadilly collar showed that inside of it he had nodded assent. "Then I do say so, my idol," exclaimed the young lady in tragic tones, as her off knee hit the carpet; and she seized his unresisting hand and covered it with hers. But the young man was equal to the occasion. Rising to his feet, his beautiful eyes suffused with tears, he exclaimed: "I can never be your hostler—groom, I mean. I appreciate your love, and know that you are good, and true, and noble. But I am gay and frivolous—a petted fashion plate of Wabash avenue. The humble home that you offer me would not satisfy my taste. Heaven help me! We must part"—and, making a break for the front hall, he seized his hat, and was gone. Once free from danger the unnatural strength that had borne him gave way and he sank almost unconscious into the nearest chair.—Chicago Tribune.

A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

—The long-sought-after "infallible anti-fat remedy," seems to have been found. Prescription: "Board with the Rev. Mr. Cowley."—Tribune.

What Ails You?

Is it a disordered liver, giving you a yellow skin, or costive bowels, which have resulted in distressing piles, or do your kidneys refuse to perform their functions? If so your system will soon be clogged with poisons. Take a few doses of Kidney-Wort and you'll feel like a new man—nature will throw off every impediment, and each organ will be ready for duty.

—A Dacotah man learned to screech like a wild cat, and then hid in the woods and tried it on a hunter to scare him, and he will never do it again, even if the doctor gets the buckshot out of him.

Troublesome Children,

That are always wetting their beds ought not to be scolded and punished for what they cannot help. They need a medicine having a tonic effect on the kidneys and urinary organs. Such a medicine is Kidney-Wort. It has specific action. Do not fail to try it for them.

—Procrastination is so firmly rooted in some people that they are always putting off until day after tomorrow what should have been done day before yesterday.

A Reliable Wine.

Mr. A. Speer, New Jersey, whose Port Grape Wine has such a wide reputation, and which physicians prescribe so generally, was the first in this country to introduce the art of making wine from the Oporto Grape, which is now the best wine to be had, and has become a great favorite among the most prominent physicians of New York and Philadelphia, who have visited the vineyards and wine cellars at Passaic. Families and aged persons are benefitted by it.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act effectually."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It has proved less value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Constipation it completely cured me."

C. H. HOLLISTON, of Stockbridge, says, "and package Kidney-Wort works for me is completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 300 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

POROUS PLASTER

CAPCINE PLASTER

BENSONS CAPCINE

A Word to those who use Porous Plasters. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS! The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under similar sounding names. Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters are the only genuine. Ask for Benson's Capcine and take no other. Capcine is a new discovery, and is the most powerful and healing substance known to the medical profession. It is well known that many other plasters make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and death. Be sure that the porous plaster you buy is Benson's Capcine. of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others, embracing the Choicest Serial and short stories by the Leading Foreign novelists, and as among

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the price."—Congregationalist.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE for CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the confidence is at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the unsolicited evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a patent medicine. The proprietors, therefore, may justly be proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 24, 1877.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced that the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you line to say that although I have been accustomed of late to nostrums advertised as "radical cure," I has not found anything that promised such relief as ultimate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for over ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. HENRY WEED, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of a permanent improvement. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

Gents.

One day, several years ago, when I was rather a young man, the editor of one of the great New York dailies, for which I was doing occasional articles, called me into his sanctum. He held a manuscript of mine in his hand, and on his countenance was an expression which I hastily and inaccurately translated into "declined with thanks."

"I noticed the word gent here," he said, thoughtfully tapping the paper with his forefinger: "have you spelled it correctly?"

"Haven't I spelled it g-e-n-t-s?" I asked in astonishment.

"I believe so; but won't you have the goodness to look it up in the dictionary?"

I turned confidently to Webster's Unabridged, and presently became rather red in the face at not being able to find the word in that bewildering storehouse.

"Perhaps there is no such word in the English language," slyly suggested the editor; "in which case we had better strike it out of the article."

This little lesson made so deep an impression on me, and instilled into my heart such a hatred of the word gent, that I believe if I were naked and starving I would refuse to be clothed gratis at a "Gents' Furnishing Store," or accept a dinner in a "Gent's' Dining Saloon." Mr. Richard Grant White wittily remarks that "gents" and "pants" belong together, for the former always wears the latter. If "gent" is to be tolerated by careful writers, let us accept "pants" for trousers, "transpire" for happen or occur, and, in brief, adopt all the variegated and wonderful vocabulary of the average newspaper.

The word "gent," however, does describe a class. When you see a greasy young fellow who seems a cross between a rustic and a negro minstrel off duty,—a person with a cap set far back on his closely cropped head, tight trousers that grow suddenly full at the ankle, and shoes with turned-up, pointed tips—where does he get those shoes!—when you see this vulgar little object you see a "gent." You will encounter him on street corners in shabby neighborhoods, gazing admiringly at lithographs of some famous clog dancer or cheap blonde in a drinking-shop window; you will meet him there, but Heaven preserve you from ever meeting him in decent literature!—March Atlantic.

—Japanese young girls gild their lips, a custom which has overlooked in the rage for Japanese fashions.

—If you are fond of interesting anecdotes, you will strike one occasionally in the medical journals. One of them says that a country youth nineteen years old was kicked in the head by a mare named Dolly, and was insensible three hours, while the doctors were at work on the depressed bone. As soon as it was removed he cried, "Whoa, Dolly," in a most energetic tone, and looked surprised at his situation. He was not conscious the mare had kicked; the last thing which he remembered was that she wheeled round her heels and laid back her ears.

"How frustrated you look, dear," said Mrs. Partington, as her visitor sank into a chair, overcome by the heat of the weather, "but I have a medicine that will soon incorporate you. Isaac, bring me the bottle of Sanford's Jamaica Ginger on the shelf there." A bottle was brought. "Not that; that's anarchy for confusions and embraxures. It is there next the balmy Gilead buds. That's it. Now a spoonful of this, and you will feel as fresh as a new-mown rose." It worked to a charm.

—Howells said once in an after-dinner speech that such was his stern impartiality as editor of the Atlantic Monthly, that on one occasion he respectfully declined one of his own contributions.

A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

—A very old lady, on her death-bed, in penitential mood, said:—"I have been a great sinner more than eighty years, and didn't know it." An old darkey woman, who had lived with her a long time, exclaimed: "Lors! I knowed it all the time."

A Democrat Cured.

A leading democrat of Burlington, Mr. E. M. Sutton, speaks in the highest terms of the curative power of the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It first cured him of a distressing kidney disease, and he now uses it whenever he has any symptoms of biliousness or needs toning up. It acts efficiently on the bowels, and cures the worst cases of piles.

—He that knows a little of the world, will admire it enough to fall down and worship it; but he that knows it most, despises it.—Collon.

Passaic Sambucci Wine for Medicinal Use.

A noted Homeopathic physician says: "I take great pleasure in testifying my approbation of the superior qualities of the Sambucci Wine produced by Mr. A. Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey.

After a prolonged trial I can confidently recommend it as a superior article of wine for the sick and debilitated, and all those who require vinous stimulation and invigoration.

I shall continue to employ it in my practice in all cases where a pure article of wine is called for the sick; and shall do all in my power to foster and encourage its production."

Pensions.

The pension system of the United States receives constant criticism from those who await action upon claims before the pension office, because of the delays and difficulties in the adjustment and allowance of the various cases pending therein. There are many reasons for this, found, in part, in the inefficiency of old clerks whose long service in office tends to promote indolence rather than to develop energy in the discharge of their duties, but who are kept in place not by the commissioner of pensions, but by congressional influence; in the natural suspicion, or rather caution, arising from having seen so many attempts to establish fraudulent claims, with which each case is received; and in the vast amount of business awaiting action, compared with the clerical force provided by congressional appropriation.

To remedy this evil, the present commissioner of pensions, who is a lawyer of ability and a man of practical ideas, proposed to the members of congress a new plan, which is embodied in what the much-disturbed local claim-agents of Washington designate as "Bentley's sixty-surgeon bill," which is a proposed act of congress introduced last April by Mr. Withers, providing for the examination and adjudication of pension claims. The bill provides that the whole country shall be divided into not more than sixty districts, and that at convenient posts in each district medical and surgical examinations required in pension cases shall be made, and testimony in support of these claims taken, by appointees of the government with fixed compensations, instead of having evidence furnished upon ex parte affidavits, as is the case now.

Of course, this transfering the labors of preparing and perfecting a pension claim to a quasi local tribunal, instead of having it manipulated by Washington claim agents, has provoked the ire of the latter class of genus operators, who claim to have such splendid facilities for obtaining the speedy allowance of claims, good, bad and indifferent, which may have long before exhausted the patience of local attornies, and they protest against it.

A hearing was granted these disinterested friends of the soldier and his widow, but it seems that the agents regarded it as a good opportunity to scold about the commissioner of pensions, but could not gainsay the propriety of the passage of the law. Such an enactment must tend to promote the interests alike of honest and meritorious claimants, and the government; and it seems to be worth the while to make the attempt to endeavor to diminish the chances of fraud in the taking of testimony, and to accelerate the adjudication of honest and legal claims, by the means provided in the measure now before congress, and which in its integrity and promise of speedy results would be a vast improvement upon the present system, and in that view is a measure of salutary reform.

News and Notes.

The Boston & Albany railroad is seeking to unite with the Providence road by buying the stock of the latter corporation, to compel a union. This is done to secure the splendid station of the Providence road for the Albany, and to avoid the effects of competition by the New York & New England road. The Providence is one of the best roads leading out of Boston.

At Paterson, N. J., Saturday morning, a respectable widow named Harriet Hink, aged thirty years, was found dead in bed with her skull broken. A gold watch and a considerable sum of money she was known to possess, were missing. Murder and robbery were not the only crimes committed by the assassins.

At Houstonville, Ky., Sunday night, two men named Powell and Williams were wounded by a desperado named Arch Rowzie, who murdered a brakeman on the Louisville & Nashville railroad last Christmas. Williams then got a shot-gun and blew Rowzie to another world. Had Rowzie also killed Williams no great harm would have been done, as the latter is an unhung murderer.

A. D. Garvin, of Princeton, Ill., last week attempted to kill his sister, Mrs. Kessick, but killed her daughter instead. He then blew out his own brains.

Thomas J. Bolton, residing near Vicksburg, Miss., on Friday evening fatally shot two brothers named Clark. The murdered men were unarmed.

Messrs. Vunway and Kimball, proprietors of rival hotels at Chapin, Ill., had an altercation Saturday evening, and Kimball was shot dead. Vunway was arrested.

On Sunday last Silas Bradbury, of East Auburn, Me., while fox hunting in Turner, slipped on the ice, discharging his gun. The charge lodged in his back, fatally wounding him.

A large stable in Newport, R. I., was burned by an incendiary fire on Sunday morning, eight horses, a donkey and a cow being burned. John Shay, a young man employed about the stable, was burned to death; he is believed to have set the stable on fire, and has long been suspected as an incendiary by the police.

Ellen Mowery, a beautiful young woman aged nineteen years, hung herself at Mount Pleasant, N. J., Saturday morning. She had just broken off an engagement with a worthless lover, the demand of her father.

The horse-pox is reported as being very prevalent in Montreal and vicinity, though no fatal cases occur. In Nova Scotia many valuable horses have died from a disease supposed to be a malignant form of strangles.

A report from Linden, Cass county, Texas, on the 23d inst, says: "Mrs. Clarke, a respectable married lady, living in the Garry neighborhood, was yesterday brutally outraged and then murdered. Three men were arrested, and one confessed the crime. He was horribly mutilated by the crowd. His clothing was saturated with coal oil and then set on fire. He was afterwards hanged."

In Toronto, Saturday, a cask of rum fell from a wagon, and burst on the street. A vagrant named Patrick Burke scooped up several hatsful, and drank his fill. He died an hour later.

A warrant was issued Friday for the arrest of Tibursio Parrott, of the firm of Parrott & Co., of San Francisco, on the charge of employing Chinese in the service of the Sulphur Bank & Quicksilver Mining company, of which Parrott is the president. The case is made up to test the constitutionality of the act prohibiting corporations from employing Chinese.

The inquest into the death of the unknown man found dead in a Boston boarding-house, shew the cause of death to be suicide. The man's real name was Edward Lavoie, and he was a professional thief.

Four men were buried by a snow-slide near Franktown, Cal., Saturday morning. William Foul was rescued, badly injured. Samuel Kenney, Alex. McLane and John Burney lost their lives.

The oyster sloop Pearl was lost off Cape Hatteras on Saturday, with all hands.

The net proceeds of the Catholic fair, recently held at St. Gregory's church, Haverhill, Mass., were $6,444.65.

Peru, Mass., says a local paper, furnishes an unusual spectacle. Residing there are two ministers. Rev. D. G. Bliss, whom the people voted should not occupy the pulpit, occupies the parsonage, and Rev. Mr. Baldwin, who occupies the pulpit, boards at a house three or four miles from the place of worship.

Robert Hazell, an employe of the New York & New England railroad at Waterbury, Conn., was killed while coupling cars, Monday.

A swindler in pretended distress has been selling Hartford and New Haven jewellers gold-plated watch-chains which stand the acid test and appear to be worth $100, when their value cannot be over $10.

Political.

The democratic national committee met in Washington on Monday, and decided to hold the national convention in Cincinnati on the 22d of June.

The leaders of the Butler and Abbott wings of the Massachusetts democracy met in Boston on Monday, the Butlerites dining at Young's hotel and the straightouts at Parker's. Both parties finally came together at Parker's, and there was a love-feast at which Judge Abbott and Col. Jonas French figuratively fell on each other's neck and wept, and things were smoothed over all nice for the coming campaign.

The Fitz John Porter bill will not be pressed in congress until the next session, the democrats fearing the effect a discussion of it would have upon their party in the presidential election.

President Hayes has appointed Frank Mascow of Ohio to be consul at Basle, Switzerland. The remarkable thing is not that an Ohio man should be appointed to office, but that there should be found any man in that state who did not already fill a good place under the government. But perhaps this is a promotion.

Since the democracy has had control of both houses of congress the delay in transaction of public business has been so noticeable that the democratic newspapers, fearful of the result to the fortunes of their party, have constantly chidden the congressmen for their want of diligence.

The fusionist member of the Maine legislature from Scarborough is an enemy of indiscriminate suffrage, and wishes to keep illiterate persons from voting. He recently presented an order of which the following is a literal copy: "Ordered, that the judiciary committy be directed to inquire into the speediency of so amending the constitution of the state that the wright of suffrage shall be limeet to those who are able to read and rite the English language." This is believed to be the first instance on record of a legislator voluntarily making the first move toward his own disfranchisement.

Judge Larkin D. Mason is out in a letter favoring a third term for Gen. Grant. He pays a high compliment to Senator Blaine, and says, if nominated, no man will labor more earnestly for his election. His reasons for preferring Gen. Grant are in brief the great danger that, however large his majority, any other candidate than the general will be counted out by the rebel democracy. This, he thinks, is foreshadowed by the attempt to overthrow popular government in Maine. But with Gen. Grant as the successful candidate, this danger would be averted. Moreover, no other man would be as sure to carry New York.

New Hampshire Items.

The Central hotel at Concord was burned Tuesday morning, with nearly all its contents; loss about $4000; partly insured.

The Amoskeag Veterans celebrated Washington's birthday by a grand levee and ball in Smyth's opera house at Manchester, Monday night.

At Keene, Saturday, a fourteen-years-old son of Henry Reason had one arm badly crushed at Symond's tannery, in a bark press. Amputation was necessary, and his recovery is doubtful.

William Hammond, an old gentleman living at the new dam, Great Falls, fell while pumping water from his well, on the 18th inst., and expired almost instantly. Heart disease was the probable cause.

The whole number of arrests in Nashua in 1879 was 383, an increase of 101 over the previous year. The number of transient persons provided with food and lodging was 147, against 1,034 in 1878.

Daniel W. Butterfield, of Nashua, a veteran of the 13th New Hampshire, who went to Hampton, Va., for his health, a few weeks ago, died on the 18th inst., at the age of fifty-one years.

The oldest person in New Hampshire is Mrs. Cox, mother of Hon. Russell Cox of Holderness, whose age will be 104 years if she lives to the 25th day of June next.

The house of Mrs. Martha Hussey, at Rochester, was burned Friday evening, with its contents; insured.

Thomas Howe, the oldest man in Barrington, having just entered his hundredth year, fell down the steps of his house Saturday morning, a distance of six feet, and received injuries that will probably prove fatal.

Sixty or seventy thousand women will have a right to vote in the school-meetings of the state next month. This should and doubtless will secure a full attendance at all the sewing circles and sociables which precede the school-meetings.

A Refined Community.

At Little Creek, Tenn., on the 20th inst., fully 10,000 people witnessed the hanging of John Hall and Burrell Smith. The scaffold was erected within 300 yards of the public square, and raised seats were erected facing it, upon which sittings sold for $1 each. The enterprising showman reaped a rich harvest. For some time the feeling ran so high that the prisoners were nightly in danger of being lynched, and their execution is said to have been the first legal hanging the county has ever witnessed since '49.

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless night have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

Unnatural Sons.

About a month ago the residence of William Worrell, near Claysville, Pa., was burned. It seems that James Worrell, son of William Worrell, was engaged to a young lady, but not having means to marry he undertook to destroy his father and sister that he could come into possession of the property. Before setting fire to the house he locked his sister in one room, and tied his father in another room. Fortunately a servant discovered them in time to save their lives. Young Worrell is twenty-one years of age, highly educated, and the family is highly respected.

Frank Lawrence, late of Vermont, has been arrested at Omaha, Neb., for murdering his father by poison to secure $71,000 insurance effected on the latter's life by the murderer.

AROUND HOME.

Six persons were lying dead in this city on Tuesday.

Mr. Harry Beacham left this city for Denver, Colorado, Monday morning.

The schooner Active is undergoing thorough repairs, preparatory to the opening of the spring trade.

Hon. John N. Brodhead, formerly Comptroller of the United States treasury, died in South Newmarket on Sunday night.

A fleet of over eighty vessels was reported in the lower harbor on Tuesday morning. A large part of them were shermen.

Nineteen car-loads of ice arrived in this city on Saturday from Bow pond in Strafford. The ice is of good thickness and excellent quality.

The subject of the lecture to be given this evening by Mrs. Julia Ward Howe is one of our private residences, "Greece revisited."

Mr. Percy I. Lowd, recently of this city, is now treasurer of Robinson's opera house in Jackson, Miss., of which W. Q. Lowd & Co. are managers.

Schooner J. B. Bodwell arrived at the Concord railroad wharf from Philadelphia, Monday noon, with two hundred and eighty-two tons of coal.

An item now going the rounds says that Stratham has had but two postmasters for fifty-eight years, the first one holding the position forty-two years.

The Knights of the Golden Cross of this city have engaged Congress hall for Friday evening of next week, when a supper will be given to the members of the order in Dover and other places.

The Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, through C. M. Gignoux, general agent, paid in February $4048 on the life of the late John H. Bailey. This policy was taken out in 1873, for $3,000, showing $1048 of accumulations.

The Dover Democrat says that a man in that city who ordered a half-ton of coal from a local dealer, on receiving what purported to be a half-ton insisted on having it reweighed, and found he had received only 940 pounds of fuel.

The Boston papers of the 18th inst. reported in their lists of shipping arrivals in the previous day, the schooner Wingersheek, Donnell, from Ipswich, Mass. This item of news we transferred to our own marine report; but on Monday, as we took a turn along the wharves, we noticed the Wingersheek lying where we saw her some months ago, near the spring market, safely moored and with her sails unbent.

Business was quite generally suspended in this city on Monday, in honor of the anniversary of Washington's birthday. The bells were rung morning, noon and evening, and a national salute was fired at noon from the saluting battery at the navy yard. The bells sounded finely, but the guns, instead of booming out as they usually do, sounded more like throwing cabs of putty against a brick wall, the wind and weather not being favorable for the transmission of the reports.

Preparations for driving the piles for the foundation of the coal-pocket at the Concord railroad wharf have been completed. The pocket will be one hundred and eighty-three feet long, and forty feet wide. It will be located on the south side of the wharf, and about twenty feet back from its edge, leaving the two tracks fronting it undisturbed. The first pile was driven between four and five o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the work will keep on until between 400 and 500 piles are put down.

A man who works on a farm in Rollinsford, and is a total abstainer from intoxicating liquors, was in a store in Dover last week where a number of men were disputing about the possibility of drinking a certain large quantity of water in a specified time. After some discussion the Rollinsford man waged $5 that he could drink ten quarts of water in less than fifteen minutes, and actually did guzzle that quantity in less than fourteen minutes, winning the $5 and not seeming any the worse for the performance. He may be a temperance man, but he is a very intemperate one for all that.

Mr. Alexander L. Rand has taken a lease of the north mill, and will take possession on Monday.

Prof. Oscar Faulhaber, for six years past teacher of French and German at Phillips academy and the female seminary at Exeter, proposes to give a series of readings in these languages shortly in this city. He is strongly recommended by the leading citizens of Exeter.

We had a very pleasant but brief call on Tuesday from Mr. D. R. Locke, better known as "Petroleum V. Nasby," the famous postmaster at "Confedrit X Roads, wich is in the stait of Kentucky," and author of the extremely successful play of "Widott Bedott," which is to be presented at Music hall on Thursday evening, the 26th inst.

The University Press of Cambridge, Mass., has issued in pamphlet form The Public School Question; or, Roman Catholicism and Americanism—a discussion between Rev. J. P. Bland and Rev. J. O'Brien, of Cambridge, the former a Unitarian clergyman and the latter a Catholic priest. The publication can be procured of W. G. Myers or Moses Bros.

A sad and possibly fatal accident occurred at the Raynes shipyard on Tuesday afternoon. While Mr. Fred Rollins was engaged in pulling down an old barn, a piece of the frame struck him on the top of his head, felling him to the ground; he was taken into the Raynes house, and from thence removed to his home on Prospect hill at Christian shore. Dr. Potter was called, and found that the skull was fractured at its base.

Mr. Towle, livery stable keeper of Exeter, on Friday last let a horse and buggy to two young men to go to Newmarket. Early Saturday morning, before daylight, the horse took fright at the cars near the junction, threw out the young men, and ran toward Dover until he caught up with a carriage containing a party returning from Newmarket to Dover; the carriage he followed into Dover, where he was stabled, and on Sunday the owner called for him. But little damage was done to the team or the young men who were so unceremoniously tumbled out.

SUDDEN DEATHS.

Mr. William D. Durgin, of Gravelly ridge, committed suicide on Sunday evening. He had been laboring under mental aberation for some months, and had been obliged to take a strong narcotic to produce sleep. He was about taking his usual dose, and requested permission to turn it out himself, when he took the vial, fled with it into the cellar and then drank its contents. Every effort was made to dislodge the poison from his stomach, but so much of it had permeated his system that death soon followed.

Mr. Alonzo F. Craig died suddenly on Monday morning, at his residence on Middle street. He was about the house in the morning at the usual time, but complaining of a headache retired to his room. Soon afterwards his wife went in to see him, and found him lying on the bed apparently in a dying condition. Medical aid was immediately procured, but death, which is supposed to have resulted from paralysis of the heart, occurred within a short time. He leaves a widow and two daughters. He was a well known insurance agent, and prominently connected with various orders, being a past grand master of Odd Fellows in New Hampshire. Mr. Craig had previously had two severe attacks of the complaint which finally terminated his life.

BOW MISSION HALL MEETINGS.

The gospel temperance meeting at Bow mission hall, Saturday evening, was the best one yet held; Mrs. James Sanborn presided, and made an earnest and suitable address in opening the meeting. Mrs. Watts, a member of the Woman's League, will conduct the next meeting.

The bethel service Sunday afternoon was in charge of Mrs. W. A. Loyne, and the meeting was very interesting. As usual, many persons had to go away.

The reform club meeting was held at the Methodist church; Mr. French, president of the club, presiding. Rev. C. B. Pithlado talked about thirty minutes, and remarks were made by Messrs. French, Janvrin, and W. C. Newton. It is intended to have a union temperance meeting once each month at the same place. L.

UNKNOWN.

This evening, at Music hall, Mr. John A. Stevens, supported by Miss Lottie Church and a strong company, will present the romantic drama "Unknown." The piece is in five acts and seven tableaux, and of it the Boston Sunday Times says:

It is far above the average of recent productions. It is free from absurdities and impossibilities, has many fine situations, skillfully planned, and is exciting in incident, and deeply interesting in plot. The characters are well and strongly contrasted, and are drawn with a free, bold hand, which is evidently not new to character fashioning. The comic element in the piece is furnished by three servants and a low villain, and relieves the shadows of the scenes with excellent effect.

Reserved seats can be secured at Preston's; see advertisement.

WILLIAM RICE BOARDMAN

Died at the Kearsarge house in this city, on Tuesday morning. Mr. Boardman was the younger son of the late Dr. John H. Boardman. In early childhood an injury caused him to become physically disabled, and he therefrom became permanently crippled, and a constant sufferer from his infirmity. He read law in the office of John S. H. Frink, Esq., and show a remarkable appreciation of legal questions and a mind quick to perceive and appreciate the intricacies of the science of the law.

He was always a favorite in social circles. Despite his constant suffering and his blighted prospects, he presented a cheerful front to the outer world, and was constant in the flow of humorous and bright sayings. With the loss of his beloved parents, who had so tenderly cared for him since his birth, his life grew less attractive than ever, and the once happy home of his childhood was left, while he took up his abode in less sympathizing surroundings.

He never practiced his profession, although he had ample talents for a good legal career. At one time he was solicited to accept the office of police judge in our city; the legal profession earnestly urged this upon him, but he declined it.

He was the last male survivor of the descendants of the late Langley Boardman, who bore this surname, once prominent in our ancient town.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 24; Batchelder, J.

Julia Smith, for insult, was fined $2, cost being taxed at $9.18; paid.

Henry Barrett, for an assault on Mary Depuise, was assessed $7.90, fine and costs, which he paid. The same defendant was adjudged guilty of an assault on Maud Barrett, but sentence was suspended.

A negro calling himself Juan De Costa, who advertised by handbills on Monday that he would give a lecture at the south ward-room that evening on the exodus of colored men from the south, but who was so drunk when the time came for the lecture that he could not speak an intelligible word, was brought before the court, but after being himself lectured was allowed to make a colored exodus on his own account.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The case Owen vs. Chase was argued on Monday, and on Tuesday morning the jury's verdict was announced in favor of the plaintiff; damages $50. The jurors were then discharged.

Judge Clark, in discharging the jury, complimented them upon their diligence and the successful result of their labors. The jury were unable to return the compliment, however much they might have desired so to do, but every one agreed that the diligence, courtesy and ability of the judge had done very much to make this in point of results one of the most satisfactory terms of the court ever held in this county, in nearly every case verdicts without reserved questions of law having been obtained.

Gardner T. Locke vs. Anna T. Locke; divorce decreed, and property of libellant disencumbered from any rights of libellee. Frink for libellant.

Ella S. Towle vs. Simon P. Towle; divorce decreed; alimony $1300. Marston and Eastman for libellant; Hatch for S. P. Towle.

Judge Clark announced that the petit jury would come in on the second day (Wednesday) of the April term.

Sheriff Kent made the previous proclamation, and at a quarter to four o'clock P. M. the court adjourned without day.

No. 168, Judge of Probate vs. H. H. Smith, Benj. F. Haley and Lafayette Hall is to be tried by the court on Friday.

FISHERY NOTES.

Quite a number of vessels came in on Sunday and Monday from the shore fishery, with fares ranging from 500 lbs. to 6000 lbs. The schooner Mary S. Hontvet arrived from Georges on Monday night with 20,000 lbs. of fish; she left here on Monday, the 16th inst., and experienced heavy weather during the trip, getting only one day's fishing; on Saturday last she encountered heavy seas, which split her jib and stove two of her dories.

On Saturday last the schooner Gertie Freeman took 3000 lbs. of fish into Newburyport; on Monday the Northern Eagle took in 1300 lbs., the Lydia A. Davis 900 lbs., and the Sarah E. Babson 3000 lbs. All sold their fares at $3 per hundred in the round, excepting the Northern Eagle, which demanded a higher price.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Gov. Davis of Maine has nominated the following-named gentlemen as justices of the peace for York county: A. C. Moulton, York; W. H. Downs, South Berwick; C. R. Littlefield, Kennebunk; E. C. Spinney and Daniel Frisbee, Kittery.

Biddeford has a new daily paper, the People's Defender. Its object is to aid in perpetuating the present fusion city government.

At Wells, on Wednesday of last week, Rev. H. Y. Arnold was installed pastor of the Second Congregational church. The opening prayer was by Rev. Mr. Jones of Limerick; the sermon by Rev. Mr. Dickerson of Portland; the charge to the pastor by Rev. Mr. Sewall of York; the right hand of fellowship by Rev. W. S. Kimball of the First Congregational church of Wells; the charge to the people by Rev. Mr. Chase of Biddeford; concluding prayer by Rev. Mr. Snow of Alfred.

A Remarkable Invention.

A new invention has just been exhibited in this city which promises to be as important as any invention of these ten years, and which is likely to effect great changes in if not revolutionize some branches of industry. The exhibition was had at No. 41 West Sixteenth street. There were present Ex-Secretary McCulloch, Richard Sugden Grant of the Paterson Locomotive works, F. O. French, Gen. Emerson Opdyke, David Moffit, of the Little Pittsburg mine, and others.

The inventor, D. M. Lamb, stood at a table, on which was a washbowl, and he held a piece of broadcloth over the bowl on the palm of his left hand, and poured Croton water on it with a pitcher. "You see, it does not wet it," he said. He passed the cloth around, and it was found to be dry. He subjected a piece of black velvet to the same operation, with the same result. It did not absorb any moisture, the water on striking its silky pile forming great globules and bounding off like quicksilver.

"What I claim," said Mr. Lamb, "is that all fabrics treated by my solution are rendered absolutely waterproof and mothproof; that it makes no difference whatever in their appearance, and that it can be applied for a cent a yard."

This was an extreme claim. "I will show you," he said. He took a silk hat from the mantel. "This hat has not been thoroughly treated with the solution, but only sponged with it on the outside, but I have worn it through all the rain, snow and sleet of the last fortnight without any protection, and you see how it looks." The hat was passed around. It was as smooth and glossy as if just handed down from a hatter's shelf. "Here are two pieces of silk, cut from the same piece," he said, producing two fragments of sleasy silk of a delicate sky-blue. "One has been treated and the other has not. I don't know which is which, and nobody can tell by sight, smell, feeling, or any sense. They weigh the same, yet you see—" and he plunged them into the washbowl. Presently he removed them and shook them in the air. One was saturated—spoiled forever; the other was as dry as if just removed from an oven. He took an ostrich feather and plunged it in the bowl; lifted it out and flipped it in his fingers so that any adherent drops would fall off, and handed it around. It was quite dry.

He produced a piece of lovely pink velvet, one of the beautiful aniline colors, and poured water on it. The result was the same, it jumped off as quickly as possible, like water from a red-hot stove. Precisely the same result followed the submergence of face and furs that had been treated. They were perfectly water-repellant.

"So of leather," he said, taking down a tanned goat skin. "This is kid," he added, "such as ladies' boots are made of. I hung this over an empty water-pail, in such a position that it would hold water, and poured two quarts into the skin. I let it hang three days and three nights, and at the end of that time it had not leaked a drop, and half a minute after I poured the water out of the kid it was as dry as it is now. I have imprisoned moths with these furs for a year, and they would starve if I didn't give them something to eat that had not been treated. The furs are untouched. Hereafter there will be no necessity to lock up furs in summer."

"How much do you say it will cost to subject goods to this treatment?" asked a spectator who had just come in.

"A cent a yard, perhaps," he answered. "Next to nothing. Gloves can be treated for four cents a dozen pairs, so that they will never spot or mildew."

"Can clothing be washed and gloves be cleaned that have been subjected to your process?"

"Yes; just as well as before. The solution seems to enter into the fibre, and renders all colors absolutely fast. Nothing will fade that has been treated with this solution. Fading is produced by the action of light or heat on moisture, and my goods never get moist. I boiled a piece of figured ribbon three hours, and it was just as strongly water-repellant on taking it out as it was before."

"What I claim is this," he added shortly, "that in five years nobody can afford to wear anything that has not been treated by this process and rendered water and moth repellant. If a lady can go out anywhere in a storm without an umbrella or overshoes, dressed in silks and velvets and feathers and laces, with only a veil over her face to keep the rain out of that, and can stay out in the storm without getting wet, will not every lady in the world desire to be similarly protected, providing it does not add anything whatever to the price of the goods?"

"Have you any objections to telling what your solution is?"

"I can not tell exactly, even if I would. My patents now cover the whole civilized world; so there is no harm in saying that the base is the hydro-carbons with a solution of india rubber. But there results from my formula a compound wholly new to chemistry, and even Prof. Doremus doesn't know what to call it."—N. Y. Star.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Cancker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corpuscles. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and cheerfully recommend it to all who require advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. ——— of ———, Dr. ——— of ———, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself comp cately cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS. Pain and Weakness can not exist where they are applied. KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act directly."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely saved me."

C. S. HOGADON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette
PRINTING OFFICE!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or enlisted by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
OF—
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and implements in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a space devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents. Boston, October 15, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have procured for me and others many patents, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE TAPLEY.

BOSTON, January 1, 1869. 3tawtjan121

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turguenief, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others; embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of compact matter yearly. It presents in an unexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its timely issue, and with a completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of the choicest of current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"IS INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a thorough compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratuitous numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, the first chapters of THE WIFE WILL NOT WHEN HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club-Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our rivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE, and either one of the American $4 monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, both post-paid; or, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or App'ton's Journal. Address,

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

"It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of a proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE for CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of a value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections that confidence is at once felt in the ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability and weight as very far in advance of any other remedy ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly be proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

from Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you line to say that although I have been afflicted with this nostrum advertised as "radical cure," I has never found anything that produced such relief as climate cure as that of SANFORD'S.

I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter Mr. HENRY YATES, and was so thoroughly satisfied by using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced it cures five properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc. THEO. P. BOGERT.

A Hard Case.

Mrs. Louisa McKay died in New York on Wednesday of last week from exposure and want. Her father, a well-to-do man named Randall, of Norwich, Conn., disowned her years ago, and after death refused to contribute a cent toward her burial expenses. At sixteen years of age she made a runaway match with a wealthy man named Clark, who treated her cruelly, and from whom she finally procured a divorce, her father consenting to adopt a child she had borne Clark, but refusing to receive her home. Subsequently she married one John McKay, a clergyman's son, by whom she had a daughter. Her second husband proving a drunkard she fled from him, and for some months gained a scanty living for herself and her daughter by dress-making. Although she was often compelled to do without fire and sufficient food, she was too proud to complain. At length, when she became sick, she sent the daughter to a pawn shop with what few articles of value she possessed. When the girl returned from the pawn shop Wednesday, after parting with almost the last article of clothing, she found her mother dying. Throughout all her troubles the deceased had always maintained her good name.

A Girl's Ages.

At seventeen, the girl thinks often of love; delights in love songs; fills Moore's poems with pencil-marks; thinks Bryon's face beautiful; eats little in company. At eighteen, still thinks a great deal of love; would care nothing for poverty, providing she had a sweetheart who adored her; indeed, would rather be poor than rich, were she united to the ideal whom she has not yet met. Still reads a great deal of poetry, and novels which deal largely with love and the death of the heroines; is passionately fond of children. At nineteen, a little more critical; finds some of the poetry that pleased her last year a little weak; looks about for steadier authors than her old favorites; dances every dance in a ball and is not quite so particular as to the men who are introduced to her. At twenty, is not sure whether, after all, it would not be best to be an old man's darling; nevertheless, she flirts more uniformly; all her shyness is gone; and she enjoys her food whether people are looking at her or not. At twenty-one, her belief in old men is strong; she has lost her prejudices in favor of poverty and cottages, yet she would not insist upon money were her ideal to present himself. At twenty-two, thinks her youngest sister rather forward in her manners, particularly with young men; sometimes suggests to mamma that the invitations which include the youngest sister are merely acts of politeness which people don't want to be literally interpreted. At twenty-five is found behind bazaar stalls; imitates the style of the fashionable beauty; frequently alters the coiffure, and uses a great many kinds of stuff for her hair. At twenty-six, declares that she hates the idea of marriage; wonders how girls can voluntarily enter a state of bondage; marks all passages in novels in which men are called tyrants, and ceases to notice other people's babies. At twenty-seven falls in love; about four months of quiet and despair; sits late into the night alone in her bed-room; is jilted; writes him innumerable letters, in all conceivable styles—from the passionately scornful to the mild sacrificial, forgiving, heart-breaking style—none of which are posted; destroys the ball-room programmes on which he had written his name.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

—The baker's business should be profitable; a good part of his stock is rising while he sleeps.

A Democrat Cured.

A leading democrat of Burlington, Mr. E. M. Sutton, speaks in the highest terms of the curative power of the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It first cured him of a distressing kidney disease, and he now uses it whenever he has any symptoms of billiousness or needs toning up. It acts efficiently on the bowels, and cures the worst cases of piles.

—A Nova Scotia woman has given birth at one time to five children, three of a kind and a pair. She now has a full house.

Kidney-Wort has proved the most effective cure for piles and constipation; be sure to try it.

—A careful reporter softly says of a defaulter:—"He admits a gap of $2000 between himself and creditors."

The effects after taking Adamson's Botanic Balsam are a soothing and controlling influence over any cough or cold, promoting rest, allaying the tickling sensation in the throat, and causing a healthy expectoration.

—It would be easy to learn a foreign language if, as the Irishman said, it "could only be spoken in English."

One "Bribery Case" Exposed.

In the Wentworth "bribery case," which was thought to be such a card for the Maine fusionists when announced, the facts developed are as follows:

Bartholomew Wentworth, fusion representative from South Berwick, testified that one Ricker came to his house on the 3d of January, and offered him $200 if he would stay away from the legislature; the next day he called and offered him $300 in gold and $10 a day for forty days if he would not go near the legislature; he did not show him any money, and Wentworth saw none in his possession; afterward Wentworth was accosted by several persons who asked him if he had been bought.

Last week, before the investigating committee of the Maine legislature, Ricker testified that he was on familiar terms with Wentworth; went often to his house; on the occasion referred to, went to Wentworth's house for the purpose of trading horses with him and his son; the talk about the money and Wentworth's staying away from the legislature was simply joking; he had no money to offer to any one, and belonged to the same political party as Mr. Wentworth; the talk about $10 a week was made in reference to hauling lumber and wood; the day on which Mr. Wentworth left for Augusta, Ricker did trade horses with Wentworth's son.

Mr. Tilden to have an Organ.

It is now undertood in newspaper circles that the negotiations which have been pending for some time past between Mr. Marshall O. Roberts and Mr. Samuel J. Tilden for the purchase by the latter from the former of his large interest in the New York Sun, are likely soon to be completed. It is an open secret that the delay in consummating them has been caused only by the persistency of Mr. Tilden in refusing to agree to the employment as editor of a gentleman who was closely associated as a kind of parliamentary agent with Mr. Roberts so long ago as during the secretary-ship in the war office of Mr. Stanton, when Mr. Roberts owned an extensive factory of arms, and as a great steamship-owner had much to do with the transportation service. Mr. Tilden's reluctance to accept this condition of the sale has originated, it is said, in his anxiety to see the editorial control of the journal vested in Mr. Pelton. The present accomplished editor of the Sun is believed to be entirely neutral and indifferent in the matter. He has made fortunate investments which have enabled him to purchase at the price of $63,000 a city residence, and will cease his facetious remarks about R. B. Hayes, George W. Childs, Ex-Secretary Robeson and others he has delighted to honor, and in his new abode enjoy that rare virtue in New York without which one, be he politician or patriot, can never be truly happy.

A Much-Married Lady.

Mrs. Abbott died at Smyrna, Kent county, Del., a few days ago, at the age of eighty-eight years. Her seventh husband, to whom she was married last year, survives her. Her maiden name was Williams, and she always lived in the neighborhood of Smyrna. She first married a man named Truax, and then she was successively wedded to Messrs. Riggs, Farrow, Wallace, Berry, Pratt and Abbott. Her widowhood seldom exceeded a year. She never became a mother, but many of the best citizens of Kent county call her such, six of her seven husbands having been widowers, with children ranging in number from two to a dozen. There are not half a score of families in Kent county but that can trace some marriage relationship to her. It is said that she leaves a snug fortune, received from her deceased husbands.

The Fusion "Reform."

In overhauling the accounts of the late lamented fusion reform government of Maine, it has been discovered that Eben F. Pillsbury drew $3,100 more for state printing, and A. J. Cameron $2,000 more for binding, than they filed vouchers for. Mr. Cameron, it is reported, has returned to the state treasurer the $2,000 that was illegally paid him. Over $6,000 was drawn by Governor Garcelon, without vouchers or authority of law, just before he went out of office, ostensibly for "public defence." It is stated that he paid the notorious Captain Black's "company" of roughs out of this money. All these parties will be called on to explain.

Ex-Treasurer White paid out to certain members of the Pillsbury legislature money to the amount of some twenty-five dollars each. This money did not belong to the state, but was furnished by fusionists. Now when these men have gone into the legal legislature, and occupy their proper places, Ex-Treasurer White calls upon them to return the money advanced to them from private sources, on the ground that the state will pay them their full salary. Whether the gentlemen will respond to this semi-official call remains to be seen.

News and Notes.

A son of Marvin Clark of Fiskdale, Mass., shot himself with a small revolver Saturday morning, Feb. 21st. The doctors think he cannot recover.

One year ago the Housatonic railroad, in Connecticut, bought 3,000 tons of steel rails to finish relaying their track to the state line. The price paid was $50 a ton, and the same rails are now worth $100 a ton, and the company could sell out to-day, if disposed, at a profit of $150,000. The worn-out iron rails are now worth $50 a ton, so that the company can relay its track for the bare cost of the labor.

John H. Streeter of Attleboro', Mass., aged seventy-four years, was instantly killed on the North Attleboro' branch railroad, Feb. 24th. He was thrown about twenty feet, and landed up behind a coal-box on the side of the railroad. He was very badly cut, bruised and broken. He was a little late to work, and attempted to run across the track. Deceased leaves a widow and family, three of his sons being in the jewelry business in Attleboro'.

The labor troubles at St. Louis are assuming alarming proportions. Strikes exist among the cabinet makers, brass finishers and molders, wagon makers, wood carvers and others.

The supreme court of the District of Columbia has sustained the course of Postmaster-General Key in refusing to deliver letters addressed to lottery managers. The case now goes to the United States supreme court.

Rev. Dr. Walker, formerly of Portland, now pastor of the Centre church in Hartford, has had a call from the church in Philadelphia occupied by the late Dr. Beadle, at a salary of $10,000. It is not probable that he will accept.

Eight hundred and nineteen thousand tons of ice have been stored on the Kennebec. Two thousand tons more have also been harvested from ponds along its shores.

Judge Warren of the Charlestown, Mass., municipal court has decided that no blame attaches to the Eastern railroad for the death of William Fargo, who was killed while shackling cars in the freight yard of that road.

The dead body of a man was found lying on the Eastern railroad, near Chelsea, Mass., Feb. 23d, with a fractured skull and arm, and is found to be that of Charles McCarty, who lived at No. 22 Murray street, Lynn. The accident was caused by his losing his balance and falling from a train going towards Boston, while trying to catch his hat, which had blown off.

Jacob Lincoln, a cattle trader, was murdered by two roughs named Wood and Reed at Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 23d. Both were arrested, and a heavy guard placed at the jail to prevent lynching. The murdered man was a well known citizen, a cousin of the late President Lincoln.

Theodore D. Wagner of Charleston, S. C., a prominent merchant, and during the war largely interested in blockade running, died Feb. 24th.

The Boston police have secured evidence that the robbery of Mr. Norman's house on Beacon street, Boston, was committed by Marshall, alias Lavoie, whose dead body was recently found in a Boston boarding-house; and they have strong evidence to show that the thief was murdered by his partner in crime, a well-known burglar and desperado named James H. Brady.

The bark Strathairn, bound to Melbourne from London, has been sunk by a collision and sixteen persons drowned.

Speaker Randall thinks that it will be practicable for congress to adjourn by the middle of May.

Cincinnati is to be furnished with gas at $1.60 per 1,000 feet, under a contract to run ten years.

Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb is detached from the New York navy yard, and ordered to the Norfolk yard.

Naval Constructor George R. Bousb is detached from the Norfolk navy yard, and ordered to the New York yard.

The Constitution was at Aspinwall on the 14th inst. The Pensacola was at Callao on the 29th of January, and intended to be at Panama about March 1st.

New Hampshire Items.

James Marsh of Keene, whose shops are at Westport, made 26,000 pails on two lathes last month; and N. G. Woodbury, who has 1000 cords of saplings in his mill yard, made 30,000 pails on four lathes, in January.

A large gang of men in the employ of a Boston ice company went to Alton Bay on the 23d inst. to cut a large lot of ice. They propose to stack the ice first, and then erect over it a shed 350 feet long.

Lewis W. Flanders of Chester, Vt., a student in Stevens' high school at Claremont, accidentally shot himself in the leg on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22d, while handling a revolver.

The Glen house is undergoing improvements and repairs in readiness for another year's business under its present management.

A Worthy Society.

Among all the humane institutions that have been formed for the alleviation of human misery and the uplifting of humanity, none occupy a more worthy place in the long list than those for the prevention of cruelty to children. We are forced to this conclusion by reading the report of the New York Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, recently received at this office. Only the more important cases are reported, but these are quite sufficient to shake our faith in the optimist's belief, and drive us into pessimism. No one who is not conversant with the character of this work in New York can form the faintest conception of the terrible cases dealt with, and the prodigious amount of labor attending the proper disposition of each. The society whose report we have alluded to is the largest and most methodically conducted organization of the kind in the world, and its work is in proportion to its strength. We can only express the wish that all our readers might scan the cases reported in this annual record. They convey some idea of the work of this institution, the subjects of which are thus admirably indicated by a well-known author:

I have heard the wail of children for bread, and have seen the babe pulling at breasts as dry as if the starved mother was dead. I have known a father to turn a step-daughter into the street at night, bidding the sobbing girl, just blooming into womanhood, to earn her bread there as others were doing. I have bent over the foul pallet of a dying lad, to hear him whisper that his father and mother, who were sitting half drunk by the fireside, had pulled the blankets off his body to sell for drink. I have seen the children, blanched like plants growing in a cellar; for weeks they never breathed a mouthful of fresh air, for want of rags to cover their nakedness; and they lived in continual terror of a drunken father or mother coming home to beat them. I do not recollect of ever seeing a mother in these wretched dwellings dandling her infant, or of hearing the little creature crow or laugh. These are some of drink's doings, but nobody can know the misery I suffered amid those drones of wretchedness, woe and want.

— A circus elephant in Indiana caught the ague, and the people came for miles around to see the show under the impression that there was a tame earthquake on exhibition.

— It is said of Sir Isaac Newton's nephew, who was a clergyman, that he always refused a marriage fee, saying with much pleasantry: "Go your way, poor children; I have done you mischief enough already without taking your money."

— As J. F. Porter of the European house, Williamsport, Pa., was opening an unusually large oyster a day or two ago, he was astonished to see something jump out and alight in a pail of water, where it swam and darted about as lively as a trout in a brook. There was only a small part of the oyster in the shell, the rest having been devoured. The strange object that had inhabited the shell was fished out of the pail of water. It proved to be a bright-eyed, odd-looking fish, of a description never seen nor heard of in those parts. It is three inches long. From over each eye an ugly-looking horn, half an inch long, protrudes at nearly right angles. It has small appendages on each side of its head, which might pass for ears. Immediately behind these is a wing-like fin, on each side of the body, which is smooth and covered with brilliant black spots. Mr. Parker has placed this curiosity in an aquarium.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally, applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of all, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 1,th,&f

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day

WASHINGTON, Feb, 26th, 1:30 A. M.

Falling barometer; warmer southerly winds; cloudy weather, and rain, followed by rising barometer, and colder westerly winds.

AROUND HOME.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado lectured at Great Falls on Wednesday evening, and will lecture at Rochester this evening.

The sidewalk on Congress street fronting the Franklin building and Mechanics' block will be raised and newly graded.

Mr. O. M. Knight has been appointed deputy supreme regent, in charge of Alpha Council, Royal Arcanum, of this city.

A new secret organization—new for this city, that is—is soon to be started here, called the Ancient Order of Foresters.

Buds on the horse-chestnut trees have assumed decidedly swollen proportions, denoting that spring is rapidly approaching.

Squando Lodge, I. O. R. M., of Biddeford, paid a visit to Kankamagus Lodge of Dover on Monday evening of this week.

William Downs & Son send three hundred barrels of choice potatoes, for seed, to Philadelphia by the schooner Clara E. Simpson.

St. George Council, No. 21, American Legion of Honor, is receiving so many applications for membership that special meetings are being held.

The Times says that Mr. Aaron H. Hill, formerly of the firm of Hill & Carr, is to open a retail boot and shoe store shortly in the premises on Market street formerly occupied by Rider & Cunningham.

There are some twenty-five thousand railroad sleepers, and a large quantity of timber, piled up on the Eastern railroad wharf ready to be creosoted. It will be six weeks before the works will be ready to operate on them.

Eastern railroad bonds sold at 92 in Boston on the 25th inst.; Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway bonds at 78; and Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad stock at 105 3-4. At auction, Cocheco mills sold at 752 1-2, Great Falls Manu. Co. at 117 1-2, Laconia at 540.

A Mr. St. John and a friend of his were having a ride on Tuesday afternoon, and on turning from Water street into Court the team upset, throwing them both out. Mr. St. John had his jaw broken, while his companion escaped uninjured. The team was slightly damaged.

The pleasing romantic drama "Unknown" was finely presented at Music hall on Wednesday evening of this week, and deserved a larger audience. Mr. Stevens is a superior actor and his support is strong, and the frequent rounds of applause show that the audience appreciated the real merit of the entertainment.

Mr. Editor: I visited Dover on Monday, and while walking through the business streets, I noticed that every store was shut, excepting a Chinese laundry. But when I returned to this city, I did not see but one store that was shut, and that was a store where the firm had failed on the Saturday previous! I met a man going to his dinner, and asked him why he did not shut up his store? His answer was, "Why should we make a holiday of Washington's birthday any more than that of Lincoln. What did Washington do for his country more than Lincoln did?" H. H.

The tug Leyden made a trip to the Plymouth, on Tuesday of this week, to take out her paymaster's stores. The paymaster's safe was empty, of course, and unlocked; and to facilitate handling it, the door was taken off. As the clumsy article was rolled along the deck a jingling sound was heard, and soon there was quite a scramble for pieces of money which fell out of the safe, inside the lining of which the coins had evidently found their way long ago. About $25 in all was found, the coins varying in value from ten cents to $2.50.

The big tanks of the Eastern railroad's kyanizing works on Noble's island have been placed in position on their beds of timber in the building prepared for their reception, which is approaching completion. One of the tanks projects twenty-five feet or more from the end of the building next the river, the end of the tank being supported by a timber framework; and as it is circular in shape, a casual observer standing at a distance might suppose the railroad people were about to bombard Kittery and the navy yard with the grandfather of all big guns.

Benjamin H. Silsbee, president of the Newmarket manufacturing company, died suddenly in Salem, Mass., on the 22d inst. Mr. Silsbee was also president of the Salem Lead company.

Mr. Charles W. Waterman, of this city, on the 24th inst. completed his 31st year of continuous service on the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad, during which long period he has never met with any serious accident, or one occasioning loss of life.

George Baker of Newcastle, a fisherman, was found on Water street at about midnight on Wednesday by Officer Moore, insensible and with his head badly cut. He was taken to the station, and his wounde dressed by Dr. Grant. He could give no account of how he came to be in such a condition.

A horse attached to a farm wagon ran away from in front of C. L. Brown's store, Wednesday forenoon of this week, and raced through Bow street to Daniel street, and then up the latter street to Hartshorn's provision market, where he effected a collision with Mr. Hartshorn's store-wagon, breaking both its shafts and damaging one wheel of his own vehicle. Neither of the horses was harmed Farm produce was liberally distributed at several points along the line of the runaway, about half a barrel of onions being picked up at the junction of Daniel and Bow streets.

The members of Storer Encampment, Post 1, G. A. R., are requested to meet at their hall on Daniel street this (Thursday) afternoon at four o'clock, on important business.

By order of the COMMANDER.

WIDOW BEDOTT.

The performance of "Widow Bedott" at Music hall this evening will draw a full house, the sale of tickets being already very large. Wherever the widow has appeared she has been greeted by crowds, and the press notices seem almost extravagant. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says the piece is "the most laughable comedy, or play, or whatever it may be called, that has been put upon the stage for years. It is replete with wit, satire and humor, packed full of the most ludicrous situations, altogether the most uproariously humorous production the stage has seen for years." The Detroit Tribune calls it "a succession of droll episodes and infinitely funny speeches, which keep the audience laughing for three straight hours. The chief objection is that there is too much of it, and yet it is difficult to determine where further elimination or condensation is possible." The Buffalo Courier says it is "by all odds the funniest drama on the American boards," and that "the fun increases in volume with each succeeding scene until the curtain drops on the fourth act." And with all its mirth-provoking elements, the play is vouch for as being absolutely clean, with not even a suggestion of impropriety about it. See advertisement.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 25; Batchelder, J.

Joseph Fabyan, for drunkenness, was sent to the county farm for thirty days, and ordered to pay $7.67 costs.

FISHERY NOTES.

Smelts are bringing eight and nine cents a pound, but they don't bite worth a cent.

Parties who go fishing in whale boats are getting ready for work. Mr. Elvin Newton was the first one to take the start, making his first trip on Wednesday.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

An extensive revival of religion is in progress at Kittery foreside.

Gov. Davis has nominated Mr. James H. Rowell of Kittery as a trustee of the state normal school of Maine.

The dwelling house of Elicom Robinson of Limington was burned to the ground on Wednesday, Feb. 18th, with nearly all the contents. Loss $800; partially insured.

Mr. Hilton of South Parsonsfield is no doubt the oldest postmaster in this county, and possibly in New England He was appointed postmaster in December, 1830, and has held the office ever since. Can any one name a postmaster who has held office for a longer time?—Biddeford Times.

An examination of the receipts from customs at various ports in Maine shows that if the plan suggested by Secretary Sherman to abolish ports of entry where the revenue does not amount to $10,000 per annum should be adopted, nine customs offices in Maine would have to be abolished, one of them being that at Kennebunk.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, nearly opposite Grand Central Depot. 350 elegant rooms reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European Plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse Cars, Stages and Elevated Railroad to all depots. Be careful and see that "Grand Union Hotel" is on the sign where you enter office in the centre of the block. d&wtaug7'80

A Small Man.

Almost every city and town lays claim to the meanest man, but we believe that about the smallest specimen of a mean man resides in Newburyport. A few days ago he called at a hardware store, and represented that he was troubled with a mouse in his pantry at home, at the same time asking the clerk for the loan of a mouse trap to catch the animal. The clerk replied that was hardly the way business was done at that establishment, but informed the gentleman who was being impoverished by the mouse that a good trap could be purchased for twenty cents. After some bickering the bargain was concluded. A few days afterward in walked the owner of the trap with the information that he had been successful in catching the mouse, and that the article would be of no further use to him. This was followed by a request that the store-keeper take back the trap and return him the original price. This was rather a staggerer in the way of cheek, but the man behind the counter quietly took out twenty cents, passed it over to the mean man, and remarked that he would refund the money and at the same time present him with the trap. Gracefully thanking him, the mean man quickly pocketed the cash and trap, and walked out with the satisfied air of conscious rectitude.—Newburyport Herald.

—Mount Vesuvius is troubled with eruptions, and they don't know what to do with the crater.

—A little girl read a composition before the minister. The subject was, "A cow." She weaved in this complimentary sentence: "The cow is the most useful animal in the world except religion."

Now all the teachers will have to do to maintain discipline in that school, will be to announce as a punishment a reading of those interesting books by any tangressor of the rules of the school.

News and Notes.

Dr. Brandreth, the pill-maker, died in New York last week. He accumulated a large fortune by the efficacy of advertising his pills. His name became familiar throughout the country as an advertiser. He borrowed the means to start the sale of a few pills, which he peddled himself in the streets of New York, and soon increased his business to an enormous extent. His estate is valued at $2,000,000.

The Springfield Republican, which is apt to be a little jealous of the hub, says: "We are glad for our part that St. Botolph's is to have a place where 'wines, liquors and cigars' can be had. Boston has always needed such a place. They may not be very good things in themselves, but the most dangerous objects acquire a fascination, if a scarcity sets in and it is made difficult to obtain them. This is obviously the great danger in Boston. Boston has a great many noble charities and institutions, schools, colleges, churches, Cook lecture-ships, and lecturing cooks, symposiums, sorosises, clubs, natural history collections—including the Advertiser, Mr. Kimball's museum and Wendell Phillipps' statuary—but she needs one thing more, one more club where 'wines, liquors and cigars' can be had, where the swell ministers and newspaper men can sit down in peace to a stand-up drink, beyond the gaze of a vulgar, and perhaps an unfeeling world."

Passaic Sambucl Wine for Medicinal Use.

A noted Homœopathic physician says: "I take great pleasure in testifying my approbation of the superior qualities of the Sambucl Wine produced by Mr. A. Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey.

After a prolonged trial I can confidently recommend it as a superior article of wine for the sick and debilitated, and all those who require vinous stimulation and invigoration.

I shall continue to employ it in my practice in all cases where a pure article of wine is called for the sick; and shall do all in my power to foster and encourage its production."

—"What is political science?" asks an exchange. Political science! Political science! Oh, yes, we see. When you can make the people believe that you can hold office better than the man who is in, and they have the confidence to put you in his place, you have demonstrated about all there is in political science.—Waterloo Observer.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. I believe it cures my very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON CHURCHILL, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARTON, of Perkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old pathods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it specially cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,
Breast and Limbs Cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment with medicine, and is a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs. ——— of ———, Dr. ——— of ———, visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the efficacy of these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE
Cured in One Week.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER.—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,
Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all druggists and dealers. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and fencing utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turgenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-seventh year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others; embracing the Choicest Serial and Short stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than

Three and a quarter Thousand

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness arising from its judicious selection, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and COMPLETE compilation of the indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that though its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"IT IS INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a through compendium of all that is admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratuitous numbers of THE LIVING AGE containing other interesting matter, the first chapters of "HE WHO WILL NOT WHEN HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American $4 monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazaar) will be sent for a year, both post-paid, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or Appleton's Journal. Address,

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered to favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of relief as to the treatment of Catarrhal affections the confidence is at once felt in the ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the unvarying evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly feel proud of the position the RADICAL CURE has attained and believe it worthy of its reputation.

10 YEARS A SUFFERER.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—I feel thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, and am induced to direct my line to say that although I have been sceptical of a so numerous advertised as "a radical cure," I have never found anything that promises such relief as this nostrum seems to be. I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for the five or six months, and not until recently could I induced to persevere with any until I read the letter Mr. HENRY WELTS, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.

The Brakeman's Parable.

To me comes the brakeman, and seating himself on the arm of the seat says: "I went to church yesterday."

"Yes?" I said, with that interested inflection that asks for more. "And what church did you attend?"

"Which do you guess?" he asked.

"Some union mission church?" I hazarded.

"Naw," he said, "I don't like to run on these branch roads very much. I don't very often go to church, and when I do, I want to run on the main line, where your run is regular and you go on a schedule time, and don't have to wait on connections. I don't like to run on a branch. Good enough, but I don't like it."

"Episcopal?" I guessed.

"Limited express," he said; "all palace cars, and $2 extra for a seat; fast time, and only stops at the big stations. Nice line, but too exhaustive for a brakeman. All train men in uniform, conductor's punch and lantern silver plated, and no train boys allowed. Then the passengers are allowed to talk back at the conductor; and it makes them too free and easy. No, I couldn't stand the palace cars. Rich road, though. Don't often hear of a receiver being appointed for that line. Some mighty nice people travel on it, too."

"Universalist?" I guessed.

"Broad gauge," said the brakeman; "does too much complimentary business. Everybody travels on a pass. Conductor doesn't get a fare once in fifty miles. Stop at all flag stations, and won't run into anything but a union depot. No smoking car on the train. Train orders are vague, though, and the trainmen don't get along well with the passengers. No, I don't go to the Universalist, though I know some awfully good men who run on that road."

"Perhaps you went to the Unitarian?"

"No, I didn't, but I might have done worse. That is a mighty good road, well ballasted with reason, though it runs through a region a little bit cold, and there is apt to be some ice and snow on the track, but in case of accident there is no danger of upsetting the stoves and being burnt up; and there's one good thing about it, the neighbors are generally ready to come and help then you do get into trouble. They like to have things nice and comfortable in this world, doing what they think is about right and taking their chances for the other. They don't seem to take much stock in being as miserable as you can here in the hope that you will be happier for it there. They seem to think that a man's going to reap the same kind of crop that he plants, and that if he puts in a selfish, worthless kind of a life on this earth, it isn't a-going to come out a very fine specimen in heaven. Seems to me some sense as well as poetry in that, but I was raised an 'orthodox' and 'twouldn't do for me to be seen on that train or I might lose my place on the other line, as there's a good deal of competition between the two roads, and our folks are getting afraid of losing travel."

"Presbyterian?"

"Narrow gauge, eh?" said the brakeman; "pretty track, straight as a rule; tunnel right through a mountain rather than go around it; spirit-level grade; passengers have to show their tickets before they get on the train. Mighty strict road, but the cars are a little narrow; have to sit one in a seat and no room in the aisle to dance. Then there's no stop-over tickets allowed; get to go straight through to the station you're ticketed for or you can't get on at all. When the car's full, no extra coaches; cars built at the shops to hold just so many and nobody else allowed on. But you don't often hear of an accident on this road. It's run right up to the rules."

"Maybe you joined the free thinkers?"

I said.

"Scrub road," said the brakeman, "dirt roaded and no ballast; no time card and no train dispatcher. All train run wild and every engineer makes his own time, just as he pleases. Smoke if you want to; kind of a go-as-you-please road. Too many side tracks and every switch wide open all the time, with the switchman sound asleep and the target lamp dead out. Get on as you please and get off when you want to. Don't have to show your tickets, and the conductor isn't expected to do anything but amuse the passengers. No, sir, I was offered a pass, but I don't like the line. I don't like to travel on a line that has no terminus. Do you know, sir, I asked a division superintendent where that road run to, and he said he hoped to die if he knew. I asked him if the general superintendent could tell me, and he said he didn't believe they had a general superintendent, and if they had he didn't know any more about the road than the passengers. I asked him who he reported to, and he said 'nobody.' I asked a conductor who he got his orders from, and he said he didn't take orders from any living man or dead ghost. And when I asked an engineer who he got his orders from, he said he'd like to see anybody give him orders, he'd run that train to suit himself or he'd run it into the ditch. Now you see, sir, I'm a railroad man, and I don't care to run on a road that makes no connections, runs nowhere and has no superintendent. It may be all right, but I've railroaded too long to understand it."

"Did you try the Methodist?" I asked.

"Now you're shouting," he said, with some enthusiasm. "Nice road, eh? Fast time and plenty of passengers. Engines carry a power of steam, and don't you forget it; steam gauge shows a hundred and enough all the time. Lively road; when the conductor shouts 'all aboard,' you can hear him to the next station. Every train lamp shines like a headlight.

Stop over checks given on all through tickets; passengers drop off the train as often as they like, do the station two or three days and hop on the next revival train that comes thundering along. Good, whole-souled, companionable conductors; ain't a road in the country where the passengers feel more at home. No passes; every passenger pays full traffic rates for his ticket. Wesleyan house air brake on all trains, too. Pretty safe road, but I didn't ride over it yesterday."

"May be you went to the Congregational church?" I said.

"Popular road," said the brakeman; "an old road, too; one of the very oldest in the country. Good road bed and comfortable cars. Well managed road, too; directors don't interfere with division superintendents and train orders. Road's mighty popular, but it's pretty independent, too. See, didn't one of the division superintendents down east discontinue one of the oldest stations on this line two or three years ago? But it's a mighty pleasant road to travel on. Always has such a pleasant class of passengers."

"Perhaps you tried the Baptist?" I guessed once more.

"Ah, ha!" said the brakeman; "she's a daisy, isn't she? River road; beautiful curves; sweep around anything to keep close to the river, but it's all steel rail and rock ballast, single track all the way and not a side track from the road house to the terminus. Takes a heap of water to run her through; double tanks at every station, and there isn't an engine in the shops that can pull a pound or run a mile in less than two gauges. But it runs through a lovely country; these river roads always do; river on one side and hills on the other, and it's a steady climb up the grade all the way till the run ends where the fountain head of the river begins. Yes, sir, I'll take the river road every time for a lovely trip; sure connections and good time, and no prairie dust blowing in at the windows. And yesterday when the conductor came round for the tickets with a little basket punch, I didn't ask him to pass me, but I paid my fare like a little man—twenty-five cents for an hour's run and a little concert by the passengers thrown in. I tell you, Pilgrim, you take the river road when you want—"

But just here the long whistle from the engine announced a station, and the brakeman hurried to the door shouting: "Zionsville! This train makes no stops between here and Indianapolis!"—Burlington Hawkeye.

Republican Conventions.

The republican state convention of New York for the choice of delegates to the national convention, met at Utica on Wednesday, Feb. 25th, and was called to order by Gen. Arthur. A resolution was passed authorizing the delegates from the several congressional districts to select candidates for the presidential electors from their respective districts. The convention voted, 217 to 130, to instruct the delegates to the national convention to vote for Gen. Grant; the unit rule was not mentioned. The four delegates at large are Roscoe Conkling, Alonzo B. Cornell, Chester A. Arthur and James D. Warren.

The Vermont republican convention met at Montpelier, Feb. 25th, chose delegates to the national convention, and declared Vermont's choice of a presidential candidate to be Edmonds. An allusion to Blaine as a possible candidate provoked a hearty display of enthusiasm. The delegates to the national convention were not "instructed."

The congressional district conventions in Indiana, for the choice of delegates to the republican national convention, were held Feb. 25th. Most of the delegates chosen are for James G. Blaine for president.

Naval Gazette.

The Nipsic arrived in La Guayra, Central America, on the 17th of January, with the American commercial agent, Eckert, on board.

The Trenton was at Port Mahon, and the Quinnebaug at Leghorn, Feb. 4th. The Wyoming sailed from Toulon for Naples, Jan. 24th.

Capt. Henry Wilson, commanding the Constellation on her recent trip to Gibraltar to carry out a crew for the Trenton, has made an official report to the navy department in relation to the gallant conduct of Ensign L. K. Reynolds, in connection with the rescue of the crew of the Austro-Hungarian barque Olive. Ensign Reynolds had charge of the only boat that communicated with the barque. After making two trips and bringing to the Constellation nine of the crew of the Olive, Reynolds volunteered to return for the three men yet remaining. Before leaving, Capt. Wilson directed him to either scuttle or fire the Olive, as, being in the track of vessels, she was dangerous above water. Owing to the heavy sea running, Reynolds' boat could not go alongside the vessel. He however jumped overboard, swam to the barque, and fired her in two places; swam to his boat again, and returned to the Constellation with the last of the crew of the Olive. Capt. Wilson says: "To the good judgment and skillful handling of the boat by Ensign Reynolds is due the fact that no accident happened either to the rescued or rescuing party." Young Reynolds is a son of Gen. Reynolds, first auditor of the treasury.

Fitz John Porter.

The Bridgeport, Conn., Standard publishes a letter from Clarkson D. Ayers, pastor of the Freewill Baptist church, protesting against favorable action on the case of Gen. Fitz John Porter. Ayers writes that he was a member of the Eleventh New York volunteers, and continues:

I want to ask Fitz John Porter if he remembers the second battle of Bull Run, and how I caught him two nights previous in conversation with three rebel generals, one of whom was Robert E. Lee. It was about 11 o'clock, and, as I came upon him suddenly, he asked me what I was doing out there at that time of night, and told me, as I valued my life, to say nothing about seeing him out there. Now, he asks to be reinstated as a loyal man. I saw Fitz John Porter with my own eyes talking with some rebels on the eve of the battle, and I ask that justice be done to the soldiers who did the fighting and laid down their lives in defense of their country. Fitz John Porter deserves no place in this nation, only as an outcast and vagabond. Mr. Porter, where was your corps at that second Bull Run battle? Could you give any definite answer? No; you were too guilty. How can you, Fitz John Porter, have the audacity to come before congress and ask to be placed before the nation as a loyal man, when the voice of more than one thousand men of the Fifth army corps are crying from that battle-ground for vengeance? Yes, Mr. Porter, you are accused from this nation. A person who will sell his whole army corps of 7,000 to the enemy, as you did, should be sent to the Dry Tortugas."

This is a serious charge; if the statements it contains are true, it seems singular they were not heard of long ago.

News and Notes.

A cock-fight in Pittsfield, Mass., was broken up by the officers on the night of Feb. 25th, and twenty-seven men arrested. After the melee was over some of the cock-fighters who escaped arrest got into a dispute, and a girl named Honora Tierney was accidentally shot in the thigh by David Brodie, the wound being a dangerous one.

Rev. A. W. Paige of New Haven, Conn., pleaded guilty to the charge of sending obscene letters through the mail, Wednesday, Feb. 25th, in the United States district court, and was fined $200, and costs amounting to $170. He was taken to the Hartford county jail in default.

A fourteen-year-old Hawley girl, who was sent to her grandparents at Cheshire, Mass., to keep her out of the way of a disfavored suitor, went to school as usual the other morning, but a dispatch in the afternoon announced that she was at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., and married.

The wife of Jeremiah Talbot of South Freeport, Me., committed suicide Feb. 25th, by cutting her throat. Despondency was the cause. She was sixty years old.

John F. Filley, aged seventy-nine years, was found dead in his house in Spencer, Ohio, Feb. 24th, starved to death and badly gnawed by rats. There was no food in the house. Filley had money hid away, and owned a good farm of one hundred acres.

Monday morning, Feb. 23d, Mr. Geo. Hayes, while shackling cars at the Grand Trunk station in Portland, Me., was caught between two cars and his leg broken near the hip. The flesh was considerably mangled, and the wound is considered a very bad one.

The suit against the Boston & Albany railroad to recover $20,000 for the death of D. H. Bassett, alleged to be caused by the negligence of the corporation's servants at North Adams, Mass., in 1878, has been compromised by Bassett's heirs for $5000, the railroad paying the costs.

Of the money stolen some weeks ago from Mr. G. B. Anthony of Portsmouth, R. I., by some person who knocked him down on the highway, $2250 have been found concealed in Mr. Anthony's slaughter house. There was at first some doubt thrown on Mr. Anthony's story of the robbery, but none is now entertained by the people or police of Portsmouth.

The office of the North Pownal, Vt., Manufacturing company was entered by burglars Monday night, Feb. 23d, and the safe, containing between $300 and $400, was blown open and robbed. Monday afternoon several thousand dollars were drawn from the bank at North Adams, Mass., by the company, for the purpose of paying off their help. All but some $350 of this amount was expended in this manner, and the balance was placed in the safe for that night. Some time during the evening burglars broke into the office and succeeded in blowing open the safe, rifling it of its contents and escaping without causing an alarm.

Some enterprising forger has printed a bank check with the heading of the First National bank of Augusta, Me., and attempted to pass the same. A check of this character was put upon a Boston house on Monday, Feb. 23d, and sent to the bank for collection. As this check was printed upon a sheet with the government stamp, it is likely other frauds of the same sort are afloat.

Investors will find it to their interest to consult the advertisement of the Mammoth Blue Gravel Co., in another column. Mr. H. E. Townsend, No. 4 Exchange place, Boston, or E. L. Suffern, No. 15 Congress street, Boston, have a limited amount of stock which they will dispose of at $5 per share.

A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

The valuable Gold bearing property of

THE MAMMOTH BLUE GRAVEL CO.,

NEVADA COUNTY, CAL.,

Capital, - - - - $2,000.000

SHARES, 40,000—PAR VALUE $50.

This large and valuable property consisting of about 12,000 acres, is surrounded by the following well-known hydraulic mines: "LITTLE YORK," "ROSE AND DURYEA," "SARGENT & JACOBS," "REMINGTON HILL," "BLUE TENT," "NORTH BLOOMFIELD," and others, which have been worked for years, producing millions of dollars. It has been thoroughly examined by Dr. Henry Groot, whose report will be sent to those applying for it. With abundant water supply, and in close proximity to the Central Pacific R. R., it affords every advantage for highly profitable and economical hydraulic mining.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26, 1:30 A. M.

Rising barometer, colder north west winds, and occasional rain, followed by clearing weather.

AROUND HOME.

The schooner H. Prescott, of Portland, 101.48 tons register, has been sold to parties in this city.

The reform club has secured Elder D. M. Leavitt, of Ashland, to deliver a temperance address at Bow mission hall on Sunday evening.

Mr. Rienzi Ridge, who recently lost his horse by the animal falling overboard, has received volunteer contributions from friends sufficient to purchase another.

Schooner Mary J. Adams, of this port, Fitzgerald master, before reported put into Key West in distress, sailed for Port Spain, Trinidad, on Wednesday, Feb. 26th, having been repaired.

At a meeting of the printing committee of the city councils, held on Wednesday evening of this week, the bids for the printing of the city accounts for the year 1879 were opened, and Mr. B. F. Thorndike being the lowest bidder, his figures ($1.29 per page) were accepted.

We received a pleasant call today from Dr. J. F. Hall of Portsmouth, a member of the state senate at the time of the Weston steal, and but for that piece of rascality, the consummation of which was wrongfully permitted by the republican leaders, would have been its presiding officer. The doctor is a trustee for the asylum for the insane in this city, and speaks in warm terms of praise of the management of that institution.—Monitor.

The late George Frost bequeathed to the town of Durham ten shares of Boston & Albany railroad stock, in trust, for the purpose of starting a fund for a "temperance health-insurance company," the interest of the fund to be applied solely to the payment of the expenses of sick members of the association, which must consist of at least fifty persons of the age of twenty-one years or over, pledged to total abstinence from everything which can intoxicate.

G. A. R.

The Grand Army boys are arranging for a grand lecture and concert entertainment in Music hall at an early date. Gen. Chamberlain of Maine is to be invited to deliver his celebrated lecture on the "battle of Gettysburg." Should the programme be carried out the "soldier boys" may rest assured they will receive the hearty co-operation of our citizens.

At a special meeting held Thursday afternoon a committee was appointed, consisting of Commander George E. Hodgdon, Adjutant James E. Ford, Quartermaster John H. Locke, Comrades James R. May, Daniel J. Vaughan, George F. Monroe and Adolph Nelson to correspond with Gen. Chamberlain and arrange a programme, and make any other arrangements which they may deem necessary, and report the same to the post for action next week.

WIDOW BEDOTT.

Quite a large audience assembled at Music hall on Thursday evening, to laugh over the fortunes and misfortunes of "Widow Bedott" as dramatized by Petroleum V. Nasby and delineated by Neil Burgess,—and laugh everybody did, till their sides ached. The piece may be called a farce, comedy, drama, or whatever the reader may prefer; we do not know what to call it, but it is certainly one of "the most amusing productions on the American stage," and perfectly "clean," which is all that is claimed for it by the jovial and satirical author.

The plot is but a slender thread, on which Mr. Locke has strung a series of mirth-provoking incidents. The principal character, the "Widow," is such a character as never existed anywhere except in this play; and her lover and final victim, Elder Sniffles, is a broad burlesque of a not particularly evil though somewhat self-seeking elder.

In the first act the widow's daughter Melissa, the latter's lover Tom, of whom the widow disapproves, and Melissa's cousin Fred, who aids and abets the young woman, are introduced, and to them enters the widow, who bounces Tom, and then listens to Fred's account of the return home of Tim Crane. Learning that Mr. Crane is a widower she invites him to tea; he makes a proposal for Melissa's hand, which she at first mistakes as a proposal to herself, and consequently approves, but when she discovers his real aim she with great vigor requests his withdrawal.

In the second act the widow visits her brother-in-law, and there becomes acquainted with Elder Sniffles, whom she despises as a Baptist till she discovers that he is a widower, when she relents. The elder is moved by a mistaken idea as to her wealth, and they are rapidly becoming attached, when in meetings at cross-purposes in the garden between the daughter and her lover, and the widow and her lover, the latter shoots at the widow in mistake for a burglar, and she improves the opportunity to faint in his arms.

In the third act the engagement is ratified, and the widow arranges for the entire renovation of the parsonage in accordance with her "refined" taste.

The fourth and concluding act depicts the return of the happy pair after the wedding to their parlors, which are adorned with pictures of Pharaoh's daughter in modern costume finding Moses, and a remarkable Pharaoh entering the Red sea. Elder Sniffles improves the opportunity to present the bills for refurnishing to his spouse, who repudiates them, and is full of a scheme to marry her daughter to a rich man's son, when Tom and Melissa enter as man and wife.

Very little, it will be seen, to found a successful play on; but Mr. Locke has managed to do it, if hilarious and almost continuous laughter from the audience is anything to judge by.

MILITIA INSPECTION.

Inspector-General Sturtevant will inspect the Portsmouth companies of the New Hampshire National Guard on the following dates:

Portsmouth Guards, Co. C, Thursday, March 11th, at 7:30 P. M.

Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, Co. D, Friday, March 12th, at 7:30 P. M.

Second Troop Cavalry, Thursday, March 11th, at 2:00 P. M.

Platoon B, 2d Battery, Friday, March 12th, at 2:00 P. M.

Platoon A, 2d Battery, of Dover, will be inspected on Tuesday, March 9th; and the Newmarket Guards, Co. G, at 7:30 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, March 10th.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

On Monday evening next, at Music hall, the eminent actor Lawrence Barrett will appear in Howells' great tragedy, translated and adopted from the Spanish, entitled "Yorick's Love." Of Mr. Barrett as one of the greatest living actors it is needless to speak; of the play, the Providence Press says:

The language is pure and elegant. The action is continuous and always interesting, increases in fact, from the beginning of the first act until in the closing scene it is almost painful in its intensity. Mr. Howells considers it the greatest tragedy he knows. He is probably a little prejudiced, but it is certainly a very remarkable play. It is not a "Hamlet" nor an "Othello," but it is the nearest to the sublimity of those tragedies of anything written for years.

This play has recently been presented in Portland, and the Advertiser next day said:

Of Lawrence Barrett it goes without saying that he won a splendid triumph. The theatre was packed, and the applause which the star received during the evening was unusually enthusiastic. In the first act his role is one of playful cheerliness, a novel character in which to see Barrett. He seems to excel in that as in the tempest and whirlwind of passion. Nothing could be pleasanter than the scene in which Yorick pretends to mistake his wife for her portrait; and his open-hearted geniality, his eagerness to take a tragic part, his yearning affection for his foster son, his unconsciousness of the state of affairs between Edmund and Alice, were fine examples of easy and natural acting. Yorick's dawning suspicion of his wife's infidelity was effectively worked up in a tableau at the close of the act. It is in the following scenes that Barrett first displays his reserved power, when, appearing as a man racked by the conflicting emotions of grief, jealousy and indefinite suspicions, he so absorbs himself in the part that he seems not to act but to be Yorick. Not a word, look, gesture or breath but tells, and the interest intensifies painfully until the climax is reached with Yorick's discovery of the relations of his wife and Edmund, the killing of Edmund and the suicide of Yorick.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. John Lapgley, of Birch hill, York, has a Cotswold sheep which on the 20th of February produced six lambs, all of which lived, and with the mother are now doing well.

Rabbits are reported as very plenty in York woods. Mr. Charles Jellison took fifteen in two weeks, and Mr. Jeff. D. Cook snared three, one of which weighed nearly six pounds.

Mr. Irvin Wilson, who lives on the old post road in Kittery, some little time ago traded a horse worth $60 for one that could do a mile in less than three minutes, and subsequently traded the latter off for another worth $50, getting $200 as "boot." The three-minute horse has since been sold to a Portsmouth man for $300.

The young men of Biddeford gave a grand "Leap-year ball" in the city hall of that place, Wednesday of this week, as a rejoinder to the Leap-year ball recently given by the Biddeford ladies.

Miss Harrietta Moulton has opened a grocery and general store at Beech ridge, York. Miss Moulton is a sister of Wesley Moulton, who some time ago kept a store at the same place, but is now employed at railroading.

At about midnight on Wednesday, Feb. 25th, a house not far from the Cape Neddick house, owned by Mr. Wm. H. Grant, keeper of the town poor-farm, was burned to the ground. As the house was unoccupied, the fire is supposed to have been incendiary. Insured.

In cutting down a Norway pine on Mr. Leonard C. Cook's lot in York woods, a few days since, the wood choppers disturbed a family of flying squirrels, ten in number. The tree was two feet in diameter at the butt, and the squirrels' hole was about twenty feet from the ground. Three of the pretty and harmless little creatures were killed by one of the men, who cut his foot while chasing them; the other seven escaped.

Farming is better than speculating, or at least safer. A farmer of Kittery is reported to have lost $3000 within a few years by speculating in apples, hay, etc., and has failed; and a worthy elder of York, who always stood—and still stands—very high in the community as a Christian gentleman, has had to give up his home to his creditors, for the same reason. The latter case is a particularly hard one, the gentleman referred to being somewhat advanced in years.

Political.

The republican mayoralty caucus at Saco on the 25th inst. unanimously nominated Hon. O. C. Clark.

James A. Strout was re-nominated for mayor of Biddeford by the greenodembackers.

There was a lively debate in the senate, Feb. 25th, over a proposal to commission J. Monroe Haskell of Maryland as a paymaster in the army. The republican senators strongly object to this, as Haskell served in the rebel army all through the war, and had not even the excuse that he "went with his state," for Maryland remained in the Union, and Haskell had to serve in a Virginia regiment.

Kearney, the "reverend" Mayor Kalloock of San Francisco, and their sand-lot followers, are doing a good deal in the way of threats as to what they will do should certain things not be done by the authorities. They hint at wholesale murder, assassination and fire-raising, but the respectable men are watchful and prepared, and say that the first overt act of ruffianism on the part of the hoodlums will be promptly attended to.

New Hampshire Items.

Lennan Webber of Contoocook, while hunting, Feb. 24th, met with a singular and dangerous accident. He wore a long dirk-knife in his belt, and, stooping down suddenly, the blade was thrust through its sheath into his thigh, cutting a large artery. Fortunately, Frank Burbank happened to be in hearing distance, and tied a suspender around Webber's limb, saving his life.

Henry K. Trask of Laconia, employed by J. Gilbert, undertaker, about six weeks ago accidentally stuck a sharp piece of glass two inches long into his thigh, from the effects of which he died Feb. 24th. He leaves a wife and one child.

On Monday morning a third-division teacher in one of our public schools missed a pupil from her accustomed place. She dispatched another pupil to look after the absent one, who returned with the information from the scholar's parents that she had probably terminated her school-days and would not return, as Saturday night previous she was married. The school register shows that at the opening of the present term she was but fifteen years and one month old.—Manchester Mirror.

—The man who was approached from the rear by a goat and went over a six foot wall and rooted up the ground for three rods, on being revived told the doctor that he hadn't at the time of the accident the remotest idea that he was standing on a railroad track.

Manuring in Winter.

Several questions have been asked us on the subject of distributing manure in the winter season, to which we reply in general terms. The loss in spreading manure at any season is chiefly in the evaporation of ammonia, and this is always greater in a high temperature. Fermenting manure spread in the summer and suffered to remain exposed for a month, is almost worthless. If manure is spread at that season it should be plowed under as speedily as possible. But in the frozen weather of the winter, the formation of ammonia is suspended in manure that is spread, so that no loss by evaporation results from its exposure. If it is spread on unfrozen ground and afterwards covered with snow, fermentation may go on slowly, but in that case the ammonia will be retained by the snow, which is a good absorbent; and when the thaw comes the ammonia enters the soil with the water.

The only loss to be apprehended in winter manuring is from the washing of heavy rains. If the fields are properly underdrained there will be but little loss from this cause, as the dissolved organic matter will be retained by the soil as the water leaches through it to the drains. In top-dressing meadow or other grass lands, winter is the proper time for the work. The snows and rains will settle the manure close to the ground so that the growing grass will cover it early in the spring and thus protect it from loss by summer heat. Moreover, when the ground is frozen, the passing about over the fields is more pleasant than in the mud of the spring months; and when the work is done, it will do much to relieve the pressure and demand of the busy season of spring.—Indiana Farmer.

Celery.

No vegetable improves more on acquaintance than celery. It is sometimes objected to its cultivation by farmers that there is too much labor about it, and this was a serious objection when the fashion was to cultivate it in trenches; but it is found that a plough makes all the trench requisite for the dwarf and medium varieties, which are really more crips, solid and better flavored than the giant. "Boston Market celery" can be grown with little more labor than a crop of cabbages, and as it adorns the table, tickles the palate and tones the stomach, it deserves a wider circulation by farmers than it has secured.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

—"Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean," playfully quoted Mr. Hickenlooper, as he came airily into the room, and found his wife crying. And Mrs. Hickenlooper rose up and remarked that she supposed a fool of a man would laugh even if he did smash his fingers to jelly trying to drive a picture nail, and then she flounced out of the room after the arnica, while Mr. Hickenlooper, in a dazed condition, sat down on a chair that wasn't there, and nearly drove himself through the floor.

A Democrat Cured.

A leading democrat of Burlington, Mr. E. M. Sutton, speaks in the highest terms of the curative power of the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It first cured him of a distressing kidney disease, and he now uses it whenever he has any symptoms of biliousness or needs toning up. It acts efficiently on the bowels, and cures the worst cases of piles.

—When a death occurs in Fiji, it has to be registered; and the native scribe not unfrequently fills the blank left for "cause of death" with the words "medicine supplied by missionaries."

Kidney-Wort has proved the most effective cure for piles and constipation; be sure to try it.

—There is a distinction with a difference between the attic rooms and rheumatics.

The effects after taking Adamson's Botanic Balsam are a soothing and controlling influence over any cough or cold, promoting rest, allaying the tickling sensation in the throat, and causing a healthy expectoration.

—"With one hand he held her beautiful golden head above the chilling wave, and with the other called loudly for assistance." Extract from a romance.

"The best cough medicine in the world." The Old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. Cutler Bros. & Co., Boston. Small reduced to 35c; large, $1. eod&wtmay —Says Burdette, in a moment of philosophic abstraction: "Alas, brethren, how seldom it is that a man is not oftener—I mean, how often it is seldom that a man—that you rarely find a man is seldom better than his neighbors."

ATROPHY ARRESTED,—FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES. Wasting of the tissues of the body is arrested, the muscles made firm, and the nerves regain their power by using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.

—Religious tracts sent to a man with twelve cents postage due on them are not conducive either to religious thought, word or action. We have in our mind a young man who was just wavering in the balance; the twelve cents decided him, and he became a howling heathen.

Passaic Sambuci Wine for Medicinal Use.

A noted Homœopathic physician says: "I take great pleasure in testifying my approbation of the superior qualities of the Sambuci Wine produced by Mr. A. Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey."

After a prolonged trial I can confidently recommend it as a superior article of wine for the sick and debilitated, and all those who require vinous stimulation and invigoration.

I shall continue to employ it in my practice in all cases where a pure article of wine is called for the sick; and shall do all in my power to foster and encourage its production."

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

The scourge of mankind.—Old methods of treatment and remedies a failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching blood cleansing, and purifying agent of this century. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP,

Breast and Limbs Cured.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Dr. ——, of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1 last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of the CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the efficacy of the three wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc., STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

Cured in One Week.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER,—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.

NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Later the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home.

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

Skilled Labor

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent Divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them a prompt and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

BOSTON, January 1, 1869. 3iawtjan181

THE GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS, such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Mulock-Craik, Geo. MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Alexander, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turguenief, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1880, THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-second year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above-named and many others, embracing the Choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical

in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers and Editors, representing the Best Thought of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine, giving more than double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, conforming its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

Three and a quarter Thousand

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only satisfactory fresh and COMPLETE compilation of an indispensable current literature, indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

is sufficiently indicated by the following

Opinions.

"It covers the whole field of literature, and covers it completely, thoroughly and impartially."—Times, Cincinnati.

"It affords the best, the cheapest and most convenient means of keeping abreast with the progress of thought in all its phases."—North American, Philadelphia.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published."—Southern Churchman, Richmond.

"Gives the best of all at the price of one."—New York Independent.

"The prince among magazines."—New York Observer.

"It so fully supplies the wants of the reading public that through its pages alone it is possible to be as thoroughly well informed in current literature as by the perusal of a long list of monthlies."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"To read it weekly is a liberal education."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, politics and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"It holds the palm against all rivals."—Commercial, Louisville.

"It is INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY ONE who desires a thorough competent and yet an admirable and note worthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.

"There is no other way of procuring the same amount of excellent literature for anything like the same price."—Boston Advertiser.

"The best literature of the day."—New York Times.

Published WEEKLY at $8.00 a year, free of postage.

EXTRA OFFER FOR 1880.

To all new subscribers for 1880 will be sent gratis those numbers of 1879 which contain, besides other interesting matter, the first chapters of "IF THE WHO WILL NOT WHEN HE MAY," a new story by MRS. OLIPHANT, now appearing in THE LIVING AGE from advance sheets.

Club-Prices for the best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of the LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Even'g Bulletin.

CATARRH

NEVER-FAILING RELIEF

AFFORDED BY

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

It is a fact that can be substantiated by the most respectable testimonials ever offered in favor of any proprietary medicine, that the RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH does in every case afford instant and permanent relief. No matter of how long standing, or how severe the disease, the first dose gives such evidence of a value in the treatment of Catarrhal affections the confidence at once felt in its ability to do all that is claimed for it. The testimony of physicians, druggists and patients is unanimous in this respect, and the accumulating evidence is in point of respectability superior to any ever before obtained in favor of a popular remedy. The proprietors, therefore, may justly refer to the position the RADICAL CURE has attained as entirely worthy of its reputation.

From Hon. Theo. P. Bogert, Bristol, R.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Feeling thoroughly convinced of the efficacy of SANFORD RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, I am induced to drop you a line to say that although I have been accustomed to use nostrums advertised as "radical cures," I have never found anything that promises such relief as this. Gladly will I recommend it to all sufferers. I have been afflicted with this dreadful disease for more than ten years, and not until recently could I be induced to persevere with any until I read the letter of Mr. Henry Wells, and can truthfully say that after using five or six bottles I am thoroughly convinced of its curative properties. Hoping that others similarly afflicted like myself will be induced to make the trial, I am, gentlemen, very truly, etc.,

THEO. P. BOGERT.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 24, 1877.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

The Panama Canal.

We copy from the Panama Herald of Feb. 14th the following:

Report of the International Technical Commission, Appointed to Examine the Definite Work Required for the Construction of the Panama Canal.

The Commission, after discussing in its sessions the results of the examinations made on the ground, answers the several questions of the programme, presented by Mr. Ferdinand de Lesseps, in the following manner:

1st Question—Verification by leveling, of the general line of the canal, between Colon and Panama.

The general line, adopted by the Paris congress, was examined by five levelling brigades, under the direction of Messrs. Albers, Couvreux, Dausarts, Jegou and Sosa, who took fifty-six cross sections of the ground, traversed by the line. For this work the railroad—the longitudinal profile of which is established—was taken as a basis.

In addition a sufficient number of soundings and borings were taken in the Bays of Panama and Colon, on the proposed line of the canal.

All of this, in connection with the previous surveys conducted by Messrs. Jegon and Marolle, and made before the arrival of the Commission, has furnished data, from which the line adopted by the Paris congress has been slightly modified and improved, and the cost reduced.

This has been effected principally by the adoption at a few points of curves of 2,000 meters radius as a minimum.

2nd Question — Reconnaissance by means of borings of the nature of the ground traversed by the canal.

These operations were made under the direction of Messrs. Duflos and Barbier, who had six complete sets of boring apparatus at their disposal. They have completed fifteen borings on the line of the canal and on the line of the proposed dam at Gamboa. These borings were to a depth of from twelve to twenty-one meters, and have thus made known the nature of the ground traversed by the canal line.

3rd Question—A special study of the stability of rock, to be encountered in deep cuttings.

This study, directed by Mr. Boutan, has enabled the Commission to adopt a slope of one to one for the cuttings, except on the summit division, where as in other heavy rock work a slope of 1-8th to one is considered sufficient.

The dimensions of the wet section of the canal, which the Commission has adopted, are as follows:

1st. Between Colon and kilometer 36 (the Atlantic division), and between kilometer 61 and Panama (the Pacific division).

Width at bottom	22m.
Width at water line	50m.
Depth	8m. 50

2nd. Between kilometers 36 and 61, (the Culebra or summit division):

Width at bottom	24m.
Width at water line	28m.
Depth	9m.

4th Question—Means to be employed to overcome the difficulties presented by the Chagres river, and of excavating rock below the sea level.

The difficulties, presented by the Chagres, will be overcome in the first place by the construction of a dam at Gamboa, between Cruces and Metachin. This work was the subject of a special study, conducted by Mr. Dausarts.

The Commission expresses the opinion that a dam of forty meters in height would provide for the storage of a volume of water of one thousand millions of cubic meters; a quantity, equal to the maximum estimate of the freshet of November 25th, 1879 (the greatest that has ever been recorded), as given by Col. G. M. Totten.

This work will be completed by the construction of a new channel, for the regulated flow of the river from the Gamboa dam to the sea.

Another similar but narrower channel will be provided on the opposite side of the canal, for the streams and drainage on that side.

As regards the rock to be excavated under the sea level, the Commission is of opinion that no greater difficulties will be encountered than such as are met with in similar work elsewhere, and that the greatest part of the working places can be freed from water by pumping.

5th Question—The study of the entrances of the canal, in order that the largest ships may enter from both the Pacific and the Atlantic.

The Commission considers that no work is required to give safe anchorage to ships in the placid waters of the Bay of Panama, but deems it necessary to provide a tide-lock at the outlet, so as to preserve a constant level in the canal.

For the Atlantic side, on the contrary, the Bay of Limon is exposed to occasional heavy Northers, and, to make it secure for ships at all times, it must be protected by a breakwater, two kilometers in length.

The anchorage area in both harbors is of large extent, and will not require any improvement.

The excavations for the canal channel, from shore lines to deep water, have been included in the general estimate.

6th Question—The number of cubic meters to be excavated for the construction of the canal, divided into three sections, and a classification of excavations, according to their nature, and respective heights, above and below the level of the sea.

The Commission, basing its calculations on the results of the levels, taken by the five brigades, the geological survey of Mr. Boutan, the results of the borings, together with the information furnished by previous surveys, has adopted the figures contained in the following table:

section.	Above Water. earth.	dredging.	hard rocks.
Atlantic	9,925,000	300,000	4,775,000
Culebra	"	"	2,525,000
Pacific	2,675,000	"	477,000

section.	Under Water. earth.	Rock of mean hardness.	Hard rocks.
Atlantic	23,710,000	275,000	3,000,000
Culebra	2,127,000	"	2,192,000
Pacific	1,473,000	"	1,455,000
Grand total		75,000,000 cubic metres.

7th Question—General estimate:

1st. Excavations (sidings included.)

Excavations above water:

Earth 27,550,000 c. m. at 2.50 frcs.	68,700,000
Rocks of mean hardness 825,000 c. m. at 7 frcs.	5,775,065
Hard rocks 2,754,000 c. m. at 12 frcs.	332,808,000
Excavation of rocks where pumping is necessary, 6,609,000 c. m. at 25. 18	115,362,000
Dredging and excavation under water. Mud and alluvial soil 12,000,000 c. m. at frcs. 2.50	30,500,000
Hard soil capable of being dredged, 200,000 c. m., at 12 frcs.	2,600,000
Excavation of rocks under water 377,000 c. m. at frcs. 35	13,185,000
2d. Dam of Gamboa. Length 1,000 m.-maximum height 40 m. frs.	100,000,000
3d. Channels for discharging the water of the regulated Chagres, the Obispo and the Trinidad.	23,000,000
4th. Tide lock on the Pacific side	12,500,000
5th. Breakwater at the bay of Limon	10,000,000
	767,000,000
5th. Add for contingencies	75,000,000
Total	francs 842,000,000

NOTE. The Commission has agreed to estimate the cost of the work at the prices fixed by the Paris congress for the various items.

9th Question—The probable duration of the work.

The Commission is of opinion that, with good and judicious management, the work can be completed in eight years.

What a Doctor Claims.

A Pennsylvania doctor, says an exchange, claims to have discovered a certain and safe cure for consumption, in the form of crude petroleum, administered in small quantities. He claims that out of twenty-five cases of well-marked tuberculosis so treated, twenty are, to all means of diagnosis, cured; the rest have been materially benefitted, and none have been under treatment more than four months. The nausea attending the use of ordinary crude petrrtoleum led him to adopt the semi-solid oil that forms on the tubing of wells. This, made into from three to five-grain pills by incorporating an inert vegetable powder, was administered from three to five times a day in one-pill doses. The first effect, he says, is the disappearance of the cough; night sweats are relieved, appetite improves and weight is gradually gained. These favorable symptoms continue until the patient is entirely recovered. If half the claims put forward by this disciple of Esculapius be well founded, he has indeed made a valuable scientific discovery.

News and Notes.

Rev. Charles E. Walker of Somerset, Mass., accused by his wife of adultery with Miss Priscilla Morris of Nantucket, has been suspended from the ministry by an ecclesiastical court of enquiry. Mrs. Walker and her husband have filed cross actions for divorce.

Philip Boltz, an old hermit at Milan, Ind., was found murdered in his hut, where he had lived for thirty-five years, on Wednesday, Feb. 25th. His nephew, Wm. Strassberger, has been arrested on suspicion.

A vigilance committee has been formed in San Francisco by the reputable citizens and business men, to take care of the hoodlums led by Kearney and Kalloch.

Miss Adelaide Eads, daughter of Capt. James B. Eads of Mississippi jetty fame, was married at St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 26th, to Gen. John G. Hazzard, late of the United States army.

An insane son of A. Donohue, one of the oldest and wealthiest fruit growers and farmers of Otoe county, Nebraska, recently procured a pistol and shot a horse. His father attempted to disarm him and was stabbed and killed on the spot. The boy then attempted to kill his mother and brother, but the latter felled him to the ground with a club. The maniac recovered, and again entered the room of his mother to kill her, but failed. He then went to the stable and stabbed another horse and two dogs. The maniac was finally secured by the neighbors.

The total receipts of the Suez Canal in 1877 were $6,500,000; in 1878, $6,200,000; and in 1879, $5,920,000. And yet Monsieur de Lesseps estimates the receipts of his projected Panama canal at $18,000,000 the first year!

Ship Humboldt, from New York for Bremen, and barques Bessie Young, Deodata, Hasbet, Hope and W. C. Grant, all from Quebec, are all missing and supposed to be lost.

A substitute for the McCulloch bill was on Feb. 26th presented in the Virginia house of delegates. It provides that the principal of the state debt be recognized (about $32,000,000); that upon it nine per cent per annum be paid, and that new bonds issued therefor be exempt from all taxation.

New Hampshire Items.

The Kearsarge savings bank at Warner, which suffered a reduction of twenty-five per cent by order of the court, began paying its depositors in full on Friday, through the national bank.

The electric light in the Amoskeag mills at Manchester is working very satisfactorily. Although the cost is not found to be as low as was predicted by the parties who furnished the light, yet the expense is cheaper than gas. One of the rooms, which was previously lighted by gas, and which, owing to the heat thrown out by gas, did not require to be heated in the least by steam, now has to be warmed entirely by steam, the electric light giving out very little heat. Col. Livermore says that the new light is really better than daylight for some purposes in manufacturing. It is so powerful that blue and green colors can be discriminated between, a thing which by gas-light can not be effectively done.

The widow of the late Aaron Flagg, eighty-two years of age, recently walked from her home below Gonic to Rochester village and back, a distance of eight miles, to pay a bill of forty-eight cents because she would not trust the matter with any one else.

Rev. Thomas D. Howard, several years the faithful and efficient secretary of the Massachusetts prison commissioners, has accepted a unanimous invitation from the church and society of the south parish (Unitarian) of Charlestown to become their pastor, to enter upon his duties on the 1st of March.

This morning six car loads of apparatus, the property of the Jamaica Plains Ice Co., passed through here en route to Alton Bay. They consisted of two powerful engines, derricks, horses, lumber, hooks, drags and other material used in the ice business. It is intended to have sixty experienced hands cutting ice for the next few weeks. There will be from twenty to thirty car-loads of ice shipped daily direct to Jamaica Plains; besides, there will be saved enough of ice, which when piled up, will be four hundred feet long by seventy-five feet wide and forty feet high. When the ice is packed in a monster ice house will be erected over the icy pile. The enterprise will make things lively on the banks of Winnepesaukie for a few weeks.—Dover Democrat, Feb. 26th.

Beet Sugar in Maine.

At a recent meeting of the Maine board of agriculture, in Lewiston, Dr. Blackwell, the treasurer of the Beet-sugar company, made the following statement:

In 1878 it was found that it cost more to buy the beets than they were worth. In 1879 contracts were made with 1,700 farmers to raise 13,000 tons of beets. About 13,000 men raised 9,000 tons of beets on 1,100 acres. About 100 raised over twenty tons to the acre, 300 raised fifteen tons per acre, and 1,500 raised from ten down to nothing. The general feeling at present is one of discouragement. There were beets enough to employ the factory seventy-five days. From 9,000 tons of beets there were made 900 tons of sugar and syrup. The operation the past year has not paid expenses, and interest on money invested, but having money invested in the business the company will try it another year. Since no profits were made the price of beets cannot be advanced. The majority of farmers will probably say that beets cannot be raised at the price. Yet in nearly every town there were some who raised good crops and think it will pay. The refuse of the beets was not appreciated, and nearly three-fourths of the pulp of the beets was wasted for want of purchasers. Those who have used the pulp, generally say that a ton of the pulp is worth full as much as a ton of beets for feeding cattle. Men in Lancaster, Mass., who used the pulp last-year, are willing to raise beets this year provided they can be paid in beet pulp. In Germany the beet pulp is worth three dollars a ton at the factory. There is no difficulty in any man, whose land is in good condition, raising twenty tons per acre. In Newburyport, Mass., the average was twenty-four tons per acre last year. The farmer should raise twenty tons per acre and feed this beet pulp to his stock. There is not a farmer who does not say that he can afford to raise beets to feed stock. Yet he can sell the beets for $5, and receive a ton of beets for feeding for less than a third of what he gets for his beets.

If the company fails of success it will be for the want of beets. The industry will either fail or succeed this year. If the beets are not furnished the beet industry will be a failure. This year decides its fate. In Germany, where land is worth $500 an acre and pays a rent of $25 per year, beets are raised and sold for $4.50 per ton. Unless there can be obtained 20,000 ton of beets this year the company will not be able to pay a dividend.

Dr. Blackwell said that in Germany they said that beets for sugar should be planted eight inches apart and in rows ten or twelve inches apart. When the rows are thirty inches apart the farmers will not make so much. The beets may be planted in rows fourteen to eighteen inches apart, and twelve to ten inches apart in the row.

—A clergyman recently said that many a one while apparently singing with all his might the lines, "Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were a present far too small," was diligently engaged with one hand in his pocket in scraping the edge of a three cent piece to make sure that it was not a dime.

—A Tennessee man can so perfectly imitate the sounds made by two dogs engaged in fighting that he can call a Memphis congregation out of church in three minutes.

—An Illinois schoolmistress was unable to chastise the biggest girl pupil, and called in a young school trustee to assist her. The trustee found that the offender was his own sweetheart, but his sense of duty triumphed over his love, and he whipped the girl. Not only did this result in losing him a sweetheart, but her father sued him for damages, and got a verdict for $50.

—A Cincinnati physician, who discovered a burglar in his room, jumped out of bed, grabbed the fire tongs, picked up a red-hot coal from the grate, and started for him. The burglar started for the window and escaped through it, his movements being accelerated by a vigorous application of the coal to his back. The police are searching for a man with a big hole burned in his coat.

—Five years ago the whole number of Chinese in New York was 157—according to the census. At the present time it is about 3000. Most of the "moon-eyed lepers," as classical Mr. Kearney calls them, are in the washee-washee business. Chinese laundries are to be seen in every part of the city, and the whole number is set down at 3300. The Chinese also have several grocery stores, tobacco stores and restaurants.

—"Leap year gives young ladies a gentleman's privileges in making love." Perhaps it does. But no respectable young man will have anything to do with a young lady who takes a position on the street corner. Nor would it look well for a dozen or more young ladies to loaf around in front of a church an hour and a half on Sunday nights, sparring, and knocking one another's hats off, and dancing a tra-la-la on the sidewalk, in order to kill time until the congregation is dismissed, and then buckle up to a young man and escort him home. Not any.—Norristown Herald.

A Down Town Merchant

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquaining his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and the little fellow awoke next morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies and restless night have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudice of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

POSTAGE.

This Item of expense, now borne by the publishers, is equivalent to a reduction of 20 per cent on the cost to subscribers in former years.

CLUBS.

A discount of twenty per cent will be allowed to clubs of four or more persons. Thus: four four copies of Blackwood or of one Review will be sent, to one address, for $12.80, four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $46, and so on.

PREMIUMS.

New subscribers (applying early) for the year 1880 may have, without charge, the numbers for the last quarter of 1879 of such periodicals as they may subscribe for.

Or, instead, new subscribers, to any two, three, or four of the above periodicals may have one of the "Four Reviews" for 1879; subscribers to all five may have two of the "Four Reviews," or one set of Blackwood's Magazine for 1879.

No other premiums to subscribers nor discount to clubs can be allowed, unless the money is remitted direct to the publishers. No premiums given to clubs.

To secure premiums it will be necessary to make early application, as the stock available for that purpose is limited.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28, 1:30 A. M.

Falling, preceeded in the eastern part by stationery or higher barometer, colder notherly veering to warm easterly winds, clear weather followed by increasing cloudness.

AROUND HOME.

The sale of tickets for "Joshua Whitcomb" will commence at Preston's on Tuesday.

Mr. John M. Davis of this city has purchased a flour and grain store at Charlestown, Mass., and is now conducting the same.

There is a projected exodus of several young men from this city and neighboring towns to the west, to take place early in the spring.

P. McManus of Dover a few days ago sold to John Conlon of Boston a Newfoundland dog one year old and weighing one hundred and ten pounds, for $100.

The republican candidate for mayor of Portland is Mr. William Senter, formerly of this city, a brother of the late Timothy G. Senter, who was one of the best school teachers we ever had.

The tug Leyden made her thirteenth and last trip to the Plymouth on Thursday last, and took out all the stores then remaining on board, being those of the medical and navigation departments.

This evening Rev. Eugene M. O'Callaghan, pastor of St. Mary's church, will arrive home from a trip to Europe, and will be publicly received at the church by the people of his parish at about 7:30 o'clock, with an address of welcome, presentation, etc.

Capt. J. Albert Sanborn, formerly of this city but for several years past a resident of Deadwood, Dakota, we regret to learn has for some months been suffering severely with rheumatic fever. We are pleased to be able to add that he is now rapidly improving in health.

The Corinne opera troupe will appear at Music hall on Tuesday evening, March 9th, in the burlesque opera entitled the "Magic Slipper." The leading performer in this company is Little Corinne, the famous Little Buttercup of the Boston museum miniature Pinafore company.

The stonework forming the arch over the main entrance to the Franklin buildings is being taken out, and new and more-elaborately carved work will be put in. The front wall has been heavily and securely shored up to allow this alteration, the work being under the supervision of Hon. Albert Currier, assisted by a numerous sidewalk committee. The glazing for the buildings is being done by Mr. Walter Costello of this city.

The annual auction sale of the choice of sittings in the First Congregational church in Dover (Dr. Spaulding's) was held on Thursday evening. The attendance was quite large. The first choice was secured by Dea. John Bracewell, followed by W. B. Stevens, Samuel Fisher, Mayor Foye, Col. A. H. Young, E. C. Kinnear, Charles H. Sawyer, Daniel Hall, and others. The receipts were satisfactory, and show the commendable appreciation the members of this substantial society have for their able pastor.

There is said to have been quite an interesting episode at the Commercial house in this city this week. It began "Down East" when an interesting young lady of about eighteen summers started for school, but played truant in this wise: She met her lover at the depot, took cars with him across the New Hampshire line and sought a "Gretna Green" in our city and an abiding place at the Commercial. Before her parents were aware of her absence the couple had called upon Major Vaughan, our worthy city clerk, and in due course had been firmly tied in the bonds of wedlock. They have enjoyed this much of their honeymoon in our city, and we sincerely wish them long life and much happiness.—Journal.

Rev. E. Owen has temporarily accepted the agency in this city of the New Hampshire Bible Society, his duties being the collection of funds and the distribution of bibles. The work of the society is entirely gratuitous. The bibles are sold at cost to those who need them, and given freely to those whose means will not allow them to purchase. Mr. Owen is doing the work heretofore done by Mr. Chase in his annual visits; and any contributions to him for the cause will be well bestowed.

A communication was published in this paper just after Washington's birthday, in which the writer said "I visited Dover on Monday, and while walking through the business streets, I noticed that every store was shut except a Chinese laundry," and then contrasted this state of affairs in Dover with what he saw in this city, where he found the stores all open when he returned from Dover. The Dover Democrat more than hints that the writer of the communication referred to is not a temperance man, and saw through a glass darkly, as "no stores were 'shut' in Dover on Monday in the day-time, and there is no Chinese laundry here." To which we may add that nearly every store in Portsmouth did close at noon on the day mentioned.

A young man in a neighboring town having succeeded in persuading the idol of his heart to consent to matrimony, a few days ago went with her to the clergyman's residence to have the splice made, when to his consternation he found that during the excitement of the hour he had lost the marriage license, in which was enfolded the fee he had intended giving the parson. Here was a go—or rather a "no go," for the ceremony could not proceed without the license, so leaving the prospective bride at the parsonage the young man hastened to the house of the town clerk, two miles away, where another license was procured, and the eager lover in a short time again arrived at the parsonage, with the precious document so tightly clutched in both hands that the minister could hardly read it when it was handed to him. Ten minutes later the young fellow was a husband.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening:

Mrs. Howerth, who fell and broke her arm on Daniel street a few weeks ago, and who presented a claim for expenses incurred thereby, had leave to withdraw the same.

The subject of connecting the city marshal's office with the breweries by fire alarm telegraph, was referred to the committee on fire department with the chief engineer and mayor added, to ascertain the most practicable manner in which the same can be done.

The committee on claims, to whom was referred the bills of the health officers, reported that so much of said bills as refer to the said officers' salaries be paid, and that for the balance they be required to state more definitely the kind and amount of services rendered.

The city clerk reported the abstract of receipts and expenditures for the year 1879 ready for auditing. Referred to the supervisory committee on records, journal, and accounts.

The committee on finance recommended that the ex-collectors of taxes be directed to settle their accounts forthwith.

Adjourned for two weeks.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

The tickets for the performance of "Yorick's Love," by the eminent actor, at Music hall on Monday evening, are being rapidly taken, the plan being much marked up on Friday evening. Persons having a preference of chairs will do well to secure them to-day, for Lawrence Barrett in a great play is sure to draw a large audience, and the choice seats are of course the first ones taken.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK J.

Libel for divorce Charles A. Cooke vs. Sarah F. Cooke, by special assignment was heard in chambers, on Friday.

The libellant is a Baptist clergyman of Exeter, who complains of cruel treatment and desertion. The libellee filed a bill for divorce in Massachusetts, returnable at the April term of the court in that state, but the reverend libellant has got ahead by filing a bill in this state at a term anterior to the one in which the Massachusetts case would be heard. The charges and counter charges are cruel treatment, neglect, etc. The case occupied the day. Towle for libellant; Harriman for libellee.

Case of Judge of Probate vs. Smith, Haley and Hall was defaulted, and a referee to assess damages.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Simeon S. Brackett of Greenland has purchased the Jonathan Young timber-lot near Mt. Agamenticus in York, and is felling timber. A steam saw-mill will be at once put up on the lot, and 200,000 feet of lumber gotten out for the market.

Charles Lewis, who lives in York, near Mount Agamenticus, on Thursday, Feb. 19th, went to Cape Neddick for a day's clamming. The day was inclement, and his clamming did not amount to much; but on his way home he was asked to help a farmer saw up a big log, and did so, receiving as his reward all the hard cider he could drink, after which he continued his homeward progress for a while, when being overcome by the cider, cold and fatigue, he crawled into an old barn and stayed there all night, and was found there next day with one of his feet badly frozen. He was kindly cared for and taken home, where he has since been confined with a bad foot, and it is feared amputation will be necessary.

Sabbath school concert in the Court street Christian church, Sunday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Alden's lecture, Sunday evening, will be on "Taking account of stock," it being the close of his twelfth year as pastor of the Middle street church.

Rev. James DeNormandie will deliver the third discourse on "The Christian at home," at the vesper service of the South Parish.

—It is easy to enjoy a bad cigar. Give it to your enemy.

—"All the presidential candidates are in the hands of their friends." When the nominations are made, the two will be in the hands of their enemies.

—Somebody has written a new play called "The Mingo Spy," which is said to be full of horrors. It must be a misprint. Probably the "Mint Spy" is what is meant.—Hawkeye.

—When Naples was ruled by King Bomba, his majesty one day paid a visit to the ship of an English commodore lying in the bay. While the commodore was receiving his royal visitor on the quarter deck, a member of the Neapolitan suite cruising about midships mistook a windsail for a pillar, and leaning against it, suddenly went below head foremost. The only witness of the accident, an old tar, thereupon made for the quarter deck, and having saluted, said: "I beg pardon, commodore, but one of them ere kings has fell down the hatchway."

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, nearly opposite Grand Central Depot. 350 elegant rooms reduced to $1 and upwards per day. Capital, - - - - $2,000,000

SHARES, 40,000—PAR VALUE $50.

This large and valuable property consisting of about 12,000 acres, is surrounded by the following well-known hydraulic mines: "LITTLE YORK," "ROSE AND DURYEA," "SARGENT & JACOBS," "REMINGTON HILL," "BLUE TENT," "NORTH BLOOMFIELD," and others, which have been worked for years, producing millions of dollars. It has been thoroughly examined by Dr. Henry De Groot, whose report will be sent to those applying for it. With abundant water supply, and in close proximity to the Central Pacific R. R., it affords every advantage for highly profitable and economical hydraulic mining.

Fashionable Fancies.

Very dark colors continue stylish.

Girls over twelve will not wear bangs.

The Ulster is the leading spring wrap.

Spanish lace is the fancy of the moment.

New dress buttons all come in two sizes.

New calicoes are in small flowered designe.

Mrs. Hayes' corsage bouquet is always of pink tea roses.

Colored satin gathered bands are worn half way up the arm, bracelet fashion.

Diminutive patterns in brocaded materials are among recent importations.

Yellow, red and brilliant dark colors are mingled with faint faile colors in new goods.

White silk and white gauze form the composition of many elegant dresses this season.

Gilt and silver balls for the hair are a fashion brought in by the Spanish royal marriage.

Small sun-flowers, from one-third to half the natural size, are popular as corsage bouquets.

Misses part their hair in the middle, and arrange the front in soft, flat rings on the forehead.

Gold thread traceries around the designs of white Spanish laces appear in late importations.

Cendrelon is a new guaze material, being wrought with gold or silver thread, for ball dresses.

Handsome jetted bonnets are worn with carriage, reception, church and full dress promenade toilets.

Beaded passementeries will be largely used for trimming silks and satins used in costumes and wraps for the early spring.

The newest lace cravat is a large lace bow called the Merveilleuse, in imitation of the bows worn during the French revolution.

Dragons, bugs, butterflies and birds in indefinite forms appear among palm leaves and other Eastern designs of lately imported spring goods.

Ball coiffures for young ladies are very simple this season, the only ornaments admissible being a few flowers, over jewelled comb or poniard.

The most elegant mule dressing slippers are of black satin lined with red silk and decorated with black velvet bows with gold or steel buckles.

Violet is the fashionable color just now, and that in all its shades, from the color of an iris to the soft hues of the Parmese violet and the Persian lilac.

The latest style of gloves has from three to five half-inch bands of gold colored silk stitched around the wrists, after the manner of bracelets, one above the other.

One of the prettiest of the new spring fabrics bears the name of Fleur-de The. It is as thin as cambric and elastic like crape, and returns to its crinkled form after being laundried.

The latest novelty in the way of making up velvet is to have the dress composed of a perfectly plain corsage, plain coat sleeves and a plain demitrained skirt without flounces, tablier or overskirt.

Odds and ends of good old lace can be used up and shown off by putting them on to small pieces of muslin and allowing them to peep out of the fronts of dresses or on the side pocket of a casaquin or bodice, simulating a pocket handkerchief.

A Baffled Parent.

There is a baffled old man in Williamsport, and he is disgusted, too. It seems that he learned that his daughter intended to elope upon a certain evening with a lover upon whose suit he frowned. So he locked his child up in her room, and sat down stairs listening for the sound of the lover's carriage wheels.

But that disgraceful young man tied rags around the tires of his sulky, so as to muffle the noise, and he drove softly up to the back gate. He then sent a boisterous, rickety hack around to the front, and engaged the man to make as much racket as he could for the money.

When the infuriated father heard it he rushed out with a shot-gun, just in time to see a female figure jump into the back and drive off. He fired two rounds of buckshot at the concern, rushed out and got his horse and started in pursuit.

Meantime, the insidious outcast who loved his daughter persuaded her to slide down the lightning-rod, and then he fled away with her in an opposite direction from that in which the enraged parent had gone.

The bereaved old man caught up with the hack about eighteen miles out of town, and he not only shot at the driver, but he burst the door open and dragged forth—a man, dressed in a waterproof cloak.

The father was immediately arrested for highway robbery and assault and battery with intent to kill, and the prosecutors say they will press the suit unless he comes down with a handsome dower for his daughter, and then gives the couple his paternal blessing.

There is no use trying to explain the mental condition of this old man. The English language is copious and vigorous, and all that, but it falls utterly in these extreme cases.

—Everything in nature indulges in amusement. The lightning plays, the wind whistles, the thunder rolls, the snow flies, the waves leap and the fields smile. Even the buds shoot and the rivers run.

The effects after taking Adamson's Botanic Balsam are a soothing and controlling influence over any cough or cold, promoting rest, allaying the tickling sensation in the throat, and causing a healthy expectoration.

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, ANTIDOTE SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I voluntarily make the following statement:—

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very, aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours,

MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 18, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by our well-known druggist, MR. LYONS, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity. Yours truly, F. P. CARROLL,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

38 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle, CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC ELECTRIC PLASTERS

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES
KIDNEY DISEASES,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
Constipation and Piles.

DR. E. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGARON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

The circulation of the popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. Its contents at the beginning have combined the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestion and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for erecting buildings and fencing utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A trustworthy feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen,—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for six years, and for the last five years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temples, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I would then have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mucus from my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my tonsils were ulcerated, and so much inflamed that I could scarcely swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but as his report appeared to me to be inflammatory, an ulceration in my throat caused by the poisonous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly,—a deep hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of the disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When matters had reached this stage, or about six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using it as a gargle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as if I had not known what it was to have it. I coughed frequently to arrest the discharges. It stopped my cough in three days. My throat, using it as a gargle, became free from inflammation and swelling, of my tonsils reduced, the inflammation and swelling of my tonsils so that they soon ceased to trouble me. The constant dropping down from my head and throat ceased, and I could stand, my senses of seeing and of hearing were greatly improved, and every symptom of Catarrh had led reduced me to the verge of the grave disappeared by the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

I have been this explicit because, as a druggist, I have seen a great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and wish to confirm those many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as practiced by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every form of remedy and apparatus that have appeared during a period of six years past, and have, while following that line, taken great care of my general health, and found no relief or encouragement from any of them. Mica Mining in New Hampshire.

The local interest in mining stocks has been recently increased by the introduction of a new enterprise,—the mining of mica, in New Hampshire. A thousand acres of land has been bonded, or otherwise secured, on which there are very promising indications. Professor C. O. Thompson, of the Worcester Free Institute, has been employed to inspect the locality, and in his report he says:—

"The mica vein appears to run completely across this property, a distance of about two and one-half miles, of which I inspected the part lying in the pastures, which was denuded by the heavy rain of Friday, Feb. 13th. The portion lying in the woodland was concealed by snow: * * * * I found the show of mica as good at the bottom as at the top of their drift. The mica occurs in large sheets throughout the workable vein. This vein has in many places a width of seventy-five feet. I measured sheets in the Grafton Co. opening two feet long, and have specimens of cut mica 5 x 7 in. The most common sizes in market are 2 1-2 x 5 by 3 1-2 x 7 in., so that the size is satisfactory. The excavation in the Grafton Co. mine, from which sixty-five hundred pounds have been taken, is 40 x 50 x 100 feet, and I see no reason why this general portion of mica should not prevail throughout your property, as wherever the ledge is now exposed, I find satisfactory surface indications of mica."

He closes his report with the following summary: "There is in all probability an inexhaustible store of mica on your property. No such property could be more favorably situated as to accessibility, ease of drainage, transportation of product, and comfort of men. The mica is easily separated from the rock, can be removed on trucks without any hoist, and requires no machinery, at any stage, to prepare it for market. I am told that a gang of five men averaged a daily produce of six pounds of mica per man, ready for market. The wages of the men averaged $1.25 per day. I think it would be impossible to find a mining property where the preliminary indications were more satisfactory."

There are said to be but two other localities in this country where mica is obtained in paying quantities—one in North Carolina, where the deposit is 100 feet below the surface, and the mine is flooded, and the other is in Canada. Mica is in extensive use, and of high cost. Sheets cutting from four to seven inches square sell for from $4 to $8 per pound, and specimens from this mine are on exhibition at Messrs. C. B. Whiting & Co.'s, No. 415 Main street, which are of the best quality, and they are of especial interest to geologists. Immense specimens of beryl, which always accompanies mica, and of rose quartz, are also shown there, and local geologists will find them interesting—Worcester Gazette.

A Cross Baby.

Nothing is so conducive to a man's remaining a bachelor as stopping for one night at the house of a married friend and being kept awake for five or six hours by the crying of a cross baby. All cross and crying babies need only Hop Bitters to make them well and smiling. Young man, remember this.—Traveller.

—Dan Dennison, the famous race-driver, was telling in Max Magner's saloon, the other evening, about the many kinds of whiskey he had drank in travelling over the coast to drive at the different races and fairs. "I have been into some pretty tough bar-rooms," said he, as he shifted a hood which he was carrying from one arm to the other, "but the worst drink of liquor I ever got was in Reno. In less than two minutes after I swallowed it down it stopped my watch.—Stockton, Cal., Mail.

A Democrat Cured.

A leading democrat of Burlington, Mr. E. M. Sutton, speaks in the highest terms of the curative power of the celebrated Kidney-Wort. It first cured him of a distressing kidney disease, and no now uses it whenever he has any symptoms of biliousness or needs toning up. It acts efficiently on the bowels, and cures the worst cases of piles.

—When a child in a small Bavarian village was being catechised by a priest, and asked how many things are necessary in a service of baptism, he promptly replied: "Three, father," "Ah, you stupid," replied the holy man, "I thought everybody knew that only two are absolutely necessary; first, water, and second, the Bible. Now, young sir, won't you tell me what are the three?" The boy looked up with a blank smile, and answered: "My father, the three are, first, water; second, the Bible; and third, a baby."

Kidney-Wort has proved the most effective cure for piles and constipation; be sure to try it.

—At least eight of the Congregational churches established in Massachusetts between 1629 and 1725 are now Unitarian.

—She said: "I am going to the post-office, John; shall I inquire for you?" "Well, yes, if you have a mind to; but I don't think you will find me there."

—The carelessness that a deaf man exhibits in walking on a railroad track, is equalled only by that shown by a woman with her pocketbook when on a shopping expedition.

—A young lady writes to an exchange: "For my part, I prefer an evening passed at home with a pleasant book to attending balls, parties and theatres." O, certainly. When a young lady hasn't a beau, nor a newbonnet, nor a new walking costume, she generally prefers to remain at home with a book—which she is too mad to read.

MONDAY, MARCH 1, 1880.

The Hoodlum War.

The Kearney-Kalloch-hoodlom war has reached the assembly chamber at Sacramento, Cal. Kearney has been making himself very officious about the legislative halls, and on Thursday last a motion —evidently aimed at the great blatherskite—was made to exclude all but privileged persons from the floor of the assembly room. After the adjournment Kearney approached one of the members and used threatening language toward him. On Friday the assembly resolved that Kearney had been guilty of an attempt to intimidate a member, and should be excluded from all premises under control of the assembly.

There was also another lively little passage in the assembly on Friday. Mr. Kingman, a member from San Francisco, recently telegraphed to Kearney: "We hear you are erecting a gallows on the sand-lots; there is more need of erecting a gallows in Sacramento. Come up immediately, and bring some hemp." On Friday a resolution was introduced to inquire into the matter. A lively discussion ensued, during which Braunhart, a "workingman" member from San Francisco, refused to obey the orders of the speaker to sit down, and was brought to the house and suspended three days. Subsequently when the Kearney question came up Braunhart appeared on the floor and demanded the right to vote, and the speaker ordered him removed as an intruder.

A Telegraph War.

The Union Pacific railroad company on Friday seized the lines of the Western Union telegraph company on the Kansas Pacific railroad, in defiance of the injunction granted by Judge Elliott, and also seized the lines of the Atlantic & Pacific telegraph company on the Union Pacific railroad. This was accomplished by taking forcible possession of the lines and running them into offices prepared by the American Union telegraph company at Omaha, Nebraska. The lines on the Kansas railroad were built by the Western Union telegraph company under contract with the railroad, and the telegraph company's right to the lines has never been questioned. The Union Pacific railroad company made a perpetual lease of its lines to the Atlantic & Pacific telegraph company some years ago, by which it is bound to give all the revenues from offices operated by the railroad company to the Atlantic & Pacific telegraph company, and received in compensation therefor nearly $2,000,000 worth of the telegraph company's stock. The Western Union company's lines on the main stem of the Union Pacific railroad have not been disturbed.

News and Notes.

On Friday morning about six o'clock Richard Elliott, about eighty years old, left his house at Danvers, Mass., and being shortly missed by his wife, the police were notified and made a search which resulted in the finding of Mr. Elliott's dead body floating in the river. Mr. Elliott was a man of good character, a cooper by trade, and had just recovered partially from a sickness which left his mind in an unsound condition.

In the United States circuit court in New York, Friday, the case of William L. Whiting of Brooklyn, charging a libel against Postmaster James of, New York for stamping a letter addressed to John Daff, a well-known lottery dealer, as "fradulent," under orders of the postmaster-general, was discontinued. District Attorney Asa W. Tenney conducted the case on behalf of Postmaster James, and on application of the plaintiff Judge Benedict consented to a discontinuance of the suit, the costs being paid by Whiting.

The British freight steamer Para, bound from Boston for West Hartlepool, Eng., with a full cargo, has foundered in deep water off Cape Sable, having struck a rock. Crew saved.

A circular has been issued by the United States treasury department revoking the order which prohibited the importation of neat cattle from the Dominion of Canada.

A number of striking workmen in Hoyt & Wynkoop's nickel-plating works at Troy, N. Y., on Friday evening assaulted and badly beat John Wynkoop, brother of one of the firm. Hoyt and his partner attempted to rescue Wynkoop, but were beaten off, Hoyt's arm being broken and his head cut by kicks. John Wynkoop, finding his friends could not rescue him, drew a revolver and fired seven shots, hitting Jacob Dunn, the leader of the assailants, in the head, left shoulder and hand. Peter Curry received a bullet in his left side, John Cahill got one in his right arm, and Lansing Smith was shot in the head. Eight of the assaulting party were arrested.

A. L. Drummond of the United States secret service gives the following warning: "A counterfeit $10 legal tender note has just made its appearance in Chicago, series 1875, check letter C, John Allison register, and John C. New treasurer. The note is dark in appearance, paper heavy, and the imitation fibre is made by engraved lines. Bankers, merchants, shop-keepers and others will do well to keep a lookout for these notes."

Miss Harris of Cumberland, Me., aged forty years, was killed at Falmouth crossing on the Grand Trunk railway, Wednesday evening of last week, by a train striking her sleigh.

At an old ladies' party at North Springfield, Vt., recently, there were seven ladies present whose ages aggregated 582 years.

Dr. John Brown Smith, confined in the Hampshire county, Mass., jail for nearly a year for refusing to pay $2.12 poll tax, assessed to him at Belchertown, has been released, his friends paying the tax and $3.50 costs. He had conscientious scruples against "paying a tax to live," and has refused to avail himself of the poor debtor's avenue of escape, as he might honestly have done.

The Gloucester, Mass., board of health are taking active measures to prevent the spread of diphtheria and scarlet fever through the medium of the public schools, by excluding therefrom all children in families and houses where these diseases prevail; and by the isolation of cases, speedy burial where the cases prove fatal, and prompt and thorough disinfection of infected premises.

Mrs. Nan y McMahon, of Stowe, Vt., aged 103 years, was buried on Friday of last week.

About twenty of the persons present at the cock-fight at the Glen house, Pittsfield, Mass., Wednesday night of last week, have been fined $10, each and costs. Among the number were several prominent young men of the neighborhood, including a physician of Dalton. The girl, Norah Tierney, who was accidentally shot, is recovering.

Edward Douglass and Frank Harris had a prize fight in a room in Philadelphia, Friday morning. Both men were badly beaten, and Harris had his skull broken and will probably die. No matter.

Herbert F. Burrill and Andrew B. Coombs, the two men who sailed from Boston on the 9th of July last for Melbourne, Australia, in the little boat "Golden Gate," measuring only one and a quarter tons, arrived at New York on Friday in the steamer City of Para from South America, bringing their boat with them. As reported at the time, they reached the Cape de Verdes in fifty-eight days from Boston, sailing again Sept. 17th. They were subsequently battered about by head winds and gales, lost most of their provisions, and after suffering many hardships landed on the coast of Brazil twenty miles north of Bahia. They had to eat their boots before they reached land.

Vera Saussulitch, the noted female agent of the Russian nihilists, has been arrested.

Naval Gazette.

Medical Inspector R. C. Dean has been appointed president, and Surgeon J. H. Kidder and Naval Constructor T. D. Wilson members, of a board to make sanitary inspection of the U. S. S. Plymouth, at this port.

Capt. James E. Jouett has been nominated for advancement seventeen numbers, and promotion to the grade of commodore on the active list.

Boatswain Daniel Ward is detached from the Minnesota, and placed on waiting orders. Boatswain Robert Anderson is ordered to the Minnesota, and Boatswain John A. Sinclair to the Portsmouth. Boatswain John A. Brisco has reported his return home from the Pensacola, and is placed on waiting orders.

Capt. H. A. Bartlett, U. S. M. C., is ordered to relieve Lieut. B. R. Russell of the command of the Minnesota's marine guard; Lieut Russell is ordered to report at the marine barracks in Washington.

Commander Louis Kempff is detached from equipment duty at Mare island, and Comdr. Robert Boyd is ordered to that duty.

Pay Inspector Rufus Parks, on being detached from duty at Norfolk, will be placed on waiting orders.

Paymaster W. W. Woodhull is ordered to duty at League island, as inspector of provisions and clothing; Chief Engineer Edward Fithian, to special duty at New York; Lieut. Wm. W. Wood, from the Saratoga to equipment duty at Washington; Lieut Fred'k Collins, from the coast survey to the Saratoga; Passed Asst. Engr. Wm. H. Harris from special duty at Fort Wayne, Ind., and placed on waiting orders; Master Francis Winslow, to the Saratoga.

Backed Down.

Postmaster-General Key has revoked his orders forbidding the delivery of letters addressed to agents of the Louisiana state lottery, which action is sharply criticised by many congressmen who have taken deep interest in the fight of the post-office department to suppress lotteries. The action of General Key was taken, it is understood, without the knowledge of the law officers of the government, and seems to have been brought about by strong political influence. It is the opinion in Washington that the action of the department is virtually a surrender of the whole question, and that other lottery companies will be placed on the same footing as the Louisiana lottery.

New Hampshire Items.

The Hampstead Congregational society have subscribed $18.75 to the New York Herald's Irish relief fund.

John B. Smith has started up the clothespin shop at Sunapee, and all the factories in town are running to their full capacity. M. C. Muzzy is expected to soon re-establish his axe factory in the same town.

Governor Head has appointed Thursday, the 8th day of April next, as a day of fasting and prayer.

It is reported that Walter Aiken of Franklin has sold his screw factory to Russel & Irwin of New York for $150,000 cash.

The democratic state committee will hold a meeting in Concord on March 18th to determine upon the time, place and manner of selecting delegates to the democratic national convention.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

Three boys were run over by a shifting engine at Great Falls on Friday afternoon last, while playing on the track of the Boston & Maine railroad, one being killed outright, another dying soon after the accident, and the third being probably fatally injured.

—A Detroit girl thrashed two street loafers who bothered her, and then went home and saw a mouse and jumped up on top of a book-case and fainted away. Street loafers in Detroit will hereafter carry nice in their pockets to trot out for self-protection.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

AROUND HOME.

William H. Hackett, Esq., will give his lecture upon European travel in Dover on Wednesday evening.

The class of 1880 of the Newmarket high school numbers only four,—one young man and three young women.

It is rumored that Messrs. Joseph H. Gardiner and Chas. A. Hazlett are to succeed the late Mr. Craig in the insurance business.

Most of the workmen in the steam engineering department at the navy yard were on Saturday afternoon suspended until further orders, owing to a lack of funds.

On Sunday afternoon Frank Magraw, in jumping from a boat on to the float at the navy yard landing, slipped and fell into the water; a cold bath was the only result.

The checklist of North Hampton, as posted by the supervisors, bears the names of two hundred and sixty-one voters, a gain of seven from last year. There are twenty-one Browns on the list.

The fishing schooners which made a harbor at Newburyport on Monday of last week were all (with one exception) kept in port until Friday by the sea on the bar, which was the heaviest of the season. The one exception was the Northern Eagle, which made a bold dash for the bar on Tuesday, and got out in safety.

On Thursday evening of last week, when George D. Shippey, an engineer who lives in Dover and runs a freight train between that city and Portland, returned to his home, he found that his wife had during his absence taken all of value which she could carry off, and left, further investigation showing that she had gone away from the city. The woman has no children of her own, but took away with her an adopted child.

In response to a telegram announcing the arrest in Baltimore of Henry Beckman, a notorious horse-thief who is wanted in this state and Massachusetts to answer for several crimes, Sheriff Kent left this city on the four o'clock train Saturday morning, to bring the prisoner this way. Beckman is a very slippery customer, and has squeezed through the fingers of the officers several times, just as they thought they were sure to catch him.

Mrs. Charles. G. Sinclair, whose death we chronicle to-day, was the mother of Hon. John G. Sinclair of Bethlehem, and a sister of the late Moses Norris, formerly United States senator from this state. Mrs. Sinclair's husband was for three years in the United States army in the war of 1812, and Mrs. Sinclair's name was about a year since inscribed upon the pension roll. She was well known in this city, and was a lady of uncommon personal worth.

Charles E. St. Clair, Esq., died in Washington, D. C., Feb. 24th; his remains were brought to Greenland, Friday evening, the 27th, and deposited in the tomb of the March family in that town funeral services being held at the old March place. About 1865 and '66 Mr. St. Clair had a law office in this city, and was also somewhat prominent in local political affairs at that time. He married Miss Susan March, a sister of Clement and Charles W. March, who survives him.

Great Falls Manufacturing Co's stock took quite a "boom" in Boston last week. One hundred shares were sold on Tuesday at 118 1-2; on Saturday, at auction, twenty shares went at 123 1-2, and ten shares at 128—a big jump. A few shares in the Salmon Falls company changed hands at from 377 1-2 to 385. Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway 4 1-2s, to the amount of $3000, were auctioned off at 78; $5000 of Eastern 4 1-2s went at 92, at the brokers' board, and $500 at 93, at auction; Eastern railroad stock brought 37 3-4 and 38, at the brokers' board, and 36 3-4 at auction.

THE U. S. S. "MARION."

Considerable excitement was occasioned in this city on Saturday by the announcement that the U. S. S. Marion, which laid at this navy yard several months last summer and on board of which are a number of Portsmouth men, was at Montevideo with yellow fever on board, one officer having died and several others being down with the dread pestilence. The Marion touched at Rio Janeiro for coal on or about Feb. 1st, on her way to join the South Pacific squadron, and advices then sent home reported all well; but she must have caught the disease there, for on Friday the navy department received intelligence that she was at Montevideo, and that there had been, up to the time the despatches were sent, twenty-one cases of yellow fever on board, Lieut. John P. Wallis and an ordinary seaman named John Rodgers having died. The officers and crew had been removed to Flores island, and the ship fumigated; and all the sick were convalescing except Cadet Midshipman Harvey Wike. The Marion has among her officers Lieut. W. I. Moore, who is navigating officer, and Ensign William Winder; and there are several Portsmouth men among her crew, which numbers 220 all told.

FATHER O'CALLAGHAN'S WELCOME.

St. Mary's (Roman Catholic) church was crowded, Saturday evening, the occasion being a public welcome to the pastor of the church, Rev. Eugene M. O'Callaghan, on his return from a trip to Europe. The church was specially prepared for the event, and presented a fine appearance. The exercises included the presentation to the pastor of an address of welcome from the people, (the address being printed on white satin, and framed in gold,) and a purse of nearly $400, Father O'Callaghan responding with much feeling. In the course of his remarks he gave an account of an interview with the head of the church, at Rome, and paid a warm tribute to his home by adoption, Portsmouth. Harlow's orchestra assisted at the exercises, and the attendance was by no means confined to members of the parish, the mayor and other city officials, and many other personal friends of Mr. O'Callaghan outside the Catholic church, being present.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

This evening the audience at Music hall—and it will without doubt be a large audience—will see one of the most noted actors of the day, in a play which is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful dramatic productions of modern times.

The scene is laid in London in Shakespeare's day, and the principal characters are actors in the Globe theatre. Yorick is a comedian, the husband of a young wife, and foster-father to a grown son. The wife and foster-son have played in the same company, and, much against their best impulses, loved. This is their only crime. Yorick has no suspicion of the fact. A new play is to be brought out, in which there is no comedy part. Yorick beseeches the leading role, which is that of an injured husband—unwittingly desires to play his own life on the stage. The manager reluctantly consents. This enrages the "leading man" of the theatre, and he becomes a sort of Iago. Yorick's wife is cast as the unfaithful spouse; and the foster-son, Edmund, as an adopted son and betrayer, in the new play. Thus they are to act their own real lives. The agony of Alice and Edmund is terrible; they know not how to go through such an ordeal. In the second act—there are three in all—Iago influences Yorick's jealousy against his wife, but even then Yorick does not mistrust his protege. The third act is a play within a play. It opens in the green room of the theatre. Here are some very strong scenes. The villain's envious hate grows as Yorick's success as a tragedian is apparent. Yorick has demanded proofs. During the evening Alice has received a note from Edmund, announcing his purpose of flight and begging her to go with him. This the villain, Walton, obtains. In the play he is to hand a similar letter to Yorick, which of course would be a blank piece of paper; but when, in the next scene, which is supposed to be the stage of the Globe theatre, he hands Yorick this letter, the climax is reached. Yorick's grief is terrible; his rage is greater. He, of course, puts the worst interpretation on their relations, and shows the guilty parties the missive. This for a moment breaks up the action of the mimic play, but Yorick regains his composure, forms a terrible purpose, and proceeds with his lines. When he comes to the place where he kills the perfidious lover he does his work in earnest, and Edmund falls dead at his feet. The stage is soon crowded with the attaches of the theatre, and the manager announces that one of the actors having been accidentally wounded the play cannot proceed. A transparent screen then falls, and the real play and the mimic one are closed by the suicide of Yorick.

THE CALIFORNIA MINSTRELS.

The California minstrels, headed by Cool Burgess, will give an entertainment at Music hall next Thursday evening. The Springfield Union speaks thus of the company:

The California minstrels have taken a place in the front rank of burnt cork entertainments, and appear to be abundantly able to hold their own. Their programme at Music hall Tuesday evening was a good one, and finely rendered. The "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" by Joe Norcross, "They Stole my Child Away" by Cool Burgess, and the other selections in the concert part, received warm and well-merited applause. One of the best features, however, of the evening, was the clog dancing by the "world's team." The nimble-footed devotees of terpsichore were called out repeatedly, adding new and graceful movements with each re-appearance. The instrumental music was excellent, and the Californias have reason to congratulate themselves upon the remarkable and deserved success which follows them everywhere they go.

PORTSMOUTH MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Medical Society was held at the house of the retiring president, Dr. Hall, on Friday evening last. The meeting was an interesting and important one, and was well attended by the medical fraternity of this city and vicinity. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Dr. Benjamin W. Curtis, president;
Dr. N. L. Folsom, treasurer;
Dr. Daniel W. Jones, secretary;
Drs. John W. Parsons, Samuel C. Whittier and Jeremiah F. Hall, executive committee.

The medical brethren were then invited to a choice banquet given by the retiring president, which invitation was heartily accepted, and the viands were discussed and dissected with great zeal and satisfaction. The meeting broke up at a late hour after passing a vote of thanks to the generous host.

JOSHUA WHITCOMB.

Next Saturday evening, at Music hall, Denman Thompson will appear as Joshua Whitcomb, the Yankee farmer, and will be greeted by a large audience, notwithstanding the fact that Saturday evening is not a good date for a show in this city. Of the piece to be presented the New York Evening Post thus speaks:

A very remarkable and entertaining performance may now be seen at the Lyceum theatre, where Mr. Denman Thompson is giving a representation of what the programme calls a three-act comedy-drama, entitled "Joshua Whitcomb." Mr. Thompson is, we believe, the author of this play; and, while it has not even the semblance of a plot, candor compels the admission that he has succeeded in compiling one of the most curious dramatic structures ever submitted to public consideration, and which has only to be known to become one of the most popular pieces of the day. Mr. Thompson swayed his audience last night at his pleasure. His pathos seemed to be as rare and as spontaneous as his humor. Anything more touching than the simple gentleness of the rough farmer at the bedside of the dying woman in the garret is seldom seen on the stage. As the dying woman breathes he kneels to pray by the side of her pallet. At this instant the drunken husband enters, and falls prostrate in an attempt to strike the kneeling farmer. The latter springs to his feet, drags the intruder to an open window and flings him out. He then returns to the bed and kneels again. The slightest indication of irreverence in this scene would reduce it to the level of blasphemous burlesque, but Mr. Thompson plays it with such sturdiness of purpose that the spectator only admires the man who is bold enough to fight and too brave to be ashamed of praying.

A special train from Dover to this city and return has been engaged for Saturday evening, by parties in Dover, and it is expected that two hundred or more persons from that city will attend the performance, so the residents of this city who intend to go will do well to secure their seats early. The sale of tickets commences Tuesday.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Miss Sarah O. Jewlit of South Berwick has a poem in the Atlantic for March.

The town debt of Kennebunk is $179.09. Plenty of places would be willing to swap debts.

The fusionists of Saco on Thursday last nominated Rishworth Jordan as their candidate for mayor. Rev. H. A. Wales addressed the meeting in the evening.

Joseph Winn of Wells has sold and shipped from that town since the first of September last seven hundred and twenty-five bushels of clams in the shells, and over one hundred gallons of shucked clams.

At Wells beach, one morning recently, Aaron and Leander Perkins went off to one of the ledges lying off the neck to shoot sea-ducks, and after watching for some hours without getting a shot a flock came near enough to fire at, and eleven birds were taken, weighing sixty pounds. Two of the old sea-drakes weighed eleven pounds and three ounces.

The Biddeford fusionists are so earnest for inflation that they practised it in declaring the vote at their caucus for mayor, where the number of votes announced as thrown was over four hundred, while the Times reporter, who actually counted the men as they passed through to vote, gives the number as one hundred and forty-seven. But four hundred and ten had a better sound when the vote was announced.

The somewhat indefinite "Mr. S. McIntire of York county," who is being so generously quoted as an opponent of sugar-beet culture, proves, on investigation by a Journal representative, to be John McIntire, Esq., of York, a gentleman well known as one of the most practical and successful farmers in Maine. The reasons which he advances for his position on this question are very logical, and most of them, indeed, beyond contradiction.—Gt. Falls Journal.

One thousand and fifteen tramps were furnished with meals at the poor-house in Kennebunk last year.

The fusionists of Kennebunkport, who last year nominated the notorious "Mose" Hartman for moderator, selectman and town agent, this year left him out in the cold at the caucus. A tool with which a dirty job is done is often flung aside afterward.

Edwin C. Moody of York, a member of Gov. Garcelon's council and chairman of the committee on elections of that notorious gang of scamps, was before the investigating committee of the Maine legislature on Thursday last up to a late hour at night, and it is said "made startling disclosures concerning the transactions of the council with reference to the election returns." Moody has been credited with being one of the most prominent and enthusiastic of the fusion counters-out, and it will be remembered that he was elected a member of "Gov." Smith's council by the same body that elected Smith governor, viz., the legislature chosen by Pillsbury and Garcelon; also that he declined to be sworn in after he found that the republicans were determined not to submit to the outrageous swindling of the fusion "reformers," but cleared out from Augusta in a hurry as soon as the legal legislature had organized. There is no doubt that he can tell a great deal, and it is quite likely he has told it as reported. His testimony is withheld from the public for the present.

Twenty Years Ago.

Twenty years ago, writes "Howard" to the Philadelphia Times, on the 15th day of February, I began my professional career on the staff of a New York paper, at the head of which was one of the keenest, deepest, and most brilliant intellects known to journalism—so regarded by James Gordon Bennett, Horace Greeley, M. M. Noah, James Watson Webb, Charles A. Dana, and Gerard Halleck, men competent to judge and to render a verdict. Connected with that paper and with the then existing first-class metropolitan journals were fifteen or twenty of the brightest fellows I ever knew—men who, in their brief existence, challenged the admiration of all who knew them, and extended their reputation far beyond the line and limit of metropolitan journalism. Friday was pay day. How well I recollect the day; how well I remember its habit. Not far off was a restaurant, attached to which was what was then regarded as a magnificent bar-room. The invariable practice of the young men at that time was to meet in that bar-room and chat and drink and talk and drink, and then take another and another and another, until the evening drew near, and all would separate, some going home, some to work, others to lounge up town. At night, after work was done, the consciousness of a bar-room and restaurant a little further down town were sought, the men dropping in one after another or in groups to take a bite of something and a drink, and a drink, and a drink. Did they get drunk? Not at all. Noisy? Not in the least. Disorderly? Not a bit of it. And the next day? Well, we were young then, our heads didn't trouble us much, stomachs were right and tight, and the fumes of the liquor rarely mounted to the workshop, and whenever we met, a drink or a cigar was as natural an offer as the "Good morning" or "How are you?" Well, that generation is all dead. In it were poets, authors, orators, men whose names can be found in the catalogues of our great libraries, whose bound books rest upon the table of many a woman, of whom the existing generation of newspaper men know but little. Another generation succeeded them; where are they? Why, the beer saloons, the piano warerooms, the theatre foyers and the club parlors of ten years ago knew a set of men of whom most brilliant things were predicted—poets, writers, speakers, singers, all jolly, jovial fellows. Where are they? Most of them are dead, and I believe that the reason that most of them are dead is that they drank too much, worked too hard, ate irregularly and slept too little.

—The rooster crows when the egg is incubated, because he knows the hen likes to have her lay set to music.

—On a recent rainy day in San Francisco, the Alta California relates, a Chinaman entered a Clay street car, looked about and seemed disappointed at not finding a vacant seat. A son of Erin rose, took off his hat, and said, with fine sarcasm, "Please sit down." John dropped quietly into the seat, without a word, and the astonished Milesian had to stand till somebody got out. The passengers laughed a little at the incident, and they didn't seem to be laughing at the Chinaman.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year of medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

—When Mesmer was the rage in Paris a favorite lap dog of the actress, Mlle. Arnault, fell sick and was immediately sent to be mesmerized. After magnetic passes the little sufferer became quiescent, and the paroxysm not returning, he was sent back with a certificate of his complete restoration to health and vigor. And then he was sufficiently malicious to turn right around—about three hundred times a minute—and die. "But, thank heaven," said his comforted mistress, "I have the documents to show that the poor dear died in perfect health."

Passaic Sambuci Wine for Medicinal Use.

A noted Homœopathic physician says: "I take great pleasure in testifying my approbation of the superior qualities of the Sambuci Wine produced by Mr. A. Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey.

After a prolonged trial I can confidently recommend it as a superior article of wine for the sick and debilitated, and all those who require vinous stimulation and invigoration.

I shall continue to employ it in my practice in all cases where a pure article of wine is called for the sick; and shall do all in my power to foster and encourage its production."

The closest observation could not reveal the outlines of a house anywhere, and to the question how long he intended to keep stepping" before reaching his neighbor's the answer was: "Well, I'm most there now. I've only six miles to go yet; but last spring we hadn't any very near neighbors."

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I voluntarily make the following statement:

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, further than simply giving me temporary good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times was such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA in April and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strong medicine, and would not hesitate to take it in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours, MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 18, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and cover my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by our well-known druggist, MR. LYONS, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity. Yours truly, P. F. CARROLL, Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

28 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 20, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,

From the Oporto Grape, raised by Mr. Speer at his vineyards, is a rich, heavy-bodied Port, prescribed by Physicians in place of California and imported Ports; used by families for weddings, and as an evening wine; and by ladies and weakly persons for strengthening; also for a principal wine for communion purposes. $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

Speer's P. J. Sherry

is a Wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the golden qualities of the grape from which it is made. For purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled. $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Thousands of persons at this assertion would purchase the new medical work, published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION!

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or any impairment by the excess of pouring too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains a natural and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in towns and cities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestion and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets—Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news a matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen.—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had ringing in the head, pains across the temple, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated nostrils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation, would then have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mucus from my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my nostrils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation, but at his request postponed it. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the poisonous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly,—a deep hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of a speedy death by consumption. When matters had reached this stage, or about six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as I had not known it to be for years. It seemed gradually to arrest the discharges. It stopped my dropping down from my head and Gumption.

Sometimes we see a young man's career in business come to a stand-still, when he folds his tents and quietly leaves Portsmouth in the belief that it is a dull place. At the same time, some one from a distant city comes here and achieves success in the same line of business. Some of the fortunes made in Portsmouth have been gathered by those not to the manor born. Why? Because they had gumption. We have in mind several instances where men have come to Portsmouth, have shown themselves possessed of enterprise, industry and business traits, and they have succeeded, because they possessed in a great degree what the men who had gone out lacked, to wit, gumption. Some time since a young man had fitted for him a fine store; it was stocked properly, and it occupied one of the best stands in the city. He waited for expected trade to flow in. It did not come. He was compelled to close business and dispose of his stock at a sacrifice, and the person who backed him lost heavily on the experiment. It was easily accounted for. He failed to advertise. No one in town or out knew from any information gained from the papers, even where he kept his store, or what he had for sale. He was a simple noncentity, as far as buyers knew, and he disappeared early from his former home. Not so with those who come here and bring with them a determination to succeed by the use of the proper means of inviting business. They advertise judiciously, and succeed. They inform the public that they are ready for business, and business comes to them, while those whose notions are too narrow to permit them to tell the public what they have to sell or what they are ready to do, fail for want of sufficient extent of ideas, without which no success in business can be achieved.

A Conspiracy Exposed.

Some time ago a man named Lewis died, and left all his property, amounting to something like $2,000,000, to the United States government, to be applied to the extinguishment of the national debt. He was not supposed to have any legal heirs, but a woman appeared at his funeral claiming to be his wife and consequently the heir to his vast estate. The detectives very soon secured evidence that the woman was a fraud, and "Mrs. Lewis" was arrested for conspiracy, and the case brought before the United States court at Trenton, N. J. On Friday last the trial was resumed. Mrs. Jane H. Lewis, the mythical widow of the millionaire, being the first and only witness examined. She began a revelation of the fraud to cheat the government out of the bequest by charging that one Dr. Park concocted the whole scheme. She thoroughly exposed Park, who, she said, advised her to attend the funeral and told her whom to employ as counsel, arranged all the details of the story she was to tell, and assured her there would be no trial; that the government would give up the matter; that she would be rich and nobody be the wiser. A contract was produced by which she was to have one-quarter of the amount gained by the conspiracy, Park one-quarter, Joshua Benson one-quarter, and the other quarter was to be divided among the other conspirators.

News and Notes.

At Point Pleasant, W. Va., an old negro, called Abe, was found dead in Henry J. Fisher's garden, last week. He was the oldest person in the state, being 112 years old by actual data. He was a full-blooded African, having been brought to this country when a babe.

The supreme court at Trenton, N. J., gave a decision Thursday in a suit brought by the Mutual Benefit Life insurance company of Newark, which will have the effect of making tax certificates, held by Newark to the amount of at least $2,000,000, a nullity.

John Petty, a prominent citizen of Stockton, Cal., was deliberately shot and fatally wounded in the court house yard, Saturday, by Henry Parker. The cause of the affair was that the sheriff had levied execution on the property of Parker to satisfy an old judgment in favor of Petty.

The mysterious murder of John Blair at Clarion, Pa., last August, has come to light, a woman who quarreled with her husband accusing him of the murder. He has fled.

A band of Indians recently raided Del Puerte, on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, killing nine men and one woman, and stampeding 300 horses. Mexican troops are pursuing them.

John Kelley of Lawrence, Mass., was arrested at Dover on Friday for obtaining money by false representations. He pretended to be the son of Patrick Lynch of Lowell, of Carney, Lynch & Co., brewers. He visited several parties dealing in their ales, and obtained small sums of money from them. A despatch to Mr. Lynch received reply that he was an imposter, and he was arrested. Saturday, in default of $800 bail, he was sent to jail.

Accounts from various parts of the country indicate that there is danger of another epidemic of strikes. Thousands of persons who have become dissatisfied with their wages are now voluntarily idle and without any income, while thousands more seem inclined to follow their example. In New York city the labor troubles are likely to result in a great calamity, which will cause much misery.

A band of Greek brigands having captured Col. Synge and his wife, demand £15,000 as ransom, failing to receive which in ten days they threaten to send the colonel's head to Salonica. Col. Synge is an officer of the British army.

George E. Buell, many years superintendent of Aiken's hosiery mill at Franklin, and Dr. J. P. Osborn and C. Boynton of Tilton, have purchased very superior water-power and premises on Sutton milldam, Tilton, for $8,500, and will at once build and put into operation a hosiery mill.

John West of Clinton, Me., recently sued Nathan Hill of Canaan for defamation of character, the defamatory words alleged being that the defendant charged plaintiff with being the murderer of Cashier Barron of the Dexter savings bank. The jury gave West a verdict for $1, and twenty-five cents costs.

Steamer Lena, at New York on Saturday from Bristol, Eng., experienced terrible weather on the passage, and had her upper works very much shattered by the seas. Steamer Alexandria, arrived at New York on the same day from Genoa, brought in the crew of the British brig Julia, eight in number, the brig having been abandoned in a sinking condition; the Alexandria also brought in fifty-three of the passengers and crew of the British steamship Hindoo, abandoned Feb. 22d in a sinking condition, having had her decks swept, and her first and second officers, one quartermaster and three seamen drowned. Steamer Deruyter, at New York from Antwerp, had her engine room, skylights and gingerbread-work generally, stove to pieces by the sea.

Miss Mamie Dwight, nineteen years old, was found on the pavement beneath her chamber window in Philadelphia, Saturday morning, in a dying condition, having either fallen from the window or jumped from it while asleep. Henry Williams, a seaman, jumped from an upper window of the Jefferson medical college in Philadelphia, Friday night, and was killed.

At Quero, Texas, last week, while three men, named Martin, Holland, and Coward, were pitching dollars for drinks, Holland disputed the game, and started for his house for a gun to kill Martin. His mother, seventy-five years old, came from the house, caught Martin, who was trying to prevent Holland from getting the gun, and held Martin's arms, while Holland drew a knife and savagely hacked Martin's throat. Coward placed a pistol in Martin's hand, and the latter shot Holland in the arm, shook clear of the old lady, knocked her down and shot her, inflicting a wound from which she shortly died. He then fired again at Holland, wounding him mortally. Martin was not seriously injured.

On Thursday night of last week, near Seward, Neb., there was a savage fight at a schoolhouse where nightly religious meetings have been held lately. A party of men attempted to break up the meeting, and a lively scuffle ensued in which many shots were exchanged, and eight persons were wounded; William Bates died from his wounds, and Levi Bates was fatally injured. Eight men were arrested. The quarrel originated in the expulsion of two children from school recently.

Rev. H. W. Richardson, a Methodist minister at Sea Cliff, L. I., eloped Friday evening with his wife's sister, aged nineteen, named Elizabeth Louthier. He left a wife and family of small children, and one nursing babe. He was arrested Saturday afternoon on board the Rio Grande in New York, as she was about to sail for Galveston, Texas.

Countless sufferers find the balm of relief, and the fountain of their health and strength in Ayer's sarsaparilla. It is the most potent of all the alteratives to purify the system and cleanse the blood. It possesses invigorating qualities, so that it stimulates the faded vitalities and purges out the corruptions which mingle with the blood, promoting derangement and decay. We are assured by many intelligent physicians that this medicine cures beyond all others of its kind, and we can fortify this statement by our own experience.—Punxsutawney (Pa.) Argus.

Political.

Portland's city election was held Monday, and at two o'clock in the afternoon the republican candidate was 957 ahead of the fusionist. A year ago the democrats carried the city by forty majority; last fall the republicans carried the city by between 500 and 600 majority—and then Garcelon and his pals counted out the republican representatives elect.

The editor of the Okolona States has been interviewed by a travelling newspaper correspondent who told him that the northern democracy repudiated his wild utterances. To that he replied: "Repudiate me? Bah! How can it repudiate me without repudiating its history, without repudiating its principles as well? * * Why do they sympathize with us, vote with us and sustain us in the face of the fact that we nullify your accursed amendments, and thereby make Mississippi democratic, notwithstanding the republicans have 30,000 majority in our state if the nigger is a legal voter?"

New Hampshire Items.

Lotta appeared in "Musette" at Manchester on Monday evening. Lawrence Barrett visits that city on Saturday.

The Granite State Ice company of Milton are shipping 600 tons of ice per day to the South Boston Brewing company. The Drivers' Union company of Boston are cutting ice on the lake eighteen inches thick, and stacking it for shipment next summer. The Lynn Ice company are at Milton, and intend to do a large business in the way of stacking for the next two weeks.

Naval Gazette.

The U. S. S. Nipsic was at St. Thomas on the 13th ult., and expected to sail for Hampton roads on the 18th.

The United States steam corvettes Shenandoah, Commodore Bryson, and Wachusett, Commander Lewis, were at Montevideo on January 27th, with all well on board.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, March 1st.

The warrant for town meeting is posted, and it appears that there won't be anything for the voters to do but to choose the necessary town officers and raise and appropriate money for the ordinary purposes. The check-list is also posted, and has on it three hundred and nineteen names, a slight falling off from last year. As there is nothing in the warrant to call for any special agitation, the annual March meeting will probably be a very quiet affair.

It may not have been the case anywhere else, but here there have been no birds this winter, until the advent of the blue-birds a few days since. Last winter, snow-birds and woodpeckers made a business of coming every day, and in fact several times a day, to a box which was placed in a tree in close proximity to a house, where food was put for them, and which they dined off of regularly. This winter not a bird has been seen. Has the season been too mild for them, or is it because in an open winter they remain in the woods, and do not require to visit human habitations for their sustenance?

The Rye cornet band give a concert on Wednesday evening at the town hall; the tickets are only fifteen cents, and they ought to have a full house.

A correspondent of the Times, in speaking of a recent meeting of the "Martha Washington society," said a collection was taken up to defray expenses. That is not exactly correct. It is one of the rules of the society that each person who attends one of the meetings shall contribute five cents, not to defray expenses, for there are none, but for the purpose of raising money to be expended for church purposes. —A dandy strutting about a tavern, took up a pair of green spectacles which lay on the table, put them on his nose, and turning to the looking-glass, said, "Landlord, how do these become me? Don't you think they improve my looks?" "I think they do; they hide a part of your face."

A Ridiculous Law-Suit.

Eben F. Pillsbury of the Maine Standard has brought a libel suit against Sprague & Son of the Kennebec Journal for an article published in the latter paper some four or five weeks since. The charge is made for defamation of character and injury to Pillsbury's business, and damages are laid at $20,000. The charge of damage to business may be all right, but the idea of anybody's injuring Pillsbury's character to the amount of twenty thousand dollars is ludicrous.

It is Terrible to have a wife or husband with a bad breath. All this may be avoided by using SOZODONT. It is most agreeable to the taste, fragrant and healthful. It confers comfort upon its users, and prevents the affliction of unpleasant breath.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

Riverside Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Kittery, with ladies, will visit New Hampshire Lodge of this city on Wednesday evening of this week; the exercises will include a banquet and dance.

The young people of the Pearl street society will hold a festival at their vestry, Wednesday evening of this week, consisting of dialogues, recitations, singing, etc. Refreshments—oysters, ice cream, etc., will be served. Admission ten cents, at the door.

Mr. Charles Duncan is building a little steamboat at Badger's Island, probably for plying on one of the lakes in the interior of the state. Her dimensions are, length thirty-four feet, breadth of beam nine feet; and she will be fitted with double engines.

Mr. Fred Rollins, who was severely and it was feared fatally injured last week by a blow on the head from a timber, while assisting to take down an old building in the Raynes shipyard, is rapidly recovering, and it is now hoped that no permanent injury will result from the accident.

The ninety-first anniversary dinner of the Federal fire society occurs at the Rockingham house on Thursday afternoon. The regular quarterly supper of the Mechanics' fire society is to be given at the Rockingham house on Friday evening, with Mr. Enoch J. Connor as the host of the evening.

Henry Beckman, of Seabrook, the man arrested in Baltimore last week and held for return here, is the person who some time ago went into Newburyport as master of a Gloucester schooner, stripped the schooner of sails, running rigging and everything else portable, and sold the stolen property for old junk.

The Dover Democrat of Saturday says: "Yesterday, John Place was engaged in cutting down a decayed tree on the city farm, when he discovered a nest of various kinds of snakes at the butt of the tree. He killed seventeen of them, each of which measured thirty inches long. They were of all breeds and colors."

Rev. William H. Alden, D. D., who finished the twelfth year of his pastorate at the Middle street church on Sunday last, and in the evening delivered a lecture appropriate to the occasion, on "Taking account of stock," on returning home after the lecture had an attack of hemorrhage of the lungs, followed on Monday morning by another, by which he was much prostrated.

Two fine loons, shot at Seabrook, have been mounted and are on exhibition at the restaurant of Frank H. Hervey in Exeter. Gen. Marston contends that the statement that Exeter has no good hotels is counterbalanced by the fact that Hervey's affords a chance to obtain as good a dinner as can be found at Parker's in Boston. The dinner or the statement—perhaps both—should be taken cum grano salis.

Gen. Chamberlain of Maine has consented to deliver his celebrated lecture on the battle of Gettysburg, under the auspices of Storer Encampment, G. A. R., of this city, on a date yet to be decided on, but probably some time during the present month. Gen. Chamberlain was a prominent actor in that great battle, having command of the troops that held Little Round Top, the key of the federal position, against the repeated and desperate assaults of the confederate columns; and he will be greeted by an audience large enough to contribute handsomely to the relief fund of Storer Encampment.

The stockholders in the Wolfeboro' railroad will be paid their dividends on the 4th inst., at the office No. 83 Market street, in this city, from 11:15 o'clock A. M., to 1:15 P. M.

A bull calf of the Holstein breed was last week shipped by express from Exeter to Rock Creek, Ohio, packed in a box so narrow that he will have to stand until he reaches his destination, minute directions as to feeding and watering him being affixed to the box. The calf is "about as big as a bear of moderate size."

According to the Washington correspondent of the Richmond (Va.) Despatch, a New Hampshire man there says: "Ex-Congressman Frank Jones of New Hampshire is the democrat to nominate for president. He is worth $2,000,000, and is now a brewer. He started with little or nothing, and made his fortune by work. More than that, he belongs to the Frank Pierce school, and can carry his state."

At the last meeting in Boston of the Society of Arts, a valuable paper was presented by Passed Asst. Engineer John A. Tobin, U. S. N., at present attached to this navy yard, on the deterioration of iron in steam boilers. Mr. Tobin gave the results of an analysis of a deposit found in the steam drums of the U. S. S. Swatara, which drums were badly corroded; this deposit consisted of fatty acids and copper, and the corrosion was due partly to the fatty acids and partly to galvanic action between the iron and copper. The views of several authorities upon the corrosion of boilers were referred to, and extracts given from the report of a commission appointed by the British admiralty to investigate the subject.

ASSESSING BACKWARD.

Mr. Editor: A remarkable instance of assessing backwards has just been made public. The salary of the assessors of Portsmouth is fixed by ordinance at $25 each per year, but the individuals composing the board asked for $25 each in addition; this the aldermen refused to give, whereupon the assessors coolly proceeded to abate their several taxes to the amount of $25 each, thus paying to themselves a sum which the law does not allow, and which the aldermen refused to vote them. It is said they went even further; and that one of their number not being taxed $25, so that that amount could not be "abated" in his case, the tax of one of the other assessors was cut down some eight dollars extra, besides his "own" $25, and that the extra $8 was handed to the man whose tax was that amount less than $25—this making things all square, honorable and satisfactory. It is further asserted that the taxes thus "abated" were paid in to the treasurer before the abatement was made, and by him paid back to the assessors; if this is true, it would be well to know on whose authority he did it, and if he or his bondsmen are not responsible for the money thus disbursed without authority from the board of aldermen—indeed, in defiance of their order, for it amounts to so much. What do the aldermen propose to do about it?

QUITE A BUILDING.

The new Franklin building is said to be the largest building owned by one person in New Hampshire. Notwithstanding its immense proportions it has been quickly erected; the clearing-away gang commenced to dig on the 28th of August, 1879, and the huge structure will be completed about the last of May; the stores will be ready for occupancy by the first of May. It contains four halls, ten offices and thirteen stores; the opera hall is sixty-nine by seventy-five feet, has a stage sixty-five feet by twenty-five, with dressing rooms and an opening of thirty-three feet, and will seat over 1000 persons; the dance hall is fifty feet by sixty, and the upper halls forty feet by sixty. The block is heated throughout by steam. A million and a quarter of brick have been used in the building, and 150,000 laths; and there are between 10,000 and 11,000 yards of plastering.

The architect is J. H. Vinal, of No. 17 Pemberton square, Boston; the mason work has been done by Albert Currier, of Newburyport, Mass., and the carpenter work by Foster & Dutton, of Waterville, Me. Messrs. Frazer & Trefethen, of this city, have contracted to do the plastering, and commenced work at it Monday morning.

YORICK'S LOVE.

The tragedy of Yorick's Love, translated from the Spanish by Mr. Howells, was performed at Music hall on Monday evening before a large audience which included many of the most refined people in the city and vicinity, by the eminent actor Lawrence Barrett and a competent supporting company.

The play we do not regard as a pleasing one, for it leaves an unpleasant remembrance; but then we hate tragedies anyway, whether in real life or on the mimic stage, and are willing that any who wish should dissent from our opinion regarding this one. Yorick's Love certainly affords Mr. Barrett opportunity for some excellent acting, which he improves to the utmost, swaying his audience irresistibly, and his powerful delineation of the loving, wronged and maddened husband was warmly received by the audience on Monday evening. Paraphrasing President Lincoln's remark, we may say that for persons who like that kind of a play, Yorick's Love as presented by Mr. Lawrence Barrett is just the kind of a play to give them satisfaction.

THE CALIFORNIA MINSTRELS.

The California minstrels, with Cool Burgess at their head, will give an entertainment at Music hall to-morrow evening. The Boston Journal says "the whole performance is one of the best, and nothing occurs in the entire programme to offend the most fastidious." Cool Burgess needs no introduction, being acknowledged as one of the best burnt-cork artists of the day. The Hartford Courant says the bass singer, Norcross, has a voice of rare power and uses it well. There are six "end men."

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The official board appointed to inspect the U. S. S. Plymouth will commence the inspection on Wednesday.

Capt. Jonathan Young is absent on a month's leave, and Capt. R. B. Bradford is acting executive officer of the yard while Capt. Young is away.

The bolt-pulling machine invented by Naval Constructor Wilson has been well tested on the yard, and proved successful even beyond anticipation; the machine easily extracts the longest bolts from the solid wood, and will even draw them from the clinches.

The department of construction and repair at the navy yard is allowed but $11,500 for expenditure during the present month, and in consequence most of the mechanics have been put on half time. The department of steam engineering is allowed but $1500 for the same period.

THE UNITED STATES COURTS.

The Exeter News-Letter's Washington correspondents seem to believe that there is danger of the terms of the federal courts being changed from Exeter to Concord.

The district court sits at Exeter commonly on ten days in each year. The circuit court sits there six to eight days each fall. The number of actions on the docket of the circuit court at present is ninety, but many of these are equity suits upon patents, which are not heard in the court, but in the judge's chambers. Of the parties in civil actions it is found that the greatest number are from the northern part of the state. A table of the counsel engaged shows that of the attorneys in civil cases now pending, counsel are from the following places: In twenty-five cases, from Portsmouth; in twenty from Manchester, in seven from Concord, in thirteen from Nashua, in forty-three from Boston, in sixteen from New York,—from Providence four, Farmington nine, Dover four, Franklin twelve, Exeter three, Lancaster ten, Portland three, Littleton five, Lebanon four, Ossipee one, Great Falls five, Rochester four, Lawrence one, Newport three, and Connecticut two.

The Manchester Union generously suggests Manchester as the proper place to hold the United States courts in case of a removal from Exeter. The district court, as far as bankrupt business is concerned, has been held at Manchester for several years, and the maritime business of the court of course ceased when the office was removed to that city.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Buzzell of Kennebunkport, who has been very sick for some time past, on Tuesday of last week ejected from her stomach a creature about an inch and a half long and as big round as the little finger. It had jointed legs and a scaly body, and was probably drank in water. The doctors as yet have applied no name to it.

The Knight family of Kennebunk has been unlucky recently. On Sunday, Feb. 22d, Walter L. Knight was kicked in the face by a horse he was taking to water, and had his jaw broken. On Monday, the 23d, Abel J. Knight, father of Walter, and section foreman for the Eastern railroad, cut the back of his hand very badly with a hatchet, while at work; and on Tuesday, the 24th, a horse belonging to Fred C. Knight, and valued at $100, died in a few minutes after being stabled on his return from a drive to Biddeford.

The schools in district nine, Kittery, closed Feb. 20th. The teacher of the primary department, Miss Wentworth, who has had charge of the school for seven years, to the unqualified satisfaction of the superintending committee and the parents of the pupils, has given up the position, to the general regret. Miss Gerry, a faithful and competent instructor who has had charge of the intermediate school for several terms, it is hoped will continue. At the examination of the grammer school over seventy visitors were present, and all were much pleased with the progress shown by the pupils; Lillian Goodrich received a prize for the best scholarship, and Lottie Schmidt, Mary Hill and Bionia Stimson were highly complimented for their progress. The high school, taught by Mr. Rowell, shew no falling off from the highly creditable standard of previous years.

BOW MISSION HALL MEETINGS.

At the children's service, Saturday afternoon, Rev. John A. Goss addressed about forty of the young folks, and there was a very interesting occasion.

At the gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, Mrs. Clara Watts presided, and made a very appropriate address on opening the meeting. Several ladies and gentlemen took part. The service was considered one of the best.

At the bethel service, Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Daniel H. Spinney took charge. Rev. James Noyes, formerly of this city, addressed the audience; also several ladies and gentlemen. A good number of seamen and fishermen were present, as usual, and many persons had to go away, being unable to get seats.

At the reform club meeting, Sunday evening, Rev. D. L. Leavitt of Ashland addressed the assemblage. Every word was full of practical advice to the young. Mr. Leavitt is a very fluent speaker, and his remarks will be remembered. He has had a bitter experience; and though he has never known much about drinking habits personally, yet in his father's family and his own he has experienced the bitter woes resulting from the drinking customs of society. Amateur Economy.

"My dear fellow," said Lavender, "it's all very nice to talk about economizing and keeping a rigid account of expenses and all that sort of thing, but I've tried it. Two weeks ago I stepped in on my way home Saturday night and bought just the gayest little Russia cream-laid paper account book you ever saw, and a silver pencil to match it. I said to my wife after supper:

"My dear, it seems to me it costs us a lot of money to keep house."

She sighed and said:

"I know it does, Lavvy, but I'm sure I can't help it. I'm just as economical as I can be. I don't spend half as much money for candy as you do for cigars."

I never take any notice of personalities, so I sailed right ahead.

"I believe, my dear, that if we were to keep a strict account of everything we spent we could tell just where to cut down. I've bought you a little account book, and every Monday morning I'll give you some money and you can set it down on one side, and then on the other side everything you spend, and then on Saturday night we can go over it and see just where the money goes and how we can bail things down a little."

Well, sir! she was just delighted—thought it was a first rate plan, and the pocket account book was lovely—regular David Copperfield and Dora business. Well sir, the next Saturday night we got through supper and she brought out that account book as proud as possible, and handed it over for inspection. On one side was "Received from Lavvy $50." That's all right! Then I looked on the other page, and what do you think was there? "Spent it all!" Then I laughed and of course she cried, and we gave up the account book racket on the spot by mutual consent. Yes, sir, I've been there and I know what domestic economy means, I tell you. Let's have a cigar.—Boston Courier.

In the Nine Holes.

"You see, boss, dat's a nigger libin' up my way who ought to be tooken ca' of," said an old darkey to the policeman.

"What's he been doing now?"

"Waal, sah, las' fall I lent him my ax, an' when I wanted it back he braced right up an' tole me dat possession was nine pints o' law, an' refused to g.o it up."

"Yes."

"Waal, de odder day I sent the ole woman ober an' she borrowed his buck-saw, an' when Julius cum for it I tole him jist like he answered me, an' stood on my dignity."

"Well."

"I had nine pints o' law, didn't I?"

"Yes."

"An' how many pints am de law composed of?"

"I don't know exactly."

"Well, dats what bodders me, fur dat nigger saw dem nine pints, shet up dis lef' eye fur me, pitched de ole woman ober a bar'l, an' walked off wid his saw an' my snow-shovel to boot! Ef I had nine pints he mus' hev had ober twenty, an' eben den he didn't half let hisself out."

—The Calais, Me., Advertiser says that while Mr. Joseph Lovering of Alexander was driving across Meddybemps lake he saw a deer on the ice. Starting his horse on the run, he gave chase to the deer, which slipped badly, and as it got within a rod of land Mr. Lovering ran his horse upon it and knocked it down, and as he went by in the pung he reached out and caught the deer, and throwing it across the pung, cut its throat and brought the carcass to market. This was pretty smart hunting for any one, and as Mr. Lovering is seventy-six years old, his exploit may well be considered that of a mighty hunter. Few men would have thought of hunting deer with a horse and pung and jackknife, to say nothing of killing them with such weapons.

Fees of Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, CUTICURA Soap and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and with the perfect confidence of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I voluntarily make the following statement:

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours,

MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 15, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by our well-known druggist, Mr. LYONS, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity. Yours truly, P. P. CARROLL,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

28 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle, CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, rupured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work, published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 artistic and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president, W. H. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNTT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET M. D.; R. S. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOLCOMB, M. THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatch es from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Social Gossip. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen.—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for ten years, and for the last six years have been in terrible suffering. I was rendered partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temple, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated lonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I would then resort to every means in my power to dislodge the mucus from my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my lonsils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request postponed it. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the purulent matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly—and had hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When matters had reached this stage, or about six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as I had not known it to be for years. I continued to use it regularly for about three months. It stopped my cough in three days. By using it as a gargle I soon reduced the inflammation and swelling of my tonsils to that they soon ceased to trouble me. The soreness across my throat disappeared, the buzzing noises in my head ceased, my senses of seeing and of hearing were completely restored, and every symptom of disease that had rendered me to the verge of the grave disappeared by the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. I have been thus explicit because, as a druggist, I have seen a great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and hope to convince many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as practiced by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every kind of remedy and apparatus that have appeared during a period of six years past, and have, while following that use, taken great care of my general health, but obtained no relief or encouragement from any of them.—

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

Affords the most grateful relief in all Affections of the Chest and Lungs.

CHRONIC PLEURISY CURED.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having for many months suffered with a severe pain and weakness, by my physician Chronic Pleurisy, caused by a former injury or a strain, and for which I used many prescriptions and liniments, as well as the so-called Pneumatic Jackets, I consulted them, the physician recommended one of your COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS. To my great surprise, relieved the pain and soreness almost immediately, and in a few days was able to attend to my household affairs ever since with perfect ease and comfort, whereas, before the application of your invaluable Plaster, I was scarcely able to do any thing. I consider them invaluable, and shall on all pleasure recommend them to the afflicted. Yours respectfully, Mrs. FRANCES BARRMAN.

ORLAND, Me., April 21, 1876.

There is no medical or protective appliance that will afford the grateful and effective relief to Hacking Coughs Irritation and Soreness of the Chest and Lungs, which these plasters then capable of preventing serious diseases of these organs.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Do not confound these Plasters with the ordinary Plasters of the day, that by comparison are absolutely worthless.

Be careful to obtain COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER, a combination of Electric or Voltaic Plates with a light Medicated Plaster, as seen in the above cut. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

New Publications.

Those of our readers who would like to procure new music at a comparatively small cost, can do so by subscribing for the "Folio," a musical journal published in Boston by White, Smith & Co.; it contains every month a number of new songs and pieces of instrumental music, besides a large amount of miscellaneous reading matter.

The February number of the Granite Monthly opens with a biographical sketch of Ex-Gov. Frederick Smith, written by F. B. Eaton, the frontispiece being a steel portrait of the governor. Hon. George W. Nesmith contributes a paper on "Gen. John Sullivan's letter to John Langdon;" Rev. Silas Ketchum one on "The Parkinsons of New Hampshire;" William K. Bartlett writes "reminiscences of Rev. Dr. Bunton; Prof. E. D. Sanborn of "Theology in the English Poets," and J. N. McClintock, the editor, a sketch of the town of Claremont. Besides these are poems and short papers by Abba Gould Woolson, C. C. Lord, Joseph W. Parmalee, Wm. C. Sturoc and Samuel C. Eastman, making a substantial and readable number. J. N. McClintock, publisher, Concord: $1.50 per year; single number fifteen cents.

THE only combination of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy, for colds, chills and fevers, malarial fevers, pains in the bones and joints, symptoms of rheumatism, neuralgia, and gout, cold extremities, suspended circulation, and depressed condition of the vital forms, is Sanford's Jamaica Ginger. Ask for Sanford's.

—At a crowded French country theatre a woman fell from the gallery to the pit, and was picked up by one of the spectators, who bearing her groaning, asked her if she was injured. "Much injured!" exclaimed the woman, "I should think I am. I have lost the best seat in the middle of the front row."

I have been troubled with asthma for twelve years, and have employed skilful physicians of Boston, also two of the leading physicians of Augusta, without effect. I have felt nothing of this trouble since taking Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

—A Bridgewater Yankee is credited with inventing a hen's nest with an indelible rubber stamp attachment by which each egg is stamped with the day of the month on which the hen fruit is produced. The object is to prevent grocers from palming off old eggs for new ones.

APHONIA CURED.—FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.—Aphonia or Loss of Voice is remedied in a short time, no matter whether the cause be from inflammation of the lining membrane from cold, or from nervous derangement.

take Kidney-Wort, advertised in another column. It acts energetically on the bowels and kidneys at the same time, and so cures a host of diseases caused by the inaction of these organs. If you are out of fix, buy it at your druggist's and save a doctor's bill.

—A carpenter, who was always prognosticating evil to himself, was one day upon the roof of a five story building upon which rain had fallen. The roof being slippery, he lost his footing, and as he was descending toward the eaves he exclaimed, "Just as I told you!" Catching, however, in an iron spout, he kicked off his shoes and regained a place of safety, when he thus delivered himself: "I know'd it; there's a pair of shoes gone!"

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular or religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

Shan't I take a Blue Pill?

No, don't take it and run the risk of mercurial poison, but when billious and constipated get a box of the celebrated Kidney-Wort, and it will speedily cure you. It is nature's great remedy for constipation, and for all kidney and liver diseases. It acts promptly on these great organs and so restores strength and vigor.

The Garcelon Infamy.

The further the investigating committee of the Maine legislature get on with their work, the more infamous does the action of Garcelon and his gang appear. While the steal was being prepared for, and even after the full extent of the outrage intended became apparent, we were assured by the fusion and democratic press that Garcelon and his pals were honest and just, and actuated only by the purest of motives; but the disclosures now being made at Augusta prove that the Garcelon returning board cooked the returns to suit themselves,—that the returns were altered, amended and substituted, in defiance not of justice simply, but of the law. Some of the alterations, indeed, are so clearly of the nature of forgeries that it is an open question whether the men who made them cannot be sent to the penitentiary for their crime. They were not content with throwing out republican returns for technical errors, and refusing amended returns, nor with alterations of democratic returns to meet their wants; but there were actual alterations of correct republican returns, so that they might appear to be wrong, and give an excuse for counting out republicans who were elected, and counting in fusionists who were not elected. It is shown that the return of the town of Berwick was thus altered, at the state house, and that having been altered, votes correctly printed and correctly returned for a republican candidate for senator were thrown out, and his seat given to a fusionist. No more outrageous election frauds were ever brought to light than those perpetrated by the Maine fusionists, and no man in the Maine penitentiary has committed graver acts of forgery than were perpetrated in the attempt to steal the government of that state.

Elections in Maine.

Many cities and towns in Maine held their annual town-meetings on Monday, and the result shew a heavy falling off in the fusion vote, and a large republican gain—a significant commentary on the Pillsbury-Garcelon-Moody steal.

In Portland the republican vote was 3,202 against 2841 last year, the fusion vote being 2068 against 2942 last year.

Deering, Cape Elizabeth, Bridgton, Falmouth, Gardiner, Bath, Saco, Farmington, Hallowell, Lewiston, Auburn, Gorham, Kennebunk, Kennebunkport, Carmel, Fryeburg and Hiram all gave republican majorities, Standish giving a democratic majority.

In Rockland the largest vote ever given at a municipal election was thrown, the republicans having a majority of 115 for mayor, against 55 last year, and electing six aldermen and twenty-one councilmen, the fusionists having but one solitary representative—an alderman—in the city government. Last year the fusionists elected three aldermen and nine councilmen.

At Skowhegan the full republican board was elected, Hiram Steward, the "counted-out" representative, being chosen first selectman by a vote of 401 to 136; last year the board was composed of fusionists.

The republicans carried Lewiston, where honest Garcelon lives, by 232 majority, electing four aldermen and thirteen councilmen.

Hon. J. R. Bodwell, republican, was chosen mayor of Augusta by a vote of 373 to 116—more than three to one.

The National Treasury.

The receipts of internal revenue during February were $8,786,720.39, and from customs, $16,809,845.87; receipts from other sources, $2,401,758.97. The public debt statement shows a decrease of the public debt during February of $5,672,019.75. The cash in the treasury is $156,351,653.53. The coinage at the United States mints during February amounted to $5,844,830 gold, $2,300,746 silver, and $24,399 in minor coinage.

"Re-establishing the Public Credit" in Virginia.

Both houses of the Virginia legislature on Monday night passed and sent to the governor for approval the "bill to re-establish the public credit," generally known as the Riddleberger bill. It reduces the principal of the state debt from $33,000,000 to $20,000,000 by eliminating capitalized war and reconstruction interest, and fixes the rate of interest at three per cent. The coupons on the new bonds are not to be receivable for taxes, nor are the new bonds to be exempt from taxation; the treasurers of counties and cities are instructed not to receive the coupons of the present consols and tenforties for taxes; and a scheme for loan certificates is provided, intended further to outlaw the present tax-receivable coupons. From Gov. Holliday's record on the debt question it is conceded that he will veto the bill, but should he let it become a law, or what is equally improbable, should it be passed over his veto, it will be submitted to the people at the November election, and if ratified by them, become operative.

British Commercial Honesty.

The British newspapers, until recently, never tired of moralizing on Yankee "sharpness" as exemplified in the palming off of inferior or worthless articles as best quality goods; and they preached sermons innumerably on the dishonesty of Yankee manufacturers and merchants, as contrasted with the sterling honor and honesty of their British brethren, who never put a false stamp on their goods, nor slighted their work in any way. This particular style of writing was some time ago sadly interfered with by the disclosures concerning the cotton manufacturing business; and now the complacency of the British editor has received another severe shock, by the disclosures of reckless and criminal dishonesty in the iron trade.

On the night of December 28th, 1879, the costly railway bridge over the Frith of Tay, Scotland, went down in a gale, carrying with it a train of cars and some hundred human beings. An enquiry into the cause of the fearful disaster is now proceeding before the board of trade at Dundee, and last week several painters who painted the bridge last summer testified that at that time they saw numerous bolt holes empty; that they found bolts in holes where there should have been rivets, and found rivets without heads, and bars loosened, and nuts unscrewed; that one of the supporting columns of the high girders, which was cracked from top to bottom, was held together with four hoop bands; and that sometimes the oscillation of the bridge was so great, while they were at work, that they feared it would fall. On Saturday several of the moulders who were employed by the contractors of the bridge testified that the quality of iron used for the castings was very inferior; that the columns were frequently defective, of unequal thickness, cracked and scabbed; and that cracks and holes were filled with putty or cement, and painted over. The reports add, "This testimony created quite a sensation"—and we should think it would.

We fear that the British press will hereafter have to wholly abstain from sneering at Yankee "wooden nutmegs" and "shoe-peg oats," and turn their attention to the frauds practiced by parties nearer home.

News and Notes.

The Virginia legislature has voted almost unanimously to rescind the Moffett bell-punch law, and to establish a license liquor law.

Mrs. Sarah W. Hale, the wealthiest woman in Newburyport, died on Sunday at the age of sixty years, leaving no children. Her death without issue will cause the distribution of a large amount of real estate, which was entailed by the terms of her father's will.

Miss Frances Power Cobbe's death is reported from England.

Advices from Isabella, Ga., give an account of the killing of an old man named Martin (colored) in Worth county a few days ago. He had been hunting his cow, and sat down on the river bank to rest. An alligator was a few feet off, and made a sudden rush upon the defenceless old man, struck him down, seized him by the head in its powerful jaws, and dragged him into the water.

A "national cat show" opened at Music hall, Boston, on Monday, with nearly three hundred cats on exhibition.

A young lady named Leins was knocked down in Washington, Saturday evening, while on her way to church, by a negro named Thomas Smothers, who choked and beat her into insensibility, carried her to a vacant lot and feloniously assaulted her, and left her senseless, after robbing her of her satchel and prayer-book. The young lady is now in a critical condition, and the ruffian is in custody under a heavy police guard to prevent lynching.

Three negroes named Bedford, Pinn and Queenan, were on Monday found guilty of murder at Washington, for killing a young white man named George P. Hirth.

The fight between the Pacific Mail steamship company and the Pacific railroads was ended on Monday by an agreement, whereby the roads will pay to the steamship company $110,000 a month in consideration of the right of the roads to fix the rates for California passengers and freight. The roads are to purchase the two steamers on the China line, the City of Pekin and City of Tokio, for $1,200,000.

The supreme court of the United States has decided that the provision of the constitution of West Virginia which prohibits the sitting of negroes on juries is opposed to the constitution of the United States, and therefore void, in cases where colored men are on trial.

Grape Culture and Wine.

Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey, one of the largest grape producers in the East, commenced, but a few years ago, in a small way, to make wines from currants, blackberries, and other fruits. He now controls large vineyards of the Oporto grape, from which his famous Port Grape Wine is made, and which chemists and physicians say rivals the world for its beneficial effects on weakly and aged persons, and the consumptive.

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day.

WASHINGTON, March 3, 1:30 A. M.

Clearer or fair weather, winds shifting during the day to warmer southerly, with falling barometer.

AROUND HOME.

The wild geese have commenced their flight northward.

The post-office is flooded with public documents, a good many of them being "Part of Cong. Record."

It is quite likely that Col. Henry O. Kent of Lancaster will deliver the oration on Memorial day in this city.

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, Cool Burgess and the California minstrels will give a good variety show. See advertisment.

Rock cottage, at Newcastle, has been closed but two Sundays this winter. Seaside lodge, on Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, was open on Tuesday.

It is reported that Mr. Daniel Littlefield is to put in his steam mill two sets of burr millstones, which will be run by Mr. Charles W. Holmes, a thoroughly competent man for the business.

Mr. John Albee is delivering a course of lectures before the Washington university of St. Louis, Mo. Last week he gave his lecture on Chaucer before the Mercantile Library association of St. Louis.

William Senter, a native of this city, was elected mayor of Portland, Me., on Monday, by a majority of 1234. At the municipal election in Portland last year the fusion candidate had a majority of forty over all others.

Messrs. W. J. Sampson & Co. are painting the new residence of John Sise, Esq., on Court street. The colors would seem to be a little dark for the average mind in this locality,—but the Boston architects say they are the correct shades, and of course they must be.

Gen. Chamberlain will deliver his great lecture on "The battle of Gettysburg" at Music hall in this city on Friday evening, March 19th. The house should be crowded that night, for independent of the fact that the distinguished lecturer was a prominent actor in the great battle, the lecture is to be given in aid of the relief fund of Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R.

The rush for tickets to "Joshua Whitcomb" is something unusual in this city of late. A large number of people were waiting in front of Preston's store, Tuesday morning, before the store opened, to secure seats; and among the early callers were a goodly delegation from Dover, who came down on the first train, not proposing to find themselves left out in the cold Saturday evening.

"Quite a little excitement was created at Portland Me., on Saturday, by an old gentleman who tried to get a runaway daughter from the man she had eloped with, and who had arrived in the city by train. The couple had, however, been married in New Hampshire, and the bride had her certificate, so, while the irate father went for a writ, the couple dusted via the Maine Central railroad." The foregoing, which we clip from a Boston paper, refers to a couple who got married in this city last week, the groom being forty years old and the bride about nineteen. The pair had vainly tried to get married in Portland before coming here.

The saloon in National block which is being fitted for Mr. Jos. W. Bell will be, it is said, the finest one east of Boston. The stalls will be elegant, roomy, richly upholstered, and fitted with sliding partitions; there will be toilet rooms, and retiring and waiting rooms, furnished with all the conveniences of a metropolitan saloon. The culinary department will be in the basement; it is being supplied with all the modern cooking apparatus imaginable, and will be presided over by an experienced "artiste." The lunch counter and bar is the handsomest piece of workmanship of the kind in the state; it is made of mahogany, black walnut and rosewood, and is the handiwork (as is the other carpenter work of this saloon) of Messrs. George P. Abbott and Thomas Sterling of this city.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Mch. 2d; Batchelder, J.

Charles Gardner for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs being assessed at $8.44.

Clarence Caswell, arraigned on a similar charge, was discharged.

THE SALARY GRAB.

Mr. Editor: Your correspondent "Manwhosetaxwasnotabated," describing the back-pay operation of the assessors, suggests no remedy, save that upon the collector's bond. But suppose that were followed and found effective, why may not this "board" abate among themselves a much larger sum this year, and so come out square after all? Is there no safety in the republic? It is stated about town that this act was consummated last October, and is sanctioned—if not directly, yet, impliedly—by some of the largest tax-payers, on the ground that the assessors are paid too little for their long and disagreeable duty; and yet how willing are these men to serve year after year. Some of them are old-time office-seekers, who are never happy out of office. They control the organizations of the political parties, and come up every year for nomination. The remedy seems to be either in a citizens' ticket at the next election, when we may unload these fungi; or, what perhaps in the end would be better, a reduction in the number and an increase in the calibre of members. Let three men be chosen to perform this duty, and let them be paid a respectable sum for their time. The present board having accepted the office at a stated salary, it is difficult to see how they had any authority to get an increase, save by the vote of the councils. But who will interest themselves to punish these men, or have the money returned to the city treasury? Like the congressional salary grab, or the senate steal in our own state, it will soon blow over, and the instigators and actors are long again be up before the people, urgent for new honors and new opportunities. RURAL DISTRICT.

Editor Chronicle: Your correspondent, "Manwhosetaxwasnotabated," makes a statement of facts in regard to the misdoings of the assessors, and then asks: "What do the aldermen propose to do about it?" Now it is not a matter, in one sense of the word, for the aldermen to deal with, any more than for any one or more citizens. Any citizen or citizens have full power to prosecute in this case, but doubtless the public will expect the board of aldermen to move in the matter, as it comes more directly under their jurisdiction. We have certain forms of government, and certain officials to see that such forms are properly carried out, whereby the public is protected, and such protection is what renders our form of government secure and stable. Now, if a person steals, or commits any criminal act, the public look to the officials to apply the law and punish the guilty party or parties, thus showing to any other would-be evil doers what the consequences will be. It matters but little whether the evil-doer be of high or low position—the law itself makes no distinction in such cases; and if a thing of this kind is allowed to go unpunished, an example will have been set for all who are in any way disposed to commit acts of wrongdoing to continue their work, by such a show of partiality,—and the aldermen will do themselves credit by moving in the matter at once. The law is clearly on their side; and it is even said that the opinion of the city solicitor was sought by the assessors before voting the final abatement, and the solicitor gave it as his opinion that they would be guilty of malfeasance in office, and render themselves liable to prosecution, thus proving that they were not without advice and did not vote ignorantly on the question. If some poor fellow steals a loaf of bread or taps a till, he is at once hunted down, handcuffed and placed in durance vile. We trust that the aldermen will see to it and have justice done the public.

JUSTICE.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

A two-story cottage at Wells beach, owned by Downing & Lord of Great Falls, was burned about midnight on Saturday; loss $600.

The fifth lecture in the course at South Eliot was given by Rev. W. W. Baldwin of Kittery; subject, "The other man." It was pronounced by all who heard it a great success.

The school in district No. 8, South Eliot, taught by George E. Fernald, A. B., closed Friday, Feb. 27th. A goodly number of the parents and friends of the pupils were at the examination. The discipline of the school was very fine, the teacher evidently possessing what many lack, tact; the recitations in the various classes gave evidence of thorough drilling. The first class in grammar was a marvel in the correctness of the answers given; so also the first class in arithmetic gave evidence of close attention to study; the class in algebra did finely at the blackboard,—in fact, the whole school was in good trim. Ten of the pupils were not absent a day during the term of four months, and four others were absent but a half-day each. At the close of the school the pupils presented Mr. Fernald with a beautiful desk, with paper, inkstand, etc., as a slight token of their regard for him as a successful teacher of youth. K.

FISHERY NOTES.

The fishing schooner Etta Gott, at Gloucester on the 1st inst., reports that on her last trip she passed close to a vessel bottom up on the western edge of Georges bank—a very dangerous thing to be adrift in that locality. As it was nearly dark when she passed the wreck, no investigation could be made.

The schooner Mary J. Marden went into Newburyport on Saturday with between three and four thousand pounds of fish, and on Sunday and Monday the Forest Maid, Gertie Feeman, Lydia A. Davis and Sarah E. Babson took in about ten thousand pounds more. The Newburyport Herald of Tuesday morning says: "The Gloucester and Portsmouth fishing fleets seem to have supplied the pressing demand that has existed for fresh fish during the Lenten season, for while our boats were obliged to remain in on account of the heavy sea, the price of fish fell from three dollars per hundred weight to one dollar and sixty cents, at which price the Mary J. Marden sold her fare. The other boats held what fish they have in anticipation of an advance."

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the pewor we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

Mardi Gras Fun in New Orleans.

The fantastic doings of the Mystic Krew of Comus at New Orleans, La., gave many thousands an opportunity for exciting enjoyment. Among the incidents of the carnival on Shrove Tuesday was the 117th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, and all approved of its fairness. Next drawing will be on Tuesday, March 9th. For further information address M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same person at No. 319 Broadway, New York city, N. Y. Capital Prizes, $30,000, $10,000, $5,000. Tickets, $2, Halves, $1.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. D&WJan81

The valuable Gold bearing property of

THE MAMMOTH BLUE GRAVEL CO.,

NEVADA COUNTY, CAL.,

Capital, - - - - $2,000.000

SHARES, 40,000—PAR VALUE $50.

This large and valuable property consisting of about 12,000 acres, is surrounded by the following well-known hydraulic mines: "LITTLE YORK," "ROSE AND DURYEA," "SARGENT & JACOBS," "REMINGTON HILL," "BLUE TENT," "NORTH BLOOMFIELD," and others, which have been worked for years, producing millions of dollars. It has been thoroughly examined by Dr. Henry De Groot, whose report will be sent to those applying for it. With abundant water supply, and in close proximity to the Central Pacific R. R. it affords every advantage for highly profitable and economical hydraulic mining.

Hints for March Work.

The spring of the almanac now begins; but the spring-like weather during a large portion of this winter, has allowed the spring work of the middle, southern, and western states to be greatly forwarded. For the first time in many years, the writer has been plowing through nearly the whole of January, and hundreds of other farmers have done the same. Fencing, ditching, clearing wood-land, and even sowing grass-seed, has been extensively done, as though spring had already come. Sometimes, "the most haste is the worst speed," and is remains to be seen, if, after all, the season's work will be benefitted. It is a peculiar time, in which caution should be exercised, lest work done too soon may need to be done over again.

A strong plant digests its food better than a weak one, and its appetite, so to speak, is more vigorous, precisely as is that of a strong, healthy young animal. It is with the plant as with the animal; early feeding, and vigor of growth, bring early and vigorous maturity. The farmer should study to get early a strong and healthy growth.

It has been proved repeatedly that one acre of good green fodder will feed two cows through the summer. Fodder crops must be put in early. A mixture of oats and peas is the best crop for early cutting, to come in after the first clover, which follows the rye. The two sown together will yield, on one acre, about as much as if sown separately on two acres. This may be doubted, but it is true. Tall-growing leafy oats, and tall peas, yield the most fodder; the "Black-eye Marrowfat" pea, grown in Canada as a field crop, is the best for our use, the seed being free from weevil. For a second crop, the earliest small "Canada Gray" pea may be sown. The fodder is in the best condition for cutting when the peas are in full blossom.

It is a mistake to suppose that our climate forbids the success of permanent grass for meadows and pastures. If the right kind of land is chosen, low, moist, and full of vegetable matter, and is kept well manured, and occasionally re-seeded, we can have permanent grass as well as other countries. But it is necessary to sow, and encourage a number of kinds of grass, those with creeping rocts being preferable, if the quality is good. This subject is worthy of study and experiment.

"The early chick gets the early worm," and the sooner begins to feed itself. March pullets are those which fill the egg basket in the winter time. Therefore set all the broody hens for which eggs can be procured as soon as possible, and take great care of the chicks which come in this month. A warm run out of doors may be made under a hot-bed sash, arranged between two coops, and laid on boards set on their edge.—American Agriculturist.

An Elephant in Trouble.

The following story is told by a man who has travelled with a menagerie:

An elephant is worse than any other wild beast when he is wicked, because he has so much intelligence in planning devilry, and cunning ferocity in exercising it with his terrible power. If an elephant could talk he'd be a match in cuteness for most men. And they do talk among themselves. In 1862, when I was travelling with Mabie's show, we were going to Independence, Iowa, the town where Mr. Older, our manager, lived, and, as it was his own town, he wanted to put on some style there. So we had three elephants hitched to the band wagon. They were tandem, of course. Betsy, a small cow elephant, went first; Mary, a little larger cow elephant, was second, and Sultan, a very big bull elephant, was between the shafts.

We had to cross a bridge going into the town—a wooden bridge, forty feet high, over the rocky bed of a stream that all the water had gone out of. When you come to a bridge with elephants it isn't go as you please, but go as they please. These three moved so slowly that we were full fifteen minutes going fifty feet. I was sitting on the front of the band wagon, and could just feel it move and that was all. Betsey would put down a foot, try to shake the bridge with it, put her weight upon it gradually, and then send back a series of the queerest little grunts and whinnies that you ever heard, to Sultan, and he would answer her in the same way. Sometimes Mary would join in their conversation. Just as we got to the centre of the bridge there was a crash, and Sultan dropped right through from between the shafts and clean out of sight, like as a bullet would sink in water, and the other two darted across to solid ground, each giving a frightened yell as it made the plunge.

The band wagon with ten musicians, the driver and myself, stopped just at the edge of the hole through which Sultan went down. I sprang off and shouted to the musicians to jump out. They all did so, except the trombone player, a fat Deutscher, who had dropped his instrument in the confusion, and who rose up and said: "No; I don't got oner midout dot inadrument." Well, we ran down to Sultan. He had fallen in a sitting posture, and there he still sat, groaning dreadfully. It took twenty men and ten horses, with blocks and tackle, to hoist him to his feet. With great trouble we got him out of the ravine and up to Mr. Older's farm, where they nursed him for a week. They dosed him, and used liniment on him by the kegful, but still nothing seemed to relieve him.

He just lay on his side, groaning dreadfully, and touching the end of his trunk to one eye as if trying to call attention to something there. That motion was noticed at last, and the doctor went to work to examine that eye. The instant he touched it Sultan gave a big sigh of satisfaction, and stretched himself out, as much as to say, "That's the place; look out for that." The doctor pulled out a splinter, three-quarters as long as your little finger, that had been broken from the bridge, and gone in right beside Sultan's eyeball, and as soon as that was out the animal got up and commenced to get better. Poor Sultan, he was a fine fellow, with tusks six feet long and great brass balls on the ends of them, in which Long John, his keeper, used to keep his money. As he got his strength back he got dangerous, and about ten years after his fall they had to kill him.

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I voluntarily make the following statement:—

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours,
MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 18, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the fall of 1877, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by our well-known druggist, MR. LYONS, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity. Yours truly, F. P. CARROLL,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

38 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen.—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for ten years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temple, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I would then have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mucus from my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my tonsils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request I tried one bottle of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the poisonous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly,—a deep hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When matters had reached this stage, or about six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as I had not known it to be for years. It seemed gradually to arrest the discharges. It stopped my cough in three days. By using it as a gargle I soon reduced the inflammation and swelling of my tonsils to that they soon ceased to trouble me. The soreness across my chest disappeared, the buzzing noises in my head ceased, my senses of seeing and of hearing were completely restored, and every symptom of disease that had reduced me to the verge of the grave disappeared by the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

I have been thus explicit because, as a druggist, I witnessed a great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and hope to convince many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as prescribed by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every kind of remedy and apparatus that have appeared during a period of six years past, and have, while following these, taken great care of my general health, but obtained no relief or encouragement from any of them.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

Affords the most grateful relief in all Affections of the Chest and Lungs.

CHRONIC PLEURISY CURED.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—Having for many months past suffered with a very large size, called by my physician Chronic Pleurisy, caused by a former injury to the Brain, and the pain and distress of the lotions and liniments, as well as the so-called rheumatic cures, without the least benefit, I was finally recommended one of your COLLINS'S VOLTAIC PLASTERS which, to my great surprise, gave me immediate ease and rest immediately, and I have been able to attend to my professional duties, and sleep without pain or ease and comfort, whereas, before the application of your invaluable Plaster, I was scarcely able to do any thing. I consider them invaluable, and shall well recommend them as an effectual preventive against the Pleurisy. Yours respectfully, Mrs. FRANCES HARRIMAN. ORLAND, Me., April 21, 1876.

There is no medicinal or protective appliance that will prove so grateful and comforting as the Collins' Voltaic Plaster, for the relief and Soreness of the Chest and Lungs. We believe them capable of preventing serious diseases of these organs.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Do not confound these Plasters with the ordinary plasters of the day, that by comparison are absolutely worthless.

Be careful to obtain COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER, a combination of Rubber or Voltaic Plates with a highly Medicated Plaster, as seen in the above cut. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Find a Way, or Make It.

Ambition sleeps, lad, in your brain,
Bright hopes may soon awake it.
You see the goal, but ne'er a path?
Then find a way, or make it.

To get the occoanut's rich meat,
The shell is hard—you break it;
The fragrant leaf in odor holds
Until you bruise or shake it.

Untrodden is the path you choose—
You may be wise to take it,
But look ahead, all danger see,
And then you may escape it.

A mountain, far too steep to climb!
Well, then, don't try and do it;
You may be able to go round,
Or patiently dig through it.

A fence, you say, but ne'er a gate?
What can you do? you wonder;
Just scale the wall, if you can,
And, if you can't, crawl under!

Your way is muddy? Wait awhile,
Let winds and sunshine dry it;
Still, wait not for another rain
To see some comrade try it.

A river deep, you cannot swim?
No steamer there, you know it?
Well, if there is no other way,
Build your own boat, and row it.

Nay, lad, we know the way is hard—
Down hill, and up steep mountain;
And oft you'll drink from muddy stream
For want of better fountain.

Go down, and you'll have many a kick;
Go up, and some will push you;
But win your way, and praise will come
From those who tried to crush you.

False praise is but a phosphorus gleam,
For fame we oft mistake it;
Still for awhile it lights our way,
Until we overtake it.

Don't hide your talent through a fear,
But bravely go and stake it,
Wear out, don't rust—to reach your goal,
Lad, find a way, or make it.

Farm Notes.

The following hints to farmers we clip from the correspondents' column of the Country Gentleman:

Plum Growing.—Perhaps there is no fruit which pays so well as plums, where they can be successfully grown. The prevalence of the black knot has had a tendency to discourage many from planting out plum trees, and yet those fruit growers who take care of their plum trees, and keep the ground clean and well cultivated between the trees, suffer little from the black knot. I am satisfied that soil has much to do with the presence of this disease, and certain it is, that clay loam is the only soil upon which plums can be grown with any degree of success. One has only to visit one of the many plum orchards here on the Hudson river, to be convinced of this. Certain varieties do well upon certain soils, and the successful grower should know which they are. W.

Cutting Seed to Single Eyes.—I must give my experience in favor of cutting to single eyes, having practiced it for a number of years, and I know whereof I speak. Two years ago I had Early Rose yield at the rate of 488 bushels per acre by cutting to single eyes, planted in a moist sandy loam, three inches deep and not hilled up. Last year I got two La Plume Triumph potatoes from Mr. Tillinghast, with a package of other seeds, and cut them to single eyes. There were only twenty-two eyes in the two. I planted them in hills, three feet apart, a single eye in a hill, and obtained a large basket of potatoes. In several instances I found three tubers as long and broad as my hand, and about two inches thick, all fastened to one stem, coming from one eye. The potatoes were excellent—better than the Early Rose—whiter and more mealy when grown side by side. J. H. S.

Culture of Pole Beans.—The following is my method of growing pole beans. I have planted in this way for two years, and like it: I take a sharp spade and go to the side of the highway where there is a wash, as the soil is pretty sure to be good, free from stone and a close turf. I cut the turf in squares of one foot, about three inches deep, hauling these on the wagon to the place chosen for the crop. I lay them bottom up in the cold frame, and with an old knife cut each square of turf into pieces four inches square, giving nine pieces to each square. In each of these smaller pieces of turf I stick the bean, squash or melon seeds. I put two beans in a piece, or three melon or squash seeds. I then sprinkle soil over the bed, and when the seeds are up high enough I take the pieces of turf with the plants and set them where they are to grow. By this method the roots are not broken and they grow right along. I use two squares for a hill of beans, which gives me four good plants in each hill. F. C. M.

—A novelty in political demonstrations was held on the 23d ult., in Manchester, in favor of extending the suffrage to women. The meeting was organized and conducted by ladies, and men were admitted only to the galleries. The hall was crowded, so much so that a second place had to be secured for those who were turned away from the main building. Resolutions were passed in favor of granting the suffrage to women.—St. John (N. B.) Globe.

He Got His Answer.

On Saturday, Feb. 28th, Counter-out Garcelon addressed a "vindication meeting" at Auburn, Me., in the course of his remarks saying: "Your municipal election occurs next Monday. If you believe that I have done right—have fearlessly performed my duty, by strictly following the law and constitution, vote the democratic ticket. If not, vote the republican ticket." On the following Monday the republican candidate for mayor of Auburn was elected by a vote of 1156 to 707—a republican gain of 435 from last year!

Naval Gazette.

On the 2d inst. the secretary of the navy received a despatch from Montevideo announcing the death on the 26th ult. of Harvey Wike, a cadet midshipman on board the U. S. S. Marion. There are no new cases of yellow fever among the ship's company, and all the sick are improving.

Orders have been issued by the secretary of the navy directing the transfer of all enlisted men of the United States receiving ship Franklin, who have been two years on board that ship, also those that have been one year without having been to sea during their present enlistment, to the marine barracks at Norfolk, Va.; those on board the Colorado, to Brooklyn; those on board the Wabash, to Boston; and those on the St. Louis, to League island.

On the 2d inst., in the national senate, nearly the whole of the executive session was devoted to a discussion in regard to the case of Lieut. Woodhull S. Schenck, (a nephew of Gen. Schenck,) nominated to be assistant quartermaster and captain in the marine corps. This nomination was reported adversely from the committee on naval affairs a fortnight previous, and was on the 2d inst. opposed by members of that committee and various other senators, on the grounds that the proposed promotion would "jump" Lieut. Schenck over the heads of some thirty or thirty-five senior officers; and that although admitted a meritorious officer, the senate should reject his nomination as a means of putting a stop to the practice of disregarding seniority. No vote was taken on the question.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1st.

If they do not look sharp, some of our shrewd American capitalists may be taken in by the wiles of the men who spring from "effete monarchies." There's a good many of them seem to take stock in the assumption that the Frenchman who proposes to ditch the Isthmus of Panama is an engineer, and therefore competent to do a great work like that. The fact is De Lesseps is not an engineer at all. He was formerly in the employ of the French government as consul or something of that sort, and it was by one of those fortuitous circumstances that nobody can account for that he got hold of the job to construct the Suez canal. It is probable that this accounts for his zeal for this Panama scheme, which Capt. Eades and the best engineers pronounce impracticable. De Lesseps may turn out to be something of a humbug. At any rate, we have much better talent in America for the carrying out of American improvements.

Mr. Charles Nordhoff, one of the leading newspaper authorities here, writes to the New York Herald that the anti-third-term republicans, including George William Curtis, will no longer oppose the nomination at Chicago of Senator Blaine. Their attitude will be similar to that of the Tammany men toward Robinson—they will support anybody but Grant; in fact, Nordhoff thinks Senator Blaine would unite all factions of the republican party, bring back all liberal republicans, and gain over some democrats. In one respect his prophesy is coming true almost before his ink is dry. The leading newspapers that opposed Blaine in 1876 are warmly favoring his nomination now, and it was through the anti-third-term influence that the Illinois convention was postponed until May 19th, which is a great disappointment to Logan as one of the "boomers."

By the way, I hear that there is a good deal of bad blood developing between the Washburn and Grant men in Illinois, and that they will knife each other. The impression is gaining ground that the Washburns are for Grant merely as a stepping-stone or something for Washburn.

The new three and one half per cent refunding bill, which is the special order for Tuesday, finds new favor from a significant fact. It is discovered that Wm. H. Vanderbilt, the railroad king, is down on the treasury books for $30,000,000 four per cent bonds, on which he has made a profit of $1,500,000 by the rise, besides the interest. It is now anticipated that the four per cents will soon be worth 110. If this is the case, the friends of the 3 1-2 per cents say there is no danger in trying a bond of a lower rate than four per cent.

KNOX.

News and Notes.

The Iowa legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in that state, under heavy penalties by fine and imprisonment.

The number of vessels belonging to, or bound to or from ports in the United States, reported totally lost and missing during the past month, is fifty-two, of which twenty-six were wrecked, thirteen abandoned, one burned, one sunk by collision, four foundered and seven are missing. The list comprises three steamers, nine ships, eleven barks, seven brigs, and twenty-two schooners, and their total value, exclusive of cargoes, is estimated at $1,240,000.

An attempt was made to shoot Gen. Melikoff in St. Petersburg on the 3d inst. The would-be assassin, a young man, was captured. Gen. Melikoff was not hurt.

At Rawlins, W. T., on the 2d inst., Ed. Clark was mortally wounded by his partner, John Lee, for attempting to start a fire; the murderer escaped. A few hours later a teamster named Frankinton fatally stabbed one Knott, a saloon keeper, in a dispute over a rum bill.

Louis Kinder, a one-armed negro, was lynched in Carleton county, S. C., on the 1st inst., for feloniously assaulting a white woman named Byrd on the Saturday previous. Before being hung Kinder confessed the crime, and also that he outraged a colored woman at Newbery six years ago, and murdered a colored girl at Kingstree last April.

The ways and means committee of the national house of representatives has resolved not to attempt any tinkering of the tariff at this session of congress.

The Bridgeport, Conn., Farmer says that a well-known life insurance agent of that city, with an eye to business, has made a proposition to W. R. Smith of Norwalk, to insure the life of William Bucholz, now on trial for murder, for $1,000, the policy to be made payable in the event of the death to Messrs. Smith and Bollman, his counsel, one-fourth of the premium to be contributed by the agent. The proposition will probably be accepted.

It is stated that a crematory is to be established in Woodbridge, Conn., for the benefit of a few persons who prefer to be burned rather than buried.

Rev. A. W. Page of Glastonbury, Conn., recently sent to the Hartford jail for mailing an obscene letter, has paid his fine and costs of $370, and been released.

Prof. Vose of Brunswick, Me., publishes in the Railroad Gazette an article with a page of illustrations of various piers for railroad bridges. Among them is a plan of the piers of the Tay bridge. He says: "We do not have to look beyond the general shape of the piers of the Tay bridge for the cause of the disaster. If the workmanship was bad in addition, so much the worse. The form is hexagonal, the base no wider than the top. All the piers given of United States bridges have the base wider than the top to resist lateral strain."

In West Gloucester, R. I., on Saturday afternoon, the 28th ult., the young wife of Atwell Saunders, a respectable farmer, shot herself in the head and will probably die. She was married when seventeen years old to Henry Thaxter, who as soon sent to the state prison for two years, for horse stealing. She procured a divorce and married Saunders. On Saturday the first husband, Thaxter, whose term had expired, drove up in front of Saunders' house. Mrs. Saunders saw him from the window, and went to her room. Thaxter asked to see her, and when she was sought, she had fired the fatal shot.

Natives of Newfoundland residing in Boston and vicinity are about to agitate the annexation of that island to the United States. They propose holding a series of meetings soon.

W. W. Morse's elevator, in Lowell, Mass., was damaged to the amount of $14,000 by fire on the 2d inst. On the same day, in the court at Cambridge, Nathaniel Allen was sent to state prison for six years, for setting fire in 1878 to an elevator which then occupied the site of the one partially burned on the 2d.

There are four persons in Stratham between seventy and a hundred years old, and sixty persons between seventy and eighty years old, though the population of the town is only about 700.

Mrs. Mary Hartford of Epping, besides attending to her domestic duties and household affairs, and having the care of her husband and two children, has found time during the winter to cut and pile sixty cords of wood. Plenty of other persons found time to cut wood, but didn't do it.

On Saturday, the 28th ult., as Mr. Barker Perry was returning on the river to Dresden from Bath, Me., with a span of horses, one of which he had just purchased for $150, the ice gave way. Horses and sled sank, and Mr. Perry barely escaped with his life. The span was worth $300, and the total loss of horses, sled and harnesses is $500. Two years ago, while crossing the river, Mr. Perry lost a span in a similar manner.

Joseph Putney, mail carrier between Canaan and West Rumney, was found dead on the floor of his barn, Tuesday morning, the 24th ult., with a hole in his head, supposed to have been caured by a kick from his horse when he was in a stooping position.

Frank Page, some time since in trouble in Manchester on a charge of rape, turned up in Pittsfield the other day, where he stole $87 from the coat pocket of a fellow-workman in a saw mill, and then decamped. He was traced to Manchester, Hooksett and Concord; at the last-named place bought a ticket for St. Albans.

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular or religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

Shan't I take a Blue Pill?

No, don't take it and run the risk of mercurial poison, but when billious and constipated get a box of the celebrated Kidney-Wort, and it will speedily cure you. It is nature's great remedy for constipation, and for all kidney and liver diseases. It acts promptly on these great organs and so restores strength and vigor.

—A man in Bridgeport is credited with the frank confession that he don't suppose people care much what he says in town meetings, but that his talk is a wonderful relief to himself.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted doubt the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

The Boston Post says: "Mr. John J. Braham, musical director of the Boston museum, is to go to the Wentworth at Newcastle, N. H., near Portsmouth, during the coming summer, with an orchestra of over twenty men, including a number of the members of the orchestra of Mapleson's opera company. Mr. Howard Reynolds is to be the solo cornetist."

That curious story we published yesterday about the Portsmouth assessors, is verified by the Portsmouth papers last night and this morning. Some of our readers seemed to doubt it, but facts are stubborn things, and the conduct of these assessors is causing a good deal of talk and excitement in our neighboring city. This abatement of one's taxes to increase one's salary, has a sweet originality about it, not often seen in the conduct of any business whatever. It is so very simple as to make us wonder, and yet so grotesque as to excite the repulsiveness of our natures. It is a curious piece of business as it stands, and promises any amount of talk and trouble. Still nobody seems to know any help for it. It is a piece of sharp practice the like of which was never heard of before, that is, hardly ever.—Dover Democrat.

On Tuesday of this week the funeral of Mrs. Mary Rollins took place from the alms-house. At the time of her death she was about seventy years old, and had been an inmate of the alms-house for several months, receiving the kindest attention,—as indeed do all the unfortunate inmates of that institution, from the excellent superintendent and matron. For several years previous to her death her mind had been badly disordered, and she had wandered from place to place, her children not being able to keep her with them. She had buried four husbands, their respective names being Sanderson, Burns, Chamberlain and Rollins. Her oldest son by her first husband, Rev. Mr. Sanderson, assisted City Missionary Loyne at the funeral. She was buried in the potter's field.

Recollections of General Lafayette, on his visit to the United States in 1824 and 1825, with the most remarkable incidents of his life, etc.; by A. A. Parker, Esq., Keene; published by the Sentinel Printing Co. Mr. Parker here gives us in print his extemporary narration of Lafayette's visit to this state over half a century since, once spoken before the Historical society at Concord. The reception in Portsmouth is condensed from the account published at the time in the Journal and GAZETTE, which refers to the circumstance of the Strafford Guards from Dover, and the Rockingham Guards and the Gilman Blues of this city, joining the procession and performing escort duty through Middle, Broad (now State,) Court (now Pleasant,) and Congress streets to Franklin hall, (now Franklin building,) where the revolutionary veterans and citizens were presented. The pamphlet makes a volume of 145 pages, and is good reading for the younger people of to-day, who can learn of the man for whom Lafayette road was named from these recollections. The book is for sale at the Portsmouth Journal office.

The use of the heliotrope by the English forces during the campaign of 1878 in Afghanistan, was extensively commented upon by the English journals as a new feature in field signaling. It was shown a year ago that the same instrument was used on the northern lakes in 1854 and '55 by General William F. Raynolds, lieutenant-colonel, (then first-lieutenant) corps of engineers, U. S. A. Even this was not the earliest use of the instrument in this country, for the late Alexander Dallas Bache, superintendent of the coast survey, while engaged in triangulation of the New England coast, used the instrument constantly in 1844, '45 and '46, when he was in camp near Portsmouth, New Hampshire, at the stations which he had established on Mount Washington and other points in the White mountains.—Army and Navy Register.

The New Hampshire Milk Producers' association met in Exeter on the 2d inst., and organized with the following officers; President, R. M. Scammon of Stratham; vice president, George W. Sanborn of East Kingston; secretary, C. N. Healey of Stratham; treasurer, Arthur W. Dudley of Brentwood; delegates to New England association, John N. Thompson of Stratham, and J. Warren Sanborn of Kingston. A constitution was adopted, by which the association bind themselves to abide the decisions of the New England association. A general expression was taken as regards the price of milk from April to October. A majority were in favor of twenty cents per can, delivered at the car.

TEMPERANCE RELIEF ASS'N.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Temperance Mutual Relief Association was held in Good Templars' hall on Tuesday evening, March 2d, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Charles T. Wiggin, president;
George W. Randall, Joseph T. French, vice presidents;
Horace A. Martin, recording secretary;
Otis F. Philbrick, corresponding secretary;
James Janvrin, treasurer;
Charles S. Dodge, bookkeeper;
James Sanborn, Daniel L. Randall, Stephen W. Clarke, John E. Roberts, Ezekiel Burns, William B. Colley, trustees.

The number of members at present is sixty-eight, about fifty of whom were present at the meeting. The treasurer's report shows the amount of cash on hand to be $285,86. During the year past the amount paid out for sick benefits was $24.

NORTH PARISH MEETING.

At the annual meeting of the North Parish, held on Tuesday evening of this week, the board of wardens of last year were re-elected, with the substitution of Mr. Wm. G. Billings in place of John H. Bailey, deceased.

The monthly meeting of the directors of this society was held on Tuesday evening of this week. The secretary's report for the last two months showed the following cases attended to:

Overdriving horses	2
Overloading horses	2
Using old and worn out horses	4
Beating horses	3
Underfeeding horses	2
Sick horses care for	1
Improperly sheltered horses	1
Horses humanely killed	1

Votes of thanks were passed to Rev. Albert Walkley, of Keene, and Rev. H. S. Fiske, of Rumney, for recent sermons on the subject of cruelty to animals.

The thanks of the society were also voted to the friend who contributed twenty dollars to the permanent fund.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. John Neil has been purchasing piles to be used in repairing his marine railway at Kittery foreside.

It is reported that the Richard Cutts place, at Cutt's island, Bra'-Boat harbor, Kittery, had been sold to Mr. Thaxter.

The winter term of the school at Bra'-Boat harbor, Kittery point, taught by Mr. Francis Raynes to the entire satisfaction of the superintending committee and the parents of the pupils, closes on Friday, the 5th inst.

Timothy Holland, one of the fusion policemen of Biddeford, was arrested in the street in Saco a few evenings ago, in company with two married women, all three of them being drunk. The officer was fined in the Saco police court next morning.

Wm. W. Thomas, Jr., of Portland, and Joseph R. Libby of Biddeford, have been chosen as delegates to the Chicago convention by the republicans of the first congressional district of Maine, with Dr. William Osgood of North Yarmouth and Elisha H. Jewett of South Berwick as alternates.

The British ship The Craigs, of Greenock, Scotland, formerly the ship Cheltenham of Kennebunk, Me., where she was built in 1861, has been abandoned at sea on the passage from Pensacola to Greenock, her crew of twenty men being taken off by the steamship Thanemore. Subsequently the derelict vessel was fallen in with by steamship Teutonia, which put on a prize crew of twelve men to take her into port.

It is said that Mr. Safford, landlord of the Pepperell house, Kittery, has applied to the selectmen of the town to have inserted in the election warrant a clause calling for the sense of the legal voters on the question of making a new road, to run around by the harbor and sea shore to Bra'-Boat harbor, and thence inland through the farms to some point on a present public road. It is expected that the Humbug Yachting & Fishing Association of this city, and the proprietors and regular visitors of Seaside lodge, will present a remonstrance against the proposed road, on the ground that it will ruin Pocahontas point as a resort for people of refined tastes.

The "Globe" Tobacco.

The "Globe chewing tobacco" furnishes a striking instance of the enormous sale and popularity a particular brand of some staple article of commerce is capable of attaining. And yet there is no mystery about it, for the result has been brought about by the action of inevitable laws. When the lover of "the weed" once finds a given brand of the article as near perfection as it is well possible to attain in every detail essential to an ideal chewing tobacco, he is likely to spend all his indulgence money for that particular brand in the future; and in the case of the "Globe" the proprietors have taken pains not only to see that their tobacco shall be as nearly perfect as skill and care can make it, but by judicious business management to make sure that no one interested shall long remain in ignorance of its superiority. The immense works of the Walker-McGraw company in Detroit, where it is manufactured, form one of the great manufacturing interest of that city, so enormous are the quantities of the fragrant leaf consumed and the number of men employed in attending to the numerous minute details necessary in bringing the product to the high state of purity and palatability which charterizes each packag before it is sent forth into the market.

A Runaway Railroad.

A few years ago, when the growth of Oil City, Penn., had covered all the limited space between the high hills which rise on all sides of that town, the demand for building sites led to the construction of a railroad to the summit of one of the highest of the hills, which was expected to make the same so easy of access as to lead to a large movement of population in that direction. The scheme, however, proved a failure, and the road, after a brief use, laid idle for a long time.

Recently the representatives of a coal company in Schuykill purchased the road and its machinery for the purpose of removing them to that county, and a few days ago the work of removal began. The rails, formerly the track of the road, were fastened together at the ends when laid, forming an unbroken line. The plan adopted for taking up the rails was to unspike them from the ties, then attach horses to the end of one line of rails at the foot of the hill, and disconnect the rails, as they were drawn down, at every two or three rail lengths. A few lengths of rail near the bottom were removed, and then the horses started the whole of the remaining line, nearly a quarter of a mile in length. The ties were covered with snow and ice. The line of rails moved slowly at first, but suddenly they began to increase in speed until the whole quarter mile of rails was gliding down the steep and slippery hill at the rate of forty-five miles an hour. The rail at the bottom, from long disuse, was turned up at the end like a sled shoe. The line of iron shot across the street at the bottom of the hill with great speed, toward a barn on the lower side of the street, directly in front of the flying rails.

The end rail struck the side of the barn about a foot from the ground. The shock broke the connection in several places, and the air was full of flying rails, some being thrown three hundred feet. About two hundred feet of the railroad stayed together. It tore through the barn as though the building was made of paper. The speed of the rails seemed to have been very little affected by its passage through the barn, for the whole line of iron came through on the other side. When it emerged from the barn it made directly across the yard, narrowly missing a residence but striking an outhouse, which it reduced to splinters. From there it glided into the back yard of the James house. It made directly for the kitchen, but before reaching it, came in contact with a heavy stone wall. This changed the course of the flying iron. It caromed from the stone wall to a chimney on the James house, which it demolished. Here the iron again parted, one piece flying off to the right, and ploughing into the ground made a furrow a foot deep, for over fifty feet. This closed the career of that part of the railroad. The other portion jumped from the low roof of the James house to the top of a three-story house. It tore off the shingles for several feet, when it came in contact with the chimney. This it knocked over, but had met with opposition enough to bring it to a stop. About fifty feet of iron remained on the house.

The whole trip of the railroad iron did not occupy a minute, but in that time it created a bigger sensation than Oil City had seen for many a day. The striking of the stone wall by the iron, which turned it away from the James house kitchen, doubtless saved lives, for there were several girls at work in the kitchen. Owners of damaged property are trying to find out who to look to for remuneration. The owners of the railroad were gathering up rails all over the vicinity for several hours after the accident.—Oil City Derrick.

Grape Culture and Wine.

Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey, one of the largest grape producers in the East, commenced, but a few years ago, in a small way, to make wines from currants, blackberries, and other fruits. He now controls large vineyards of the Oporto grape, from which his famous Port Grape Wine is made, and which chemists and physicians say rivals the world for its beneficial effects on weakly and aged persons, and the consumptive.

Maine News.

Hop Bitters, which are advertised in our columns, are a sure cure for ague, biliousness and kidney complaints. Those who use them say they cannot be too highly recommended. Those afflicted, should give them a fair trial, and will become thereby enthusiastic in the praise of their curative qualities.—Portland Argus.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which ionstitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the Blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

An Editor's Dream.

Once upon a time an editor dreamed that he was dead and in another world. He approached a city before him and knocked for admittance, but no one answered his summons. The gate remained closed against him. Then he cried aloud for an entrance, but the only response was scores of heads appearing above the walls on the other side of the gate. At sight of him the owners set up a dismal howl and one of them cried:

"Why didn't you notice that big egg I gave you?"

At this horrid and most unexpected interrogation, the poor editor turned in the direction of the voice to learn who was its owner, when another voice shrieked:

"Where's that piece you were going to write about my soda fountain?"

And close upon this was the awful demand:

"Why did you write a piece about old Toulinson's hens, and never speak of my new gate?"

Whatever answer he was going to frame to this appeal was cut short by the astonishing query:

"Why did you spell my name wrong in the programme?"

The miserable man turned to flee, when he was rooted to the ground by the terrible interrogatory:

"Why did you put my marriage among the deaths?"

He was on the point of saying the foreman did it, when a shrill voice madly cried:

"You spoiled the sale of my horse by publishing that it run away!"

And another:

"If I catch you alone I'll lick you for what you said about me when I was before the police court."

Another:

"Why didn't you show up the school question when I told you to?"

And this was followed by the voice of a female hysterically exclaiming:

"This is the brute that botched my poetry and made me ridiculous!"

Whereupon hundreds of voices screamed in voices of thunder:

"Where is my article? Give me back my article!"

And in the midst of the infernal din the poor wretch awoke, perspiring at every pore and screaming for help.

COMMUNION WINE.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,

From the Oporto Grape, raised by Mr. Speer at his vineyards, is a rich, heavy-bodied Port, prescribed by Physicians in place of California and imported Port, used by families for weddings, and as an evening wine; and by ladies and weakly persons (for strengthening); also the principal wine for communion purposes. $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

Speer's P. J. Sherry

is a Wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the golden qualities of the grape from which it is made. For purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unrivalled. $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION; Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great skill and experience, who has received a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains 5 audited and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president, W. H. T. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D., C. S. GAUNIT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET M. D.; R. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. E. HOLCOMB, M. THE
New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

— OF —

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Swine, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Art Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen.—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for ten years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temple, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would arise out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I would then have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mucus from my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my tonsils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request postponed it. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the poisonous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly,—a deep hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When matters had reached this stage, about six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as I had not known it to be for years. It seemed gradually to extract the poisonous matter. It stopped my cough in three days. By using it as a gargle I soon reduced the inflammation and swelling of my tonsils so that they soon ceased to trouble me. The soreness across my chest disappeared, the hoarse hacking noises in my head ceased, my senses of seeing and of hearing were completely restored, and every symptom of disease that had reduced me to the verge of the grave disappeared by the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. I have been thus explicit because, as a druggist, I have seen a great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and hope to convince many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as practised by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every kind of remedy and apparatus that have appeared during a period of six years past, and have, while following that course, taken great care of my general health, but obtained no relief or encouragement from any of them. "

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

Affords the most grateful relief in all Affections of the Chest and Lungs.

CHRONIC PLEURISY CURED.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Having for many months past suffered with a very heat-rending cough, called by my physician Chronic Pleurisy, caused by a former injury to my lungs, and for which I used many prescriptions and liniments, as well as the so-called rheumatic cures, without benefit, I was induced to try your Collins' Voltaic Plaster, which, to my great surprise, relieved the pain and soreness almost immediately, and I have been able to attend to my household affairs ever since with perfect ease and comfort, whereas, before the application of your invaluable Plaster, I was scarcely able to do any thing. I consider them inestimable, and shall will pleasure recommend them to the afflicted. Yours respectfully, Mrs. FRANCES HARRIMAN. ORLAND, Me., April 21, 1876.

There is no medical or protective appliance that will prove so grateful and effective in relieving pain, irritation and soreness of the Chest and Lungs. We believe them capable of preventing serious diseases of these organs.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Do not confound these Plasters with the ordinary Plasters of the day, that by comparison are absolutely worthless.

Be careful to obtain COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER, combination of Electric or Voltaic Plates with a light Medicated Plaster, as seen in the above cut. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

—A western man having lost his wife, was accested by a sympathizing friend, who remarked upon his woe-begone appearance. "Well, I guess you would look thin too," was the melancholy rejoinder, "if you had to get up before daylight, make the fires, draw water, split wood, and feed the cattle, all before breakfast. I just tell you what it is, if I don't get somebody to fill poor, dear, sainted Maria's place I will be resting by her side before many weeks are past."

—A dog owned in Brooklyn has been trained to go every morning to the newsstand for his master's morning paper, which was the New York Tribune until lately; but from political motives the paper was changed. The dog, however, refuses to touch any paper but the one he had been used to, and returns each morning without any, looking very sad and dejected, and therein shows that it would be difficult to make a politician of him.

—When a young lady tripped into a music store the other day and asked the bashful clerk in attendance for "Two Kisses," he jammed on his hat and rushed out of the back door. The clerk, never having heard of the piece of music, thought he was the victim of a leap year proposal, and his salary was not large enough to support two.—Norristown Herald.

—Insults are like counterfeit money; they may be offered, but you need not take them.

It is impossible for a woman after a faithful course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to continue to suffer with a weakness of the uterus. Enclose a stamp to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for her pamphlets.

—"Zephaniah," said his wife, with a chilling severity, "I saw you coming out of a saloon this afternoon." "Well, my darling," replied the heartless man, "you wouldn't have your husband staying in a saloon all day, would you?"

Shan't I take a Blue Pill?

No, don't take it and run the risk of mercurial poison, but when billious and constipated get a box of the celebrated Kidney-Wort, and it will speedily cure you. It is nature's great remedy for constipation, and for all kidney and liver diseases. It acts promptly on these great organs and so restores strength and vigor.

APHONIA CURED.—FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.—Aphonia or Loss of Voice is remedied in a short time, no matter whether the cause be from inflammation of the lining membrane from cold, or from nervous derangement.

Hop Bitters, which are advertised in our columns, are a sure cure for ague, biliousness and kidney complaints. Those who use them say they cannot be too highly recommended. Grape Culture and Wine.

Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey, one of the largest grape producers in the East, commenced, but a few years ago, in a small way, to make wines from currants, blackberries, and other fruits. He now controls large vineyards of the Oporto grape, from which his famous Port Grape Wine is made, and which chemists and physicians say rivals the world for its beneficial effects on weakly and aged persons, and the consumptive.

Wouldn't Recognize Him.

Some six weeks or more ago it was announced that Representative Weaver, of Iowa, intended to offer in the national house of representatives at the first practicable moment a resolution or bill on the financial question; it was also announced that Speaker Randall said he would "refuse to recognize" Weaver, so that he would not be able to get his business before the house—and Randall's word was made good, he arbitrarily refusing to "recognize" Weaver, week after week. The democrats appear to consider this a joke; we consider it an outrageous abuse of the "one man power," which if allowed to become a recognized precedent will make the speaker of the house of more importance than all the rest of the house combined. If the speaker can refuse to recognize one member of the minority, (Weaver is a greenbacker,) why may he not extend his injustice to every member by the minority? If he may refuse to allow one representative to introduce business into the house, lest its introduction might work mischief to the democratic party, why may he not go a little further, and say that no business shall be introduced by any representative who is not a recognized member of the democratic party? In Louisiana or South Carolina such proceedings as this of Randall's are expected; but in the national house some pretence of a show of fairness and decency is looked for.

News and Notes.

The man who attempted to shoot Gen. Melikoff turns out to be a semi-idiot, formerly a nihilist, and who was semi-drunk when he fired at Melikoff.

Mrs. Atwell Saunders, who shot herself in West Gloucester, R. I., Feb. 28th, died on the 2d inst. It proves that she had not been legally divorced, having regarded the incarceration of her husband in the state prison as a practical divorce. It now proves that her convict husband married another woman a few days before his call upon her, which was made to assure himself that she would not trouble him.

Oriental and Biblical Journal.

We are happy to introduce to the public a new magazine, entitled the Oriental and Biblical Journal. The object of this magazine is to give results of latest researches in all Oriental lands, such as Egypt, Assyria, India, and countries farther east, including also Italy, Greece, Troy, and other regions known to classic history. It will also embrace many subjects of a more general character, such as the manners and customs of all nations, their traditions, mythologies and religious notions, as well as language and literature; and everything that may serve to illustrate the history of the human race, or confirm the truth of the scripture record. The Journal will also embrace correspondence from missionaries and residents in various parts of Asia and Africa, Japan, Polynesia and Australia, and the expectation is that all ancient and primitive races of the earth will ultimately be embraced within its scope. There is no doubt that Bible scholars, classical students and professional men will find it a valuable accession, as the subjects to which it is especially devoted are now becoming very important, and the effort to comprise the many facts which are now scattered through so many channels into one journal, must be very welcome. Hitherto there has been no reliable publication on these subjects. Scholars, if they would keep pace with the progress of discovery, are obliged to take a large number of European journals, and to purchase many expensive books. The Journal offers peculiar advantages for securing information as to the results of investigations. Its issues have a circulation among the societies of Europe, and they have already secured the hearty co-operation of some of the most eminent archæologists in the world. Arrangements are in progress to secure the reports of the Palestine exploration party, and of the archæological societies at Rome, Athens, and other places, as they are published. Quarterly, illustrated; price, $2 per year. Address, Rev. Stephen D. Peet, editor, Clinton, Wis.; Jameson & Morse, publishers, 164 Clark street, Chicago.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, March 3.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3343; sheep and lambs 5155; swine 10,599; number western cattle 2874; eastern cattle 249; milch cows and northern cattle 170. Cattle left over from last week 50.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $6.50 and $6; first quality $5 and $5 37½; second quality $4.50 and $4 87½; third quality $4 and $4 37½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, &c., $3 25 and $3 87½.

Brighton Hides 8c per lb; Brighton tallow 3½ and 3¾c per lb; country hides 7 and 7½c per lb; country tallow 4½ and 5c per lb. Calf skins 12½c per lb; sheep and lamb skins $2 and $2 50 each.

Working Oxen—Trade for working oxen has been dull and quite nominal in market, all as large as the trade required. We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 7 ft 2 in, live weight 3200 lbs, at $155; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3100 lbs, $153; 1 pr, girth 7 ft 6 in, live weight 3500 lbs, coarse ones, at $150; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 5 in, live weight 2300 lbs, $100; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2900 lbs, 150; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2900 lbs, $115; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 9 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $140; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, live weight 2300 lbs, $95; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2750 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 11 in, live weight 2750 lbs, $135.

Milch Cows—Extra $45 and $70; ordinary $20 and $41; springers $18 and $50; farrow cows $13 and $27 per head. We quote sales of 5 milch cows at $35 each; 5 at $40 each; 5 springers, good ones for $110 the lot; 2 springers at $37 50 each; 1 cow and calf at $45; 2 new milch cows at $41 50 each; 1 springer, $45; 1 do at $32; 1 do at $40; 2 new milch cows at $34 50 each.

Store Cattle—Not much call for store cattle. Most of the small cattle and many of the cows that are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep and lambs cost higher than they did one week ago, all owned by butchers, who employ agents at the west to buy and ship direct to them every week. There have been but few western lambs brought in yet this season. This week western sheep cost from 5½ to 7½c per lb, live weight.

Swine—Fat hogs have advanced about one-eighth of a cent per lb, costing 5¼c per lb, live weight, all owned by butchers.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 1,6,8sf

AROUND HOME.

Tony Pastor's "Comic Boom," the burlesque "Go West on the Emigant Train," will be given at Music hall on Thursday evening next. See advertisement.

We are much gratified at being able to announce that Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Alden is rapidly improving in health, and is considered by his physician to be out of danger.

The schooner Satellite, Capt. Adderton, is on the railway at Kittery, being calked and painted. The Satellite is to be engaged in freighting bricks from Durham and Eliot to Boston, the coming season.

Mr. D. H. Montgomery has purchased the lot of land formerly owned by Capt. W. W. Low, U. S. N., on Miller avenue,—one of the finest places in the city,—on which he intends this season to erect a residence.

Surgeons R. C. Dean and J.H. Kidder, of the navy, are at the Rockingham. They with Constructor Wilson are engaged in an examination of the causes of and remedies for the late yellow fever visition on board of the U. S. S. Plymouth.

Persons curious in such matters may see at our counting room an egg laid by a Rocky Mountain hen owned by Mr. Dennis Shea, which weighs five and a quarter ounces, and measures seven and one half inches around one way and eight and a quarter inches the other. Dennis thinks "they won't beat that around anywhere."

The fine three-masted schooner Clara E. Simpson, Talpey master, sailed from this port on the 2d inst. for Baltimore, with 2982 barrels of apples and potatoes shipped by Mathes & Hayes, 287 barrels of apples, potatoes, cranberries, onions and dried apples by Wm. Downs & Son, and 137 barrels of apples and potatoes by C. L. Brown & Co.

The schooner Loella, Capt. Amee, sailed from this port on the 3d inst. for Camden, Me., where she will load with lime and plaster for Converse & Hobbs of Dover. The Cocheco river is free of ice, and the Loella will be able to go up at once on her arrival back; she will probably be the first vessel to go up the river this season. Last year she took up four or five large cargoes of lumber, we believe for the same parties by whom she is now chartered.

Under the heading "A cool affair," the Newburyport Herald of Thursday last says: "The great and only California minstrels, headed by Cool Burgess, slumped, burst up and disbanded, and did not come to time last night. The coolest feature of the affair was their neglecting to notify Mr. Shattuck of the Merrimac house, who got up a dinner for twenty-five of them, and waited in vain for the guests to partake of his bounty." This accounts for the non-appearance of the company at Music hall on Thursday evening.

"WE AND OUR NEIGHBORS."

One of the pleasant features of Saturday evening's entertainment at Music hall will be the visit of nearly two hundred of our Dover neighbors, who will arrive in a special train and leave in like manner after the close of the performance.

The idea of this agreeable mode of contributing to the effort of making Dover and Portsmouth people better acquainted belongs to Winslow T. Perkins, Esq., the popular and progressive agent of the Eastern railway in the two cities, to whose pluck, perseverance and courteous conduct the Eastern is largely indebted for its increase of local traffic on the Dover branch.

Our neighboring city is less than a dozen miles distant. It abounds in active, industrious and successful business men; and it would surprise a Portsmouth man who is not in the habit of visiting Dover, to witness its growth and industrial progress within a few years. In addition to the successful cotton and woollen manufactories, it has a shoe manufactory the second in extent in the county and from which work is given out all around the region about Dover. E. C. Kinnear & Co. do a large business in men's brogans and heavy shoe work, while other shoe concerns are in a successful line of business. Belt manufactories, sand paper, carriages, (for which Jasper H. Randlett has a fine reputation as a builder,) and other industries keep a large population employed; and Dover has a steady and healthy growth, as the next census will show. And yet the two cities, though in the same boat as far as the railroad is concerned, seem to have but little in common, because so few of our people are acquainted with residents in a city so near to our homes.

We are glad something has turned up to bring these Dover visitors to Portsmouth. We bid our friends upon the Cocheco welcome to Strawberry Bank, and offer them on Saturday night an opportunity of enjoying one of the most comfortable places of amusement to be found in New England, and trust they will heartily enjoy their visit.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION

A meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Wednesday evening, March 3d; present, Mayor Sise, Mrs. Wilson, Messr. Locke, Goodrich, May, Knight, Hoyt, Newton, Gardner, Vaughan and Pender.

Sundry bills were read and ordered to be paid.

The annual report of the committee on grammar schools was read and accepted.

The attention of the committee was called to the crowded condition of the schools taught by Mr. Buzzell in district number one, and Mr. Stimson in district number two, and the subject was referred to the chairmen of the several district committees, to report whether it would be feasible to transfer scholars from Mr. Stimson to Mr. Perkins' school in district number three, and from Mr. Buzzell to Mr. Stimson's school.

Committee on text-books recommended the purchase of maps required in the several districts, and their recommendation was adopted.

G. A. R.

At a special meeting of Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R., held on the afternoon of the 4th inst., it was voted to extend an invitation to Col. Henry O. Kent of Lancaster to deliver the Memorial day oration. Col. Kent was a brave soldier and is an accomplished orator.

The tickets for the lecture on the battle of Gettysburg, to be given by General Chamberlain on Friday evening, March 15th, in aid of the relief fund of Storer Encampment, are now on sale and can be obtained of M. M. Collis, at the 99-cent store, of Jos. R. Curtis, at the Mechanics' reading room, and of members of the post, in this city; also at the stores of James C. Trefethen and E. C. Nealley in Kittery. Purchasers of parquette tickets can exchange them, on and after the 15th inst., for reserved seat tickets, at Preston's drug store. On the evening of the lecture Gen. Chamberlain will be escorted to Music hall by Storer Encampment.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE ASS'N.

The Rockingham County Temperance Association assembled in the Congregational chapel at Epping on Thursday, March 4th. President F. W. Miller called the meeting to order at 9:30 o'clock, A. M., and prayer was offered by Rev. G. A. Perkins of Raymond. The records of the last meeting were read and approved.

The forenoon session was occupied in hearing reports from delegates from the various towns in the county. Epping, Raymond, Newmarket, South Newmarket, Portsmouth and Newcastle were reported from.

At twelve o'clock the association adjourned, and the bountiful repast prepared by the ladies was done ample justice to. At the afternoon session the following resolutions were discussed in a spirited and earnest manner:

Resolved; That we affirm the sentiment of the resolution adopted at our last meeting, "That the salvation of our children from the curse of rum; the rescuing of the intemperate from their cups; and the suppression of the illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors, is paramount to all other moral and political issues now before the people of the state of New Hampshire."

Resolved; That the churches have occasion to enquire how their light can be made to shine more brightly for the prevention of the use and sale of intoxicating drinks.

Seven delegates were chosen to attend the annual meeting of the New Hampshire State Temperance League.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at Raymond on Thursday, April 1st.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

The first anniversary of Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, United Order of the Golden Cross, was celebrated on Thursday evening last.

Portsmouth is prolific in secret organizations. We doubt if there is another city of its size in the country that can approach it in the number, variety and recorded membership of these "orders of the mystic tie." Independent of the temperance organizations—and their name is legion—there are twenty-six secret societies, having an enrolled membership of nearly 4000 male persons.

One of the latest established of these organizations, and one of the most successful withal, is Portsmouth Commandery, U. O. G. C., which was instituted March 5th, 1879, by Deputy Supreme Commander J. H. Mangun of Lawrence, Mass., and whose anniversary was so pleasantly celebrated. For several weeks the brethren and lady members (for this institution has lady members) had been preparing for this event, and their efforts culminated grandly. Joining the throng that turned into Daniel street, Thursday evening, our reporter soon found himself in old Odd Fellows' hall, which was packed like a box of sardines with the members of the fraternity and invited guests. Every officer of the Grand Commandry of the state was present, as follows;

Stephen W. Clarke, G. C., of this city; Mrs. S. Waterman, G. V. C., of Dover; G. C. Waterman, G. K. of R., of Dover; S. C. Whittier, G. T., of this city; C. S. Collins, G. H., of Nashua; E. M. Grant, G. C., of this city; Mrs. Philip Eaton, G. W. I. G., of Nashua; J. B. Clarke, G. W. O. G., of Great Falls; C. K. Sanborn, P. G. C., of Rochester. Other distinguished visitors were Supreme Representative W. S. Whitman of Nashua, John L. Haines of Great Falls, Hon. J. H. Gallinger of Concord, Mayor Sise, Major D. J. Vaughan, Rev. C. A. Bobbrook, Hon. T. E. O. Marvin and others.

The assembly was called to order by Noble Commander F. G. Thurston, and the following programme was gone through with excellent style:

Singing of the doxology, by the audience; prayer, Rev. E. M. Grant; address of welcome, Noble Comdr. Thurston; reading, E. C. Stimpson; quartette, "Bright sword of liberty;" reading, Miss Emma C. Johnson; quartette, "Banish, O! maiden;" reading, E. C. Stimpson; singing of "America," by audience.

The company fell in a la militaire, under the marshalship of Sir Knight John Dame, and marched to Congress hall, their passage through the streets attracting much attention. At the hall they found six long tables, laid with 300 plates and gorgeous with flowers and tropical fruits, and fairly groaning beneath the weight of all the delicacies that fair hands could prepare or the season afford. After an hour spent in discussing the good things, Noble Commander F. G. Thurston announced as toast-master for the evening Sir Knight Stephen W. Clarke, grand commander, who accepted the honor in happily-chosen words, and at once proceeded to business. We regret that space and time do not permit us to give more than the mere order of exercises, for there was a literary feast of rare excellence, teeming with wit and happy repartee. The following were the regular toasts of the evening:

"The Day we Celebrate." Responded to by Noble Commander Frank G. Thurston.

"Our Order." Response by Sir Knight John Dame.

"The Supreme Commandry." Response by Grand Treasurer John S. Haines.

"Our Grand Commandry." Response by Rev. G. C. Waterman of Dover, grand keeper of records.

"Our Temperance Pledge." G. T. S. Libbey of Dover.

"Our Honored Guests." Hon. T. E. O. Marvin.

"The officers and members of Dover Commandry." Noble Commander Judge Smith, of Dover.

"The Ladies." Rev. E. M. Grant of this city.

"Our City." His Honor Mayor Sise.

"The Press." Sir Knight Samuel Dodge, keeper of records.

"Music." Dr. R. C. Grant, financial keeper of records.

"The Medical Profession." Dr. S. C. Whittier, medical examiner.

"Our Members from Maine." Sir Knight Augustus Stevenson.

During the reading of the toasts and the delivery of the responses, the following pieces of vocal music were sandwiched in; "Fair and noble lady," by the quartette; "Rollicking Dollie Day," comic song, by L. V. Newell; "Homeward," and "Let me fold thee close, mavourneen," by Miss M. Lizzie Blaisdell.

Portsmouth Commandry enters upon its second year with excellent prospects, having seventy members, and the interests of the order at heart; it is rapidly increasing in membership, having initiated eight candidates at the last meeting; and those who participated in its first anniversary celebration will not soon forget the pleasure of the occasion.

A large delegation from Dover Commandry, Judge T. J. Smith, Noble Commander, were present, returning by a special train after the happy gathering dissolved.

A SCAMP CAPTURED.

Sheriff Kent arrived in this city on Wednesday, the 3d inst., with Henry F. Beckman of Seabrook, who had been captured in Baltimore. Beckman was indicted for placing obstructions upon the track of the Eastern railroad in Seabrook, in Oct., 1875. He was convicted, and the case went to the law court upon exceptions raised by his counsel, Mr. Batch. These were overruled by the court, and Beckman went to state prison. By the efforts of his counsel, who contended that the obstructions were placed on the road sportingly, to annoy some persons riding on a band-car upon a Sunday evening, and were not intended to throw off a train of cars, the governor and council were induced to pardon him. His life at the state prison did not tend to his reform, and his subsequent career has been eventful in crime.

City Marshal Entwistle last month received a letter stating that last summer Beckman was tending bar at Atlantic City, N. J., and hired a horse and buggy from a livery to take a short ride. Beckman inclines to long rides, and his ride of 435 miles with sheriff Kent from Baltimore to Boston, made between eight o'clock A. M. on the 2d inst. and ten o'clock in the evening of the same day, is not a circumstance compared with some of his drives when he has hired horses. In the instance referred to he forgot to return; and he also abstracted a scrap-book belonging to a canvasser for books, named Mott, assumed his name, and travelled through Jersey as a book-agent, showing the scrap-book and the owner's card as evidence of his being the representative of J. M. Stoddard & Co., of Philadelphia. He gave receipts for money in advance, signing Mott's name, and was stopped in this career by reason of telegrams reaching Stoddard & Co. enquiring as to his right to act as their agent, and to sell the horse and buggy he had hired. He had sold the horse before the reply was received, and had fled. He afterwards wrote from Portsmouth for the balance due him on the sale of the horse, for which he had accommodatingly given credit; but was not caught at that time, as before the request to arrest him reached our city marshal he had left for other fields of operation.

His last exploit—or at least the last reported—was hiring a horse and buggy at Gloucester, Mass., which he brought to Exeter and sold to no less a sharp man than Lorenzo M. Carpenter of that town, who drove the newly-acquired team to Portsmouth, and was surprised here by the owner, who retook his property, leaving Mr. Carpenter to return to Exeter by some other mode of conveyance. For this offence it was that Beckman was arrested in Baltimore. Sheriff Kent, at Carpenter's request, proceeded to Baltimore and secured Beckman, who was on his arrival lodged in Portsmouth jail. He is to be tried to-day at Exeter, where the alleged offence was committed.

It has been stated that the county was put to the expense of this endeavor to bring to justice this transgressor against the laws. We understand that the movement is made entirely by Mr. Carpenter, who employed counsel to make the complaints against Beckman, and that it is not a matter prosecuted by the county solicitor or instituted by the court. Perhaps when the matter reaches the court it may be found that the apprehension of Beckman was a proper action, tending to the safety of property as well as persons in this county, as Beckman repeatedly revisited his home in Seabrook, and is naturally inclined to mischief, as his record shows. Some years ago he was tried for stealing a horse from one Boardman, at Newburyport, but got off on account of his youth, and it being his first known offence. Later, he broke into the house of Austin M. Weare at Seabrook, for which he was sent to the county house of correction at Brentwood, from which institution he is now an "escape." He is also charged, under the alias of Boyd, with stealing a horse at Georgetown, Mass.; and a few weeks ago, as "Capt. George Pike," in command of a Gloucester fishing schooner, it is alleged that he took the craft into Newburyport, stole everything he could from her and sold the plunder for old junk, and skipped across the line into New Hampshire. And farther, we are assured that sheriff Kent has almost indisputable evidence connecting Beckman with the wholesale stealing of trawls which was carried on off Hampton beach some six or eight weeks ago.

At any rate, it will be time enough to criticise the action of the sheriff in this matter when it is ascertained for whom he has performed this service, and in what that service results.

FISHERY NOTES.

Schooner Daniel C. Baker, Captain Shields, carried away the head of her mainmast on the 3d inst., when about two miles outside of Whalesback.

Sheriff Kent has strong hopes of being able to prove that Henry F. Beckman, of Seabrook, was a principal in the stealing of trawls set off Hampton beach some six or eight weeks ago. He has moral proof of it already.

A haddock weighing nineteen pounds—the largest fish of that species we ever heard of—was caught off the Western Sisters at about nine o'clock last Thursday forenoon, by Mr. Fred P. Folsom, one of the whaleboat fishermen.

On the 3d inst. about 18,000 lbs. of fish was landed at Newburyport by five schooners and the fleet of small boats, and sold at $1.55 per hundred weight. The Gipsy Queen, one of the five schooners referred to, lost all the gear she had out, which consisted of three strings of trawls, costing about sixty dollars. Her crew saw another vessel, supposed to be the Flora Temple of Gloucester, stealing the gear, but were unable to overhaul the pirate. The suspected thief is not the schooner Flora Temple which has fished out of Portsmouth during the past winter, the latter belonging in Portland, to which port she returned some days ago, as her skipper runs a porgie steamer during the summer months, and had to commence getting his steamer in readiness.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or uninterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

A Disgusted Poultry Fancier.

A gentleman residing near the Valley church, who has always taken an interest in the feathered tribe, has becomefreatly disgusted lately at the conduct o some of his brood. Several of his fancy hens, after depositing their eggs in the nest, would coolly turn round, and eat or otherwise destroy the eggs. The owner could hardly countenance such an unnecessary waste, and adopted stringent measures for its prevention, but with little success. Taking one of the eggs, he removed the yolk, substituted mustard, and returned it to the nest. Instead of having the desired effect, the hens ate it with avidity, and appeared anxious for more. Another egg was filled with pepper, but it, too, failed in its object. The gentleman appears at a loss now to know what to do to get ahead of these hens. Perhaps some of our poultry friends could assist him in his dilemma.—St. John Globe.

—A singularly rare and beautiful bankruptcy was announced in the London court reports the other day. A gentleman of well know family returns his liabilities at £119,545, "with assets consisting of books and other articles of the estimated value of three pounds ten shillings, subject to any claim for rent of apartments." His unfeeling creditors insisted on appointing a committee to inquire into the process by which this result had been reached.

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular or religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

—William Watkins, of Madison, remained a bachelor until he was fifty-seven years old, but the other day he married; whereupon one of the Madison journalists, who has a genius for headlines, but no fine feelings to speak of, alluded to the wedding under the title, "Another Old Landmark Gone."

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Exchange and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, nearly opposite Grand Central Depot. 350 elegant rooms reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European Plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse Cars, Stages and Elevated Railroad to all depots. Be careful and see that "Grand Union Hotel" is on the sign where you enter office in the centre of the block. d&wtaw4w

KIDNEY-WORT

THE ONLY MEDICINE

That Acts at the Same Time on THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

These great organs are the natural cleansers of the system. If they work well, health will be perfect; if they become clogged, dreadful diseases are sure to follow with TERRIBLE SUFFERING.

Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Constipation and Piles, or Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Sediment in the Urine, Milky or Ropy Urine; or Rheumatic Pains and Aches, are developed because the blood is poisoned with the humors that should have been expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT

will restore the healthy action and all these destroying evils will be banished; neglect them and you will live just to suffer. Thousands have been cured. Try it and you will add one more to the number. Take it and health will come more gladden your heart.

Why suffer longer from the torment of an aching Back?

Why bear such distress from Constipation and Piles?

Why be so Painful because of disordered urine?

KIDNEY-WORT will cure you. Try a package at once and be satisfied.

It is a dry vegetable compound and

One Package makes six quarts of Medicine.

Your Druggist has it, or will get it for you. Insist upon having it. Price, $1.00.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestion and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer. Hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary Reviews, Miscellaneous, Personal and Sea Notes. SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medical preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen.—I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for ten years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was nearly partially deaf, had buzzing in the head, pains across the temple, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and every indication of consumption. My head ached all the time. The matter accumulated so rapidly in my head and throat that I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I could not have recourse to every means in my power to dislodge the mucus from my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my tonsils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request postponed it. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the poisonous matter dropping down from my head had so irritated and inflamed my lungs that I coughed incessantly.—a deep hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease, so that I lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When matters had reached this alarming crisis six months ago, I began the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first change I noticed was in my head as I had not known it to be for years. I commenced gradually to expect the discharges. It stopped my cough in three days. By using it as a gargle I soon reduced the inflammation and ulceration of my tonsils to that they soon ceased to trouble me. The soreness across my chest disappeared, the hissing noises in my head ceased, my senses of seeing and of hearing were completely restored, and every symptom of disease that had reduced me to the verge of the grave disappeared by the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. I have been thus explicit because, as a druggist, I have seen a great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and my hope is to convince many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as practiced by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every kind of remedy and apparatus that has appeared during a period of six years past, and have, while following that use, taken great care of my general health, but obtained no relief or encouragement from any of them.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

Affords the most grateful relief in all Affections of the Chest and Lungs.

CHRONIC PLEURISY CURED.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Having for many months suffered with a very painful side, caused by my physician Chronic Pleurisy, caused by a former injury, I at length, and for which I used many remedications and liniments, as well as the so-called rheumatic cures, without any permanent relief, at your recommended one of your COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS which, to my great surprise, relieved me in pain and soreness almost immediately, and I have been able to attend to my household affairs ever since with perfect ease and comfort, whereas, before the application of your invaluable Plaster, I was scarcely able to do one thing. I consider them incomparable, and shall with pleasure recommend them to the afflicted. Yours respectfully, Mrs. FRANCES HARRIMAN.

OXLAND, Me., April 2d, 1878.

There is no medical or protective appliance that will prove so gratefully and effectively to Tickling Coughs, Irritation and Soreness of the Chest and Lungs. We believe them capable of preventing serious diseases of these organs.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Do not confound these Plasters with the ordinary Plasters of the day, that by comparison are absolutely worthless.

Be careful to obtain COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER, a combination of Electric or Voltaic Plates with a light Medicated Plaster, as seen in the above cut. Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

A DOCTOR'S STORY.

Mrs. Rogers lay in her bed,
Bandaged and blistered from foot to head,
Bandaged and blistered from head to toe,
Mrs. Rogers was very low.
Bottle and saucer, spoon and cup,
On the table stood bravely up;
Physic of high and low degree;
Calomel, catnip, boneset tea—
Everything a body could bear,
Excepting light and water and air.

I opened the blinds; the day was bright,
And God gave Mrs. Rogers some light.
I opened the window; the day was fair,
And God gave Mrs. Rogers some air.
Bottles and blisters, powders and pills,
Catnip, boneset, sirup and squills,
Drugs and medicines, high and low,
I threw them as far as I could throw.
"What are you doing?" my patient cried;
"Frightening Death," I coolly replied.
"You are crazy!" a visitor said;
I flung a bottle at her head.

Deacon Rogers he came to me;
"Wife is a comin' round," said he,
"I really think she will worry through;
She scolds me just as she used to do.
All the people have pooched and diured—
And the neighbors have had their word;
'Twas better to perish, some o'em say,
Than be cured in such an irregular way."

"Your wife," said I, "had God's good care,
And his remedies—light and water and air.
All the doctors, beyond a doubt,
Couldn't have cured Mrs. Rogers without."

The deacon smiled and bowed his head;
"Then your bill is nothing," he said.
"God's be the glory, as you say;
God bless you, doctor, good day! good day!"

If ever a doctor that woman again,
I'll give her medicines made by men.

Fashionable Fancies.

New jewelry is large and ponderous.

Tea green shades are among the new colors.

Bottle green and Russian green are very stylish.

New neckties are of Persian silk edged with lace.

Oriental designs prevail in the new spring goods.

Striped seersuckers are again shown for summer suits.

Iridescent or rainbow beads entirely cover the crowns of some bonnets.

Six bangles on one arm is not an unusual number for a fashionable girl.

Canton stripes resembling those used for awnings, are a novelty for skirts.

Plain red oil calico is imported to make up in combination with figured goods.

Gloves are worn very long, and bracelets are worn over them upon the wrists.

Medium sized bonnets, turbans and large round hats are the latest millinery importations.

Tuscan straws promise to be the favorite among the handsome summer materials.

Turquoises set in red gold are favorite stones for rings, bracelets, pendants and the like.

An odd but striking bonnet ornament is a sparrow's head set in a gilt shirt-collar.

Pretty new breakfast caps are made of pieces of Oriental silk, with white Breton lace ruffles edging them.

Two buttons are considered a sufficient number for kid gloves when they have tops of the new kid lace.

White silk and wool fabrics are seen in new designs and unique patterns for ball and dress purposes.

The new camel's hairs shown this season are light in quality and smoother in finish than last year's goods.

The butterfly bow is now made of black China crape edged with black hand painted lace, which is new this season.

Deep, round collars, formed of wide embroidery or bands of insertion and finished with lace, are the latest style for children.

Plain skirts of corduroy or velvet are still fashionable for walking dresses; over these the everskirt, generally of light cloth or camel's hair, is simply draped.

Yeddo crape is one of the new cotton stuffs for spring wear. It is crinkled like crape, as thick as calico and soft and pliable as silk.

The Spanish veil is much in favor and is shown by modistes in both black and white Spanish lace. Red and yellow ostrich plumes, also trim black satin or lace bonnets.

Among handsome corsage bouquets are large clusters of jacqueminot roses, so much like the natural flowers that at a very short distance it is impossible to tell them apart.

Bouquets for carrying in the hand or for the corsage are now sent in boxes daintily lined with quilted silk and trimmed with lace.

The hair is dressed very simply and very low, but not drooping in the neck. Tortoise-shell-beaded pins, black jet, and also gold and silver filagree ornaments, are very fashionable with modern coiffures.

Scotch ginghams are now imported in solid colors of the stylish dark red wine shades, peacock blue and olive green; to go with these in combination costumes are half-inch stripes of the quaint color in two shades.

The Spanish marriage has brought Spanish colors and styles into vogue in Paris, and modistes are combining red and yellow in very rich toilets. The new Parisian costume is a skirt of dark satin de Lyon, with a basque of garnet velvet.

Dark shades still continue to be more fashionable than light ones, even for spring dresses, in the daytime. Dark marine blues, brownish reds, dark dull greens, and reddish purples are the more fashionable tints. Sometimes a touch of old gold or reddish orange color lightens them up.

India cashmere in delicate shades is to be a favorite material for handsome suits, and will be continued with silk and satin for many evening dresses for wear at receptions after Lent, and at watering places during the coming season. Easter comes so early this year that spring woollens will have a double share of popularity, since it will be too cool to wear those of the lightest quality, which are meant for summer as well, and a new dress seems to be a necessity for Easter.

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1880.

A New "Maine Law."

In the Maine senate, on the 4th inst., a bill entitled "An act amendatory of chapters seventeen and twenty-seven of the revised statutes in relation to common nuisances and the sale of intoxicating liquors," was read and assigned. By it section one is amended by placing in the list of nuisances all places of resort where intoxicating liquors are kept, sold, given away, drank or disposed of in any manner not provided by law. The intention of this is to break up the "club houses." The sale of cider as a beverage is forbidden, and the law is amended so as to allow its sale in quantities of five gallons or upward, delivered and taken away at one time. In case the provisions of the nuisance act are not enforced by the county or local officers, on petition of thirty or more well-known taxpayers the governor shall appoint two or more constables for such county, who shall enforce the law and have the powers and duties of sheriffs and deputies. When the governor shall become satisfied that a county attorney is not doing his duty he may be removed. The bill provides that persons found intoxicated shall have their fines and penalties remitted when they give information where they obtained their liquor. The fines and penalties for rum-selling are increased.

News and Notes.

Ireland has sent eight hundred and fifty pounds sterling to the Pope as "Peters' pence." This little sum must be made up from outside contributions. It was thought that this payment could have been waived this year in behalf of the poor in Ireland.

J. Gutliffe shot J. Webster dead on Wednesday, the 3d inst., near Chillicothe, Ill., in a dispute about a farm boundary.

The officers who have been employed in working up the murder of Edmund Lavoie, alias Marshall, the burglar found dead in his room at a Boston boarding-house some weeks ago, have decided that the murdered man after being shot had engaged in a desperate hand-to-hand struggle with his assailant, which was ended by Mooney, who choked Lavoie to death. After killing Lavoie, Mooney changed his clothing, which was covered with blood marks, and was left carelessly thrown into one corner of the closet in the room in which the stolen property was found.

At Las Vegas, Col., on the 2d inst., a policeman shot a rough named Killiers dead in a saloon during a fight, and a waiter named Allen shot a commercial traveller named Moorhead dead, because the latter wanted eggs for breakfast.

Charles Cole, John Doe, Edward Larkin and Wm. Franklin were arrested at Newpaltz, N. Y., on the railroad track while making their way to New York after blowing open the safe of the United States Express company on the night of the 3d inst. The safe contained no valuables.

The body of a man found in the mill trench at Central Falls, R. I., Wednesday, March 4th, having been long in the water, has been identified as that of Patrick Kennedy, who worked a few days for a plasterer in Pawtucket in October, and then got a job in North Attleboro'. There are indications that he died from violence, as his nose is broken, teeth nearly knocked out, and a deep cut on his lower lip.

The senate committee on post-offices has agreed to a bill fixing the salaries of persons in the railway mail service. It abolishes the distinction of route agents, local agents, mail route messengers, etc., and creates five classes of clerks, with salaries ranging from $800 to $1,400 per year.

Capt. James B. Eads has a scheme in connection with his ship railway, which proposes to obtain from the government a guarantee for thirty years of a six per cent dividend on a capital stock of fifty millions of dollars.

John H. Aldows of Tinmouth, Vt., leaving a wife and four children, has eloped with Harriet Packard, who leaves a husband and four children.

Jonathan Marston, aged ninety-two years, living just out of the village of Bellows Falls, Vt., was found dead in bed on the morning of the 4th inst. He retired in his usual health.

The reception to Gov. Davis at Augusta, Me., with a ball, Thursday evening, was a very fine affair. It was attended by 1,000 persons. The decorations of the hall were elegant and elaborate.

Willis Dibble of Southwick, Mass., aged sixty years, cut his throat with a razor Thursday morning last upon seeing some men approaching who were to take him to the insane asylum. He died in ten minutes.

George R. Richards of Barton Landing, Vt., who is over one hundred years old, was married less than a year ago. Last week family troubles arose which resulted in a separation, and Mrs. Richards has gone to Canada.

The Fall River, Mass., board of trade on the 4th inst. decided to increase the wages of all operatives in the city ten per cent, the increased rates to take effect April 1st. This is in addition to the advance of fifteen per cent given January 1st, making an increase of twenty-five per cent, but the operatives held a meeting on the evening of the 4th, and agreed to inaugurate a strike unless the increase is made sixteen per cent.

There was a thunder storm at Troy, N. Y., Friday.

A boiler exploded in Fenno's spool mill at Milo, Me., on the 4th inst., by which Effie Snow was killed, Frank Gray fatally injured, and Nellie Gould badly hurt. Gray was showing a party of visitors around the mill at the time of the explosion.

Vladetsky, the nihilist who attempted to shoot Gen. Melikoff in St. Petersburg, Russia, a few days ago, was hanged on Friday.

New Publications.

Andrews' Bazar for March fully sustains its high reputation, and will be eagerly welcomed by the ladies. This journal, though published at the almost nominal price of one dollar per annum, presents in perfect taste everything worth knowing about fashion and its changes, while its literary features are of the highest grade. The lady of fashion, the mothers and the children of the household, each and all, will find something useful and entertaining in its columns. Beautifully printed, handsomely illustrated, and perfect in every detail, Andrews' Bazar is emphatically the fashion and family journal of America. Published by W. R. Andrews, Tribune building, New York.

The Sanitarian for March, is received from the publisher, A. N. Bell, No. 8 Spruce street, New York. The contents include several articles of special interest, one of them being Dr. Vanderpool's report on the New York quarantine, and another an abstract of the report of Surgeon General Philip S. Wales, U. S. N. Subscription $3 per year; single number thirty cents.

"Long We Tong Eng Wi."

Five Chinamen,—Wang A. Leeng, James C. Baptiste, Domingo de Luce, Wang Yee and Tom Yee—appeared before Judge Lawrence, of the supreme court of New York, the other day, as the incorporators of the "Long We Tong Eng Wi," which, being interpreted, means "The Order and Brotherhood of Masons" the object of which is "to promote friendship, brotherly love and service to the Supreme Being by mutual succor in distress and aid in sickness, poverty, adversity and affliction." The certificate of incorporation was granted by Judge Lawrence. Mr. Baptiste, who speaks English fluently and reads it with perfect ease, said that the association is what Americans would call a lodge of Freemasons, and its object is to benefit and assist all mankind. Freemasons generally and Freemasons from China in particular.

"If you are Freemasons why don't you apply for a charter from the Grand Lodge of New York?" asked a reporter.

"We have had that under consideration for some time, and have taken the advice of several American Masons, who, however, are divided as to the advisability of such an application. To avoid any question being raised we have decided to form a lodge of Chinamen and to do our work in our own lodge-room."

"When did you first become a Mason?"

"I was made a Mason in China long before I came to America."

"Have you ever been tried by an American Mason?"

"Oh, yes, more than once. In China we have had both English and American Freemasons in our lodges."

"Is there any very great difference observable in the examination by Americans of Chinese and vice versa?"

"No, none in the signs and grips. The great trouble is in the language, although both rituals mean the same thing, and our passwords, although different in sound, have the same significance. The ritual used in China has been handed down unaltered for over a thousand years." This lodge is the first established among Chinamen on the Atlantic coast.

—A foolish young man in Princeton, Minn., recently wagered a quarter of a dollar with one of his companions that he could place a dipper of cold water on the stove and hold his finger therein until the water boiled. He lost his bet, for he was obliged to withdraw his finger a long time before the water bubbled, but he held his own long enough to completely cook his finger, which will probably have to be amputated.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.

The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn:—

A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 1

AROUND HOME.

Denman Thompson at Music hall this evening as "Uncle Joshua Whitcomb." The largest audience of the season will be present.

It is reported that Messrs. Fred B. Coleman and Wilbur L. Davis are to open a new drug store, in the premises in Franklin building corner of Vaughan and Congress streets, about the 1st of May.

One of the largest milk producers in this vicinity is making arrangements for running a milk cart into this city in the evening, to commence about the first of April. It will be a great convenience during the hot months.

The steamer James Sampson made the first excursion of the season on Friday, when she ran down the river from Kittery with a large party. The excursion was complimentary to Miss Haley, under whose conduct the extensive revival in Kittery has been carried on.

The celebrated Sawyer's mills at Dover are running to their extreme capacity on spring styles of clothing material. These mills require two hundred thousand pounds of wool each month, and the goods manufactured have such a high repute in the market that they are sold upon orders by the manufacturers without the expensive efforts of any middle-man between the mills and customers.

Commander S. D. Ames, U. S. N., inspector of the second lighthouse district, has notified the secretary of the Newburyport marine society that an automatic whistling buoy is to be placed off the bar at Newburyport as soon as it can be procured. A similar buoy on Boon island ledge, which has picked up four or five vessels within fifteen or twenty years past, and on which a large coasting schooner was badly injured a few days ago, would be a good thing.

Some people regard the "fifteen puzzle" as something very difficult to solve, but it is nothing to what the foreman of a newspaper has to do every day. The "foreman puzzle" is as follows: Having four pages to a paper and six columns to page, how to put thirty-eight advertisements each "at head of column and next reading matter." Only one man ever lived who could satisfactorily solve this puzzle, and he and the man who understood the Schleswig-Holstein question both died the same year.

Would it not prove a paying investment for some enterprising parties to build or buy an excursion steamer after the pattern of the "James Sampson" and ply it between this city and the Isles of Shoals, and other places in that vicinty during the summer months. We believe it would. The laboring classes are a larger factor in our city now than ever. They work hard for six days of the week and would be glad of an opportunity to get a sea breeze on Sundays, and liberally patronize a Sunday excursion steamer. Certainly there is an opening here for some enterprising citizen if any such can be found ready to take it in hand.—Dover Democrat.

Henry F. Beckman was taken to Exeter on Friday, and arraigned before Police Justice John J. Bell. He was fully identified by Lorenzo M. Carpenter of Exeter as the man who sold him (in trade) a team which was subsequently claimed and taken away by George James, a livery stable keeper of Gloucester, Mass. Levi G. Towle, hotel keeper at Exeter, identified Beckman as the man who attempted to sell him the team procured from Carpenter; and Deputy Sheriff James W. Odlin of Exeter recognized the prisoner as the man who tried to borrow a wagon of him. William Allen, of Gloucester, hostler at Mr. James' stable, identified Beckman as the person who hired the team found in Mr. Carpenter's possession. The defence offered no evidence, and Beckman was held in $1200 for trial at the April term of the supreme court; in default of bail he was returned to the jail in this city. Ex-Judge Calvin Page, of this city, appeared for the prosecution, and E. C. Eastman of Exeter for Beckman.

There was a lively go-as-you please foot-race on Pleasant street, Friday afternoon, which was won by the city marshal in good style.

Thomas Spurlin, overseer of the carding rooms in the Cocheco mills at Dover, has been continuously in the company's employ for fifty years, this week commencing his fifty-first year of service. He is still hearty and vigorous.

Four hundred shares of Eastern railroad stock sold at the board in Boston, at the first call Friday afternoon, at 42, and two hundred shares at 42 1-4. At the second call, fifty shares went at 43. Twelve hundred and forty-six shares changed hands in the forenoon, the price varying from 40 to 41. Eastern railroad 4 1-2s brought 95 at the brokers' board, 95 1-4 being asked on State street.

APPENDIX.

One of the pleasantest incidents connected with the Golden Cross anniversary celebration was the presentation of a mammoth cake, decorated with the emblems of the order, to Mr. George F. Monroe, the talented tenor singer. Mayor Sise made the presentation speech in his happiest manner, Mr. Monroe responding with much feeling.

Miss Hanscom's correct and pleasing performance on the organ, which should have received commendatory mention in our report, owing to the multiplicity of other good things was inadvertently omitted.

The provisions left over from the banquet, of which there was a large quantity, were on Friday distributed—part going to the Children's Home, part to the Old Ladies' Home, and the remainder to the worthy poor of the city. This was an excellent way to wind up a very pleasant affair.

DEATH OF ISAIAH HANSCOM.

Commodore Isaiah Hanscom, ex-chief of the bureau of construction and repairs, U. S. N., died at his residence in Washington, D. C., at two o'clock Friday morning.

THE MAGIC SLIPPER.

On Tuesday evening of next week, at Music hall, Little Corinne and her opera company will appear in the Magic Slipper. This "minute speck of condensed drollery," as she has been well termed, is not a stranger here, having appeared as the Little Buttercup of Murphy's Miniature Pinafore Co. The St. John News thus speaks of the Magic Slipper and the little people presenting it:

Reserved seat tickets for the Magic Slipper can now be secured at Preston's drug store.

Little Corinne received a perfect ovation last night. After the storms of applause with which she was welcomed back to St. John had subsided she bowed and kissed her hands in acknowledgement, and then entered fully in the spirit of her character—Cinderella. "The Magic Slipper" contains no such beautiful music as contained in "Pinafore," but the piece as a whole proved more interesting. It gave Corinne a splendid chance to display her wonderful knowledge of the dramatic and musical arts. She showed herself as much at home in the most difficult notes of operatic music as in her rendition of dialogue. She was almost faultless in both,—modulation, facial expression and gesture seeming to be entirely under her control. She was well supported by the other members of the company. Blanche Sherwood, as Prince Poppetti, was a great success. Indeed, were she a year or so younger she might be considered a dangerous rival of the marvellous Corinne. Her stage business was all that could be desired in any artist, and with a little more attention to dialogue she will become an actress true to nature. Master Dannie Daly and Master Bobbie Daly, as Valet and Baron, introducing a clog dance in which they were four times encored, played their parts well, as did also August Bearce (the prince's tutor), Master Osborne, as Buttone, Master Herbert as Crowley and Miss Julie de Young, as sister of Cinderella, Miss Jennie Kilby, the fairy godmother, Miss Minnie O'Connor, as Honey Dew, and Miss Lizzie Harrington, the latter receiving loud and deserved applause for her step dancing. Among the chorus singers was a very young youth, Master Harry Hamlin, who showed a most remarkably fine voice. In the second act he sang a solo and was twice encored. As the programme states, the "Magic Slipper" abounds in fun, pun and inconsistency. It kept the audience in roars of laughter last night, and will no doubt attract large audiences for the rest of the week.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado lectured in Eliot last Thursday evening.

Mrs. George Mitchell of Kennebunk, about thirty years of age, was taken with vomiting on the evening of the 1st inst., and died in a few hours. Suspicions of poisoning were entertained, but nothing definite has yet transpired.

It is reported that Robert M. Stevens, who was elected high sheriff of York county by the greenodembacks in 1878, has renounced any further connection with the mongrel crew, and will hereafter act with the republican party.

The Old Orchard Beach railroad scheme is likely to be given up, some of its most active and influential supporters having withdrawn from the movement. The reason for this action is the greed of certain land owners along the line of the road, who supposing the railroad was an assured fact demanded extravagant remuneration for granting a right of way through their property. Most of the land owners gave the right of way very gladly, as the proposed road would have caused a large increase in the value of the rest of their property.

There was a destructive fire at Bar Mills village, Hollis, on the 4th inst., when the box and grist mill of C. W. McKenny took fire from the stove in the grist mill, and was totally destroyed. The lower story was occupied by McKenny, and the second floor by the Maine Turning Co.; the former's loss was between $8,000 and $10,000, and the Turning Co.'s $2,000; both parties were fully insured. The fire extended to the covered bridge, two hundred and fifty feet long, which was destroyed; loss $46,000; insured.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

WHIPS All kinds, cheap, at LARRABEE'S, 26 Congress Street, up-stairs.

The Gem Puzzle—"Don't Take Much Fry!"

A correspondent of the Portland Advertiser thus discourses concerning the popular "Gem puzzle:"

Fifteen equal square blocks, numbered, are put in a square box of four times the dimensions, leaving one square empty; thus:

5	8	7	10
15	11	6	1
3	2	9	13
12	14	4

The problem is to shove the blocks about, without lifting, or turning, until the numbers come in order, filling the upper three lines, and having three numbers in the fourth line, thus:

1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12
13	14	15

Now it is evident that if it has been done, and the numbers are in this position, we could, by reversing the moves in order, put them back into the same irregular order in which they were at first. Hence if we start with the numbers in the final order, and work backwards, we can put them into every possible position from which they can be moved into right order.

But it is evident that the first step of the backward movement must be to get one of the third row into the fourth; and that then the blank can be brought back to the fourth row only by transferring one of the fourth up to the third. This puts the two figures out of place. A little consideration will show that if in the three moves by which this transposition is effected, more than one figure is moved at a time, the result, when one of the last row (13, 14, 15) is moved into the third row, and one of the third substituted for it, must be the displacement of either two, four, or six figures. The perfect similarity of movements, which alone are possible, wherever the blank space may be thrown, proves that if we begin with the figures in order, and move as we please, we must find on filling the first three rows, an even number of figures out of place,—and by the doctrine of permutations we can go on increasing the number of displacements, still keeping the number even, until we have found 653,837,184,000 positions in which an even number of letters is displaced. From any one of these 653 billion arrangements the figures can be brought back to the regular order; and if when the numbers are put into the box they chance to fall into any one of these almost innumerable positions, they can readily be brought to order.

But there are also 653 billion positions in which the number of displaced figures is odd; and when the figures chance to be put in the box in one of these positions, we can by moving only work out an even number of displacements, leaving the odd one irreducable. This irreducable one can be driven about the box where we wish; so that the last line can always be either made 13, 14, 15, or 13, 15, 14; and if the figures are arranged at random, it is an even chance which comes out. When the first three lines are arrayed, and the fourth line is not right, it can be made right only if it has one of the two forms, 15, 13, 14, or 14, 15, 13; in each of which it will be seen there is a double displacement, only.

If the reader wishes to amuse himself with a puzzle from which chance is eliminated and in which skill can always succeed, let him turn the blocks upside down and write on the bottoms the mysterious warning:

D O N T
T A K E
M U C H
F R Y

He will find that these letters cannot be put into the box in any random position in which it will not be possible to reduce them to their present mystic form.

The Frenzy for Stocks.

The excitement in Wall street this season has undoubtedly surpassed anything since the war. For a long time the commission business in stocks was comparatively very small, and there was held what is called a "broker's market." But outside capital has, during the past six or eight months, come in with a rush; and many brokers have, as it was said, "gone from Hades to Elysium." Western investments, including mines, are in great favor, and the hotels are thronged with hirsute mountaineers and owners of "good things," which are being "stocked" or "floated" down town. It is most curious to notice the entire change of sentiment in many sober citizens about stocks; but I have heard no one put his experiences in such graphic form as did a worthy Hebrew who buttonholed an acquaintance of mine not long ago. Said he:

"I was in a good pusiness in Lafayette, Indiana. I had a friend—Solomons ish his name, und he zell out his clothing pusiness und gome down to New York, und he make lotsh of money. Vell, he write me a letter, und he zay dat I petter don't sthay any more in Lafayette, but I petter zell mein pusiness und gome und speculate. Zo I zell out mein shop, und I arrife in New York mit twenty-one thousand dollar. Und Solomons he tell me dat I better go down to Vall sthreet und pay 'puts' mit dat Sage Russell. Vell, I pay dem on Erie, und in two days I loose all dat margin, seven thousand tollar. Den I go to Solomons, und I zay dat I feel very pad, und he zay, 'Lazarus, I make a mishtake, it vas the call that you musht pay.' Zo I goes und pay zome calls mit dat tam Zage Russell, und in tree day I loose seven thousand tollars more. Und den, ven I go to dat Zolomons, he say dat he makes snoder mishtake, und dat it vas de 'shtraddle' dat I petter buy. Zo I pay zome shtraddle mit that tam Zage Russell, und I lose de lasht cent dat I pring mit me from Indiana. Und I vant you to spheak mit dat bank president, und you ask him to give me dishcount for tousand tollar, und I shart a little clothing shore in Broad street, und I zell cheap clothing to dem fellows dat pay dem puts und calls and sthraddles mit dat tam Zage Russell."—Boston Advertiser.

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I voluntarily make the following statement:—

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA REMEDIES in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours,
MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 18, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the 8th of last May, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

Although the disease threaten d to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by our well-known druggist, Mr. STONE, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity. Yours truly,
P. P. CARROLL,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

38 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. F. F. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNTT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; R. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOMB, M. D.; N. THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestion and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

MEDICATED

PRUNES

LAXATIVE CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the taste; Effective without Griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics, such as Rhubarb, Cascara, Pills, and Medicated Prunes. Prepared Prunes are a mild laxative; two or three have the effect of cathartic medicine or mineral waters but without nauseating or griping. No bad effects follow repeated use. For children, a half or one Prune taken at bedtime acts like a charm. The medication is entirely vegetable and healthful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

A Living Vampire.

In Toledo an animal is on exhibition, the like of which but few people in this country have ever seen. It is a monster living South Asian vampire, the much dread "blood-sucker" of the natives of that country. This rare creature, perhaps the only living specimen of the kind in this country, is about one and a half feet long, has a pair of piercing black eyes which shine like diamonds, a double row of sharp ivories similar to those of the weasel, and its powerful wings when stretched its full length measure two and a half feet from point to point. The vampire hangs suspended from a bar, in the centre of the cage in which it is confined, by a pair of formidable claws, and when in position of repose resembles a closed umbrella. Its body is covered with a comfortable coat of brown fur, while its beautifully-proportioned head, which has a remarkable similarity to that of a diminutive black-and-tan terrier dog, is surmounted by a pair of large shell-shaped ears. This strange creature is almost totally blind during the day, but at night its little eyes twinkle with astonishing brilliancy. The vampire is kept in a temperature of about seventy degrees, in order to conform as nearly as possible with the climate of its native home. Its owner is having constructed a large cage in order that the vampire may exercise its wings, the cage in which the creature is now confined being altogether too small.

When You Feel Mean

take Kidney-Wort, advertised in another column. It acts energetically on the bowels and kidneys at the same time, and secures a host of diseases caused by the inaction of these organs. If you are out of fix, buy it at your druggist's and save a doctor's bill.

—Some of the fashionable people of Fifth avenue are giving receptions at while only the French language is spoken. Something still more remarkable would be a party at which only good English is spoken.—Picyune.

From B. Frank Swan, son of M, M. Swan, Jeweler, 154 Water St., Augusta, Maine.

I have been troubled with asthma for twelve years, and have employed skillful physicians of Boston, also two of the leading physicians of Augusta, without effect. I have felt nothing of this trouble since taking Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

—Mr. John C. Briggs of Auburn, Me., is one of a remarkable family of eight brothers and sisters. They were all born in Auburn, in the same room, and they are all alive to-day. The youngest is 55 years old.

It is impossible for a woman after a faithful course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to continue to suffer with a weakness of the uterus. Enclose a stamp to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for her pamphlets.

—"Nan the Newsboy" is to be appointed a patrolman on the New York police force, and will be assigned to the steamboat squad, where he will probably have frequent opportunity to continue his life-saving efforts.

Shan't I take a Blue Pill?

No, don't take it and run the risk of mercurial poison, but when billious and constipated get a box of the celebrated Kidney-Wort, and it will speedily cure you. It is nature's great remedy for constipation, and for all kidney and liver diseases. It acts promptly on these great organs and so restores strength and vigor.

The Boston Advertiser says: "Doubtless few realize the magnitude of the business that is done in oleomargarine, or artificial butter, in this city. It is stated that from 7000 to 8000 pounds are manufactured here daily, and the manufacturers are unable to keep abreast with the orders they receive.

"The best cough medicine in the world." The Old Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam. Cutler Bros. & Co., Boston. Small reduced to 35c; large, $1. eod&wtmay

—Joseph Brandt, the famous chief of the Mohawks, the half-breed savage who led the Six Nations as British allies in the revolutionary war, is to have a monument erected to his memory in Brantford, Canada, where he died in 1817. It will be a handsome monument, costing about $30,000.

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular or religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

—It is said that in fashionable circles in England dancing parties no longer open with a waltz, but with a quadrille, in order that the young people may become pleasantly acquainted. A better way still, is to precede the dancing by a reception, in which everybody shall be introduced to everybody else, and thus anything like awkwardness or unnecessary formality is avoided.

APHONIA CURED.—FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.—Aphonia or Loss of Voice is remedied in a short time, no matter whether the cause be from inflammation of the lining membrane from cold, or from nervous derangement.

MONDAY, MARCH 8, 1880.

Greenback National Convention.

The "national union greenback labor party's" national convention met in St. Louis, Mo., on the 4th inst., Lafayette Chesley of New Hampshire being chosen temporary chairman. Brick Pomeroy addressed the convention, and was enthusiastically received.

In the evening a set of resolutions was adopted. Stephen B. Dillaye of New Jersey was nominated for president of the United States, after a rather stormy discussion; and B. J. Chambers of Texas was nominated for vice president.

The convention adjourned to meet at Chicago, June 9th.

The Virginia "Readjuster" Plainly Spoken To.

Gov. Holliday of Virginia on the 5th inst. returned to the assembly the bill known as the "Riddleberger bill," together with a lengthy message giving his reasons for disapproving the same. The governor took high ground. He notices the title of the act "to establish the public credit" as a misnomer, its object being really to repudiate a large part of the state debt. He holds that the pretexts set forth in the preamble of the act are empty, and never heretofore relied on; indeed, the people, by repeated acts of the assembly, and by the constitution adopted in 1869, have acknowledged as due the entire principal, more than $13,000,000 of which is now attempted to be repudiated by this bill. By this veto, and the honorable and honest tone of his manly message, Gov. Holliday has done more "to establish the public credit" of his state than all the thieves and swindlers in it could do in a century devoted to stealing and the repudiation of just debts.

A Queer Bombardment.

The trial of William Conkle, for the attempted murder of Rufus Ralston and Conkle's own family, last Thanksgiving night, in Parkersburg, W. Va., resulted on Thursday last in a verdict of guilty, and he was sentenced to four years' in the penitentiary. Eight years ago Ralston, a wealthy farmer, alienated the affections of Conkle's wife. Conkle, suspecting an improper intimacy, went west in 1872, selling all his property, and Mrs. Conkle moved into Ralston's house, Ralston's wife having died shortly before. This was the state of affairs when Conkle returned in the fall, and endeavored, without success, to get his wife away from Ralston. It is thought the trouble made him insane. Ralston's house was subsequently mysteriously burned. He was the owner of several farms, but by a series of misfortunes one after another went into other hands, until he was reduced to living off of one small farm. Conkle made a cannon out of well tubing, with an inch and a half bore, sunk in a large sinker-bit for a breechpin, and loading this remarkable siege gun with an iron bolt, discharged it at the house where Ralston, with Conkle's family, was sleeping, the bolt tearing its way just over the bed where Ralston slept, passing through and lodging in the chimney. Rushing from the house, Conkle's own son John discovered him dragging his improvised cannon from the spot, thirty rods from the house.

News and Notes.

The New York elevated railroads will have to come down—in their fares.

Edwin Booth commences an engagement at the Park theatre in Boston, this week.

Theodore Thomas has resigned the charge of the Cincinnati College of Music.

The receipts of wheat in Chicago last year were $4,900,000—4,000,000 more than in any previous year.

The salary of the president of the French republic is $120,000 a year, and an equal sum is allowed him for his household and travelling expenses.

One old citizen of Lewiston, Me., who had voted the democratic ticket all his life, walked up to the polls in that city at the late election and cast his first republican vote, saying, as he did so, "there goes democracy for me." He says that he cannot stand the counting-out proceedings, and since it has been made a democratic test, he proposes hereafter to act with the republicans.

At North Adams, Mass., on Friday, Martin Daley was arrested for attempting to pick the pocket of Mrs. M. E. Myers on Thursday evening, while that lady with her husband was passing along the street. Feeling some one's hand in her pocket Mrs. Myers grasped it, and held fast to the thief, whom her husband soundly punished with a cane. He was bound over to the grand jury, having confessed, and went to jail in default.

Solomon Morton, a man seventy years old, fell through the ice at Cape Elizabeth, Me., and after clinging to the edges for over half an hour, was rescued when nearly frozen to death.

John McGrath, while being taken from New Haven to Waterbury, Conn., in charge of an officer, jumped from the train at Orange, and, notwithstanding he was handcuffed, escaped.

Moses M. Pike, a well-known citizen of Skowhegan, Me., died suddenly on Wednesday morning of last week. He arose and dressed himself, but complained of feeling badly, and sat down and died almost instantly. He was eighty-five years of age, and had been in ill health for some time.

Gov. Davis of Maine has appointed Paul Stevens special agent to collect of the United States all sums of money that may be due to the state of Maine from the general government on account of expenditures by the state during the war. He takes the place of S. D. Leavitt, who was appointed by Gov. Garcelon and removed by Gov. Davis.

The grand jury of the superior court came in at Taunton, Mass., last Thursday. Among the indictments found was one for adultery against Rev. Charles E. Walker of Somerset. He was arraigned upon the opening of the court on Friday. His counsel waived the reading of the indictment, and entered a plea of not guilty. Walker recognized in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance, and is now out on bail.

A new style of barrel has been devised—one intended for the shipment of produce, and which shall be capable of transformation after the said produce is delivered, so as to occupy a comparatively small space, and be returned to the sender at the rates of solid freight and at a comparatively trifling cost. The arrangement consists in a series of staves, connected by hoops having specially adapted fastenings, which enable the staves to be disposed flat for return transportation, or rolled up and fastened to form a barrel. The sides of the barrel are straight, and the heads are held in place by lugs, alternating, when the barrel is set up, on opposite sides of the head. The heads are thus of less diameter than the inside of the barrel, so that the latter, when returned, may be packed full of heads, and the rest of the barrel-sides packed flatly together.

Massachusetts will depend upon New Hampshire and Maine for her ice supply next summer.

There was a regular summer tornado out west on Friday morning. At Indianapolis, Cincinnati, St. Louis and other places roofs were torn off, chimneys thrown down and buildings levelled. Several persons were killed.

The Danforth Locomotive Works at Paterson, N. J., were burned on Saturday. Loss $200,000; insurance $89,000.

By a boiler explosion in Glasgow, Scotland, Friday, six persons were instantly killed and thirty badly hurt, twelve of the wounded dying in a few hours.

By a coal mine explosion near Scranton, Pa., Friday, one man was killed, and eight others were suffocated by foul air.

Cummings Sleeper, a noted quarrelsome fellow, fell down stairs at Grafton on Thursday last while drunk, and broke his neck.

Bright teeth, and lips that glow the while,
Give light and color to a smile;
And, infinitely more than this,
Give light and color to a kiss.
But both must suffer from the want
Of the life-giving SOZODONT.

Who Is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Lodge Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

AROUND HOME.

Blackbirds were seen at Dover point last Thursday, and robins were reported as having appeared in several places last week.

Capt. Chas. C. Carpenter, U. S. N., of this city, leaves in April to assume the duties of equipment officer at the Boston navy yard.

It was reported on Saturday that the ship Gov. Goodwin, Capt. Lester, arrived at Liverpool, England, on the 4th inst., from San Francisco.

At the term of the supreme court recently held at Dover, twenty-two divorces were granted, and fifteen aliens made citizens of the United States.

Mr. C. A. Hazlett has been appointed agent of the North British & Mercantile Fire Insurance Co., of London, recently represented by the late Mr. Alonzo F. Craig.

Mr. George F. Gray, of Dover, formerly of the Dover Gazette, and well known locally as a genial gentleman and pleasant writer, died in that city on Friday last.

The city officials of Dover have awarded the contract for building the bridge over Fresh creek, on the new Dover and Eliot road, to David O. Cate and Wm. T. Wentworth, at $920.76.

A carload of Canadian horses arrived in this city on Saturday evening, for sale. They include good working and family horses, weighing from 900 to 1150 lbs. each, and are on view at the stable on Warren street, near the post office.

The statement published in every obituary notice of the late Chief Naval Constructor Isaiah Hanscom which we have seen, that he built the dry dock at this navy yard, is incorrect. The dock was built by Gilbert & Secor, by contract.

The largest audience of the season greeted "Uncle Josh Whitcomb" at Music hall, Saturday evening. It was a jovial audience, too, for everybody laughed pretty much all the time of the performance. Five car loads of people came down from Dover.

Mr. Isaac Russell, formerly of this city, died of typhoid pneumonia at Stewart, Iowa, on Friday last, at the age of about fifty-eight years. He went west three years ago last August. His body will probably arrive here to-night, and be buried at Greenland to-morrow.

Newmarket appears to be enjoying another epidemic of petty burglaries. On Monday night of last week E. A. Young's meat store was entered through a window, and a small amount of change stolen from the till; and on Wednesday night B. F. Haley's store was entered by thieves who broke a pane of glass and unfastened a window, and stole a small sum of money. No goods were taken at either place, so far as is known.

The city government of Dover on Thursday evening last made a clean sweep of the police force, electing new men throughout, excepting that Reuben A. Libbey, last year assistant marshal, was chosen day policeman. The police force of Dover as now constituted consists of city marshal, assistant marshal, day policeman, three night watchmen, seven special night watchmen and forty-six special day policemen—fifty-nine in all!

At the dinner of the Mechanics' Fire Society at the Rockingham house, on Friday evening last, Ex-Mayor T. E. O. Marvin was toastmaster, and in answer to calls speeches were made by Ex-Congressman Jones, Ex-Judge Page, Col. D. J. Vaughan, Capt. Ed. D. Coffin, Dr. S. C. Whittier, Stephen W. Clarke, Esq., Col. Charles A. Sinclair and others. The host of the evening was Mr. Enoch J. Conner. The supper was in keeping with the famous repute of Capt. Hilton in this respect.

Dr. Geo. W. Kittridge died at Newmarket, Friday night, after a long illness. He went to Newmarket in 1832, represented the town in the legislature in 1835, '47 and '48, and in 1852 was elected speaker of the house of representatives. He was a member of the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses; was director of the Boston & Maine railroad at its commencement, again elected director in 1852, and remained till 1856, in all over twenty years; was president of the Newmarket savings bank for forty years, and highly esteemed and largely known in in this state.

John Greenhalgh has been arrested in Dover for robbing a till in a furniture store in Lynn, Mass. He was furnished transportation to Lynn, and held in $500 to appear at a higher court.

Mr. Timothy T. French of Newmarket was severely injured on Thursday evening last by a fall down stairs. His nose was broken, his forehead and lower lip badly cut, and he was shockingly bruised about the body; it is also feared that his spine was injured. As he is an aged man it is doubtful if he survives the shock.

At the national convention of Brick Pomeroy greenbackers at St. Louis, Mo., last week, Gardner J. Greenleaf of this city was chosen a member of the national committee on organization; and Dr. Lafayette Chesley, of Chester, greenback candidate for congress in this district at the last election, was put on the national executive committee.

The fishing schooner Rover's Bride, Caswell master, was roughly handled by the blow on Friday. She was about three miles outside of the Shoals, with two dories out, when she took the squall, at about eleven o'clock in the forenoon; one dory reached the schooner, but subsequently broke adrift, and in trying to work the vessel around to find the other dory some of the gear gave away, and the schooner had to bear up for the Shoals, anchoring close to Smuttynose island. The crew went ashore, but after the squall was spent, which was about the middle of the afternoon, again went on board and took her into the roads. The man who was left on the fishing grounds landed safely on Star island about two o'clock in the afternoon. Two dories, with three tubs of trawls and about five hundred weight of fish, were lost.

CO-OPERATIVE INSURANCE.

The amount of life insurance carried by citizens of Portsmouth in the co-operative insurance societies known as the Knights of Honor, Legion of Honor, Odd Fellows' Relief, Golden Cross, Knights of the Maccadees, etc., is $1,923,866. The highest average amounts are carried by the members of the Legion of Honor.

THE MAGIC SLIPPER.

The Corinne Opera Troupe, with "Little Buttercup" as Cinderella, will play the Magic Slipper at Music hall to-morrow evening. Last Thursday evening the company performed in Biddeford, and the Times spoke as follows: "To say the audience were pleased doesn't half express it; they were delighted, and well they might be, for Little Corinne, the infant prima donna, was a wonder indeed. Her acting was easy, fascinating and complete. She captured the audience before they knew it, and at every appearance of this little star the house came down solid. She is simply irresistible. J. C. Coughlan, who took the part of tutor to the prince, was a favorite with the audience, and made a decided hit in his part, receiving frequent applause. Blanch Sherwood, as Prince Poppetti, was a decided hit and was heartily applauded. This was the best show of its kind that has visited our city for a long time and we bespeak for them a crowded house in Saco Monday evening."

PORTSMOUTH SHOE FACTORY.

The Portsmouth Shoe Factory Co., Dr. Frederick E. Potter president, Joseph G. Knights superintendent, and Wm. H. Preston clerk, starts its machines in motion and commences business this morning.

For several weeks a large force of workmen has been employed in the old Nowell shoe factory on State street, laying new floors, hanging shafting, putting in machinery, whitewashing the walls and painting the wood work, preparatory to this end; and when our reporter, through the courtesy of the gentlemen before named and of Mr. Aldolph Girard, foreman of the factory, visited the premises on Saturday, everything was found in perfect order and waiting for the manipulation of busy hands. Every piece of machinery in the building is of the latest and most approved pattern, selected by Mr. Knights in person, and put up under his supervision.

The basement is the stock-fitting room, and is filled with heavy machinery, consisting of two of Knox's dieing machines for cutting out soles, (each of them being capable of doing the work of ten men,) three Whittemore machines, (a skiver, roller, and moulding-out machine,) a Swain & Fuller stiffening-roller, and a chamfering machine. This room will employ ten men. The boiler and engine are also situated in the basement, and will be under the efficient management of M. C. Gregg as engineer.

On the first floor is situated the office and counting room, handsomely fitted with modern office furniture and a big Morse & Ireland safe, which big as it is we hope may be found too small for the business the company will transact. Back of the office is the pasting room, which will employ three men and about ten girls.

The second floor is the pleasantest, and will be the busiest department in the building. Here is the stitching room, containing thirty-five machines, twenty-seven of them being Wheeler & Wilson No. 8 sewing machines, four Wilcox & Gibbs button-hole machines, two Independent folders, and others, the names of which we did not get. This room will be in charge of Mr. Daniel Geary, late of the firm of Geary & James on Hanover street, and when under full headway will give employment to thirty-five or forty girls. Here also is the cutting room, of which B. F. Oliver of Lynn, Mass., an experienced cutter and an intelligent and pleasant gentleman, is foreman; this room will employ eight men.

The third floor is called the finishing room, and will employ from twenty to thirty hands. There are here two Wilson & Gibbs brush machines, one bottom-cleaning machine, and a heel-scouring machine.

The fourth (and upper) story is termed the making room. Here are McKay sewing machines, beating-out machines, Tapley heel-burnishers, edge-cutting machines, one Whittemore buffing machine, one Buzzell heel-skiver, and one Buzzell drying machine. About thirty-five hands will be employed on this floor. The machinery for the entire factory cost about $6000.

Mr. Knights will manufacture ladies' fine sewed boots, and toilet and fancy slippers. A full complement of hands will not be employed until samples are made and orders are received to warrant it, the company not intending to use up their capital in making goods to be stowed away. By the first of May it is expected that the factory will be running to the full extent of its capacity, and the long years of inactivity in this line of business in our city be over—we hope and believe "for good." The full capacity of the factory is between six and seven hundred pairs a day. Success to you, gentlemen of the Portsmouth Shoe Factory Company.

Our reporter desires to render acknowledgement to Mr. Adolph Girard, foreman of the factory, for the gentlemanly courtesy and attention received from him during the reporter's visit to the establishment on Saturday.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Mch. 6th; Batchelder, J.

John Parks, for brawl and tumult, was fined $1, costs $8.04.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Sailmaker Agustus A. Warren is detached from the navy yard and placed on waiting orders, Sailmaker John A. Birdsall taking his place on the yard.

There is a rumor in naval circles on both sides of the Piscataqua, that by reason of a change in the organization of the navy department at Washington, Capt. Jona. Young, the present executive officer at the Portsmouth navy yard, is to take charge of a bureau in the department. While Portsmouth would regret to have Capt. Young's present term of service at the yard abridged, our community would rejoice at the compliment offered to Capt. Young in designating him for a position of this kind. The following officers who have been stationed at this yard, are now chiefs of bureaux: Commodore Earl English, Paymaster General G. F. Cutter, and Chief Constructor John W. Easby.

It was announced upon the street last week, though not officially, that Mr. William H. Lovell had been appointed foreman of iron platers at the navy yard, to succeed John D. Swain, Esq., resigned. Mr. Lovell we understand was recommended by the authorities at the navy yard as a suitable man for this position. He is a thorough mechanic, an intelligent and capable man, and will fill the place, we have no doubt, to the satisfaction of the department. After his service in the late war, Mr. Lovell came here from Maine, and has since been employed in the iron-plating shop. He is familiar with the required work, and we are glad to note this recognition of the theory of civil service by the promotion of a practical workman to the position indicated. Mr. Lovell's appointment will secure to the navy department the services of a competent successor to Mr. Swain, a person not easily found in these times of revival in mechanical business, when inducements to engage in the service of private establishments or large corporations are so invitingly held out to first class mechanics.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

About three hundred and fifty hands are now employed in the Kennebunk shoe factory.

Benj. Jackson of Kennebunk is building a small schooner by contract, and David Clarke of the same town is putting together a schooner of about fifteen tons register.

Representative Hall's efforts to have a life-saving station established at Gerrish's island are likely to be successful, as we notice that a bill has been introduced in Congress providing for the establishment of this additional station, with others.

That just and law-abiding body of men, Garcelon & Co., in canvassing the returns of the last state election in Maine decided that where the whole number of ballots did not agree with the detailed statement of the votes cast, as returned by the town officers, it was a "fatal defect." In Berwick the return of the whole number of ballots given by the clerk was 561; in fact, the whole number of votes was but 531, as appeared by the details; but the vote of Berwick was counted by the Garcelon gang—for Berwick gave a fusion majority. The returns as made by the town officers were altered at Augusta, the "6" being erased and a "3" substituted.

Maclay & Davis, engineers of the National Construction company of New York city, have been making examinations of the beach at Old Orchard for the proposed new pier, and drawing the plan of the structure. This pier will be similar to the one now being constructed by them at Rockaway, and will be for promenade and landing purposes. It will be 1,200 feet in length and twenty-five feet in width, with a pier head one hundred by fifty feet. Pavilions for refreshments, and bathing facilities, are to be provided; and the pier, when completed, will be highly ornamental. There will be accommodations for the seating of over two thousand persons. Concerts and music are among the attractions to be offered, with frequent excursions to Biddeford and Portland.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Dangerous Counterfeit.

A very dangerous counterfeit $100 note on the Pittsburg National Bank of Commerce, of Pittsburg, Pa., was detected at the National Bank Redemption Agency in Washington, D. C., on the 5th inst. It is probably from the same plate as the counterfeit on the National Revere bank of Boston was printed from, and is the most dangerous counterfeit that has yet appeared on any national bank note. It purports to be of the series of 1875, having the scalloped seal, instead of the old seal with points, and bearing the words "Series of 1875" across the face in red ink, under the charter number, and the imprint "Printed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, U. S. Treasury Department," in the upper right hand corner. It is printed on an imitation of the fibre paper, and is the first counterfeit which has yet been offered on this series of national bank notes. The printing of the seal is somewhat imperfect. The figures in the boat in the vignette, in the lower left hand corner, are inferior to the genuine. The most noticeable defect is the face of a standing figure in the bow of the boat, which looks like a "death's head" in the counterfeit, but in the genuine the features are more distinct. It bears the signature of John Allison, register of the treasury, and John C. New, treasurer of the United States.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

BILIOUSNESS, PILES, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, URINARY DISEASES, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, AND NERVOUS DISORDERS, by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billious pains and aches? Why tormented with Piles, Constipation? Why frightened over disordered Kidneys? Why endure nervous or sick headache? Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and One package will make six quart Medicine. Get of your Druggist, he will order it for you. Price, $1.00.

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases, wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES I voluntarily make the following statement:—

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe, and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours,

MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 18, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which I have always known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by one well-known druggist, MR. LYONS, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared; and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if one so little surpriving be manly. Yours truly, P. F. CARROLL,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

38 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of the material, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news contained in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The integrity of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Manufactures, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week, a Sermon by some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Social Gossip, are given before publication, which contains so much news matter every week as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. Masonry and the Big Needle.

Judge Philip H. Morgan, the newly appointed Minister to Mexico, has recently returned from Egypt, where for three years past he has held the position of judge of the international court.

To a representative of the New York World he spoke very freely regarding the discovery of Masonic emblems in the base of the Egyptian obelisk now being removed by Lieutenant Commander Gorringe. He was in Egypt at the time of the excitement over the matter, and in company with prominent members of the Masonic fraternity he visited the obelisk and examined the emblems. He says that as soon as the Masons who visited the scene were shown successively the column, square and trowel in the base of the obelisk they pronounced them exact emblems of the Masonic order. "Not only," said he, "were these things identical with the Masonic emblems of to-day, but they were arranged in precisely the same position in which they would be placed now by a Masonic lodge. The square was made of much finer stone than the stone used in the other part of the base, and was the only piece that differed in the shape from the blocks contained in the base. The most conclusive feature, however, about the matter, was the well-defined and genuine trowel that was found imbedded in one of these stones. It was of precisely the same form as the trowels now used by Masons. It was made of iron, and although corroded, the shape was well preserved with the exception of a small piece broken off the flange on one side. I saw these things myself;" said Judge Morgan, "and I have no doubt that they are the signs of Masonry. They were not put there without a purpose, and no one can dispute that they are symbols of something, and in view of their being identical with the Masonic emblems and arranged in precisely the same order, I think that the most natural inference is that the foundation of that obelisk was designed to perpetuate the emblems of Masonry."

Continuing, Judge Morgan said: "The importance of this discovery to Masonry rests in the fact that if we assume that the obelisk was erected some thirty years before Christ, Masonry will date back much further than heretofore. If, however, that obelisk was transferred to Alexandria and re-erected on the same base that had previously been used, and in the same condition that it had existed at Heliopolis, from which it was taken, then it dates back the origin of Masonry to a period beyond our knowledge."

—There is a venerable and benevolent judge in Paris, who, at the moment of passing sentence on a prisoner, consults his assessors on each side of him as to the penalty proper to be inflicted. "What ought we to give this rascal, brother?" he says, bending over to the assessor on the right. "I should say three years." "What is your opinion, brother?" to the assessor on the left. "I should give him about four years." The judge, with benevolence: "Prisoner, not desiring to give you a long and severe term of imprisonment, as I should have done if left to myself, I have consulted my learned brothers, and shall take their advice. Seven years."

—Two young men in Waco, Texas, were enamored of the same young lady, who seemed to look with equal favor on both, and resolved to settle their claim to her by fighting a duel. At sunrise, with their seconds, all heavily armed with six shooters, they met on the banks of the creek. The principals were placed, but the seconds proposed that instead of fighting they draw straws for the girl, the loser to leave the country. It was agreed to, and the fortunate lover was married to the girl.

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1880.

The Swan-Harriman Bribery Case.

The evidence in the alleged bribery of Swan and Harriman, fusionists, by Wallace R. White, republican, closed last week before the investigating committee of the Maine legislature. White testified point blank that he never paid any money to either Swan or Harriman, nor ever hinted or suggested anything of the kind, either directly or indirectly. Swan and Harriman swore in accordance to their previous statements. Swan's testimony was contradicted in many of its important points by other witness; and Harriman's townsmen laugh at the idea of his unsupported testimony being considered good evidence, when opposed to the word of a reputable citizen. As the case stands, the people must judge which of the parties is most likely to have told the truth; Harriman and Swan, who swear that Mr. White committed a crime which could not possibly be of any benefit to his party, as before the time they swear it was committed, the only conceivable inducement for committing it had passed; or White, who swears point blank that they both lie. In reviewing the case, the Kennebec Journal says: "We have the denial of Mr. White, a young man whose character stands entirely without reproach in the community where he is best known, against whom not a single base act was ever before alleged; while Swan and Harriman, according to their own statements in regard to this very matter, are law-breakers, and have descended to a depth of meanness that no honorable man would stoop to. There is every reason, from Wallace R. White's known character, to place confidence in the statement he makes, but who can believe men that make such avowals on the witness stand concerning themselves as his accusers have?"

Good Reading at Low Prices.

Messrs. I. K. Funk & Co. of New York have inaugurated a system which will enable every one to obtain the reading of the best works now in course of publication, or of standard works heretofore only afforded at high prices, at a mere nominal cost. The firm publishes in the "Standard series" such works as the Manliness of Christ, heretofore reviewed in their columns, a book which attracts much attention in this country and England; and Essays by Lord Macaulay, on Milton, Dryden, Johnson, Bunyan, etc. It is the intention of this publishing house to supply reading matter of the character of the publications above referred to, at prices from ten to twenty-five cents per copy, all or any of which will be sent by mail on receipt of price.

News and Notes.

The several fish and game associations of Maine have ordered 2,600 of the Messina quail for that state, and they will be liberated at such places in the spring as the associations may decide.

Mellen Shaw, a young married man of Greenville, Me., son of a wealthy lumberman, committed suicide last Thursday.

Lillie E. Nevins, of Deering, Me., died a few days ago from the effects of a blow in the abdomen with an icy snow-ball.

Walter Whitridge, twenty years old, and Annie Shattuck, the sixteen-years-old daughter of wealthy parents, eloped from Lawrence, Mass., on the 1st inst. A detective was sent after them, but up to Saturday night his search had proved fruitless.

The Iron mine, at Leadville, Col., was sold to a New York company for $3,000,000, on Saturday.

George Kohl, a farm hand in the employ of Fred Whitcamp, of Cairo, Ill., two weeks ago reported that his employer had fallen into the Mississippi river and been drowned. The statement was at first believed, but later suspicions led to the arrest of Kohl, who on the 7th inst. confessed that he, assisted by Whitcamp's wife, murdered him. The body was found buried in the rear of the stable on the premises. Mrs. Whitcamp was arrested.

Ship Dolphin, which sailed from Rockland, Me., in November last, for the coast of Africa, was wrecked on the African coast Dec. 26th, and out of forty-one men composing her crew only eight were saved.

Tim Morris, a native of Richmond, Va., who was a member of the first Ethiopian minstrel troupe on the road, thirty-four years ago, and has continued in the business ever since, died at the Washington hotel in Providence, R. I., March 6th. The locality of his friends being unknown, he was buried in Providence at the cost of his professional brethren.

The officers and crew of the ship Ladoga, at New York from Manila, have preferred charges of excessive cruelty against Capt. Pierce of Bangor, commander of that vessel. He left the vessel Friday, and the customs officers, who had been apprised by letter from Manila, found laces, silks, cigars and other goods smuggled in the captain's quarters, all of which were seized.

Dacy's block, at Woodstock, Ill., was entered by burglars Saturday, his safe and that of the American Express Company broken open and robbed of their contents, and the building fired and burned, causing a loss of $50,000.

At Beaver, Penn., Saturday, a stranger was crossing the river in a skiff, which upset. Calvin Morgan and a Mr. Voldbert went to his assistance, and all three were drowned.

A girl named Conkling, fourteen years old, was criminally assaulted by a burly negro named Brown while going home from school on Friday, near Alexandria, Va. A party of vigilants are searching for the ruffian, who will be lynched if caught.

United State troops have been sent from Nevada and the interior of California to San Francisco, to protect the Chinese in case the sand-lot hoodlums under Dinis Kearney attempt any wholesale ruffianism.

Douglass, the Ute chief, who is confined as a prisoner at Fort Leavenworth awaiting trial, recently made a bold dash for liberty. He was fired on by the guard, but escaped their shots, and was overhauled by a soldier on horseback, with whom a lively fight ensued till other pursuers came up. Douglass has a constant fear of being hanged. When being brought from the west he thought the crowds on the platforms at the stations wanted to take him out to hang him.

Wess Tollis (colored), of Smithfield, Ky., who last summer shot and killed a man named Bryant for being too intimate with his wife, and who was cleared on the trial, returned to Smithfield on Friday, and meeting his wife, cut her throat from ear to ear, killing her instantly.

A negro barber in Norwalk, Ohio, named Hawkins, attempted to kill his wife, his stepfather and himself, Saturday. He put two balls into his wife's head, shot his stepfather in the arm, and then himself once in the head and once in the breast.

A young man named Lincum, who was caught robbing the mails at Austin, Texas, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

At Wheeling, W. Va., Saturday evening, about twenty prisoners, confined in the work house, mutinied, and attacking the guard, escaped from custody. During the attack several of the prisoners were handling Frank McSherry, one of the guards, pretty roughly, and in self-defense he pulled a revolver and fired, the ball missing his assailants, and striking Patrick Daley, an inoffensive prisoner, in the abdomen, killing him instantly.

At Waynesville, Ohio, on the 6th inst., Daniel R. Anderson was rearrested upon a charge of committing a triple murder at that place on August 26th, 1879. His divorced wife, Mrs. Holte, her sister, Mrs. Weeks, and Myrtle Shaw, daughter of the latter, were the victims, having been hacked to pieces with a hatchet, and then covered with quicklime, the bodies lying three days before being discovered. When they were found they were partially eaten up by the lime, and were in a terrible state, revolting both to the sight and smell. Anderson was arrested at the time, but discharged by a justice. On the 6th inst. he was committed for trial, and lodged in jail.

The London board of trade, of which Right Hon. Viscount Lander is president, having made an investigation of the case of the steamship Arizona, in reference to her collision with an iceberg some months since, has decided to suspend the certificates of Capt. Jones and the second mate for six months.

During experiments on the Italian ironclad Duilio, at Rome, a hundred-ton gun burst after twenty-five shots, fired the turret, and slightly damaged the vessel. Her machinery, however, was uninjured, and the experiments were resumed. Two persons were slightly wounded. A later report says that only a steel tube of the gun burst, and can be repaired at small expense.

A man at Ripton, Vt., has been married three times, and his three wives now all live within six miles of him.

New Hampshire Items.

A new frame building in Keene, owned by George I. Burdette, was blown down Friday night.

Ebenezer C. George was found dead on the floor in his shop at Bath, Saturday. Heart disease is the supposed cause of death. Deceased was about sixty years old, and leaves five children.

The annual report of Concord for the past fiscal year shows that the total debt of the city is $438,707, a reduction of $27,240 for the year. The funded debt of the city is $180,500, at six per cent. interest. The expenses of running the city for the past year were $216,375. This sum includes all interest, bond, tax and other payments.

James M. Stevinson, the late landlord of the Central house, Concord, was arrested Saturday for forcibly entering the house of Mr. Burke, a wood-sawyer, and thoroughly ransacking the same, and greatly frightening the occupants. He claimed to be an officer of the law, and effected his entrance by kicking down the front door. He is a hard character, and was recently before the court for a savage assault upon a companion with an ice-pick. He is now held for falsely pretending to be an officer, the punishment of which is $300 fine. He is also liable for breaking and entering—a state prison offense.

The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company.

The annual report of this long-established and reliable company contains several features of interest. Established in 1841, this company has made itself a place among the strongest corporations in the country, and gives to its members most desirable advantages. Thoroughly mutual in its policy, it makes the most careful investments of its funds, has an excellent method of taking risks, and is very liberal in its treatment of retiring members. Its business is conducted with a strict regard to economy, the expenses for 1879 having been only a half of one per cent on the mean amount insured during the year. Since 1869 the expenses have at no one time been more than .73 of one per cent, the ratio in that year. For the past nine years the ratios have been .57, .53, .70, .51, .50, .51, .48, .53 and .50 respectively. The company has a surplus of $1,879,162.06.. The report is now ready for distribution and will be sent free on application.—Boston Journal.

—Bald-headed persons are recommended, by one who knows how it is himself, to have a spider painted on the top of their heads as a preparation for the fast-approaching fly-time.

—It may interest American dancers to learn that the "Liverpool lurch" and the "Boston dip" are no longer the fashion, having been replaced by the "Brighton grip" and the "Southsea cuddle."

—The author of the new song, "My Home is on the Tossing Sea," has lived, ever since he was born, at Fort Riley, Kansas, 1800 miles from salt water; and he confessed, in a moment of rash confidence, to a newspaper reporter, that it makes him sea-sick to sit in a rocking-chair.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 1,Ch&F

Shrewdness and Ability.

Hop Bitters, so freely advertised in all the papers, secular or religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle.

Shan't I take a Blue Pill?

No, don't take it and run the risk of mercurial poison, but when billious and constipated get a box of the celebrated Kidney-Wort, and it will speedily cure you. It is nature's great remedy for constipation, and for all kidney and liver diseases. It acts promptly on these great organs and so restores strength and vigor.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Floron Barri's soap manufactory is now run by steam.

Little Corinne and her company at Music hall this evening, in the Magic Slipper.

Newmarket's check-list bears the names of five hundred and thirty-six legal voters.

H. B. Buzzell & Son have the contract for furnishing the curtains for the new shoe factory.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado is to lecture in the Methodist Episcopal church at Newmarket on Thursday evening, the 11th inst.

The funeral of the late Isaiah Hanscom took place from All Souls church in Washington on Sunday. Rev. James Freeman Clarke of Boston officiated.

F. C. Wells, Esq., a lawyer of Milton, in this state, is in town looking for a good opening for a man of about his size. We should say there was room for one more.

In another column will be found the spring notice of the extensive and reliable dealers in dry goods, Ayers & Locke. Ladies looking ahead to Easter will do well to read this advertisement.

Col. William O. Sides, accompanied by Postmaster Peirce, left for Washington on Monday afternoon. Senator Emmons B. Philbrick and Hon. Daniel Marcy have recently returned from Washington.

On Thursday evening Tony Pastor's Comic Boom will present the burlesque "Go west on the emigrant train," at Music hall. The company is a large one, and includes many noted specialists, and the burlesque is said to be a genuine sidesplitter. Tickets at Preston.

The members of the Rebecca Degree Lodge of Odd Fellows are giving a very pleasant and successful course of assemblies in their banquetting hall in National block. This being leap year the ladies are managing these parties in their own way, and are succeeding admirably. The next assembly occurs this evening.

On Sunday forenoon, at the close of the service in the Christian church, the pastor, Rev. John A. Goss, announced his resignation, to take effect the first Sunday in April. Mr. Goss has been pastor of this church since October, 1872, and has greatly strengthened the church while winning the respect and good will of our citizens generally, by his upright and consistent course as an earnest Christian and an unassuming gentlemen.

On Friday afternoon of last week we were visited by a thunder-storm; not much of a thunder-storm, certainly, the affair consisting principally of wind, the thunder being rather of the two-cent variety—but still more of a thunder-storm than is common near the first of March. Sunday night snow fell to the depth of a couple of inches, and Monday morning everything wore a wintry appearance. There is no lack of variety to our climate.

An advertisement of an infallible hair restorer, in the Boston Herald, is headed: "That bald head! How it might have been prevented, and how it can still be renewed." Our impression has been that when a man once got a bald head it rarely needed renewing, generally lasting him through life. We know that bald heads which we used to see in the front row of the old Temple thirty years ago, whenever there was a nice ballet performance, still show up in Music hall under similar circumstances.

One of our local physicians many years ago had a brother who was chief mate of a 2500-ton merchant ship sailing out of the port of New York. On one of the voyages of this ship the mate was accidentally killed in a foreign port while letting go the anchor, being fouled in the chain and crushed through the hawse-pipe. Recently it was learned that the seaman had for several years previous to his death been depositing his savings in the Seaman's bank of New York, a fact before unknown to his relatives; and these savings, with the accretions of thirty years—a very handsome little fortune—now comes to this city as the inheritance of one of our best known medical men. Glad of it.

One result of the increase of business in mechanical establishments is the leaving of some of the most skillful men heretofore employed upon the navy yard, who cannot afford to work on half-time, to enter private establishments in other places. Boilermakers, machinists and blacksmiths are leaving Portsmouth to go to places where their labor is in demand. Several mechanics have removed to Nashua to be employed in the Nashua Iron and Steel Works, under Mr. John Swain; and the very limited amount of money at the command of the navy department is causing a serious injury in depriving the government of skilled labor, as of course the best mechanics are the first to be sought out and employed by private establishments. This is but one of the many unfortunate consequences of democratic "economy" as applied to the public works.

BOW MISSION HALL MEETINGS.

At the gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, Mrs. Hooper had charge and Miss Florence Cobb presided at the organ. The leader opened the services with appropriate remarks; Miss Estella Cobb gave a recitation, "The dying Hebrew," in good style; and remarks were made by Messrs. French, Wallace and Wiggin. Mr. Wiggin gave some account of the county temperance convention at Epping on the 4th inst., and said the temperance people in the rural districts appear ready to do all they are able to advance the interests of the cause. Capt. A. P. Johnson, of Deer Isle, Me., spoke encouragingly. The services closed at 9:30 o'clock, and were of much interest throughout.

At the bethel service, Sunday afternoon, Mr. James Janvrin presided. The last part of the seventh chapter of the gospel according to St. Matthew was read, and Mr. Janvrin made remarks with special reference to the necessity of building on the rock. Several ladies and gentlemen took part in the exercises, the attendance on which was again such as to demonstrate that the mission hall, though a very nice little place for a moderate-sized gathering, is far too small to accommodate the large number of persons who wish to attend these meetings—a number that will probably increase with the advent of warmer weather and renewed activity in the coasting trade.

At the reform club meeting, Sunday evening, addresses were made by Rev. E. C. Wells and Stephen W. Clarke, Esq., their remarks being full of good things. The reform club never has held meetings more interesting than those of the past few months, and if the members will be thoroughly united in their work the future meetings will be even more interesting and beneficent. L.

EASTERN RAILROAD.

The summer arrangement of trains upon this road it is said will be made to give quicker transit for passengers from the Shoals and beaches, by making less frequent stoppages between Ipswich and Boston.

The coaches of this road are being repainted as rapidly as possible, and made uniform in outward appearance, bearing the name "Eastern," the addition of "Railroad" being dropped as superfluous. They are of fine appearance.

TAXING NATIONAL BANK STOCK.

A question of some interest to assessors of taxes has been decided at Washington by the supreme court, in a case against the board of assessors of Albany, involving the question of the legality of the state of New York's action in virtually discriminating against capital invested in national bank stock in the valuations and assessments made for state taxes.

The court holds, first, that the provision of the national bank law that state taxation on the shares of the banks shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed on other moneyed capital in the hands of citizens of the state, has reference to the entire process of assessment and includes the valuation of the shares as well as the rates of percentage charged at such valuation; second, that the statute of a state, therefore, which establishes a mode of assessment by which the shares of the national banks are valued higher in proportion to their real value than other moneyed capital, is in conflict with the act of congress, even though no greater percentage is levied on that valuation than on the valuation of other moneyed capital; third, that the statute of New York, of 1866, which permits a debtor to deduct the amount of his debts from the valuation of all his personal property, including moneyed capital except his bank shares, taxes those shares at a greater rate than other moneyed capital, and is, therefore, void as to the shares of the national banks. The judgment of the New York court of appeals is reversed.

It would seem that if the assessors value any species of property at less than the rates fixed upon bank shares, it will not stand. In some towns all property is assessed at its full value in money, as near as can be ascertained. It was claimed when the proportion of the state tax was assigned to Portsmouth, that such was not the case in many instances, and our state tax was largely increased for that cause, notwithstanding the efforts of our representatives to explain the apparent inconsistency.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Two whales were seen in the harbor of Ogunquit on Tuesday of last week.

Reinwald & Taylor's orchestra, of Dover, furnished the music for a ball given by the Knights of Pythias at Kennebunk a few evenings since.

A barn at South Berwick, with several tons of hay, farming tools, etc., belonging to Mrs. Ichabod Goodwin, were burned on Sunday; loss $2000; insured.

The rumored poisoning of Mrs. George Mitchell, of Kennebunk, has been investigated by a coroner, who reports that he does not find evidence to warrant further proceedings in the matter.

A Kittery correspondent of the Times says that Rev. John A. Goss of this city has received a call to become the pastor of Rev. Mr. Bowdish's church in that town. Mr. Goss preached in Kittery for about a year, some ten years ago.

Limington has furnished sixteen male teachers during the past winter, as teachers in the public schools in different parts of the state of Maine from York to Aroostook counties, besides retaining seven or eight within its own limits to teach the local schools.

George G. Hatch, town clerk of Wells, on Friday testified before the investigating committee of the Maine legislature that the return of the vote of that town for senator at the late election was made as 315 for James W. Dearborn, and 327 for Josiah Stover. The democratic candidate was Josiah A. Stover, of Kittery, and the "A" was inadvertently omitted. Hatch's attention was called to the error and he was requested to correct it, but refused, as he could not do it legally; but the vote was tabulated for "Josiah A. Stover" by Garcelon and his pals, somebody surreptitiously writting in the omitted initial. Mr. Hatch was elected on the fusion ticket.

FISHERY NOTES.

The schooner Jane arrived at this port on Sunday afternoon from Eastport, Me., with 90,000 frozen herring.

The fishing schooner David A. Story arrived at Gloucester from the banks on Monday, and reported the loss of Matthew McDonald and Joseph Merchant, who were lost in a dory five weeks ago while attending their trawls.

Naval Gazette.

The senate has postponed for a season a bill to promote the efficiency of chaplains in the navy. It will require more than an act of congress to bring about such a result.

First Lieut. Benj. R. Russell, U. S. M. C., is detached from the training ship Minnesota and ordered to the marine barracks at Washington, preparatory to orders for sea duty.

Secretary Thompson has written a letter to Ensign L. K. Reynolds, of the Trenton, in which he says: "The department has read with great satisfaction the report of Captain Henry Wilson detailing your gallant conduct in rescuing the crew of the bark Olive. Such heroic conduct commends itself not only to the consideration of this department but of the country, and the department cheerfully tenders its thanks for it. The exhibition of such qualities by so young an officer gives assurance of a brilliant and useful future."

The U. S. S. Tuscarora was at La Libertad (Pacific coast). Febuary 11th, to sail about Febuary 14th for San Francisco.

The U. S. S. Adams, bound southward, was seen Febuary 17th by steamer China, at San Francisco February 27th from Panama.

Secretary Thompson has ordered the training ship Saratoga, with one hundred and fifty naval apprentices, to leave Washington next week for a month's exercise in Chesapeake bay and Hampton roads, thence to Lisbon, Portugal, running a line of deep sea soundings from Cape Henry to that place. She will then make temperature soundings in the straits of Gibraltar, and return to the Virginia capes by the 1st of next October.

Of Lieutenant John P. Wallis, late an officer of the U. S. S. Marion, who died recently of yellow fever, a naval officer writes to the Army & Navy Journal as follows: "He entered the naval service in July, 1864. Born in Louisiana, and appointed from Maryland, he was one of those who in the darkest hour in our country's history took a decided stand in opposition to his surroundings. One of those fortunate characters who, besides creating respect for his ability and conscientious performance of duty, also caused every one who knew him to actually love him, for his gentle yet manly qualities. Seldom has so young a man acquired so many intimate and warm personal friends. He seemed by the very abundance of his own warm and affectionate nature to bind his friends to him in the closest bonds. Although he did not die amid shot and shell, his heroism was none the less, and his fate much sadder."

—If the Nihilists actually want to kill the czar they must use the kind of pistol which little children play with—one that isn't loaded.—Lowell Citizen.

—Over in England when anybody has a complaint which puzzles the doctors they lay it to American beef.

—In many parts of London shops have been opened for the sale of milk by the glass, in the interests of temperance.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. ℓ FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

—A Boston merchant recently hired a fresh country boy to run errands, and sent him to mail some letters, lending him a silk umbrella. The boy returned without the umbrella, and crying heartily, and said, through his tears: "I went down to the office, and stood the umbrella up outside the door while I went in to drop the letters, and when I came out it was gone."

—The Spirit of the Times, in speaking of the 13-15-14 puzzle, says: "We are in receipt of a proposition from a well known sporting man, with a very mathematical head, to the effect that he will bet $1000 to $500 that he can do the trick, with the square blocks, on the first trial, the blocks to be taken at random from a bag. He does not specify the amount of time he will require. We will do better than that, guaranteeing to produce a man who will do it in fifteen minutes, with square blocks, from any position in which the cubes are placed. We think he can do it in five minutes, but prefer to be safe, as our champion is youthful, and might lose track of his process if he was hurried."

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and in a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I voluntarily make the following statement.—

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of CUTICURA, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the CUTICURA in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of CUTICURA, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grow less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the CUTICURA five months and took the RESOLVENT most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the RESOLVENT a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours, MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

MALDEN, MASS., Oct. 18, 1878.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

EDITOR NEW ORLEANS PICAYUNE: Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body. Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington, and in this city, with no more success than a temporary relief. After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that I would, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of CUTICURA, for sale by our well-known druggist, Mr. LYONS, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty-cent box, and before it was half used the disease had completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure.

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to other sufferers the value of CUTICURA, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity. Yours truly, C. P. CARROLL,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.
38 Camp St., New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1878.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake, by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes 75 cents.

New York Weekly Herald.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

The circulation of this popular newspaper has more than trebled during the past year. It contains all the leading news concentrated in the Daily Herald, and is arranged in handy departments. The

Foreign News

embraces special dispatches from all quarters of the globe. Under the head of

American News

are given the Telegraphic Despatches of the week from all parts of the Union. This feature alone makes

The Weekly Herald

the most valuable chronicle in the world, as it is the cheapest. Every week is given a faithful report of

Political News

embracing complete and comprehensive despatches from Washington, including full reports of the speeches of eminent politicians on the questions of the hour.

The Farm Department

of the Weekly Herald gives the latest as well as the most practical suggestions and discoveries relating to the duties of the farmer, hints for raising Cattle, Poultry, Grains, Trees, Vegetables, &c., &c., with suggestions for keeping buildings and farming utensils in repair. This is supplemented by a well-edited department, widely copied, under the head of

The Home,

giving recipes for practical dishes, hints for making clothing and for keeping up with the latest fashions at the lowest price. Every item of cooking or economy suggested in this department is practically tested by experts before publication. Letters from our Paris and London correspondents on the very latest fashions. The Home Department of the Weekly Herald will save the housewife more than one hundred times the price of the paper. The interests of

are looked after, and everything relating to mechanics and labor-saving is carefully recorded. There is a page devoted to all the latest phases of the business markets, Crops, Merchandise, &c., &c. A valuable feature is found in the specially-reported prices and conditions of

The Produce Market.

Sporting News at home and abroad, together with a Story every week from the pen of some eminent divine, Literary, Musical, Dramatic, Personal and Sea Notes. There is no paper in the world which contains so much news as the Weekly Herald, which is sent, postage free, for One Dollar. You can subscribe at any time.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have constantly employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

The Positive Cure

For all Female Complaints.

THIS PREPARATION RESTORES THE BLOOD TO ITS NATURAL CONDITION, DIRECTS THE VITAL POWER AROUND, STRENGTHENS THE MUSCLES OF THE UTERUS AND LIFTS IT INTO PLACE, AND GIVES IT TONE AND STRENGTH, SO THAT THE CURE IS radical and certain. It strengthens THE BACK AND PELVIC REGION; IT GIVES TONE TO THE WHOLE NERVOUS SYSTEM; IT RESTORES DISPLACED ORGANS TO THEIR NATURAL POSITION. THAT FEELING OF BEARING DOWN, CAUSING PAIN, WEIGHT AND BACKACHE, IS ALWAYS PERMANENTLY CURED BY ITS USE.

It will, at all times and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, this Compound is unsurpassed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at the proprietors laboratory.

No. 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass.

Price, $1. Six Bottles to one address, $5.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES

LAXATIVE & CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the taste; Effective without Griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics used to relieve Costiveness, Piles, and inactivity of the Liver. For adults, one or two CATED PRUNES acts as a mild laxative; two or three have the effect of cathartic medicines or mineral waters, but without pains or griping. No bad effects follow repeated doses or habitual charge. The prune taken at bedtime acts like charm. The medication is entirely vegetable and healthful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

Samuel W. Libbey, town clerk of Gouldsboro', Maine, and Mr. Hovey, a selectman, on Friday testified before the legislative investigating committee that the return of the vote for representative from that town was made out as follows: Oliver P. Bragdon 207, James Flye 125, —the former being the republican "counted-out" candidate, and the latter the fusion candidate. After being sent to Augusta the "P" in Bragdon's name was changed to a "B," and Bragdon's vote in the town counted for Oliver B. Bragdon, thus electing Flye, the fusion candidate. The tabulations by Garcelon & Co. were first made for Oliver P. Bragdon, but this name was erased and the name of James Flye was substituted. The figures made under the column for Oliver P. Bragdon had been erased and carried to the name of Oliver B. Bragdon. The erasures, substitution and changes were plainly discernible to the naked eye in the returns.

Hon. Edward McPherson, long clerk of the house and now editor of the Philadelphia Press, has been chosen secretary of the republican congressional committee in place of W. E. Chandler, Esq., who retires because of pressure of private business which he cannot neglect.

The three South Carolina democrats who murdered Alexander Bryce last summer because he was engaged in an effort to organize the republican party, have been acquitted. The evidence was conclusive, but evidence doesn't convict a man with a South Carolina jury if the offence is the trifling one of murdering a republican.

Southern Democratic Sentiments.

[From the Okolona (Miss.) Southern States.]

Our President, Jefferson Davis, has survived to see Abe Lincoln laid low by the bullet of a man who was bred up in the land of abolitionism, free schools and south haters;

Survived to see Edwin M. Stanton, Yankee war minister, die the death of a suicide;

Survived to see Zach Chandler dying with defamation of our people in his mouth;

Survived to see Oliver P. Morton perish in his prime;

Survived to see Horace Greeley defeated by the ungrateful hosts he had helped to liberate, and die of pure chagrin;

Survived to see Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Ben. Wade, Chas. Sumner, Wm. Seward, and all that accursed crew go down to their graves with the knowledge that the Confederate patriots were still defiant as they were in 1861.

Survived to see President Johnson become a hiss and a hoot from Maine to Mexico;

Survived to see the essential and eternal principles of the Confederacy dominating the Federal House and Senate;

Survived to see his guards in gray legislating for the blackguards in blue;

Survived to see himself vindicated by the great avenger, time, in the eyes of every man and woman in the world whose good opinion is worth having.

Don't.

Don't speak angrily to a child. Don't kick a dog when he is asleep. Don't go back on the friends of your parents. Don't often visit your neighbors at meal time. Don't neglect a cough thinking it will cure itself. (Thousands die of consumption by so doing.) Don't forget Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for it cures a cough or cold in one-half the time required by any other medicine, and is the only medicine known that positively cures consumption in its earliest stages. Sold by druggists.

Elijah Mason, a negro living on a farm six miles from Cairo, Ill., on Monday fatally shot his wife, a white woman, and then killed himself. Jealousy was the cause.

As a Cure for Piles,

Kidney-Wort acts first by overcoming in the mildest manner all tendency to constipation; then, by its great tonic and invigorating properties, it restores to health the debilitated and weakened parts. We have hundreds of certified cures, where all else had failed. Use it and suffer no longer.

John Knight of West Falmouth, Me., was found dead at Portland, Monday morning. He was drunk Sunday, fell in a ditch on the way home, and died there. His age was thirty years.

When exhausted by mental labor take Kidney-Wort to maintain healthy action of all organs.

Speer's Sambuci Wine for Invalids.

It is invaluable in all cases where a gentle stimulant, tonic or diuretic is applicable, such as nervous weakness and general debility.

Excellent for rheumatism and kidney complaints.

Received the highest premium — a medal, awarded by the American Institute, N. Y., at their late fair, for the best medicine wine.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1880.

Municipal Elections in Maine.

On Monday municipal elections were held in several places in Maine, the republicans being generally successful.

In Biddeford the republicans made a clean sweep, electing every officer voted for.

In Augusta the republican candidate for mayor had 504 majority, and all the wards were carried by the republicans.

In Winthrop and Stockton the fusionists were defeated. The vote in Stockton was the largest ever polled there.

In Belfast the republicans elected their candidate for mayor by 157 majority, and three aldermen out of five, there being one democratic alderman chosen, and no choice in one ward.

In North Berwick and Camden the fusionists carried the elections.

The vote in Bangor for mayor was: Brown, license republican, 1601; Wakefield, prohibition repub., 290; Strickland, dem., 355. The latter had positively refused to run, and many democrats voted for Brown. The democrats secured three of seven aldermen.

The Monroe Doctrine Re-affirmed.

At a meeting of the select committee of the house on the inter-oceanic canal, Saturday, it was unanimously resolved to report to the house the following joint resolution, with a recommendation for its immediate adoption:

Be it resolved, etc., That the establishment in any form of a protectorate by any one of the powers of Europe over any independent states on this continent, or the introduction from any quarter of a scheme or policy which would carry with it the right of any European power to interfere with their concerns, or to control in any other manner their destiny, or the transfer to any such power by conquest, cession or acquisition in any other way of any of those states or any portion thereof, is a measure to which this government has, in the declaration of President Monroe in his message of December 2d, 1823, and known as the Monroe doctrine, avowed its opposition, and which, should the attempt be made, will be regarded and treated as dangerous to our peace, prosperity and safety.

Second, Resolved, That it is the interest and right of the United States to have possession, direction, control and government of any canal, railroad or other artificial communication to be constructed across the isthmus connecting the American continents for the transfer of vessels and cargoes from the Caribbean sea to the Pacific ocean, whether the same be built or constructed at Panama, Nicaragua, or elsewhere. In view of the magnitude of this interest, it is the duty of the United States to insist that if built, and by whomsoever the same may be commenced, prosecuted or completed, and whatever the nationality of its corporators or the source of their capital, that the interests of the United States and their right to possess and control the same will be asserted and maintained whenever in their opinion it becomes necessary.

Third—And be it further Resolved, That the president be requested to take steps necessary and proper for the abrogation of any existing treaties, whose terms are in conflict with this declaration of principles.

President Hayes on Monday sent to the senate a message in which he says:

I deem it proper to state briefly my opinion as to the policy of the United States with respect to the construction of an inter-oceanic canal, by any route, across the American isthmus. The policy of this country is a canal under American control. The United States cannot consent to surrender this control to any European power, or to any combination of European powers. If existing treaties between the United States and other nations, or if the rights of sovereignty, or the property of other nations stands the way of this policy, a contingency which is not apprehended, suitable steps should be taken by just and liberal negotiations to promote and establish the American policy on this subject consistently with the rights of the nations to be affected by it. The capital invested by corporations or citizens of other countries in such an enterprise must, in a great degree, look for protection to one or more of the great powers of the world. No European power can intervene for such protection without adopting measures on this continent which the United States would deem wholly inadmissible. If the protection of the United States is relied upon, the United States must exercise such control as will enable this country to protect its national interests and maintain the rights of those whose private capital is embarked in the work. An inter-oceanic canal across the American isthmus will essentially change the geographical relations between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of the United States, and between the United States and the rest of the world. It will be the great ocean thoroughfare between our Atlantic and our Pacific shores, and virtually a part of the coast line of the United States. Our merely commercial interest in it is greater than that of all other countries, while its relations to our power and property as a nation, to our means of defense, our unity, peace and safety are matters of paramount consideration to the people of the United States. No other power would under similar circumstances fail to assert a rightful control over a work so closely and vitally affecting its interest and welfare. Without urging further the grounds of my opinion, I repeat in conclusion, that it is the right and duty of the United States to assert and maintain such supervision and authority over any inter-oceanic canal across the isthmus that connects North and South America as will protect our national interests.

The London Standard, referring to the United States, claim for the preponderating influence in the Panama canal, says: "This pretension the British government is bound to match, and, if necessary, resist. No more at Panama than at Suez can the preponderating influence of another power be allowed to lay hands on the trade of England."

"Chinese Cheap Labor."

The San Francisco Alta California of the 28th ult., in an article headed "The threat factory," giving a detailed account of the sand-lot attempts to dictate to employers of labor as to whom they shall employ, has reports of the interviews of a sand-lots committee with a number of prominent business men and firms, from which we take the following:

The "Corporation committee" of the "unemployed" continued their visits, yesterday, to the different firms of this city that employ Chinese. The first firm called upon on was that of Main & Winchester, saddlers and harness-makers. Mr. Gannon acted as spokesman, and Mrs. Anna F. Smith propounded the conundrums for the female unemployed. Gannon asked: "Do you intend to discharge the Chinese now in your employ, and help, as much as you can, to relieve the suffering poor of this city by giving them work?—or do you intend to still force them, as you have, into hoodlumism and lives of shame?"

The answer was: "We are the friends of white labor, but we have been compelled to employ Chinese in self-defense, by reason of the convict-labor contracts that are entered into for the labor of the inmates of our state prison. The pay of the convicts is merely nominal, and even with all Chinese labor we could not compete with them. We have men to work now that we do not need, and we would be better off if we were to discharge them; we make nothing by them, but keep them steadily at work in our employ simply because they are old and good hands. We have only a few Chinese at work in one or two branches of the business. We have not a single Chinaman making saddles or collars, and none but white girls are employed by us at lash-making. If they would abolish the convict system, or if the labor of the convicts was decently paid for, we never would be compelled to employ Chinese. At one time we were offered a convict-labor contract, but we had about one hundred men and boys at work, and instead of discharging them and taking the contract, we, at a loss to ourselves, kept the boys at work."

Hon. Henry F. Scharrett, a planter of Pass Christian, Missisippi, says that in view of the negro exodus from the south, and the disturbed condition of things in California, the planters in his section of the country have to some extent canvassed the question of attempting to obtain Chinese laborers. Correspondence has already been had with one of the Chinese companies, and probably some Chinamen will be set to work in southern Mississippi in a few weeks.

News and Notes.

Barque Elbano, from Newport, Wales, for St. John, N. B., in ballast, was wrecked Monday morning on Nigger head, five miles from St. John, and the captain and seven men were drowned.

Mrs. Ann Farrell of Webster, Mass., about seventy years old, got out of bed the other night to see if her grandchildren were all right, and fell down stairs, fracturing her skull and dying the next morning.

The dead body of John Welch, a tinner of Oberlin, Ohio, was found Monday morning beside the railroad. There was a wound in the back of his head, and near by were marks of a struggle. The body had evidently been dragged a hundred yards and placed on a pile of ties. He last seen in company with Ben Lyman and Cary Horton, two roughs, who are under arrest.

The news from Ireland is of the most encouraging character. The work of the relief committees has succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations, and there is good reason to believe the point of the greatest danger is passed.

A boy, thirteen years old, residing in Framingham, Mass., committed suicide Monday by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He had been accused of stealing a $2.50 gold piece, and through mortification committed the rash deed. He left a note stating that he was innocent of the theft.

A. P. Peck, of Northampton, Mass., one of the most trusted and respected citizen of the place, has cleared out, taking his family with him, having stolen trust funds amounting to $12,000 or $20,000, which his bondsmen will have to make good.

David Roberts, chief porter in the store of H. B. Claflin & Co., New York; Jacob Faulkenberg, a rag merchant; and two expressmen, have been arrested for robbing Claflin & Co. by a long-continued series of thefts. Goods to the value of $10,000, mostly silks and satins, were found in Faulkenberg's house. Roberts has confessed, and estimates the stealings at $40,000.

Mrs. Judith Twombly of South Chelmsford, Mass., attained her 101st birthday, Friday. Last year there was quite a celebration of her centennial, and this year the neighbors offered congratulations. Her health is good and her mind quite clear.

Much excitement prevails in Cheyenne, Wyoming, over reported rich discoveries of minerals near Rawhide buttes, about 140 miles north of Cheyenne, and many persons have gone to the new fields. An active volcano is also reported as having been discovered in the same region.

The schooner Ernest F. Norwood sailed from Gloucester on Monday at noon, on a mackerel trip to Hatteras inlet and adjacent waters. This is the earliest fit-out for a southern mackerel trip ever made from Gloucester, the usual starting time being about the middle of April.

New Hampshire Items.

On Friday, James H. Ray of Hillsboro, committed suicide by hanging. His age was fifty-nine years. Ill health was the cause.

Warren Green, a conductor on the Nashua & Lowell railroad, was seriously injured on Sunday, two miles beyond Greenfield. He was in charge of an ice train, in starting which a coupling broke, and as he was stepping from the car at the time, he fell t the road-bed. His injuries will not prove fatal.

"A Wise Man Changes His Opinion Seldom--A Fool Never."

Some weeks since the Postmaster-General instructed Postmasters to refuse to register letters or issue money orders addressed to the Louisiana State Lottery Company, of New Orleans, thus including this Company among those doing a fraudulent business. Having reconsidered his action, and being unable to satisfy himself of anything fraudulent in the operations of the prohibited this order on the 27th of February, and orders all mail facilities extended again to the Company as formerly. Buyers of tickets, therefore, can again send by Registered Letters to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or same at 319 Broadway, New York city, N. Y., for the regular monthly drawing, on Tuesday, April 13th, advertised at length elsewhere in our columns.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has unstringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has specially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Liberal Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 2

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

The undersigned certifies that he held for collection for account of John Day, of Brooklyn, New York, a well-known citizen of Myrtle Avenue, one-half of ticket No. 16,415, Class "A," in the Louisiana State Lottery, which drew the second capital prize of ten thousand dollars, on Tuesday, January 13th, 1880, having cost the sum of one dollar at the office of M. A. Dauphin, 319 Broadway, New York. The amount was promptly paid on presentation. T. M. WESCOAT,

THE WEATHER.

Probabilities for New England, To-day,

WASHINGTON, March 8, 1:30 A. M.

Rising, preceded by falling barometer, winds shifting to westerly, stationary or higher temperature, partly cloudy weather with occasional snow.

AROUND HOME.

"Carrying coals to Newcastle." Prof. E. A. Tillon is spending a few days in Boston, tuning pianos.

A former druggist of this city is now a night watchman at Leadville, Colorado, at a salary of $100 per month.

A Dover fish-dealer who went trout-fishing in Durham brook a few days ago, was fined $7 and costs by the local authorities for trespassing on land through which the brook passes.

Persons who thought May had made a blunder, and arrived two months earlier than the law allows, were undeceived Tuesday morning when a cold northeast snow storm set in, showing that March had only been making believe May for a few days.

Ed. Chronicle: In your issue of the 9th instant you mention the rumor that a young lawyer from Milton is about to cast in his lot with us. This is as it should be. If we had a few more lawyers and doctors the good old city's prosperity would indeed be assured. And we might suggest that there is a small opening for a few more newspapers and job printers! PROGRESS.

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, Tony Pastor's company will give a grand comic variety entertainment. Tony's reputation for giving only first-class shows is thoroughly established, and the troupe that will appear to-morrow evening is said to be the best one he has ever put on the road, and playing the best programme.

A correspondent says: "It seems quite probable from an article in your issue of the 5th inst. that the Memorial day oration this year will be delivered by Col. Henry O. Kent of Lancaster. The article also informs us that Col. Kent was a brave soldier and is an accomplished orator. He may well be called an accomplished orator, but he never "marched off to the wars!"

The Corinne Opera Co. had a small audience in Music hall, Tuesday evening; a large audience was deserved, and the attendance would no doubt have been much greater but for the storm. Little Corinne is as good a Cinderella as she was a Little Buttercup, and is well supported. The entertainment was greatly enjoyed and generously applauded by those who were present.

Last summer Col. Cushing of Dover Neck had sent to him two handsome birds from Cuba by a friend. They were of a very rare species, and the only ones of the kind in New England, and were known as "Love Birds." One day last week, while enjoying the freedom of a large room, a dog who happened to be around killed one of the birds. The colonel laments the loss of such a valuable bird, but not near as much as does the surviving mate, who for two days after, while the body was allowed to remain in the room, would strive to force small quantities of different kinds of food into the dead bird's bill. The surviving bird will probably die of grief.—Dover Democrat.

PETTY SWINDLING.

One day last week a well-dressed man, apparently a German, engaged board at a hotel near the Eastern depot in this city, representing that he was going to work on the depot extension, and borrowed $1.50 of the hotel keeper to pay the freight on certain goods of his which were at Eliot, showing a way-bill of the Boston & Maine railroad, purporting to have been given at Portland for two tool-chests, two trunks, six kegs of nails, one anvil, four ladders, and six rolls of "galvanized tin." [The way-bill gave the destination of the goods as South Newmarket junction, and was not signed by a freight agent; but it was a business-looking document, and at a casual glance would appear all correct.] The hotel man, not in the least suspecting that everything was not all right, handed the fellow a $5 bill, and the latter, leaving his way-bill on the counter, stepped out of the house to get change from the teamster whom he had engaged to go for his goods; but either he was unable to find the teamster or the latter was very short of change, for the hotel man has not seen his new boarder since. The well-dressed mechanic successfully played a similar game on two job-wagon men, engaging them to drive over to Eliot to get his tools, tin, etc., and borrowing a couple of dollars or so from each one to pay the freight on the goods. The swindler subsequently appeared at Salem, Mass., where he secured $3 from an expressman whom he sent to Swampscott; at Peabody he engaged board, and "borrowed" $1.50 to pay the freight on his goods, which he had left at Beverly; at Beverly he found an expressman who paid him $2 for the privilege of driving to Wenham after the mythical tools and tin. The fellow was evidently well provided with way-bill blanks of the Boston & Maine railroad, and had carefully studied out his plan of operations, all of his way-bills naming the same articles.

GREENLAND TOWN MEETING.

GREENLAND, March 9th.

Our town meeting passed off quietly, there being a smaller attendance than usual. The republicans had no regular ticket in the field, but the democrats had the names of several republicans on their ticket, who were elected. The largest number of votes cast by the democrats was seventy; by the greenbackers, eighteen.

Charles W. Pickering, dem., was chosen moderator, and Dr. Wm. O. Junkins, dem., town clerk.

John E. Seavey, dem., Jethro Howard, dem., and George W. Weeks, rep., were elected selectmen for the ensuing year.

John H. Brackett, dem., Wm. A. Pierce, rep., Lorenzo D. Duntley, dem., Nathan R. Foss., rep., and Walter B. Norton, dem., were elected assessors.

George E. Brackett, dem., treasurer.

Dr. Edward Robie, school committee.

A committee of five was raised to inquire into the value of the town farm, the said committee to report at the next meeting, in November, whether the farm should be sold or leased. JUNIUS.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

North Berwick on Monday gave majorities of from fifty to seventy-five for the greenback candidates for town officers. In 1878 the governor vote of the town was: Republican 152, democratic 37, greenback 217; greenback majority over all others, twenty-eight; republican minority, 102. At the last state election the town sent a fusion representative to the legislature, but the figures we have not at hand.

Mr. Joseph Alley, a native of Kennebunk, but for fifty-four years past a resident of Newburyport, Mass., died in the latter city on Monday. He was at one time an extensive builder of church organs, and for the last twenty years has been engaged in the making and voicing of reeds for organs, in which it is said he surpassed any other person in the country. He was an earnest spiritualist for many years before his death, and died peacefully in that belief. He leaves a widow, six sons and five daughters.

THE ANTI-CRUELTY SOCIETY.

From the address of the president of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, delivered at the last annual meeting of the society, we make the following extracts, which not only show to some extent what has been done, but also the difficulties under which the excellent institution has performed its commendable work:

Our experience during the time which the society has been actively engaged in the prevention of cruelty, have revealed to us an amount of needless suffering inflicted upon helpless and unoffending animals, of which we had no previous conception, much of which escapes the observation of casual observers. Many cases of absolute barbarity have been discovered, and the offenders brought to justice.

We have also been able to correct some cruel customs long prevalent among transient visitors to the city, who were in the habit of leaving their horses standing all day in the open streets exposed to the vicissitudes of the weather at all seasons of the year, no attention being paid to the comfort or necessities of the poor creatures who patiently endured the tortures of heat, cold, hunger and thirst, until their cruel owners were ready to ride to their homes, frequently many miles away in distant towns in the country.

To save the cost of putting their horses into a livery stable and feeding them there during their visits to town, many country people have been in the habit of allowing their teams to stand in the streets with no shelter but a hitching-post, while they paid visits to friends, or transacted business with merchants and market men, regardless of the sufferings endured by the neglected creatures from long hours of exposure and fasting. This abuse has been remedied in a great measure by the vigilance of the officers and agents of the society.

Malicious cruelty is sure to be punished as soon as the machinery of the law can be brought to bear upon offenders, whenever or wherever such cases occur, if known by or reported to any member of the society. A public sentiment is slowly being developed, which condemns all such careless abuse, and now an unblanketed or hungry horse is seldom seen standing at the roadside, either in the city or country.

I recall two instances in which horses that had been favorites of wealthy families, in the days of their strength and pride, became, in their age of decrepitude, the victims of fiendish malice and incredible abuse at the hands of wretches to whom they were sold for a pittance, by the masters to whose service they had given the best days of their lives.

One day last September an anonymous complaint was made that a peor old horse had been driven from this city to Newington in a very cruel manner. Two of our officers upon this meagre information, started immediately for Newington to investigate the case, and fortunately met a gentleman, who saw the horse abused, and gave a description of the man who committed the act. This clew was carefully followed, and soon resulted in the discovery of the horse, turned out to pasture in a wood-lot. The poor creature was a pitiable looking object, and showed plainly the marks of every species of cruelty and neglect. I can give no adequate description of his condition. The hide was beaten off his ribs on both sides, his shoulders, neck and back were raw with harness galls, one eye was closed by a blow, and both thighs were chafed to the flesh, and worse than all, a hoof was nearly off in consequence of some disease of the foot. It was soon ascertained that a young fellow who owned the horse had driven him from Portsmouth to Newington twice during the Saturday night previous. Several respectable farmers were found, who saw and heard the fellow driving the horse along the road, harnessed to a wagon, striking him with a stout stick at every step. The case was brought immediately to trial and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The fellow is now serving a term of imprisonment in jail.

A deacon, in good standing in a country church, overloaded an old horse which formerly belonged to an ex-governor of this state, until the animal became balky, and then beat him with iron trace chains until great ridges were raised on his sides and legs, then ground his ears between two stones and finally filled the horse's bleeding ears with rough gravel stones and tied them down to his head with a long strip of cloth. He was prosecuted and bound over to appear before the grand jury, but was not indicted, although the evidence was clear and positive. The pastor of the church spent a large portion of his time after the deacon was bound over and before the grand jury met, in devising some way to prevent him from suffering his merited punishment, and by falsehood and double dealing succeeded. A second attempt to secure punishment also failed. The pastor mentioned, was soon after dismissed from his church in disgrace by the unanimous vote of a council called to investigate his conduct.

A case illustrating the difficulty of bringing offenders to justice occurred near Rye beach three years ago. Information was received that a teamster had killed a horse in a brutal manner near one of the public houses of the town. Two officers of the society went to the place early on the morning of the succeeding day and ascertained where the cruel act was committed, and the circumstances which led to its perpetration. The teamster, with his two horses, was employed in hauling stone to wall up a cellar for a boarding house. The ground near the newly dug cellar was soft and yielding, and the horses were unable to draw the heavy loads imposed upon them, without great exertion, which soon exhausted their strength, and the small stock of patience possessed by the driver, a coarse, ill-bred specimen of humanity, who, not content with a lavish use of whip-lash and of profanity, which only increased his rage, seized a heavy stake from a dray and struck a violent blow at the head of one of the horses, who, suddenly springing back to avoid it, brought his mate in the way of the descending cudgel, which struck with such force that the poor horse fell dead at the feet of the brute in human form who dealt the fatal blow.

Although this act of wanton cruelty was committed in broad daylight, nearly opposite a popular hotel, and in the presence of the proprietor of the new house and four or five of the men engaged in its construction, not a man raised his hand in defense of the abused dumb animals, or to punish their cowardly persecutor. The officers of the society who investigated the case spent several days in getting the particulars of the occurrence, but such was the terrorism exerted by the ruffian and his low associates, that the men in whose presence the outrage took place were afraid to tell what they saw. Enough information was obtained, however, to warrant a prosecution. The witnesses were summoned before the grand jury to testify in regard to the charge brought against the culprit, and five men who saw the deed committed did not give their evidence in a sufficiently clear and definite manner to enable the jurors to find an indictment.

The fellow suffered the loss of a valuable horse through the indulgence of a vicious temper. The horse he intended to strike was an old and worthless creature to which a painless death would have been a happy release from a miserable existence. He shrank from the blow aimed at his poll, and his young and valuable mate received it upon his forehead and perished in an instant. Thus the brutal teamster lost a good horse, and became an object of detestation to the visitors at the summer resorts, whose patronage he formerly received as a driver of a public conveyance. The society failed to secure the conviction of the offender in this case through the pusillanimity of the witnesses. But the prompt efforts to bring him to justice became known, and several influential ladies and gentlemen, guests of the hotel, became members of the society. * * *

The press of our city and state has been friendly to us since our organization, and several papers have ably advocated our cause. The clergy, however, have been singularly slow in recognizing the significance of the reform we are engaged in, but are now coming over to help us.

The train from Boston due in this city at seven o'clock Tuesday evening was considerably behind time, owing to an accident at Seabrook, it was said, four ice cars having gotten off the iron.

The Removal of the United States Courts.

The statement of our Washington correspondent, last week, that a large proportion of the lawyers in the state, except those of Rockingham and Strafford counties, signed the petition for the removal of the United States courts from Exeter to Concord, only affords another illustration of the readiness with which men of all classes put their names to papers of that description—when there is no money to pay. Few persons refuse to subscribe such petitions, when asked to do so; and fewer still think of themselves responsible for the correctness of the statements they contain. Consequently petitions, however numerously signed, are no reliable indications of the public needs or demands.

The courts of the United States are of very limited jurisdiction, and in this state the list of actions on their dockets is very small. The counsel practicing therein, (exclusive of those of Rockingham and Strafford counties, and these coming from or through Portland and Boston,) may almost be reckoned on one's fingers. Probably not one in five of the lawyers who have signed the petition for the removal of the courts, has any business in them at all. And surely to the four-fifths who have no occasion to attend them, it cannot matter much much whether the sessions are held at one place or another. And of the one-fifth who have practice in the courts, only a few attend them constantly.

The petition then really represents the wishes of at the most a dozen members of the bar, whose convenience no doubt would be promoted by removing the courts to Concord. But that is a small consideration. The important question is, would the great bulk of the suitors, witnesses and jurors, in and out of the state, who must attend the courts, be better accommodated by the removal? It is of little consequence whether the railroad trip of a few lawyers, once or twice a year, is two or three hours longer or shorter. They are sure to get well paid for all the extra hours and miles. But it is a question of serious concern whether the hundreds of other persons whom the courts bring together, and who are not adequately paid, are to be compelled to travel a greater distance, at an increased expenditure of time and money.

We are satisfied that the accommodation of the great body of those who have business in the United States courts does not require their removal; and no principle of justice demands or permits that the convenience of the greater number should give way to that of the less.—Exeter News-Letter.

New Publications.

Confidence, by Henry James, Jr., Boston; Houghton, Osgood & Company. Some persons are happy in reading detached portions of a novel as they appear month after month in a magazine. Such as these have enjoyed reading Mr. James' new story as it appeared serially in Scribner's Monthly. But, these days, when magazine literature so much abounds, one likes to read magazine contributions in their places, and stories of worth from between something else than paper covers. There is something respectable about a novel bound properly and with the sponsorship of a leading publishing house upon its title page. The London Athenaeum pronounces Mr. James' novel imponderable, but admits that his novels are better fitted to be read and enjoyed than to be criticised. The narrative affords a glimpse at the delights and difficulties of love-making abroad. The characters throughout are of rather inferior make-up, and consequently the author take great liberties with them, jumps them over the Atlantic, skips them out of England into France, transposes lovers,—indeed, renders impossibilities almost probable to the admiring reader,—and finally brings them before the curtain with the usual "bless you, my children—take her and be happy" mode of disposition of characters at the drop of the curtain. The interest in the narrative never fails throughout the book, and the life in Europe, of the Americans abroad, seems most naturally depicted. For sale by W. G. Myers at $1.50.

Col. Reubin Steere, aged thirty-three years, height thirty-four inches, one of a Liliputian opera troupe, was married at the Whitcomb house, at Rochester, N. Y., at noon Sunday, to Miss Rebecca Meyer, aged twenty-seven years, height thirty-three inches, another member of the same troupe.

A Hard Case.—"Have you given electricity a trial for your complaint, madam?" asked the minister, as he took tea with the old lady. "Electricity!" said she. "Well, yes, I reckon I has. I was struck by lightning last summer and hove out of the window; but it didn't seem to do me no sort of good." Her complaint could, undoubtedly, have been cured by the use of Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, without resorting to so shocking a remedy.

Cuticura

REMEDIES.

The success attending the use of these great remedies in the treatment of affections of the Skin and Scalp with Loss of Hair is astonishing. From every part of the country come the most grateful acknowledgments of what might be called miraculous cures. Messrs. Weeks & Potter extend their thanks to all who have spoken a good word for Cuticura, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Resolvent, and will thankfully receive reports of new cases wherever they may occur.

SALT RHEUM ON BODY

And Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful case.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter:—Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgment of the cure I have received from the use of the Cuticura Remedies, I voluntarily make the following statement:

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at times has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure, or even a relief. In fact, I began the use of Cuticura, my legs was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. I commenced to use the Cuticura in April, and at once realized its beneficial effects. It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it. At times large quantities would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of Cuticura, would rapidly subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the Cuticura five months and took the Resolvent most of the time, which were the only remedies I used. I think the Resolvent is very strengthening and purifying medicine to take in such extreme cases as mine, because the disease is so weakening to the system.

Very gratefully yours,
MRS. ASA R. BROWN.

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well-known Attorney.

Editor New Orleans Picayune: Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubled with an eruption of the skin, which the doctors call by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The principal place of attack was my hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.
